RALEIGH: SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1865.

All communications, on business with this office, should be addressed to GANNON and HOLDEN.

That there is soon to be a Convention in North-Carolina is a fact and certain fact; that every citizen looks forward with pleasure to the benefits he is to derive from the action of that Convention is also certain. But it is not at all certain that any one duly estimates the importance of that Convention.

It will unite us finally and forever to the United States government, and when united it will make us the equal of any other citizen of the Union. It will declare that the black man is a freeman now and forever, he and his children, and his children's children. These facts are sure and there is no controversy or disunion of sentiment in relation to them.

But out of these, other consequences naturally arise about which great difference of opinion may exist. The entire State organization will be to create anew. What sort of courts shall we have? How many Judges, and how are they to be chosen, and for how long? How many Justices, Sheriffs and Clerks, and how are they to be elected, and how long are they to hold office? What are to be the qualifications of members of the Legislature, and how often shall the Legislature meet? What sort of a militia organization shall we have? What is to be the salaries and pay of all the officers of the State, and what articles of property will you tax to pay the expenses of the government?

Besides this, the newly freed man will have to be cared for. What rights he shall enjoy at the polls, in the courts, in the public schools and in the asylums, will be discussed and must be decided. It must also be remembered that whatever is done by that Convention will stand unaltered for several generations, and hence its action is as important for those who are to come after us, as it is for those now living. Moreover, it is the good fortune of North-Carolina to be the first State to organize and re-enter the Union, and our action will have much influence in the reconstruction of all the other States.

Let us then endeavor to set a good example for us, as a Christian retribution for the bad example, they set for us. In view of these facts we hope our friends everywhere, will exert themselves to bring out their best and truest men as candidates for the Convention, and use their influence to have them elected. They can do their State no service more important.

North-Carolina Land Agency.

A firm composed of reliable and enterprising business men has been formed in this City, for the purpose of buying and selling the surplus lands in this State. They propose further to publish a twenty-four column weekly paper, entirely devoted to the development of the untold wealth, mineral, agricultural, &c., of the State. They will advertise in their paper all lands, gold, copper, iron and other mines offered for sale, free of charge.

This undertaking has our hearty concurrence, since it invites the bene and siew of the Northern people to come among us. The company has that amount of enterprise and capital also, which insures success. The name or style of the firm is in Battle, Heck & Co. Full particulars of the enterprise, together with the prospectus of their paper will appear in our next issue. The office of the Company is in Fayetteville Street. May great success attend them. It is a step in the right direction.

A few weeks ago a letter purporting to be written at Morganton, North Carolina, by one Captain Calhoun Oulton, on the 9th September, 1865, was copied in this paper from the New York Tribune, as a part of the news of the day. The writer states on the day previous Hon. Burgess & Gaither dined at his father's house and conversed with him about the plans formed in Richmond, to capture President Lincoln, and stated that the affair would be managed by private enterprises instead of the government.

Facts have been placed in our possession that entirely convince us that there was no such person as Calhoun Oulton living in North Carolina; that at the time alluded to, Hon. B. S. Gaither was attending the Superior Courts and canvassing for Congress in distant Counties, and that he was not even acquainted with President Davis. The whole letter is evidently without foundation, gotten up for a sensation or for a worse purpose, and if such plot ever existed in Richmond Mr. Gaither certainly knew nothing of it.

It gives us much pleasure to be able to announce that Jonathan Worth, Esq., has consented to accept the office of Treasurer and Property Agent for the State. In addition to the duties of Treasurer, he will be charged with collecting and selling all the property belonging to the State: jetties, carpenters, and every other article of State property, and to investigate and report to the Convention the condition of the State finances, the condition of the banks, railroads, Asylums and other public corporations.

The office is a very important one, and it will give the citizens of the entire State great satisfaction to know that Mr. Worth is to discharge its duties. His judgment, energy, and integrity mark him as the man who will perform them for the best interest of the State.

We expect in a few days to be able to place before the public in our columns, in permanent form, an admirably planned Land and Real Estate Agency for North Carolina, to be located in Raleigh, Goldsboro and Greensboro, embracing the Senatorial Division of our internal resources of pine, corn, cotton, tobacco, and other lands, as well as the water power of the State.

There is to be connected with the office a Geologist, Mineralogist, Surveyor, Draughtsman and Attorney, for examining and taking abstracts of titles, conveying, giving our Northern buyers an easy method of finding what they want; and to Southern surplus real estate owners, a cheap opportunity of throwing their property in the market under the eye of energetic business men, and so realize a fair price for the same.

The business will be conducted on a liberal principle, fairness, cheapness, dispatch, and comfort to all concerned, being in the hands of well known parties, of experience and enterprise, and who have planned this scheme or arrangement for the purpose of opening the State quickly and successfully to all Northern purchasers in stock companies or as sellers, merely on farms direct.

Their wish seems to have been to organize an improved real estate business, differing in its advantage somewhat, from the best Northern concern, with which one of the firm at least, is familiar, and it is likely, when displayed to the public eye, will be seen to embody every element of success to the buyer, to the seller, and we trust to the firm itself, as a desire to rally our State from the spaby of war, and demoralization, and make our people once more happy, certainly deserves some slight acknowledgment.

Encumbered with too much land for successful agriculture, especially now in our demoralized condition, we should be more than willing and ready to part with the surplus, and let others, even if from Northern latitudes, inaugurate their system of farming and the like, and thus occupying so near us, our neglected places from barrenness, and our own now dreary fringes from poverty and wretchedness. A good offer for the poor mainland, and who is rich now? And a waving Yankee harvest, or the chatter of wheels in our streets, or the thunder tone of well developed water power, will each and all, soon draw our cars, and do more to unite us than years of spathy and neglect. We need the case that money gives for our punes are reduced, and having been accustomed to plenty, it goes hard with our millionaires and others, to know they have not a dollar on hand. They can only realize by disposing of surplus lands, or produce, if they so have it. Let the farmer, therefore, of a hundred acres, part with fifty if he can; him of five hundred half; and so on up to any quantity, and the lands so retained, will soon become more valuable than at present, and the character of the State, as to her internal resources be every where known to her credit, and to the satisfaction of her worthy citizenship.

We need money and active men among us, the Northern element of intelligence and ceaseless energy, and then no State can excel ours in a worthy destiny. For this in mind, as a very great consideration, we invite settlers, to no entirely new country like an untried northwest or southwest, but to where the climate is well known; where there are railroads and navigable waters; towns and villages already built; good highways from point to point; harbors, the best; ship lines outward-bound and coastwise; indeed, all the beginnings of a great and populous commonwealth.

Any means, therefore, looking to the effectual consummation of this worthy object has our entire sanction, and will, no doubt meet with the hearty good will of every true and patriotic North-Carolinian. We most cordially say, open the register of our valuable, though at present unproductive property to the capitalist, to the skillful farmer, and let him select without delay, so that 1865 will see teaming fields, bursting gardens, cheerful hearthstones, a happy and prosperous people!

Arrest of Gov. McGrath. Gov. McGrath was arrested for high treason at Columbia, on the 27th ult. He was taken to Hilton Head. He surrendered to Lieut. Breck, quietly, Wade Hampton escaped.

We have received late Northern papers, containing much interesting matter, but our columns are so crowded with Union meetings, new advertisements, an interesting sketch of the Mexican Empire, the telegraphic news, &c., that we have not the space to lay it before our readers.

Messrs. Blackall & Co., proprietors of Kittrell's Springs, propose giving a ball and party on the 28th and 29th inst. Young ladies and gentlemen are invited to attend. Owing to the disordered state of the mails, Messrs. Blackall & Co. are unable to send out the usual tickets, and, therefore, they trust their young friends will not be detained on that account.

NEWSPAPER AND WEST PERIODICAL DEPOT is well stocked with all the leading Northern Dailies, Magazines, stationary, &c. Refer to his advertisement in to-day's paper. He has something which you doubtless need; if so, give him a call.

GILKUS & HASKINSON'S MINISTRY.—To-night is Mr. HANNA'S benefit. This corps, of which Mr. HANNA is a leading member, deserves some remuneration for their continued efforts to entertain the public. We hope Mr. HANNA will get a full house.

DEATH OF MR. HAVANSCOFF BIRD.—We regret to hear of the death in this city on Saturday evening last, from typhoid fever, of Mr. Havanscoff Bird, who was at one time one of the editors and proprietors of the Wilmington Herald published in this city previous to the outbreak of the rebellion. He was very reserved in his manners, which won him the friendship of a large and intelligent acquaintance. He was about 80 years of age at the time of his death.—Wilmington Herald.

PUBLIC MEETING IN RANDOLPH COUNTY. A meeting of a portion of the citizens of Randolph County, held at the residence of the Rev. J. M. Jones, on the 3rd of June, 1865. The Rev. J. M. Jones was called to the chair, and James Wren and Alfred Julian Esq., were appointed as Vice Presidents, and R. F. Trogdon and Wm. A. Brown were requested to act as Secretaries.

The Chairman briefly explained the object of the meeting, and an address was made by the Rev. J. M. Jones, in which he alluded to the political condition of the country, and the necessity of a national convention to re-establish the Union, and to re-organize the government of the United States.

Resolved, That we deplore the continuance in any mode of hostilities against the Southern States, and that we pledge ourselves to support a national convention to re-establish the Union, and to re-organize the government of the United States.

Resolved, That we believe that assassination of political considerations is indicative of a malignant and disordered spirit and dangerous to the permanence of constitutional government, and we abhor the assassination of President Lincoln as well for the crime as for the political considerations.

Resolved, That we believe that the election of Delegates to the National Convention, to be held at Raleigh on the 20th June, and will elect the delegates to represent the people of Randolph County, to be held at the residence of the Rev. J. M. Jones, on the 3rd of June, 1865.

Resolved, That we believe that the election of Delegates to the National Convention, to be held at Raleigh on the 20th June, and will elect the delegates to represent the people of Randolph County, to be held at the residence of the Rev. J. M. Jones, on the 3rd of June, 1865.

The Prisoners Out of Court.

THE PRISONERS ARE PROPERLY CARED FOR and fed, we attend to their necessities on duty at each cell. In the case of Mrs. Surratt the prison diet has been varied somewhat, to the extent of allowing her to eat, when she has been ill. She spends much of her time reading a prayer book. Harold's mood is morose, sometimes exuberantly buoyant, and sometimes as much depressed. Must pay considerable attention to his personal appearance, and is particularly clean in his toilet.

Miss Mrs. Surratt, he occupies much of a time in reading religious books. At present is still and uncommunicative for the most part. O'Laughlin conducts his self, very quietly, but perfect and beautiful shape more than was to be expected in a single Spring Skirt over last year's or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure in wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Opera Houses, Balls, and every other place where the most perfect and beautiful shape more than was to be expected in a single Spring Skirt over last year's or can be made.
