In our notice of his arrest yesterday, we were misinformed as to the name of the person, said by Sugg to have been present when he got the pistol from a soldier. The name of the witness was William Rabon instead of Cas. Pollard. Mr. Pollard is Captain of the night watch, and a very efficient officer, but not connected with the evidence in this case.

Suggs has somewhat varied his story since his first appearance before the Mayor, but we deem it unnecessary to particularize in regard to it, as nothing has been elicited to change the current of suspicion founded on the facts in the case and his first statement in regard to them. If he is not really the murderer of Fort, the fact that he had in his possession the articles identified as his, so soon after the murder, shows that he must know something about the affair, and that he is intimately connected with it.

Mayor's Court .- A number of unimportant cases were up for hearing before His Honor, Mayor Harrison, yesterday, the most of which were disposed of to the great dis-satisfaction of the parties immediately concerned, for as Hudibras says;

"No man feels the halter draw, With good opinion of the law." The principal case was that of Isaiah Hardy. Clark Griffls and Smith Moody, gentlemen of color, charged with stealing two bales of cotton. Two of the parties, Moody and Griffs, were not forthcoming, having gone on special business to some bourne whence they have not yet returned. Burglary.-The Hardware store of Messrs. Heart and Lewis, on Fayetteville Street, was entered on Tuesday night by a burglar or burglars, and greenbacks to the amount of about sixteen dollars extracted from the money till. Entrance was effected by prying the shutter from a back window and raising the sash. No goods of any kind have been missed, and although there were eight or ten dollars of specie in the till with the paper money, it was left untouched. As this crime is, if we mistake not, a felony punishable with death, by the laws of this State, the rogue what it now is as freedmen. The negro may risked his neck for a very small consideration.

The Concert and Tableaux exhibition at the Deaf and Dumb Institute last night, by the scholars of the Baptist Sabbath School, was quite a success. The music, both instrumental and vocal, and the pantomine representations, were very fine, and reflected great credit upon the performers, and upon Mr. Palmer, the Superintendent, and the tenchers in the school, who had the management of the entertainment. From the large crowd present, we presume that quite a handsome sum was realized.

First, in reference to cotton. In a ver-large proportion, perhaps in nine tenths of the cotton territory, the heat of midsumme is hardly more intense than in the Northern States. It is true, the summers are longer but the heat is not generally intense about midsummer, when it is equally so in the more Northern States, and especially in the large cities. More than half of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas and Texas, and nearly all of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisi-ana, are adapted to cotton. In North Carolina, however, though the soil is propitious, ness of the warm season, the weed not having time fully to develope and mature. And probably the same is true as to the interior and colder portions of most of the other States mentioned. But recent experiments prove that this difficulty can be surely and profitably remedied, by the use of stimula-ting manures, such as guano, ashes, lime, stable manure, &c., all of which push the regions, unless the demand should become oppressive, while it is indisputably true that most of the lower portions of the Southern States are tempered even to pleasantness in the summer by the constant play of the sea-

I may add, that most of the labor in the tillage of cotton may be and ought to be accomplished before the oppressive heat of mid summer. Without touching the question whether the negro can stand heat better than the white man, I take the broad ground that the heat in the Southern States is not such, but that the white man can well endure it, and perform vigorous and profitable la-

Philosophers may well discuss the abstract question, and practical men should apply it when an exigency arises, but here there is no such extremity of heat as demands its application, even if it be true. The rice localities surely do not, and the statements already made apply generally to those of cotton and of these great staples, something has already been said in reference to the cotton regions.

It is certainly true that much of the country in the South adjacent to the Mississippi and entirely obviate them. Former lethargy on this subject may be partially accounted for.

Those localities have generally been in the far away. These places were profitable in spite of the sickness and deaths among the negroes and the dashing, pushing and tem-invite or permit much collateral attention to matters of health. But things have changed.

The negroes may and probably will to a great extent retire from those localities and if not, it will hardly be possible to maintain among them that police which is necessary and was formerly practicable. Negro labor localities are to be improved by sanitary

If they cannot be improved, the white man being more careful and cleanly will find them less dangerous than the negro, and perhaps will have more courage to encounter them.

I can in no event see how negro labor, as freedmen, can enure to the benefit of those localities, but were it otherwise, it would be a most narrow policy on account of a few peculiar and relatively small though rich localities, to fasten a dangerous element on the great South with so much of other healthful and fertile territory adapted not only to those, but to so many other staples. In the there can hardly be a doubt as to the right or ability of the Government to move them there, either as a seperate people under our protection, or an integral portion of the Union; as might be thought best. To do so would work no territorial loss to the Govern-home. And the white man would rush in and fill that vacuum. But if the negro re-

WHEREAS a Convention between the United State of America and the Republic of Ecuador, State of America and the Republic of Ecuador, for the mutual adjustment of claims, was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries, at the city of Guayaquil, on the twenty-fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, which Convention, being in the English and Spanish language, is, word for word, as follows:—

The United States of America and the Republic of Ecuador, desiring to adjust the claims of lic of Ecuador, desiring to adjust the claims of citizens of said States against Ecuador, and of citizens of Ecuador against the United States, have, for that purpose, appointed and conferred full powers, respectively, to wit: The President of the United States on Frederick Hassaurek, Minister Resident of the United States in Ecna dor, and the President of Ecuador on Juan Jose Flores, General-in-Chief of the armies of the Reway were fairly opened to him, he would in a few years double or treble the production public, who, after exchanging their full powers, which were found in good and proper form, have agreed on the following articles:-

ARTICLE L All claims on the part of corporations, companies, or individuals, citizens of the United States, upon the government of Ecuador, or of corporations. tions, companies, or individuals, citizens of Ecuador, upon the government of the United States. shall be referred to a Board of Commissioners. consisting of two members, one of whom shall be appointed by the Government of the United States, and one by the Government of Ecuador. In case of death, absence, resignation, or incapacity of either commissioner omitting or ceasing to of Ecuador, respectively, or the Minister of the United States in Ecuador, in the name of his Government, shall forthwith proceed to fill the vacancy thus occasioned. The commissioners so named shall meet in the city of Guayaquil within ninety days from the exchange of the ratification of this convention, and before proceeding to bu-siness shall make solemn oath that they will carefully examine and impartially decide according to justice, and in compliance with the provisions of this convention, all claims that shall be submitted to them; and such oath shall be entered on the record of their proceedings.

The commissioners shall then proceed to name an arbitrator or umpire, to decide upon any case or cases concerning which they may disagree, or upon any point of difference which may arise in the course of their proceedings, And if they cannot egree in the selection, the umpire shall be appointed by her Brittannic Majesty's Charge Affaires, or (excepting the Minister Resident of the United States) by any other diplomatic agent in Quito whom the two high contracting parties shall invite to make such appointment. ARTICLE II.

The arbitrator or umpire being appointed, the commissioners shall, without delay, proceed to examine the claims which may be presented to them by either of the two governments; and they shall hear, if required, one person in behalf of each government on every separate claim. Each government shall furnish, upon request of either commissioner, such papers in its possession as may be deemed important to the just determina-

ARTICLE III. The commissioners shall issue certificates of the sums to be paid to the claimants respectively, whether by virtue of the awards agreed to between themselves or those made by the umpire; and the aggregate amount of all sums decreed by the commissioners, and of all sums accruing from awards made by the umpire, under the authority conferred by the fifth article, shall be paid to the government to which the respective claimants belong. Payment of said sums shall be made in equal annual instalments, to be completed within ine years from the date of the termination of the labors of the commission, the first payment to be made six months after the same date. To meet these payments both governments pledge the revenue of their respective nrtions. ARTICLE IV.

The commission shall terminate its labors in twelve months from the date of its organization. They shall keep a record of their proceedings, and may appoint a secretary versed in the knowledge of the English and Spanish languages. ARTICLE V.

The proceedings of this commission shall be PLOWS, SHOVELS, final and conclusive with respect to all pending claims. Claims which shall not be presented to the commission within the twelve months it remains in existence will be disregarded by both governments, and considered invalid. In the event that, upon the termination of the labors of said commission, any case or cases should be pending before the umpire, and awaiting his dedision, said umpire is hereby authorized to make his certificate thereof in each case, transmitted to each of the two governments, shall be held to be binding and conclusive; provided, however, that his decision shall be given within thirty days from the termination of the labors of the commission, at the expiration of which thirty days his power and authority shall cease. ARTICLF VI.

Each government shall pay its own commissioner; but the umpire, as well as the incidental expenses of the commission, shall be paid one half by the United States and the other half by ARTICLE VII. The present convention shall be ratified and the atification exchanged in the city of Quito.

MARRIAGE GUIDE.

YOUNG'S Great Physiological Work, of every one his own Doctor—being a Private Instructor for Married Persons or those about to marry, both Male and Female, in everything concerning the physiology and relations of our Sexual System, and the Production or Prevention of Offspring including all the new discoveries never given in the English language, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This is really a valuable and interesting work. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of one hundred engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the east impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with. Still, it is a book that must
