POETRY.

From the Baltimore Patriot. HINION.

BY G. W. S. Fill the bumper to the brim, Let the bubble break or swim But the Union-happy sound !is the watchword-pass it round.

Cease, ye bragging Northmen, cease; Let the South enjoy her peace; It is Clay who calls alone, Hearken to his mighty tone.

Gather round ye men of old, While our banner is unrolled; Shout aloud Disusion's doom, Banish her to endless gloom.

Come, ye Southrons, Northmen too, Prove yourselves to Union true; Join us in our march of state, For our country's fate.

Towering o'er us is our bird, Grasping tight the double sword In his mighty, iron fists, Shricking for disunionists.

Now ye men to freedom true, Come with mornings early dew : Tis the nation's call on all,
Answer then her peaceful call. Let the flag of Union wave

Proudly o'er Disunion's grave; Tis the Prople's mingled voice, Crying out rejoice! rejoice!

Fill the bumper to the brim, Let the bubbles break or swim But the Union—happy sound!— Is the watchword—pass it 'round.
