NO. 27.

VOL. XLI.

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 26, 1850.

THE NORTH CAROLINA STAR

IS PUBLISHED WAS KLY, BY THOMAS J. LEMAY & SON. (Office nearly opposite the Post Office.

Terms of the Paper. $2.50 per annum, when paid is GDVANCE-$5.00 if payment is delayed three months.

Terms of Advertising.

One square, (16 lines,) first insertion. $1.00 is each subsequent insertion. 25 Court orders and judicial advertisements, 25 per cent, higher.

A deduction of 332 per cent, for advertisements by

All letters and communications must be pos-

1. All subscribers, who do not give EXTRESS NOTICE to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publishers may continue to send them until arrearages are paid. 3. If subscribers neglect or refuse taking their papers from the offices to which they are sent, they are held responsible till their bills are settled and their paper ordered to be discontinued.

4. The Quarts have decided that cofusing to Jake. a newspaper or periodical from the office, or remov-ing and leaving it uncalled for, is "prima facie" evidence of intentional FRAUD.

MISCELLANEOUS. A THRILLING STORY.

"Just twenty years ago this night," said the old man to his wife, as she sat dozing in sighed that it was not real to her. Rupert Ellsworth's fitter, very soon after his mistoriunes, turned his pretty dweiling inglance over these pages to engulph the mind sene :

black clouds hung in dense mos-a young and beautiful girl's though owner was gazing quietly upon him from his had imagined her—his ideal sister! door step, wondering, I suppose, who he was, "Well I have it ed with our parents con- and turning parly away from her parents, there was a public house at hand. "A relative, perhaps?" gation. "And now I look at you more close-body else I do believe he loves him only ly, you do resemble the family; would you because he was your frient," and again she like to see his double? East.

or, fire. Knitting and a hickory fire, around possessing, the love and confiding tenderness the fa al cord around his own neck and thus band of friend! O, what glorious opportunity Clarence, and we shall be very happy! for the culture of the flowers planted in our do you look so sad Ella!" youthtime in the sunny gardens of our hearts, "Alas, Rupert, Clarence is too poor; he is fined, at this very moment, in the Blooming-to be green and bright when the selfish, sordid ambitious but, like ourselves, he has been undale Asylum, a manisc for life, youthtime in the sunny gardens of our hearts, living page for the records of eternity!

desultory thoughts, the party in the little par- were brim full of teacs. lor are standing in agitation and surprise. young ladies, for a moment confronting the the heavy saddle-bags from his back, and renow trembling Ella. One beam of joy shot turned in a minute to his sister's side. from his eye, as he cried out-it is, it is my

a single question; she was dreaming of her pa-rents' transports of joy when they should learn. Just then another flashing eye and flushed the corner of a large old fashioned fire place, him: and immediately after he had ascertained a successful one, too, for he had seen Rupert ejist twenty years ago, my Mena, since Ru- that his parents were alive and well, he glan- carry the heavy saddle-bags in, and reached pert left us, determined to seek the means to ced at his history since his departner, reserving the door just in time to hear his expression .support us comfortably in our old age, and to for their own happy fireside the details of his He stage of d from the window; he place our Ella in the position she should oc- self-sacrificing efforts and exile for twenty enough; for an instant he seemed rooted to the cupy, which she is fitted to adorn, and of years. Of course, after the first salutations spot; then he rushed round to the back of the which our misfortunes have robbed her. But were over, the whole party at the cottage were house into the kitchen, soized a large earning our only son has never come back to us; we acquainted and familiar, and anxious to hear knife that was lying on the table, and pressing ed hand upon his heaving breast,) that he has change of apparel, and but one shifting in his distress. He then pressed his write teeth been cut off in the bloom of his young manhood—we know not how or when!" and the and had travelled from town to town, and vilopen air. Just at this moment Rupert placed full, round tears rolled heavily down his furlage to village, teaching here and there, for his saddle-b gs on his horse, stopping to say rowed checks, whilst the good Mena wept and one year in one place, and further on another some pleasant adicus to Ella. "Good night, sobbed aloud. Thus they sat for a long, long year in another, garang instruction while he dear Ella, you will be there early?" Yes, time, and thus we leave them write months.

We suppare the write months we suppare the street of the memory of all he had been and all he now was to them.

We suppare the western of the street of the arm and led him to the city and to the mayor's office. Every was to them.

We suppare the western of the street of the arm and led him to the city and to the mayor's office. Every window, spring back, daried down a by-path bedy was surprised that a linte man like the Ella, their only daughter, was very beauti- ment, for though but saxteen when he left peruss a field or two-on, on he went towards father had been able to capture sac a a strong I mean by that, that she was gende, in- boune, he had been a student and a graduate at the inn, and stopped behind a clump of trees. Young fellow, but the proof was before them: telligent and graceful; she had always been college; as many of his class mates well re- crowded dons by together. It was late twigay and happy, for she to ed nature, and her member, he was a cash as a scholar and a light, and as our horseman was absorbed a-sample heared companions, and was too gentleman; and though there was many a unid his pleasant thoughts he did not see the young when her brother lett their rural home, reckless and possonate boy at that col ego, man's singular movements, or noticed that he the mayor, to whom he told the whole story. to feel reverses of forume, or to suffer, like and some few in his own class, there was was watched by him. to feel reverse's of forcine, or to softer, like and some few in his own closs, there was was watched by him.

were and good; annoyance at being managed by him.

were and good; annoyance at being managed to the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent with a pleasant only added fifty frances more to the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer, for one of the most glowing entering the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer the father's in circumstances in the father's in circumstances is much more than equivalent would refer the father's in circumstances in the father's in cir hide sillage, and in a side sold as a second to low him as a son, the young people as a soro ter, and was necessary to his high purpose, and exceptionly removed to the galleys, and that he had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and the had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and the had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and the had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and that he had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and that he had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and that he had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and that he had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and that he had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and the had already and exceptionly removed to the galleys and the had already to make the old looks hoppy, the old house like breed on that he whole included the whole included the second removed to the galleys and the had already to make the old looks hoppy, the old house like breed out half his time, he ordered his reblack eyes, his thir, appeared a man as a night interfere with the sacratic site and dear, sweet genule Ella, shall be lease. Is not the whole incident beautifulf of the programment of him handsome that his profession a fortune, happeared him and good, when at the use of succession has been a personal to the profession a fortune, happeared him and good, when at the use of succession has been a personal to the profession a fortune, happeared him and good, when at the use of succession has been a personal to the profession a fortune, happeared him and good, when at the use of succession has been a personal to the profession a fortune, happeared him and good, when at the use of succession has been a personal to the profession a fortune. And the profession a fortune has been been a personal to the profession a fortune has been a personal to the profession a fortune. The personal to the profession a fortune has the condered his result to the profession a fortune has the condered his result to the personal to the profession a fortune has the condered his result to the personal to the profession a fortune has the condered his result to the profession a fortune has the old tolks happy, the old house like the old tolks happy, the old tolks happy, the old house like the old tolks happy, the his humble nome, determined to receive his year by year he struggl d on to gain-what But ere the sound of his voice had died upon father's father fortunes, or to make one less (Gold) with the vain expectation of securing the solemn sollness of the evening. Rupert's vice upon n—a device not to be torgotten by ried, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth believed that dark and horrid place, goaded the poor Crotch, finding, like his first father and name any one who lived twenty years previously Rapert to be dead, and were sail, after twen-horse to malness, and set him admit with all sake, that it was not good to be alone, conwhere within twenty makes of the city of ty long years, mourning over his untimely save the gold. any where within twenty index of the city of ty long years, mourning over his untimely save the gold.

New York—but I must not point it over, again, end; they even found a luxury in their sorrow.

The next morning the clear bright sunlight that any reason why all the other Smiths—to be enabled to save something over in case of which it is connected with the idea of returns. lest one phreuzied eye should chance to whenever they could indulge it in Ella's ab- had searcely tinted the tops of the gorgeous Amelia's kinsfolk excepted-and Joneses, and a rainy day? glance over these pages to enguish the mind sense. They local the sweet girl too well foliage of Annum, when Ella sprang with a Browns. Tompkinses, comprising the world "On' you're poking, Adam," she answared, ing spring. Perhaps we have thought long of that town the instances are numerous where and heart in a sulf deeper singuish, and my to let her be a witness to their grief; it was light bound from the door-steps, bounding he mo ed in, should, rimply because Adam "Joking!" he repeated. "Not at all."

had been stormy, and have drawn. You were older than I when She had not noticed him before, but just as to that character. They consisted theoretical ses close to the earth, leaving only here this joyful meeting. I am so happy," and home he grasped it—she started, O. Chrence! tific, metaphysical knowledge, and practically braidings and there a streak of atmost phere, which she wept upon his bosom. It is growing Good morning; how is it that you are here so in a systematic course of his, based mainly on seemed struggling in pride to bear them late, Ruperly she said, dushing the tears from early this morans, and repressing all desires that and the house, amid his suppressed groans, "It is of little consequence what flower to dissolve themselves in gentle dew, or rain, our parents. I am to spend the night here. I sad; co ne in, come in, you shall be happy or beautiful white, fleecy flakes of snow, to will remain and be home in the morning to with us-you shall soon see why Ella's hear be finally-like humaniy-embosomed in all take breakfast with you. Go now, and pre-ffatters like a frighted bird's." tend you are a stranger, travelling farther east- the first time, passed her hand lovingly through But I digress. A horseman broke through the narrow passage between earth and clouds, fatigue for retiring so early to bed, and do not. Her parents met her at the door, glad that front of a coatege about a come down until I come and reable to our paralle had returned, though they could not undermile from our incongruous sign; he was very remis the happy intelligence that Rupert, the stand why she came so early. tall and slender, with the most luxuriant beard long lamented Rupert, is under their own roofand mustache, of rich, brown expressive hair; tree, never more to leave it again. O, I shall the room, "well, father, who had you here his eyes were clear as stars, his sain of a see my mather's eyes beam again with hope last night!" and she smiled singular paleness for a man, and with a face and joy, and my father grow young again in altogether as pleasing and interesting as the society of his cherished sou. On! I shall you be so happy" and she clasped her listle hands and she went on discribing Ruperts - cloquent- say to the plan of life which he had chalked out. could not guess his age, the might have close over her throbbing bosom, as though she been twenty-five or he might have been torty.) Was afraid her happy heart would leap in ecsilent wonder, trying to explained to her the difference between What objection is there in during off pewter!

on his brow. You could imagine that sorr-w, sister" over again—the name was music in his a demon when the old man turned to him could despise its illusory phantom, she would and struggle, and contest, had been his lot, ears. "Yes I will; but first tell me about your shaking his hand warmly.

"Why, Ella is wild, I do think. "No, no, none but young ladies who are in love can and with a slight emparrassment, inquired if ne er been from home, save when our parents lost soul! ablic house at hand. "By the sent ms to see our good friends here. We "Great God!" screamed Clarence, throwing his there not a Mr. Ellsworth have no somety nor even esitors, save a formkeeping an inn somewhere near here! He er class mate of yours;" and Ella paused, murdered Rapert Ellswarin, my rate s order had a daughter named Ella, and once," (and for the warm blood manthing her cheeks,—er, my first, best add kin lest friend!"—and want with either!"

What daughter named Ella, and once," (and for the warm blood manthing her cheeks,—er, my first, best add kin lest friend!"—and want with either!"

What a daughter named Ella, and once," (and for the warm blood manthing her cheeks,—er, my first, best add kin lest friend!"—and want with either!" he drew a long breath.) "a son Rapert." - "You remember Clarence Fenion. He is he rushed out toward the fatal clump of trees, "You know him, then, sir," said Mr. Clayton, always at our house, and my father almost ware followed by the now wretched family, the man of the cottager who was none other ships him, and I so believe it is for no that they reached him, he had already, always at our house, and my father almost week followed by the now wretched family. When she replied, ships him, and Lao heliare it is for no hill they reached him, he had already, in he ways injurious we derive from coors, flowers, and how wretched family. When she replied, ships him, and Lao heliare it is for no hill they reached him, he had already, in he ways injurious we derive from coors, flowers, and how wretched family. When she replied, we derive from coors, flowers, and help they reached him, he had already, in he was a second for the contemplation of ly to our country. In the first place, we are else in the world only because he talks of you frenzy, dragged the body of Rapert to the "You are not found aways injurious."

"What earthly reason," he demanded, "could es; and, above all, from the contemplation of ly to our country. In the first place, we are else in the world only because he talks of you frenzy, dragged the body of Rapert to the "You are not found aways injurious."

which, in merry mood, drawn our truthful of a true hearted sister! Ella you shall marry avoided the ignominy of a public execution.

"Alas, Rupert, Clarence is too poor; he is world, has shut in all the joyousness, the mu- fortunate. His father died a bankrupt nearly sic and the lights, the love and trust that once ten years ago; he settled here to practice medi so fully made up a happy existence-or when cine, but there is little or no sickness in our relentless death has driven our fondest affect village; he does not like the profession it was tions back upon the table of our memory, a his father's desire he should follow, and-and ving page for the records of eternity!

But while I have been indulging in those idly to his kind face, and he saw that they

Rupert started as though a new idea had The stranger, often glancing at the other two struck him. He went out to his horse, lifted "Impossible!" said he. "Behold the mean and clasped her in his arms. One to make it possible' then," and he dropped look on her part, and one electric thrill on hers, them with a heavy chink at her feet. There. had been enough to tell them of the ties of Eila, is fifty thousand dollars in gold! all gold," consanguinity which bound them, and the said he with the generous warmth of his naong separated brother and sister-even though ture, cand here is one portion which shall Elia was a child when Rupert left home- make you and my old friend and schoolfelknew and loved each other in an instant! low, Clarence, happy," and he presented her Ella was very happy, and too much ab- with a package containing ten thousand dollaw, Clarence, happy," and he presented her rment to ask her brother lars, while his cheeks were glowing and his their long lost son was living and planning in face peered in at the window. He saw Ruher mind some more pleasing stratagem than pert kiss Ella, in a transport of feeling—saw any other by which she could make known him place around her neck a ministure of to them his return. Ruport divined her himself, attached to a massive gold chain thoughts, as she sat so silenly, gazing upon and he supposed he was a lover of Ella's and are poorer than ever. with a deeper, deeper the story.

sorrow rankling here, (end he laid his wither- Rupert had left his home with but one deep moan as though relieved of a weight of

The neighbors taked to her of the promising ennoying influence, and seknowledge his smile lighting up his face, talking love to purse, but wrote immediately to the in history young Rapers of fermer veirs, exhibit over the home of the normal and over again this amplifies to the eged, the sick and the poor of their laborate and over again the sick and the poor of their laborate and over again the sick and the poor of their laborate and over again the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the sick and the poor of their laborate against the poor of the sick and the poor of their laborate against the poor of their laborate against the poor of the sick and the poor of their laborate against the poor of the sick and the poor of their laborate against the poor of the sick and the poor of their laborate against the poor of the sick against the poor of the s to be provided for from their security successfunds management. But we all not moralize head was nearly so seed from this body, and Why! Is there sayshing incompassion in phis manded his wife in a mazement. here, for Rupert's had been a noble aim, and his lifess corpse draged into the thicker, besophy with philogyny; in the love of wis-

he was as proud and austere, as he was ambitous, and he could not stoop to the mean cajolery and impertinent obscusiveness now practiced in our day to secure the "nighty and the consequence was he remained could have dead, but now I have cherished your memory and loved the semblance our friends
The day had been stored and austere, as he was ambitous, and he could not stoop to the mean cabeing a solore and a joy to them.

"Dear brother," shid Ella, "I thought you were dead, but now I have cherished your memory and loved the semblance our friends
The day had been stored and austere, as he was ambito not could not stoop to the mean cabeing a solore and a joy to them.

"Dear brother," shid Ella, "I thought you were dead, but now I have cherished your memory and loved the semblance our friends was dark and troubled, the other like sunshine.

The day had been stored and austere, as he was ambito not define the solor and and the all strates."

"Amelia! A

As we have styled Croich a philosopher, if the abstracts."

"Amelia! A

As we have styled Croich a philosopher, if
the abstracts."

"And the austracts."

"And the autributed it to a far different cause.

"As we have styled Croich a philosopher, if behooves us to explain what were his pretension

Adam first such as a such and the autributed it to a far different cause.

"As we have styled Croich a philosopher, if and the autrib you left its, but never, never dared I hope for she laid her hand upon the door of her own by in a considerable amount of literary, scien-

"Well," said she, looking anxiously about

"No one, my child." "Had you not a min here last night—tall," off on her, put out both her hands to Clarence,

We 'Great God!" screamed Clarenes, throwing has fore a cheerful lick- pert, "I have at least found a focume worth ly to the hands of justice, contrived to place more caprice of society."

The father and mother died broken hearted.

is stranger than fiction? TRUTH STANGER THAN FICTION. The Pennsylvansa correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, May 3d, relates the follow-ng occurrence: A young man recently made his escape A young man recently made in the superman recently made in the was strong and upperman recently made in the was and vigorous, and soon made his way across the country and escaped pursuit. He arrived the next morning before a cottage in an open field, a..d stopped to bey something to eat and concealment while he reposed a little. But he found the inmates of the cottage in the greatest distress. Four little children sat trembling in a corner, their mother was weeping and earing her hair, and the father was walking the floor in agony. The galley slave asked that they were that morning to be turned out of doors because they could pair," said the father, "my wife and little coiliren without food or slielter, and I without the

and then said: ust escaped from the galleys; whoever secures and takes back an escaped prisoner is entitled dered. to a reward of fifty francs-how much does our rent amount to !"

"Forty francs," answered the father.

chimed the astonished betener, "my children town.

The generous young man insisted, and dethe fifty francs were paid and the prisoner sent back to the galleys. But after he was gone, the lather asked a private interview of The mayor was so much affected that he not referse. The min ster examined into the af-she.

When a philosopher marries, all the people of now promes de happy result.

Which was situated about three furlongs from dom with the love of woman? "The wisest wood, and fine carpets, in which there is no man the world e'er saw" appears to have essential advantage, we will have deal chairs Old Mr. Ellworth had never, at any time, the inn.

man the world e'er saw" appears to have essential advantage, we will have deal chairs freetived a line from his san since he left. Character burried the body with his own thought otherwise; and Socrates, as well as and tables, and green baize."

less are the lays in which the praises of this lide modest flower are sung. The contrast tracted matrimony with Amelia Smith, was have the money to est and drink, love, and collect, the incidens of a transaction that was their soils. Had Ella known of this, she so thrilling and so fearful in its effects, and would have been very a reiched, and I am the earth over which she glided; the mile seemwhich so many of our cruzens remember is quite sure her brother would not have found too true.

The old man was not very successful, for not even the society of her dearest friends for her, marked the glowing cheek and bound.

would exceed their limits. Thus Adam, was furnished in fashionable style. who, like many other philosophers, was rather fond of smoking, though in the abstract ha preferred Havana cigars to the common weed. the greater, and always to deny himself what he could best spare.

Now there are two words to every bargain; china!"
and Adam Crotch did not plunge into matrimo iy "Oh, without first having inquired what Am-hawould still there was a fire lurking in his eye, and stacy from thence.

"Yes, I will, my sister," and he said "my quiet. But the eyes of Clarence glared like whether, content with true happiness, she would of all this amonation in one usually mild and a real and a fictitious gratification, and asked peace with the whole world. Our rider seemsence, how my father has been situated, and ed to be lost in though, for his horse had if my dear little Ella is hoppy," and he presshalted before the door of the cottage, whose ed her again to his breast, for she was all he

"Not here! not stop here!" and Ella, saddealy thinking that they were playing a ruse
There were two matters, connected with the pronounce these words with. Their marri- it harryour eyes or make your head nehe!age took place, but not altogether quietly .- Does it pain you in any way?" event, on which they had a slight diff-rence of opinion at the outset All other pretimina-> tonished. "Cards! my dear girl, what do you mate. He wanted her to wear stuff dresses "Oh! we must have them, of course, love," pursued he, like a man thinking aloud, for he and praises you half the time he is at our light, and was puring into his firet. I cannot the very few friends we are going to visit we swered, "Every reason," but gave none.

It is at our light, and was puring into his firet. I cannot the very few friends we are going to visit we swered, "Every reason," but gave none.

Reasons, however, she didgive occasional. "The jasmine, also, with its dark-green wise be obliged to pay; and, in the second "But they will expect," urg d the young ly for ner wishes. She wanted a white bounct. leaves and silver stars, saluting us with its de- place, it operates against our shi what is usual."

urselves, or anybody else." "But surely we can afford it, dear."

"Nobody can, that is, ought, to afford mere

"But people will be offended, dearest, if we not pay the rent. "You see me driven to des- dle, not only imbecde, but, to me disgustingly Douglas Jerrold's Magazine.

"Do you think so?" was Amelia's answer, means to provide for them." The convict in a tone which rather inclined her lover to issued to this tale with tears of sympathy, doubt whether her ad ocacy of cards and bride-cake arose from motives strictly of policy. by persons of leisure and taste, for the pleasure

"Well," said the other, "put a cord around back. This however, was to be merely a my body. I will follow you to the easy, they temporary abode, to serve until they could be more and the easy and the ever-blooming garden of nature.

"One instance more, and we have described in the ever-blooming garden of nature." will recognise me, and you will get fifty fraces find a small house, commensurate with their for bringing me back."—No, never!" ex- eigenstances, in one of the suburbs of the alike open to the pursuit of high and low, the queen of beauty, claims the latest though not should starve a dozen times before I would do provided; and now arose the question of furn-business and the industrions artizan. It may ry of flowers. In the poetic world the first ishing it, whereon the philosopher discoursed be followed with equal enjoyment by individas follows:

the father would not consent to take him. Al- choosing furniture are comfort and utility .- flower-pot or organicatal border, to the princeter a long struggle the latter yielded, and in- We cannot at comfortably in an inconvenient by green house and exquisitely varied parterreking his preserver by the arm and led him to chor; but so long as the chair is convenient, Every its material matters little. We may apply

"Not but that," continued Adam, "there is

"There is no doubt about that, dear," said tables and paint their legs, which will make it is said to close its crimson eye before impending that the wilderness of human life, though rugof green baize will be just as good as the best ing showers, there is scarcely one flower which ged and barren to the discontented beholder, Turkey carpet." "My dear, what are you talking about?" deto an inn, hung up a sign, when a peculiar de- home; b. some means his letters were musear- blood-stained hands; and late, very late, in Solomon, was a husband. When Adam "I ne er heard of such a thing!" exclaimed it presents of green and white (ever the most carpet!" she exclaimed. "Horrible!" "What is the matter? You admitted the aummum proposition with regard to the furniture in the abstract," said the shilosopher. "Oh, nonsense," she retorted.

"Amelia! My dear," exclaimed the astonished husband.

"I have no patience with you!" she cried. at himself down biting his nails, while his gress of time. We cannot behold it without irritating spotse overwhelmed him with up-

The phil sopher was fain to make his peace have occurred since last its fairy bells were that and the house, amid his suppressed groans, Among other domestic exigencies that soon am, this time without consulting Amelia, went general ass was worst, adapting his taste to his fin nees, and ordered a service of pewter. The plates primose is one upon which we dwell with pleasto content himself with a clay pipe. It was were sent home. No soonerdid Wes. Crotci, ure proportioned to our taste for rural security. further a maxim with Adam Crotch, in cont-behold them than, seizing one, she dashed it and the estimate we have previously formed omising, to sacrifice the lesser enjoyment to indignantly on the ground. It was unbroken, of the advantages of a peaceful and secluded equanimity, "the advantage of pewter over tion pic ures a thatched co.tage standing on that

> "Oh, nonsense," exclaimed Amel a. "It is not nonsense," returned Adam, "What is there in a plate! Nothing-but "I can't bear it," she replied. "But why?"

"B cause I can't."

"No, my good girl," urged Crotch, "it is not nough. When we say that we can't bear a she would have silk. One of their most seried gale is synonymous with those accumulations which brought into the United States from Perus excess desputes arose on the subject of cotton ted and sweedly-blended gratifications which

And Ella, the once gay and lovely Ella, is enparticular reason to the contrary, I admit your fined, at this very moment, in the Bloomingabstract proposition. But in the sinstance, we should be recorded. It consisted in the adapta"It is imshall lose money. It will cost us two or three tion of a smoke-jack to produce the required thought upon the lily, without recurring to that Oh! who will not acknowledge that truth games at least; and for what! No pleasure to motion; but this arrangement was continually interferred with by the cook.

His calculations thus confounded, the sys-Not a farthing ought to be so squan- thus haffled, wast was the philosopher to do! was not arrayed like one of these. From the dered. It had better be given away in chari-ty." - He had no alternative but to cut down his own expenses to the lowest possible mark. He re-turn to the well known passage of Shakspeare

Our latest account of Adam Crotch represents things, rude hands have almost robbed it of its "Oh, you know, Adam," she answered, it him as meditating some scheme for the enlarger chicin. Who can behold the pale Narcissus. ins't everyhody tha 's like you; and it is best ment of his means. He intends to devote those stanting by the silent brook, its stately form not to make enemies, isn't it!" faculties heretofore employed on speculation reflected in the glassy micror, without losing "Humph!" ejaculated the philosopher, mus- to business. Would that he could discover himself in that most faue ful o all poetical cou ing, as if this last consideration had some that stone, whose acquisition has so long been coptions, in which the graceful youth is deeight with him, "there's something in that, the philosopher's object! In the mean time, scribed as g zing upon his own beauty, until the floor in agony. The galley share asked well—come—we'll e'en follow the ways of let philosophers in general, and those of the he becomes loss in admiration, and finally entire what was the matter, and the father replied this absurd world for once. But Amelia, mind Crotch school in particular, about to marry, amoured of himself; while hopeless Eche one that they were that morning to be one thing; we'll have none of that silly silver study attentively that chapter in the book of sighs he said away into a sound, for the love twist about our cards. That is a piece of fid- human nature whose special subject is woman. which, having contered in such an object, was

THE FLOWER GARDEN.

FLOWERS are the ornament of vegetable exsitence, and have in all ages been cultivated "I will give you the means. I have but Brid: cake and cards, however, though by no means with the good will of Crotch, were ordered, an escaped prisoner is entitled dered.

Brid: cake and cards, however, though by no means with the good will of Crotch, were ordered.

White generally healthful and exhiberating from being pursued in the open air, flowercul-The para lise to which Adam Crotch led ture is justly reckoned to be a pure and harm-With such a dwelling they were soon peasant and the peer, the over-toiled man of s follows:

"The essential points, my dear, to look to in every imaginable scale, from that of a single from its exquisite combination of perfume, form,

The natural grace, simplicity, and attractive nightingale; in another, to be chosen, with the coloring of flowers have afforded endless themes distinction of red and white, as the badge of the same principle to heds, tables, and fire- to mortalists and poets, and volumes have two honorable and royal houses. It would be been penned to show how many associations difficult to trace the supremacy of the rose to of feelings simple and sublime, these beaute- its origin; but mankind have so generally aous objects are calculated to excite. As our greed in paying homage to its charms, that our certain pleasure derived by the sense of viz. desire is to improve the feelings as well as to from handsome furniture, and if this can instruct the understanding, we hope to escape the poetic strains in which they are celebratbe obtained without financial embarrassment. blame for pausing an insuant over this agreeawell and good; annoyance at being hampered ble view of the value of flower-culture, and logies on the subject, to the elegant work of us through the summer months, without the Miss Sarah Stickney— the Poetry of Life.— and or interference of man, which seems to According to the well expressed semments of defy his art to introduce a rival to its own unthis lady, few natural objects are more poetical, paralleled beauty—the common wild rose. we can get a set of deal chairs and tables for or more calculated to refine the taste than flowa comparative trifle; we can cover the chairs ers. "From the majestic sun-flower, tower- or as seen unfolding its fair leaves where there with what-d'ye-call-it, and make custions for ing above her sisters of the garden, and faiththem ourselves. We can put oil cloth on the tully turning to welcome the god of the day, is no beauty to reflect its own and thus call-tables and paint their legs, which will make to the little humble and well known weed that thoughts of peace and love reministration.

may not from its ioveliness, its perfume, its natural situation, or its classical association, be | considered highly poetical. "As the welcome messenger of spring, the snowdrop claims our first, regard, and countpleasing of contrasts to the human eye) may be one reason why mankind agree in their admiration of its simple beauties; but a far more neath its white coverlid, lies the delicate snow were in commons and sedge. drop, so pure and pale, so true an emblem of lowing case is said to be but one of many like hope, trust, and confidence, that it might teach it: a lesson to the desponding, and show the in secret and under oppression, and be ready in the fulness of time to make out that purpose manifest and complete. The snowdrop teachfeeling that another spring has come, and im-mediately our thoughts recur to the events which a very targe crop of grass and other pro-comes next under consideration. A few specomens will serve the purpose of proving that ociations, highly portical. "See," observed the philosopher, with mild life. In connection with this flower, maginostars, while a troop of rosy children are gam-boling on the sume bank, gathering the flowers, as we used to gather them ourselves, before the toils and struggles of mental conflict had worn toils and struggles of mental conflict had worn us down to what we are now, and thus preural enjoyment, innocence, and rural peace- with the citizens or subjects of other "Now don't you see," reasoned Adam, the more vivid, because we can remember the in regard to the said trade, ow absurdly you talk. You can't. Does time when something like this was mingled of step, wondering, I suppose, who he was, and turning parents, of opinion at the outset.

Well I have it cal with our parents, of opinion at the outset, which they allege that the Government, has obtained for the produces an invigorating breezes of Peruvian Government, has obtained for the produce in you?"

"Well I have it cal with our parents, of opinion at the outset. At other parents, of opinion at the outset. They will have a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will have a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will have a parents, of opinion at the outset, which they allege that the Government, it is produces an intolation of the betrothed, "Adam, dear," said thing, we mean that it produces an intolation of the betrothed, "where shall we order our wedden outset. They will have a parents, of opinion at the outset, which they allege that the Government, it is out long that it produces an intolation of the betrothed, "where shall we order our wedden outset. They will have a parents, of opinion at the outset, which inhalls the produces an intolation of the betrothed, "where shall we order our wedden outset. They will have a parents, of opinion at the outset, which they allege that the Government, it is out long that it produces an intolation of the betrothed, "where shall we order our wedden outset."

They wine, where was, the distribution of the parents, of opinion at the outset, which they allege that the Government, which they allege that the Government, which they allege that the Government, when we was, the distribution of the parents, of opinion at the outset. They will be shall be a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will be shall be a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will be shall be a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will be shall be a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will be a parents, of opinion at the outset. They will be a parents, of o does a pewter plate produce in you?"

Such were the scenes that were enacted alsoring, always bring back in remembrance subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance of great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance of great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance of great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance of great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring, always bring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain, a monopoly in the spring back in remembrance or subjects of Great Britain in the subjects of Great Britain in the subject of Great Britain in the subject of G ly, you do resemble the family; would you like to see his doughter? Every one who like to see his doughter? Every one who like to see his doughter saw her sweet, genile face, feels an interest in her at once, she is there, paying a time to my girls," and Mr. Clayton, in his arc firendship for Eds., and ins hospitality is and goully, that she became reassured in a low shreek of depair and anguien, stood apart, to perstes against our shipping the young the young the parents recognised lady, "our cards and a peace of cike, We why! Because Mrs. Wilson had one. She licious scent through the open casement and their soa at once for the eye of love is keen.

"Yes, my dear," said Croch, "of course to take up the corps of his once beloved friend; and Ella, and is hospitality by and goully, that she became reassured in a low shreek of depair and anguien, stood apart, to perstes against our shipping they one with its desired to have vanished white bounet. The poor death stricken parents recognised they, "our cards and a peace of cike, We why! Because Mrs. Wilson had one. She licious scent through the open casement and their soa at once for the eye of love is keeu:—

"Yes, my dear," said Croch, "of course to take up the corps of his once beloved friend; and Ella, who had not spoken since the friendship for Edds, and his because friendship for Edds, and his because friendship for Edds, and his because resolutions of laquiery.

The poor death stricken parents recognised their sand a peace of cike, We will indee, the open casement and lady, "our cards and a peace of cike, We will should consider others, you know, Adam."

"Ho, hof my lude Ella, and is that the reaction of the series of the open casement and their sand and a peace of cike, We will should consider others, you know, Adam."

"Yes, my dear," said Croch, "of course with the reaction of the series of the open casement and index, the open casement and their sand and the stricken parents recognised the secure of the circh."

"Ho, hof my lude circh the open casement and son you almost worship him too!" and he carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, we should but what benefit will anybody designed the carge of his once beloved friend; and Ella, who had not spoken since she gave that one low should but what been set dim let carried in an int had been side of time days that she became a mouthful of laughters and days that she became she gave that one low should but what been set that one low should but what been set that one low should but what been set that one live from our sending them a mouthful of low should but what been set that one live from our sending them a mouthful of low she should but what send in the

"Still," pleaded Amelia, "we had better do disturbances at his studies he expected, but themselves, neither impaired in their beauty never thought he should be called from his nor exhausted of their sweetness, for having "Granied," he returned, "when there is no books to rock a cradle. An expedient which been the medium of poetic feeling ever since the

LEONIBAS B. LEMAY, Associate Editor,

"It is impossible to expend a moment's memorable passage in the sacred volume - Con sider the lilies of the field how they grow .-They toil not, neither do they spin; and yet I tem upset, his scheme of domestic happiness say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory nquished the solace of his pipe-he, drank where the fairy king so beautifully dereribes the neather to be bought by her caresses nor won by her despair?

" I hough gardens, fields, forests, and even over regged mountains, we might wander on in this tanciful quest after remote ideas of pleasu able sensation connected with present seauty and enjoyment; nor would our search fruitless, so long as the bosom of the earth afforded a respectacle for the germinating seed -so long as the gentle gales of summer cophis wife was the second heaven of a decent less secretion, which by leading to the tranquil t nued to waft them from the parent siems, or lodging-house, orherwise called a two-pair contemplation of natural beauty, diverting the so long as the welcome sun looked forth up-

"One instance more, and we have done,the least considration in speaking of the poetprocure, transplant, and propagate the rosc, Blooming in the sterile waste, this lovely flowthoughts of peace and joy-reminding him has also its sweet flowers, not the less welcome for being unlooked for, not the less lovely for being cherished by a hand unseen:

To this elegantly expressed sentiments, nothing need be added by the writer of these pages.

AGRICULTURAL. Perhaps no county in Maryland has made more steady progress in the improvement of its agriculture than Montgomery. The Rockwhich it is connected with the idea of return- ville Journal says that within five miles of lting of the snow that impeded our noon- fine fields of wheat, corn and cats are

There is a farm of several hundred uscless and mactive how valuable are the stir-rings of that energy that can work its purpose years ago, with difficulty supported a small tamily; he sold out and removed to the West to seek more tertile lands. The present owner, a is thought, will cut from this place the Adam first started, then whistled, and then es also another tesson. It makes out the proot wheat. His corn and oats also promise

> Within a specified district where, four years ago, not one thousand bushels of wheat were raised, the product this year will be ten thousand bushels. Guano and, other fertilizen are used with judicious liberality.

Baltimore American.
IMPORTATION OF GUANO.—In the United States Senate, on Monday, Mr.

PRATT submitted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be directed to miorm the Senate whether, by the existing creaties of the United States with the Pergylan government, the citizens of the United slope of the bill, and a fittle wody delt, whose states are placed upon an equal footing with the green banks are spangled all over with yellow citizens or subjects of other countries in the the Government of Peru as would place the citisenting to the mind the combined deas of nat- zons of the United States on an equal footing with the cup of which we drank-the more week, the morning hour having been occupitouching because we doubt whether, if such en with important business, I had not an op-pure drops were still there, they would not to portunity of offering the resolutions which I ur taste have lost their sweetness.

"The violet, while it pleasely its modest, rereceived by the Agricultural Society of Mary-