LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY, LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE STATE.

RALEIGH: Friday, November 10, 1865.

The Election. The election passed off quietly here yesterday. A large vote was polled, and Gov. Holden received a most gratifying majority.

Mr. Russ is almost certainly elected to Congress. Messrs. Rayner, Farrel, Moore and Page lead the tickets for the Commons.

Mr. Ray seems to be elected Sheriff, and John N. Bunting, Superior Court Clerk.

Mr. Jones is beyond doubt the next Senator. Mr. Ivy's name was run without his authority.

J. J. Ferrell, the former efficient County Court Clerk, is re-elected.

The result in Wake thus far is most glorious. We have most sanguine hopes of Gov. Holden's election by a large majority.

Andrew Johnson. Let us now give a united support to President Johnson. He is our best, and at one time, was almost our only friend.

We regret much that any person should have seen fit to vote against the adoption of the Anti-Slavery and Anti-Secession ordinances.

We are sorry to see that any persons should be so blind as virtually to vote for secession. We had thought that all were cured, but it seems that some are still foolhardy.

For one, we stand by President Johnson in the present as well as the past, and set our face sternly against his enemies wherever they may be.

We learn that the Republicans have carried both New York and New Jersey. A desperate attempt was made by the democrats in New York especially, and their defeat in that State is a most terrible blow.

Plainters' Convention. We see that a call for a Convention of Farmers and Planters has been issued in Alabama, for the purpose of doing something towards regulating labor.

Congress. This body meets the first Monday in December next. If the right men have been chosen in this State, we anticipate no great difficulty in North-Carolina's speedy redemption.

Lord Palmerston's death has flung English affairs into confusion just at this time. England is in a bad condition. Earl Russell has been instructed by the Queen to reorganize the Ministry.

The Weekly Standard. We again make announcement that the Weekly Standard is not now published. As soon as new material is received, the paper will be resumed.

It is reported that the Cholera has appeared aboard the Atlanta, an immigrant ship now in Quarantine, at New York. Great excitement prevails in consequence. We have long anticipated this danger. Perhaps it may pass over. God grant that it may.

For the period that will now intervene between the election and the assembling of the Legislature, our columns will be necessarily meagre. Nevertheless, we shall attempt to keep our readers interested, by a prompt report of all the most reliable and earliest news.

John L. Pennington, Esq., has returned from Washington City. We learn that he is well, and we are sure that he has enjoyed his trip.

RECONSTRUCTION.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial writes in relation to the restoration of the Southern States:

The work goes bravely on, and gentlemen who have lately arrived here from the States recently in rebellion agree in announcing the restoration of "law and order" throughout the South. Some of the old politicians are sadly displeased at the President's course, but the masses of the people are beginning to see that it is for their interests to shake off their old political trammals and to stand by the Chief Magistrate of the Union.

Ultra politicians may not fancy the views of President Johnson on negro suffrage, and many declare that the Senators and Representatives from the reconstructed States must be excluded from the halls of Congress as "security for the future."

Lord Palmerston's Last Days.—His Death Unexpected.—His Last Words.—The London Daily Telegraph says the members of Lord Palmerston's family were by no means prepared for so abrupt a termination of his illness, and gives the following account of his last moments:

His death was not unexpected, and it was soon apparent that the end was near. He was in a state of mind which he had retained unclouded; he was in full possession of his faculties, and suffered very little pain.

FRIGHTFUL CONDITION OF THINGS IN MEXICO.

The empire brings no peace to Mexico. From the copious details of Mexican news which we published yesterday, that unfortunate country was seen to be in the worst condition of anarchy as it is at this time.

GENERAL GRANT ON HIS OWN ACHIEVEMENTS.—MAGAZINE WRITERS' ACCOUNT OF A CONVERSATION.

Dr. R. Vaughan writes in the last number of the British Quarterly Review: "In Washington I had the privilege of an introduction to General Grant. The eminent man was in his official department, much the sort of room in which a London attorney might be imagined giving audience to his clients.

"This stately descendant from the sons of the old wilderness gave me a cordial grasp of the hand on our being introduced. The manner of the General was simple and quiet. I soon saw he was a man of few words, and had reason to think that his words were usually well chosen.

"When about to take my leave, I was pleased to hear the General say, 'Well, I think I shall come to England some day; but it must not be until I can spare something like a twelvemonth for that purpose.' I did not fail to express my conviction that if he came among us he would find not a few capable of appreciating what he had done, and of doing so generously.

NEGRO INSURRECTION IN JAMAICA.—FEARFUL CONDITION OF AFFAIRS.—GREAT ALARM IN KINGSTON.

The steamer Columbia, with Havana advices, has arrived. The papers give the particulars regarding the negro rebellion in Jamaica. The city of Kingston is in a great state of excitement. Business is entirely suspended, and the entire population have placed themselves in a state of defence.

TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION AT SEA.

Loss of an Unknown Vessel by Fire and Explosion off Cape Hatteras.—All the Passengers Supposed to Have been Saved. SAVANNAH, Nov. 1, 1865. The steamship Weybosset, from New York, reports: On the 27th of October, at eight o'clock A. M., Cape Hatteras bearing north-westward, fifteen miles, apparently a vessel on fire, with another vessel, apparently a bark, lying alongside of her.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PLANTERS OF ALABAMA.

The Mobile Tribune publishes an address to the planters of Alabama, dated at Montgomery, October 18th, and signed by Boling Ball, George W. Stone, George Goldswain, James H. Glanton, and William O. Baldwin, whose advice is as follows:

"The result of the recent war, as disastrous to the South, has been a revolution of your entire labor system. The four hundred thousand blacks who were recently your slaves, and subject to your will in their every moment, are no longer under your individual control. Hitherto you have been accustomed to direct their labor by your sovereign mandate; now you can command it only by contract.

"You must impress upon him the great fact that without the products of the soil, the whole theory of economic policy falls to the ground, and with it all the wealth of the world; that the cereals and great staples are the driving wheels of the social machine, without which all other professions and pursuits are useless pinions and pulleys. Nor can you, fellow-citizens, hold yourselves guiltless if you remain inert. You own the lands and the capital, and can give employment to the ignorant black man, to make every exertion and every reasonable sacrifice to save your beautiful and fertile country from desolation, and its inhabitants from want and starvation.
