

POSSIBLE DEPOPULATION OF GREAT BRITAIN.

The problem of a surplus population has been standing England in the face for half a century... The problem of a surplus population has been standing England in the face for half a century...

London now contains upwards of 2,000,000. At no period has its population increased so fast as during the last twenty-five years... London now contains upwards of 2,000,000. At no period has its population increased so fast as during the last twenty-five years...

Thus it is that Heaven in its mercies takes for the fully and the crimes of man. Thus it is that in this great drama we are contemplating 'Westward the Star of Empire takes its way'... Thus it is that Heaven in its mercies takes for the fully and the crimes of man.

England was materially relieved in the sufferings among the lower strata of her social fabric. But it was only a temporary relief... England was materially relieved in the sufferings among the lower strata of her social fabric.

But Heaven itself appeared, to work out salvation for its suffering millions in Britain. For many years the evil day had been stayed off... But Heaven itself appeared, to work out salvation for its suffering millions in Britain.

of William the Conqueror, we have had no Hogarth of history to picture to the senses of heroic effort, and century-lasting epics of work down at the base of society... of William the Conqueror, we have had no Hogarth of history to picture to the senses of heroic effort.

We have always felt that Democracy would some day or other extinguish the acknowledged right. God must be on the side of the masses, because the masses in the long run are those who can suffer most, endure most, love most, worship most, and send forth the loudest and the longest anthem to his eternal praise... We have always felt that Democracy would some day or other extinguish the acknowledged right.

England must think of these things, and think them in time. If she does not remember—and she must do it soon—those heavy burdens that are weighing down noble peasants, half-starved and pale operatives bleached out by their oxalic acid of Despotism... England must think of these things, and think them in time.

It is significant to count up, on a Drama of Empire, where God is the only something. British ministers, statesmen, political economists, and dreamers, and experimenters of all sorts, have hitherto looked upon Austria only as the back-side of creation; a deserted spot, abandoned to wild beasts, and transported criminals—a species of Provincial state prison, wisely provided by an overruling power, to save England the trouble of bringing poor devil that shot a hare in a rural district, or stole a loaf of bread to support the mouth, and dry the tears of his children... It is significant to count up, on a Drama of Empire, where God is the only something.

Thus it is that Heaven in its mercies takes for the fully and the crimes of man. Thus it is that in this great drama we are contemplating 'Westward the Star of Empire takes its way'... Thus it is that Heaven in its mercies takes for the fully and the crimes of man.

NEW BOOKS! IREDELL ON EXECUTORS; A Treatise on the Law of Executors and Administrators; IN NORTH CAROLINA, By James Iredell. THE object of this work was to exhibit the law, as it now stands in North Carolina, in relation to the matters which it treats. It embraces, therefore, the English doctrine, as far as they are recognized in this State, as well as in acts of Assembly and the decision of our courts, on the subject of Wills, Executors and Administrators. It is thought it may prove useful, not only to members of the legal profession, but to the general public, inasmuch as it contains the indispensable, important and responsible trusts of Executors and Administrators. For Sale by W. L. POMEROY, 117-17.

$25 REWARD. RAN off from the Subscriber, in May last, at the age of 10 months, a Mountain, near Sparta, Tenn. Negro man named JULIUS. He is 13, or 14 years old, 4 feet 6 inches high, of a copper complexion, and has lost some of his front teeth. I think he is aiming to cross the way back to North Carolina, Chatham County, where he has a wife. I will pay the above reward to any person who will take him to the place where he is now, or if he gets away again. Any person who may take him up can give information by writing to me at Pine Hill, Arkansas, or to Allen & Benson, Gaston, N. C. WILLIAM W. CLEMENTS, 31-2m. Raleigh, 16th April, 1852.

HENRY CLAY. An Original Bronze Medal, Modelled from Life, and executed by C. C. Wright, Engraver of the New York Gold Medal to Clay, and of the Virginia and Congressional Globe Medals to Scott, Taylor, &c. The present new medal of HENRY CLAY, as a work of art, is at least equal to any work of the kind that could have been produced in any country and probably in my age. The likeness of Mr. CLAY, on the obverse side, is from a recent model from life, and executed by an artist of unequalled eminence. The reverse side of this particular medal has been executed by repeatedly performing it in other medals of the same illustrious person, designed for personal presentation; and the likeness is accordingly pronounced by all competent judges to be the most accurate in every respect, and the characteristically expressive of any that has been made of Mr. CLAY, in any form. On the reverse side is an appropriate design, in bold relief. Illustrative of the patriotic basis of his political character. The medal is of unusually large size, and inclosed in a handsome morocco case; forming, at once, a chaste and elegant ornament for the drawing-room, mantle, or cabinet, and a durable and impressive memorial of the honored dead, that may be transmitted, as a parental treasure, from one generation to another. Upon the dies of this medal, the distinguished artist expended several months of the most laborious and accurate study up to their present exquisite degree of finish. No similar work of art has ever been submitted to the general patronage and patriotism of the American people, and none seems better calculated to gratefully reward it. A copy of the above may be seen at the... N. C. BOOKSTORE, Raleigh, Sept. 24th, 1852.
