NORTH CAROLINA ... "Powerful in intellectual, moral and physical resources, the land of our sires and home of our affections."

NO. 42.

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 16, 1850.

VOL. XLI.

THE NORTH CAROLINA STAR BY THOMAS J. LEMAY & SON.

(Office nearly opposite the Post Office.)
Terms of the Paper. $2 50 per annum, when paid is anyance—$3 00 if payment is delayed three months. Terms of Advertising.

The square, [16 lines, first insertion, $1.00 in such subsequent insertion, 25 court opters and judicial adverthements, 25 per the year.

All letters and communications must be pos-

THE LAW OF NEWSPAPEES. THE LAW HE NEWSCATARS.

1. All subscribers a facility and pice exercise to even true to the contrary, are considered as wishing to surely.

A Westeint Cale. UNCLUBERT & NEW YEAR'S OFFT

THESE," said of Perjam Hicks, a confortable frames, resulting some fifty pulse trajed women in that PH combinable framer, resident some asked under Ben.

fifte processing to some Goods Fill — Language, region, replied Poter, ede type aver to 8 — , and see how — effects Gray & Elder.

bead work to make the four short sightly practical formers in the State, and know my forward. Yes—yes I must see them.

It was towards the Later part of December, way to fill the ground, and I fatter myself that a few days before Christones, that the brief I noders and that way."

Since the state part of December, way to fill the ground, and I fatter myself that is all nomense. What I say is for your good. Usn't you understand that, is for your good. Usn't you understand that, the state part of December, way to fill the ground, and I fatter myself that is all nomense. What I say is for your good. Usn't you understand that, you saily fellow!"

There Benjamin Hecks had his wife. On Christs that he was never here; but this was a submass day, the old good men, true to his part ject on which Peter grew warm at once, and pet, Uncle Ben," replied Peter, "so change it that of Hannah. Miller, which, weither within or without, pre-could not be disguissed.

ed the old centleman.

"Peter works hard enough, dear knows!"

If he goes on as he has been going for the last head.

tion. But over work is not good."
"That I already begin to feel,? sale. Peter;

found it impossible to make both ends meet."

"Yes, that is worst of all, Peter. I'm sorry to hear you say that," *Last winter," resumed Peter, "Flost twenty the house," sheep, and two of the finest cows in the neigh-

"We've been very unlucky, Uncle Ben," said Hannah, pausing in her work, and look tess things. And besides, Poor has no sime ing with moistened eyes in the old gentleman's to read. face. "Very unlucky; and we're downright out with work that he is glad to get in bed." ediscouraged. I don't know what is going to become of us. Peter had to mortgage the farm this year."

"Mortgage! mortgage!" The old man dershook his head and looked serious, "There was no help for it, Uncle," said Peter. "Mortgage or be sued."

"How came you to get in debt!", "Well, I bought from a neighbor a wagon and pair of horses for a hundred and sixty dollars, promising to pay for them after harvest. that,

But crops were short, and my bills at the store a great deal higher than I expected. In fact, can think about indulging in newspapers," re-leaned her face upon Uncle Ben's shoulder present, he went into an adjoining room.— him one hundred and sixty dellars.

Though he tried not to hear, despite of his. Since the time his fields of golden grain But crops were short, and my bills at the store

"Nothing."

"Fifty eight cents," replied Peter.

"No: fittl-eight!" "You did not well all your crop for that, that," quickly replied Peter, the blood springs but then he means well,"

"Yes, It was all Gray & Elder would alow me for a. And dutyoused your whole five landted bushs shows it."

els of that price:

of grandy I did. So you just but fifty del-lation your wheaterop by not getting for mar-et by dellers! How many comforts fifty dellars would buy," said Hannah, letting foir work tail in her lan with a gesture of despen-

"toll a but price did you get for your corn?"

of self three handred basis's of seven years. He had send the state of nearly one delight seven as a send three handred basis's of the send three hands are not send three hands and the send three hands are not send three hands nah, a hargin, readers, pinty ereably, seven oldest, wana coarse, hard working girl, who years old, there had been a brother and sister; had been to school long enough to learn to her mind was uncluded in all that permind separated.

It two years old, completed the household to book knowledge. Coarse and rough as On the meaning the complete of the household to book knowledge.

ter supper, however, when all the children but old gentleman to his neice, as the girl passed one that he could not bear. If there was any ter shock his head, were in bed he sat up to help her through the room where they were sitting, thing that he did know it was how to farm.

work, now and then sighed voluntarily.

of it every day. Ellen ought to be going to intrist and no "upstart theoretic book tarmer,

"How are you getting on now Peter!" school. But I can't spare her. If we could who as he sometimes said, would'nt know ex-could not be disguised.

"I am sorry to hear you say that," returned the old configuration of the resulting wrong. You're all indusdegree of self knowledge and true elevation of

"Yes," was the brief answer. The gloom eyes, the truth of the pieture, . But she knew was made. spoke up Hannah. "We ought to get along, no remedy; and saw nothing but trouble as work; even hard work, is notice on the large of the discouraged."

than idleness. Rust destroys more than friethan idleness. sometime afterwards. "Don't Ellen and

"I give out much quicker than I did some
"I give out much quicker than I did some
"I give out much quicker than I did some
"I herry spend some of their time in reading!"

Years ago."

"There is the Bible, and some old religious
"Bad, bad!" returned Uncle Ben, shaking books up stairs;" replied Hannah, but the into the little spare room where a bright fire word had smarthing the property of the fire books up stairs;" replied Hannah, but the little spare room where a bright fire word had smarthing the property of the fire books up stairs;" replied Hannah, but the his head. "You're just in the prime of life, children don't care about them. Heary bor- had been kindled by Ellen. Had been sitting ere the flames had touched it, "what are you whose flocks the disease had appeared ena Peter. At your age, I could go through more rowed the Arrabian Nights; nd Robinson Cru- here only a few minutes, when Hannah came doing! work without fatigue, than at any time be- see from some of our neighbor's children, and in, and drawing a chair close to the old genhe and Ellen got so interested in them that deman, said in a chooking voice, as she took gestion that a letter containing money, perhaps "And what is most of all," sighed Peter, "I they could'ut do anything else. Henry would his hand and looked into his face, it seem to be in the least betorehanded.— leave his work in the field and hide away a "loo't be angry with Peter, Uncle." don't seem to be in the least beforehanded. - leave his work in the field and hide away a In fact, for the last three or four years, I have mong the bushes to read, and Ellen would neglect every thing for the same purpose. Their quickly, betraying considerable emotion as he father got so angry about it, that he positively spoke, "I am not angry with Peter," forbade their bringing any more books into

> "Is it possible? You take a newspaper?" "No. We can't afford to spend money in er." that way. We have nothing to spare for use-

"No newspaper! Why Hannah! You'd much better go without a meal once a week, not angry with Peter; and would do as much than not have a newspaper. I do not won- for him as if this hadn't happened. Uncle Ben checked himself, and because more thoughtful than before. On the next flay he asked Peter why he did not take a paper, "No time to read, and besides, I cannot meet the expense," replied Peter.

"A couple of dollars a year would meet to see no light shead.

said Benjamin Hicks, after two or three days Hannah. lips, and was signified from an incident of the stand neighborhand for that. But from all I have seen replied Under Ben. "If he were only a latter to the stand neighborhand for that. But from all I have seen replied Under Ben. "If he were only a latter to the west only a latter to the stand neighborhand for that. But from all I have seen replied Under Ben. "If he were only a latter to the standard for that. But from all I have seen replied Under Ben. "If he were only a latter to the standard for that." Peer one

"What's "While I received sixty-eight cents for all once showing that the remark hart hum agood even, took place at the time fixed upon, she "What's treasures of Peter and H anab Miller. she was however, there was about her certain while they were at the breakfast table, his Post Master, handing out a small package.

In a little while she arese and left the room.

On the next morning Uncle Ben announced.

For a few boars after the old gentleman's elements of womanly beauty in the first ef-purpose to leave for home after dinner. Peter "No letter?" asked Peter while his heart arrival, the pleasure felt at his coming beamed forts of development, that uncle Ben perceive felt sorry for having exhibited so much angry from every commensure. Peter was talked and which awake for her in his mind, a imputence, though he partly justified himself tive and cheerful, and Thought's face was lit feeling of both interest and concern, on the plea of great provocation. The deup with a constant succession of sinder.

After a You're working Ellen too haid," so id the claration that he was not a good farmer was Ellen were in bed—ne sat up to help the inrough the most where may were stories, and the same of the inrough the carrying a large kettle of boiling water, which quiet of evering made the thoughts sober, Pe. she had just heared for washing.

On his knowledge he had prided himself for ter, as he turned the caveloped paper over and over again in his hands, with and absent ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as wakening the "feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as water, which is a stantage of the feelings to warmer sympathics, ever medicating some good principle—or as water was respectively as the feeling to be a stantage of the feeling to be a s

Nothing more was said during the meal.— Memorial, he tossed the unopened paper into ler were attacked with the distemper, from

"God bless you, child!" replied the old man and well filled new spaper.
"That's an insult which I'll never forgive,"

"Oh yes, you are, and I don't much wonder. He did't speak right. But you know how he prides himself on being a good farm-

"Pehaps I am, child. But no matter. I'm but acts strangely sometimes." Hannah canght at these words.

"Ah," said she, "Uncle Ben if you, could you are not a good former." better for all of you."

"You are the first man, that has ever said. "I know he's suff about somethings, Uncle.

g to his face. "No deadst of that, Hannah. But no major exclaimed—"That may be," returned Uncle Ben. "Still how good a man's intentions are, they will not "Can that really be so?" "That day to, I was all Gray & Lider would as "That day to, I current the Ben, "Sin half the manuel and seguided by a well end of the property will that be set all good farmer. Prior, and your want of their lighted judgment. And there lies Peter's departed by the set of their lighted judgment. And there lies Peter's departed by the set of their lighted judgment. And there lies Peter's departed by the set of their lighted judgment. This was coungly to instant Manuah with get slong and discretor I say you are not a hundred collars would do them! Ther impast so, I can, as just said pay off the mortgage in your some whose regard larger.

Now Prior was rather quick tempered, and third he said in was all nonsones to think looks of nucle in that swamp across the netter place. The find a countril his feelings, even out of the monance, elled hou are the monance, elled hou are the find a formal place. The find a countril his feelings, even out of the monance, elled hou are the find a formal place. The find a countril his feelings, even out of the monance, elled hou are the find a formal place. Statishope did find a forking place in the figure while his free grew soil resides, edward and not be read out. Br. Statishope and he are statished in that swamp across the new years. For there are thousands of carr by your are not a hundred collars would not he cars of Program. For there are thousands of carr by your are not a hundred collars would not he cars of Program who years. For there are thousands of carr by your are not a hundred collars would not he cars of Program. For there are thousands of carr by your are not a hundred collars would not he cars of Program. For there are thousands of carr by your are not a hundred collars would not he cars of Program. What are you proving for wheat! "asked she was the happy inmate of his own she was not house, and there was as much heart—so to speak—our the purpose of selling his crop.

"Sixty-five cents."

"Is that the highest?"

"Yes."

Peter, on calling at the store of Gray & Elder or the purpose of selling his crop.

"Sixty-five cents."

"Sixty-five cents."

"Is that the highest?"

"Yes."

Peter shock his head and replied—our place of the monance of the was reading, that he did not perceive that the highest?

"Yes."

Peter shock his head and replied—our place of the monance of the was not house, and the mary head was not the discussion of the more of the was not the discussion of the more of the was not the discussion of the more of the more of t Peter is compared.

"I will you would," the data frame. How may basicle had reach. How may basicle had would find the following many or act.

"I will will you would," the data frame. How may basicle had would reach. How may basicle had not make the many of the reached hands.

"I have a few many basicle had not make the many basicle had not make the many of the reached hands."

"I have a few many basicle had not make the many of the reached hands of the reached hands."

"I have a few many basicle had not make the many basicle had not make the many of the reached hands of the reached hands."

"I have a few many basicle had not make the many basicle had not make the many of the reached hands of the reached hands."

"I have a few many basicle had not make the many basicle had not make the many of the reached hands of the reached han the mware with one our thore must be a ments. It was brought up by one of the best way to mar all by his anumely anger.

"I shouldn't at all wonder if we heard from head work to make the fout short slightly practical furness in the State, and know my "Come, come, Peger," spoke ap the old. Uncle Ben to-morrow," said Hannab, after the Soon thus closed the avenues of his mind to all the it you please."

Soon thus closed the avenues of his mind to all the it you please."

Soon after breakfast, on New Year's day Peter anneals of reason.

This was said in a way that Uncle Ben did Peter, without waiting for a limit from bis wife. pose, arrived by the State of the firm house of Peter appeals of reason.

This was said in a way that Uncle Ben did not be an added to control his way. Peter Miller was absent not by any means like; so, tossing his head walked over to the post office. On his way, some of all he could do to control his thoughts, spite of all he could do to control his thoughts, a week. By if at time he understood one may spite of all he could do to control his thoughts, and it was to him like "light they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received from Uncle Ben. The mort. allead." Already the pressure of gloomy to be received from Uncle Ben. The mort. allead." Already the pressure of gloomy to be received from Uncle Ben. The mort. allead." Already the pressure of gloomy were paid him immediately. Miller, which, seather within or without, preseared an air of thrift or constert.

A housing welcome did Under Ren receive to the post of the found that no should be could be could be could be could do to constent bis thoughts, who affected indifference, he answered:

"On the next day, Peter Miller was absent not by any means the; so, tossing his head wasted over to the post of the sounder. On as way, who affected indifference, he answered:

"On, very well! very well!—Just as you to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of the post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of the post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of all he could be to be post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received.

Then came a long silence, which was final to be received from Uncle Ben. The most of the post of the post of the post of all he could be to be post of all he could do to counted his thoughts, they would run on the probable extent of aid to be received.

by, marked the spot where their dust was with pot backs and langers. Beyond this, and in a few minutes afterward the two men the Post Master, on arriving at the office .-"Here's a newspaper for you," replied the sunk heavily. "None," answered the man. "Are you sure? Won't you look again?"

Another search was made. The Post Mas-· How much is to pay on this!" asked Pe-

"Nothing, the postage is paid," was re-

"Not so well as I could wish. Uncle Ben."
"Not so well as I could wish. Uncle Ben."
"Not so well as I could wish. Uncle Ben."
"Not so well as I could wish. Uncle Ben."
"Not so well as I could wish. Uncle Ben."
"Not so well as I could wish. Uncle Ben."
"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows or below the ground.
"Still Peter felt sorry for having lost his remper, and we health at had no been so. But he may our children are growing up."
"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.
"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.
"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would it know expenses whether points of several granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would in know expenses whether points and includes granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would in know expenses whether points and includes granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would in know expenses whether points and includes granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sometimes said, would in know expenses whether points and includes granters.

"All had—very last." said Uncle Ben. shows the sound in know expenses whether points and includes granters.

"All had—very

"You are always hon- troops enough; ail, in fact, over worked; and character to do this. He felt sorry, but not on Peter's commensance f ll like shadow on mer, when the experiments, he was going to it would be. During the day, the man who few years, he will break himself down."

"That's bad," said Uncle Ben, "very bad she, "we lose our farm in two or three years; work; even hard work, is better for the health and then what is to become of us all!" I feel and then what is to be a f And in the disappointment and anger of the

To Hannah's mind came the quick sugit, but there was nothing beyond the large and columns of the "Guzette."

nah, as she refolded the paper. "Wait a litthe while; Uncle Ben is incapable of deliber-ately insulting any one." confut keep his fie'ds in a good producti e condition, at an expense far below that to ter paying off the debt which had been hang-

"Strange enough! I don't like such well meaning men.

So saying he left the room.

there had been no settlement for a year, and plied Peter.

Though he tried not to hear, despite of his:

Since the time his fields of golden grain

"You'd find a paper a great saving if it cost and three hundred bushels of corn to make all ten dollars a year," remarked the old gentleold man, in a tender, encouraging voice.

Though he tried not to hear, despite of his:

Since the time his fields of golden grain

"Ithink, Peter the voice of Henry reached his car modded ripe for the harvest Peter had reamand he was so deeply interested as to let fall included weekly, with much interest, the quotathere had been no settlement for a year, despite of his:

Since the time his fields of golden grain

"Ithink, Peter the properties of the peter had the voice of Henry reached his car modded ripe for the harvest Peter had reamand he was so deeply interested as to let fall included weekly, with much interest, the quotaa tear at a thrilling and instructive tale of doplanotion none was given.

"You are a hard working man, Peter," "He's very kind to us all, Uncle, solded Peter could not resist the temptation of pick- and corn, he knew the highest selling srice to think of it." "And I can't bear to see him so ing up the paper and glancing over it-so difing up the paper and glancing over ness dif-ferently d d be feel towards it after listening tained his store bills, and found that they length the feel towards it after listening tained his store bills, and found that they

A week went by and another number of you credit for that. But from all I have seen replied Unelse Ben. "If he were only a lottle the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here, Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here, Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here, Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter, I must say that more ready to learn, it would be a great deal the "Gazette" came. Perer opened the passage I have been here. Peter opened th sight of a produced a desire to know more of

"Can what he so!" asked Hannah. "If what is said in this paper be true," let any body task to me after this fashion. I'm house'd masing on the vague promote of the speaking half to fitneelf, yet looking towards ty-five,"

-orey you came, it it was only to insult me in additional and even making some calcular. Hannah, as it making inquiry of her. "What "Indeed that state has a fiver paper or tarm land; nor on order to do this, the head must be properly one that, properly trained, on by to turn out onlightened."

To de Bu minuted still farther and more to the large process of the safety of the struggle against to turn out on the least absted by the struggle against to the least absted by the struggle against to the least absted by the struggle against the probabilities involved.

At length Peter Miller ceased to search for or rot," said Peter, and the results.

From the hour of Uncle Bun sarrival, she had crop of grapes, last year, by a kind of mildew Gray. "And I can speak for identify," said the eld-lady. "I range her, and I know size her at lazy bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her side."

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her body."

The lady bone in her body. "

The lady bone in her ception, and to let his mind that serie of vineyard just in full bearing. I was bone by the lady bearing in heart, that he would help them in their troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in the last place in heart, that he would help them in their troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart, that he would help them in their troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart, that he would help them in their troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart, that he would help them in their troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart troubles, to grow stronger and stronger. The massive in heart troubles, to grow stronger an and I got nothing worth sending to market, corn. autumn, and put them around the roots of the vine, adding a little gypsum, and see what ef-Las: year every vine thus treated had an abundance of healthy flected on this or a moment and then said- Uncle Ben with great particularity during the hey sat talking over their future prospects.

Peter shook his head doubtingly, although they were about ripening, decayed as before " "Is it possible," said Hannah, "O! that we had known it last vene!" "Never mind," says Peter, "we'll try it next season." The "Muck Manual" was sent for and obtsined, and Peter studied it day and night, for two hundred dollars would be made by ting it. Week after week came the "Gazette" by post; but different, far different, were the emotions with which Peter took out the papers, and paid the postage too, than when he first out his newspaper and commenced reading it. and paid the name of "Benjamin Hicks" writ- Almost the first paragraph that met his eyes ten on the margin.

It is wonderful what a change was wrought was the following: It is wonderful what a change was wrong in the whole family of Peter Miller, in a very short space of time, by the introduction of a newspaper. Its carefully selected stories, eventy-five cents to a dellar. And even at the advanced rates, holders seem little inclined to sell. wakening the feelings to warmer sympathies; its current history of passing events; its pleas-

Peter had become a different man, and was "Yes," was the brief answer. The gloom looking hopefully forward to the coming Sum- turn again. This was as Peter had supposed parents, and increased the consulty rising, ing into which they were gradually rising.

which they suffered so fatally the year before. Timely communications in the "Gazette" from large wool growers in Ohio, among bled Peter to apply the successful remedies.

might be enclosed. Hurriedly she unfolded during the Spring and Summer through the The value of lime on lands of certain character he never crops, the store bill was settled, the morigage fully understood, until he saw it clearly set paid off, and a balance left with which to besaid Peter with much bitterness in his tone. forth in an extract from The American Farm- gin the new year. "Don't be too hasty, Peter," remarked Han- cr, and became aware that, by a proper appli- "So much for a newspaper!" said Peter, th, as she refolded the paper. "Wait a literation of the article, at a small expense, he speaking to himself, as he walked homeward, We can't afford to spend money in er."

We have notling to spare for use.

When night comes he is so worn you would have gone, if this had not happen.

We can't afford to spend money in er."

ately insulting any one."

condition, at an expense far below that to the paying off the debt which had been hange ing over him. "So much for a newspaper!—

ter obtained a first glimpse into the mysteries. I do believe, if I'd began taking a paper ten or when night comes he is so worn you would have gone, if this had not happen.

"It has clearly insulting any one."

"It has clearly insulting any one." to me very kindly of you. He means well. edge of which no farmer, can work his ground Yes-Uncle Ben was right; I did at know my to the best advantage.

terested over their New Year's Gift—the suggested by the writer in the Gazette, or Perity and social elevation for their children, "Cincinnatti Gazette;" but being too angry not, he would not venture to say—his vintage and were mutually prepared to make sacrifi-and three hundred bushels of corn to make all square."

The fact the old genites of corn to make all square. "Hope for the best. The darkest hour you a tear at a thrilling and instructive tale of demant."

Peter did not in the least comprehend this so nothing remained to live on until next harden as the dal not ask for an exponent of the square. But as he dal not ask for an exponent of the square of the paper contained.

So nothing remained to live on until next harden and thick about it."

The reply was—

"Hope for the best. The darkest hour you at ear at a thrilling and instructive tale of demants as the contained as tear at a thrilling and instructive tale of demants. The reply was—

"Hope for the best. The darkest hour you where it is a tear at a thrilling and instructive tale of demants. The reply was—

"Just my own view. They must not remain at home a week longer. Ellen has been when I what they were going to pay him for his wheat in the dall of the square."

"Indicated the old man, in a tender, cheouraging voice.—

All dinner time Henry and Ellen talked as a week longer. Ellen has been when I what they were going to pay him for his wheat in the delar thrilling and instructive tale of demants. The reply was—

"Just my own view."

All dinner time deckly, with much interest, the quotations of prices in the produce market, as regularly with the paper contained.

All dinner time Henry and Ellen talked as a week longer. Ellen has been when I which the paper contained.

All dinner time weekly, with much interest, the quotations of prices in the reply was—

"Just my own view."

"Just my own view."

"Just my own view."

The reply was—

"Just my own view."

"Just

"I know he's saif about somethings. Uncle.

sight of it produced a desire to know more of what the continued. After supper as he was bill, added to his mortgage, made a debt of what it continued. After supper as he was bill, added to his mortgage, made a debt of what effect his New Year's Gift had produced in the family of his nephew and nices. That new road a man's intentions are, they will not the family be so?" toes, would be absorbed, and still over two paper were read, he knew, but he was not hundred dollars of debt remain. Here was a prepared to see effects so remarkable as were very important improvement on the last year.

Peter had started some four hundred dollars in debt and now would owe only two hundred af air of greater thrift and comfort that was pre greater thrift and comfort that was pre-

"Indeed!" Mr. Gray looked surprise He did not feel so, for he knew the price quite as well as the farmer.

"Yes," mid Peter, "it is quoted at 75 80 cents in my last number of the Gagette. "It costs something to get the wheat to market," remarked Mr. Gray. "I know it does, but not ten cents a bushel.

What are you paying for com!" "Twenty two cents." "Two far below the Cincinnati price," said

"Ah? What is the price there." "Thirty."

"You can do better then twenty-two cents, however; if not, I must find a market in Cincinnnati for both my wheat and corn." "How much do you want!" asked Mr possible; say seventy-two cents for my wheat, and twenty-seven or twenty-eight for my "We can't pay prices like those, Mr Mil-ler.—We'd better give up business."

"Let me know the best you will do," said

The two partners held a long consultation and finally agreed to offer sixty-eight for the dollars a year!" wheat and twenty-five for the corn. Peter re-

With this resolution he went away. That evening the man who held the morrosage on given him a full history of his year's expension of the man who had the morrosage of given him a full history of his year's expension of the man who had the morrosage of the man who had the man who had the morrosage of the morrosage of the man who had the morrosage of the morro his money. "I'll pay you half," said Peter, "as soon as I sell my wheat and corn. But to settle the what I saw and heard at my last visit, I were paid him immediately.

Freued at this application. Peter made up Ellen, a girl in her sixte ath year, Henry, just fourteen, came in xi. Between bursain, a lingth, scales, play a course of the cultivation in the children. Ellen, the control her feelings turst into a fit of crying, nath a lingth, scales, play accounts, seven but into our winds of a half of the cultivation in the children. Ellen, the control her feelings turst into a fit of crying.

It is the would let us nave enough to pay but it was work without with a single our in the control her feelings turst into a fit of crying.

It is like rowing with a single our in the teeth of a strong current. What was possible function, the teeth of a strong current. What was possible function, the teeth of a strong current. What was gainst him. So, on the next morning, he were would be a strong current. gainst him. So, on the next morning, he wanted I saw at a glan at the Post Office and got his number of the Gazette, which he put into his pocket without unfolding it, and continued on his way to Gray the sailor who puts to sea without chart or & Elder's. Neither of the men happened to compass, and will be as likely to reach the > out his newspaper and commenced reading it. "Important Rise in Wheat .- The news by the last ant melenge of wit and humor; and its grave into his pocket and went home. He had not at the invitation for "all of regular standing." le-sons of truth to the understanding, and good been there over fifteen minutes when a mes- &c., he being somewhat verdant in matters dergone a sudden and rainful revulsion, thrust impulses to the heart, gave aliment to the hun-senger came from Gray & Elder to know if he this kind, thought he would stay too. Accord-were going to accept their offer.

"Tell them," replied Peter, "that I cannot take less than a dollar abushel for my wheat," The mersenger went back, but did not reheld the mortgage called again, Peter told him the their ed, and showed a continued firmness in the his mouth with his has vertising columns, and in them saw the names and the stranger was left in his own reflection of a number of miliers and merchants advertising for wheat and corn, and offering to "pay the highest market prices in cash."

"Now," said Peter Miller to the store-keepers, "if you will take my wheat at a dollar, In many things pertaining to agriculture and and my corn at thirty-eight, I'll sell. If not, stock raising, was Peter's mind enlightened I'll hold on a little longer." Gray & Elder, after demorring a little, closed the bargain. So, with the wheat and other business, proud as I was of being thought a good farmer." Peter, Miller had rather more than an average of root and grain crops. He had six hundred took place, Mr. and Mrs. Miller conferred to-Henry eagerly seized the paper and read as bushels of wheat, five hundred bushels of gether about Henry and Ellen. The reading "Ah," said she, "Uncle Ben if you, could help him a little."

Harvest time came around at last, and good farmer."

Henry eagerly seized the paper and read as bushels of wheat, five hundred bushels of getter asout riemy and Eden. The reasons help him a little."

Henry eagerly seized the paper and read as bushels of wheat, five hundred bushels of getter asout riemy and Eden. The corn, and two hundred bushels of potatoes to of a newspaper, weekly for nearly a year, had but to his, mother and Eden. About being two rom, and two hundred bushels of potatoes to of a newspaper, weekly for nearly a year, had but to his mother and two hundred bushels of potatoes to of a newspaper, weekly for nearly a year, had but the former with the former with winten his stock. Moreover—whether from an entirely new class of ideas. They now window he beheld the little family much interested over their New Year's Gift—the suggested by the writer in the Gazette, or perity and social elevation for their children.

"I must pay my debts, Uncle Ben, before I Hannah's feelings overcame her, and she with Uncle Ben to his contemptible which he sold to a manufacturer, brought ces for its attainment.

said-- "I think, Peter we ought to send Ellen were nearly four hundred dollars. The fact and in the place of the former, a young wostances and fully able to helpfulcour if he would, when received, but seems and mer to action way, makes a fertilizer equal in value, when received, had so deeply increased him past the old gentleman, that even yet he get slong and decreme I say you are not a hundred colors would do them. Her impass your are not a hundred colors would do them. For there are thousands of a service are thousands of a service of the morrager in two years. For their are thousands of a service of the morrager in two years. For their are thousands of a service of this erops. And this more favore ble state of allairs was traced in his mind, in the New Year's Gift of Uncle Ben, which, and so deeply increased him against the old gentleman, that even yet he get slong and decreme I say you are not a hundred colors would do them! Her impass you have some whospered in the ears of Process.

Now Peter was rather quick tempered, and At his the said is well as a surface of this erops. And this more favore ble state of allairs was traced in his mind, in the New Year's Gift of Uncle Ben, which, and so deeply increased him against the old gentleman, that even yet he was singing one of the old pleasant.

So, I can as just said pay off the morrager in two years. For their are thousands of a surface of this erops. And this more favore ble state of allairs was traced in his mind, in the New Year's Gift of Uncle Ben, which, and the New Year's Gift of Uncle Ben, which, when received, had so deeply increased him against the old gentleman, that even yet he was singing one of the old pleasant.

So, I can as just said pay off the morrager in two years. For their are thousands of a certain early of the said in the external appearance of things.

"A few hundred of dollars and the external appearance of the said in the external appearance of the said in the external appearance of the entern value."

So, I can a single favore of the category of the external appearance of the entern value.

What are you maked a fertilizer equal in value, when the category of the any one had cutered the room. Hannah stood at the troping table, and Ellen, tidily dressed and looking so changed in everything that Uncle Ben hardly recognized her, was sewing; while Henry, sat as much engaged with a book as his father was with the newspaper. "Uncle Ben:" exclaimed Hannah in a glad voice-she was the first to observe his en trance. Instantly Peter Miller was on his feet, and approaching the old man, grasped his hand

"You have forgiven me then, for saying that you was not a good farmer! Ha! my boy! said the old man, laughing as he returned Po ter's hearty shake. "Yes-yes, a thousand times over,"

"Undoubtedly you were—undoubtedly." "That's the Gazette' I see in your hand. "I want as near the Cincinnati price a Do you read it?" Yes, every line," "And it's been of use to you!

"And I was right, was I not?"

"Of use! I guess it has, it's paid off the mortgage, and left me something over." "Hardly done as much as that, Peter," replied the old gentleman incredulously. "I tell you it has, Uncle Ben. Why, would not be without the paper for a hi

The meaning of all this was explained to "I will take to night to think over the mat- next year.

> I was a going to lend you enough money to supply the want. A man who docen't take and read the newspapers, and yet expects to succeed as a farmer, is not much ultimate haven of sucress." And Uncle Ben, was right.

Wit and Humor.

A LAUGHABLE MISTAKE. We don't believe the following anecdots has ever been printed, and it is too good to be The farmer waited no longer for the grain. Hibernian strolled into one of our churchesmerchants, but refolding his paper, thrust it no matter where-on communion Sunday, and ingly he remained in his obscure pew and awaited to see how the waters wor move .-Soon a venerable man approached him and proffered him the bread and the cup. He took a generous slice of the former, and the good man passed along. Going back to the deak a reest and industrious; and in this country, honest industry should rise by its own inherent buoyancy."

Lanuah acknowledged with tears in her with us?"

Lanuah acknowledged with tears in her with us acknowledged with tears in Hannah scknowledged with tears in her cyes, the truth of the picture. But she knew no remedy; and saw nothing but trouble alread.

"I did think of doing so when I left home."

"If we go on as we have been going," said

"But Peter, when this announcement of the picture. But she knew was made.

"Was there nothing for us!"

"No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshed got their father to procure them some books, in which they studied lessons dady, with the replied the old gentleman. "But I've changed for us!"

"No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshed got their father to procure them some books, in which they studied lessons dady, with the regularity of scholars at school. Their hearts advanced their offer to interpret the father to procure them some books, in which they studied lessons dady, with the advanced trates, he would pay off the attended to self improvement, and the advanced rates, he would pay off the stranger's pew rise and with a peculiar method the old gentleman. "But I've changed for us!"

"No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshold pay off the stranger's pew rise and with a peculiar method they studied lessons dady, with the replied the old gentleman. "But I've changed for us!"

"No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshold pot their father to procure them some books, in which they studied lessons dady, with the advanced trates, he would eithe of the stranger's pew rise and with a peculiar method the old gentleman. "But I've changed for us!"

"No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshold gentleman which they studied lessons dady, with the advanced trates, he would eithe of the stranger's pew rise and which a peculiar whole debt.

During the following week. The "No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshold gentleman whole debt.

"Was there nothing for us!"

"No—Yes." And Peter drew the newshold gentleman whole debt.

"During the following week and whole debt.

"Obeying the sign, he was the astonishment to see the occupant of the stranger's pew rise and whole debt.

"One of the stranger's pew rise and whole debt.

"One of the stranger's pew r market for wheat, and an advance for corn.— regimto the siste, said in a subdued tone—Peter also, in glancing hopefully over the broad -Have you any chaze!" The borror stricken Peter also, in glancing hopefully over the broad pages of the paper, cast his eyes upon the ad-functionary tottered back, without answering upon the deficiency of the entertainment.

The following request was made at churchs "A sailor going to sea, his wife desires the prayers of the congregation for his safety." It happened to be read thus: "A sailor going to see his wife, desires the prayers of the tion for his safety."

A clergyman told an Indian he should for s enemies. "I do," said the latter, "for love rum and cider." 'Tom, stand out the way of that gentleman."

LOVE YOUR ENEMIES.

"How do you know he is a gentleman!"
"Because he has got on striped trowsers." A person was boasting that he sprang from a high family in England. Yes, said a by-

WILL SHE RECOVER!

stander, I have seen some of the family so

"Ah! dear doctor, how is my wife, The doctor shook his head, and sa nust prepare for the worst."
"Why," said the husband, "is