USE CHISM, INS YEAST POWDERS

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FRB. 12, 1862. THE ATTACKS OF THE RADICALS ON

THE ADMINISTRATION. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald thus speaks of the attempt making by Congressional Radicals and others to interfere with the administration and General McClellan

A fermentation exists in political circles in Washington which menaces serious trouble within the next few days. The sum and substance of the agitation is slavery : but the ostensible attacks upon the administration include only side issues. Discontent has finally crept into portions of the army, particularly among Western and North-western officers and their men, with respect to the inactivity of General McClellan. This is fostered by every means, by the abolition ultras. Sen ator Wade told the President lately, that he "was within a mile of hell," and Greeley, whom Wade jesingly told that he ought to be again created commander in chief of the United S,ates forces, announced that his programme would be "to telegraph for an onward movement everywhere, from Fort Monroe to the Mississippi, and from Ship Island to Cape Hatteras;" that, "though we should get licked at some points, we must be victorious somewhere." The aspect of public affairs has been at no moment more menacing and portentous than the present moment. Parties are so equally divided in the Houseof Representatives that conservative members claim a majority of only about five votes on perfeetly defined questions between themselves and the radicals, while on side issues they are in constant danger of being outvoted. The radicals in the Senate have a majority of at least six votes. Nevertheless, they do not dare to adopt universal emancipation as a key note, but steadily adhere to the policy of undermining the government on more plausible grounds, and in discrediting it in every possible manner before the country.

It can no longer be disputed that an indefatigable, unscrupulous party, powerful enough intrin-sically, but rendered more so by a sufficient decision and unity on the part of those who sustain the administration, is absolutely pledged in opposition of any peaceful settlement of the difficulties between the loyal and seceded States, which does s, mapire | not involve the entire extinction of slavery. This party professedly prefers the permanent separation of the republic into two confederacies, than yielding an iota of its pretentions.

The illness of General McClellan, much more grave than has been generally supposed, has afforded a pretext to the abolition faction for directing a large share of their attacks against him. The "On to Richmond" cry has been renewed in the most insulting shape, and the commanderin-chief has actually been accused of shamming sickness, for the purpose of preventing an advance of the army of the Potomac. The late speech of Roscoe Conkling, in the House, on the reverse at Ball's Bluff, ostensibly directed against General Stone, was clearly intended to injure General Mc-Clellan himself, and make him responsible for the disaster; and the joint committee of the Senate and House to investigate the war is said to beengaged in manufacturing an iex parte statement for the purpose of overthrowing his hard-earned and well deserved popularity. The plan is to supersede him in favour of either General Fremont or Senator Ben Wade, who represent the radical senti-ment. "McClellan," nevertheless, remarked a person in very high authority in the government yesterday, in presence of an approving assemblage of well informed gentlemen, "has worked himself to the verge of the grave, by adding the duties of others in authority to his own, and it is to him alone that these miscreants who attack him owe their maintenance in the very places at the Capitol, from whence they are weaving the web of intrigue against him." The military in the District of Columbia and Virginia are profoundly indignant at the outrages and abuses to which they are subjected by radical agitators. Just in proportion to the experience of officers, they fully approve of and endorse General McCiellan's course. They pronounce emphatically that, if the army were to advance on the Potomac, without adequate preparation elsewhere, there would be an inevitable consolidation of Confederate troops in Virginia, and that, with their facilities for railroad communication and transportation of forces and munitions, we should certainly be beaten. The lying accounts of comparative weakness and disorganization that are promulgated so industriously by Southern newspapers, deceive no experienced army com-mander; but, while they will not consent to ruin the country at the behest of of the abolition faction, they are beginning to show alarming signs of resentment at its importinent intermeddling. Colonel Richardson, of Illinois, warned the House of Reprelentatives, recently, of the danger of causelessly multiplying issues with the army, and terrible examples in past history are quoted at every street corner, of what angry soldiers have done when goaded beyond endurance by representative

16. Shallow plowing operates to impoverish the soil, while it decreases production.

17. By stabling and shedding stock through the winter, a saving of one-fourth of the food may be effected—that is, one fourth less food will answer then when some fourth less food will answer then when some fourth less food will answer then swer, than when such stock may be exposed to the inclemencies of the weather.

18. A bushel of sinster, per acre, sown bread cast over, will add one hundred per cent to its 19. Periodical applications of ashes tend to keep up the integrity of soils, by supplying most, if not all, of the organic substance. 20. Thorough preparation of land is absolutely necessary to the successful and luxurious growth

21. Abundant crops cannot be grown for a succession of years, unless care be taken to provide and apply an equivalent for the substance carried off the land in the produce grown there-22. To preserve meadows in their productiveness, it is necessary to harrow them every second autumn, apply topdressing, and roll them up. SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO A N. C. SOLDIER .-The Fredericksburg Herald of Friday, says:

A young soldier named Allbritter, attached to the Provost Guard now on duty in this place under command of Lieut. Coleman, met with a serious accident at the Guard Room on Tuesday evening last. It appears that a soldier who was just going out on duty stood his musket against a post in the room for a moment, and another soldier in walking over the floor jarred it sufficiently to throw the gun down, when the load exploded, the ball passing through the heel of young Allbritter and coming out at the ankle in front. NORFOLK DAY BOOK. The very Latest Northern and

European Intelligence. NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE. TERMS: DAILY, One Year, 65 00

" One Month, 1 00 WEEKLY, One Year, TIME DAY BOOK HAS NOW BECOME THE newspaper of the South. The very latest Northern and European News appears in its columns, pers in the Confederacy. We submit the following extraots from what others have to say of us . D. T. Bissie, Esq., who has lately returned from Europe, with important dispatches to the Confederate one, two, and three days in advance of all other pa-

States Government, says in a recent letter : "While in London and Paris, I saw several quotations from the Norpolk Day Book, and since my return I have also noticed extracts from the same sprightly journal in the newspapers of New York, Charleston, and other cities."

The Suffelk (Va.) Christian Sun says:

The Norfolk Day Book, which is so fast gaining popularity throughout the Southern Confederacy, comes to us greatly enlarged and improved, and gives us Northern and Foreign News in advance of any of our other exchanges, and is, therefore, perused with avidity." The Wilmington (N. C.) Daily Journal says:

"The Norfolk Day Book has become the most valnable exchange we receive, as it contains the very latest news from the Rump Government as well as Foreign News." The Fredericksburg (Va.) Herald says : "The Norfolk Day Book contains the latest news from the North, and its editorials are always of an interesting character."

Subscribers to the DAY BOOK may rely upon having their papers sent promptly by mail. Address, with amount of subscription enclosed, JOHN R. HATHAWAY, Editor and Proprietor.
