

But still, the duty of the General Govern- ment is perfectly clear. That duty is, to amend the existing law, and to provide an effective remedy for the recovery of fugitives from service or labor. In devising such a remedy, Congress ought, whilst on one hand securing to the owner the full restoration of his property, efficiency to guard, on the other, against any abuse in the application of that remedy.

It is a case of the highest public interest, and one which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

Complaints have always existed against it, not less in the past than in the present. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

The bill is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

And it is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

The bill is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

And it is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

The bill is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

And it is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

The bill is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

And it is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

The bill is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest. It is a case which should be treated with the same care and attention as if it were a case of the highest public interest.

THE STAR.

RALEIGH, MAY 15, 1850.

MEMBERS OF THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

As the time is drawing near when the active operations of the next campaign will commence, it is all important that the Whigs should be ready and prepared for it.

THE COMPROMISE COMMITTEE.

The Report of the Committee, made by Mr. Clay, the Chairman, will be found in our paper to-day.

THE CENSUS BILL.—CONGRESS.

After elaborate and labored discussion, and many modifications, this bill passed the Senate and was sent to the House.

PROGRESS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Gov. Morehead reports that there were subscribers previous to 30th March, and 5 per cent paid for the Central Rail Road, 8,600 shares.

IMPORTANT FROM NEW MEXICO.

Intelligence (says the Richmond Times) from Santa Fe to the 12th March, has reached St. Louis, by which we learn that Major Neighbors, the Texas Commissioner, had arrived at El Paso, clothed with plenary powers to establish jurisdiction to the Texas Commissioner, thus abandoning that State the finest portion of New Mexico.