The Convention. The Convention assembled at 12 o'clock in the Common's Hall, and was called to order by Mr. Thompson, of Bertie, who had been appointed temporary Chairman by an informal meeting previously held.

A committee on credentials was appointed, and upwards of an hundred delegates appearing, werequalified.

Mr. R. H. Kingsbury, of Forsythe, was elected Principal and Mr. John H. Hill, of Randolph, Assistant Doorkeeper. Mr. T. H. Hill, of Wake, was elected Enrolling

The Convention adjourned until to-morrow 12

Judge Underwood's Decision. Judge John W. Underwood, presiding in the United States District Court now in session at Alexandria, Va., says the Richmond Republic, has rendered a decision upon the application of Francis Le Smith, Esq, a former member of the bar of Virginia, to be admitted to practice in the above named court. Mr. Smith asked to be admitted to practice on taking the oath that he had not aided the rebellion since he received his full pardon from the President, in June last, assuming that the act of January, 1865, requiring an oath that he had never aided the rebellion was an ex post fucto law, and therefore unconstitutional, and that the pardon under the constitution absolutely cancelled all former acts of disloyalty. Judge Underwood held that unless the applicant could take the oath required by the act of Congress above referred to-which Mr. Smith says he cannot do he could not be admitted to practice in that court. The petition was accordingly refused. This case decides a number of applications in which the same reasons are assigned for admission.

TTOTAL Great Naval Race. The Board of Engineers have made a report concerning the relative merits of the Algonquin and Wincoski. The report states that the economical performance of each vessel was equal, that the arrangement of the Winooski's machinery is the simplest and most convenient possible, and its economy of fuel equal to that given by the very complex design of the Algorquin.

There will now be a sea race between the two boats. The superiority of the Winooski, as already demonstrated, leaves ne doubt as to the result. Mr. Dickerson has lost his engines and failed to make good his promises. We are sorry for him, and glad to know that the boats built for the government -under directions of the navy department are of so superior and economical a character. The result thus far has been as we supposed it would be.

Mexico.

From Mexico we have advices of continued fighting and uncertainty. The heroic city of Matamoras is fairly besieged by the liberals under General Escobedo. There is a garrison of eighteen hundred men in the city, and the attacking force consists of twenty five hundred or three thousand men, exclusive of Cortina's predatory bands. Efficient ly handled, the imperial troops should suffice to hold the city; but the Juarists think so meanly of Meria, the general in command, that they assert that, with a little more ammunition, they could carry the city by storm. The republican forces had captured the little town of Catorzo, in Leon, and secured musketry and ammunition, "Moreover," quaintly adds the officer in command, "the merchants of that city furnished me $18,000 for the use of the troops." At the pass of Cabras the Juarists also claim to have defeated nine hundred imperial ists with two hundred cavalry, and are further said to have occupied the town of Caravajal. Matanzoras papers make light of and entirely deny these spccesses. Juarez is at Chihuzhua, with five thou-

Massachusetts votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and the usual State officers, on the first Monday in next November. How much hope the so called Democracy, even upon their amended platform, may indulge in regard to Massachusetts may be ascertained from the following report of the last annual election: majority for Lincoln, 77,997for Governor Andrew, 76,091.

New York elects her State officers by a plurality vote, every two years. Great interest attaches to the result of the present campaign, which is to be decided early in November next. The Union party having squarely endorsed President Johnson and his policy, and the Democrats have attempted to do the same thing-a piece of generosity which has been avenged upon them by what threatens to be a formidable split in their ranks. The result of the last election, in 1864, in New York, was as follows: President-Union majority, 6,749. Governor-Union majority, 8,293.

New Jersey elects her State officers, by a plurality vote, every three years. Her general election takes place on the first Tuesday in November next. New Jersey is the only free State in which Copperheadism has been boldly and steadily avowed by the Democrats, and sustained by the people at the polls. In the present canvass, they run upon a platform distinctly antagonistic to President Johnson's reconstruction policy, and carry the weight of having refused to ratify the joint resolution of Congress amending the Constitution of the United States by the abolition of slavery. General Runyon is their candidate for Governor. On the part of the Unionists, who have warmly supported President Johnson's administration and course in their platform, Hon. Marcus L. Ward is the candidate. At the last election in New Jersey, McClellan's majority was 7,801.

Pennsylvania elects her State officers for three years. Her general election, when only auditor general and surveyor general are to be chosen, is on the second Tuesday of October next. In this State, as in New Jersey, the Democratic le ders have taken extreme Copperhead ground, and yet have been enabled to secure two soldiers as their candidates for State officers. The Union party, more consistently, have endorsed the President's policy, and have nominated two of the ablest and most conspicuous heroes in the Union army. The result of the last election in this great State, was as follows: President, Union majority, home vote, 5,712; army, 14,363. Total, 20,755. Governor, in 1863, Union majority, 15.825

Ohio elects her State officers every two years. The next election takes place on the second Tuesday of October. Nothing could be stronger and more explicit than the declarations of the Ohio Unionists in favor of President Johnson and his policy, and nothing is 'more certain than the election of their ticket by an overwhelming vote. Here, as in New York, the Democrats have gone to pieces in the effort of one wing to break loose from the treasonable doctrines of the other, and the rieter minstion of the latter not to give up its record-The result of the last election was as follows: President; Union majority, home, 28,197; soldier's, 31,221. Total, 59,418. Secretary of State; Union majority, home, 26,619; army, 28,152. Total,

West Virginia elects her Governor and State officers for two years. The next general election takes place on the fourth Thursday of October. The result at the Presidential election was a Union majority of 12,714.

The Wirz Trial. The defence has been entered by Wirz' counsel. It is now attempted by his counsel to remove the blame from him to Winder. The following testimony was taken on the 27th:

Lieutenant Heath, of the Third Georgia Reserves, was called for the defence, but his evidence told the other way. He admitted that he had seen Wirz take from federal prisoners half the vegetables they had bought. Dr. Casten gave negative evidence, stating that he had never heard of Wirz maltreating prisoners, nor of any cases of starvation or emaciation. Colonel Persons gave testimony tending to shift the blame of the atrocities proved to have been committed upon "Hog Winder." He assert d that Wirz suggested the removal of the hospital out of the stockade, but that Winder declined to permit this to be done, and also that Wirz protested against crowding more prisoners into the Andersonville pen, and expressed great displeaure at the meagreness of the supplies. He never heard of thirty days' furloughs being given by Wirz for shooting Union prisoners. All jurloughs over sev en days were given by General Winder. In like manner he never heard of undue violence being practised by Captain Wilz.

At the conclusion of this witness's testimony the court adjourned.

EUROPE.

The steamship Cuba arrived at Halifax yesterday, with European advices to the 17th inst. John Bull bas at last been fairly scared out of all propriety by the Penian movement, and is making as great a hubbub as if a ho-tile army of two hubdred thousand men had already landed on his shores, Gen. Sir Hugh Rose, who subdued the Indian rebellion by shooting the Sepoys from the muzzle of guns, is in command of the British troops in reland, and has under him a force which our Dublin correspondent estimates at nearly seventyfour thousand men. A sweep has been made upon the office of an unbappy Dubha weekly newspaper, suspected of Fenianism, and twelve or fourteen prisoners, mysteriously stated not to be composi-tors, were secured. A still more important haul was made subsequently, when the police came across a live American captain with documents and a uniform in his possession. The Privy Council has been solemnly convened to decide what is to be done with the prisoners. British war vessels hover around every poriton of the Irish coast at which an invading army could effect a landing, and Donald McKay, the shipbuilder, has been called in consultation by the Admiralty with the view of protecting British harbors by torpedoes in case of war. At the latest dates the excitement and arrests continued. A plot to assessmate the French Emperor on his way to or from his recent interview with the Queen of Spain, at San Sebastian, is stated to have been discovered. A near relative of Grain is mixed up in the affair. The Queen of Spain insisted upon accompanying her guests on their return, so as to

Cholera, no. withstanding its reported backward novement, was ca eating great havor in France. The Mayor of Marseilies had summoned the physicians together to consult what was best to be done, and the inhabitants were fla ing from the city panicstricken.

The intelligence from Europe brings us additiondenic. Pew of our citizens now fully appreciate the terror that its presence infuses into a people, visited by it, and in whose midst hundreds are hour-ly dying. While we do not anticipate personal danger to the inhabitants of the high cities of the interior, should the cholers visit this country, yet the stagnation in business, and the mortality along the seacoast, and the present impoverished condition of the South, will nevertheless add to our great sufferings of mind and body. O . YAC

A Constantinople correspondent, writing on the 23d ult., to the New York Tribune, says the number of deaths in the Turkish capital, during the fifty days prevalence of cholera were not less than fifty thousand, thorgh the official returns of the Turkish Government largely understated them. Only one death has occurred among the American residents, that of a little child of the Rev. Mr. Washburn .-The average mortality was sixty five per cent. of those attacked, while those treated by the medical men of the American mission, only fifteen per cent. died. The writer said the cholera followed no known laws, raging with the greatest severity in the highest, best ventilated, and most cleanly quarters of the city, where in previous epidemics not a single case occurred. The mortality among Europeans was much greater after the disease had begun to decline than during its height. Persons who had fled from infected districts apparently in perfect health have generally been attacked as soon as they reached their new places of refuge. The writer

"It is said that the swallows and several other kinds of birds deserted the city at the commencement of the enidemic, and are only now beginning to return-and I believe this to be a fact. It is al so said that the gilding on the caiques in the Gol den Horn and Bosphorus, has tarn: shed, especially in those localities where the cholera has raged most severely. The summer has been delightful. I have never known more perfect weather in Constantinople. For two months before the cholera came, the health of the city was better than it had been for years, and the weather has remained the same dur ng the epidemic that it was bef re. I have care fully read the description of the cholers in " Wood's Theory and Practice of Medicine," and it is wonder fully correct, although the treatment of the disease there recommended is not, as a whole, the one which I should recommend."

From Marseilles the news of the cholera does not show the hoped for dimunition. On the 8th there were thirty four deaths from this cause, and on the 9th forty had been declared at mid-day. It is stated that a case has occurred at the village of Cabris, asserted to arise from some linen which had been used by a cholera patient which had been sent there to be washed. This fact, if established, would be most important as tending to prove that, in certain conditions at least, cholera is contagious. At Bar celona the disease is increasing. On the 29th there were twenty eight fatal cases, and on the 2d there were forty-eight. A fatal case has occurred in Bologna, and at Lucera, near, Naples, there were on the 3d nine cases and five deaths.

The Marseilles papers publish accounts from Suez, which state that the cholers was making numerous victims there. A general panic had arisen among the men employed at the canal and the docks, and three fourths of them had fled. The company were making great exertions to fill their places, but the work will be delayed for at least ! three months.

assembled at a time of great perplexity so reorgen ize the government, which has been disturbed by protracted and disastrous war. It is gratifying to know that a virtuous and intelligent people have thosen a body of men disti iguished for abilities, of much experience, and of exalted patriotism-fully equal to the grave matters which are entrusted to them. As the interests of our constituents are the same, it is to be hoped that there will be little conflict of opinions among us, and that frank speech and courteous manners will distinguish our intercourse; so that he who has been called to preside over our de liberations will find but little inconvenience from his lack of experience, and will be enabled to use the position with which he has been honored, as he earnestly desires to do, for its legitimate objects Fellow-citizens, we are going home. ment of the Convention. Mr. Winston suggested that the number be increased to nine. Mr. Eston thought that seven would be the propbeen thus constituted.

Mr. Mebane consented to this modification of his Mr. Manly moved to amend the motion by providing that, until the committee reported, the Convention be governed by the rules of the last Con-

Some desultory discussion ensued as to whether the rules of order adopted by the Convention of 1861, or those of the Convention of 1865, should be used temporarily.

Mr. Minly said that he only preferred those of the late Convention because they had been carefully prepared under the supervision of Judge Budger, and appeared to him to be better adapted than the former for the government of a legislative body.

Mr. Settle suggested that the committee could have both setts of rules before them, and could easily report by noon to-morrow. He preferred Mr. Mehane's motion as modified at the instance of Mr. Eaton. The question being on the amendment of-fered by Mr. Manly, it was rejected.

Mr. Mebane's motion was then adopted, pursuant to which, the President appointed Messrs. Mebane, Thompson, Boyden, Gilliam, Phillips, Manly and Winston. Mr. Winston introduced the following resolutions which, at his instance, lies, over until tomorrow . "Resolved, That a committee of nine be appointed, whose duty it shall be to report the subject matters proper for the action of the Convention, and the number of committees necessary for the proper disposition of the same."

Mr. McGehce introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That the President of the Conven-Raleigh, to officiate in succession as chaplains to the Convention." Mr. Mebane moved its reference to the committee appointed to prepare rules of order.

The Convention refused to refer, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, moved that a committee of three he appointed to wait on His Excellency, the Covernor, to announce the organization of the Convention, and its readiness to receive any communication he may wish to make.

The motion was agreed to and the President appointed as said committee Messrs. Caldwell, of
