RALEIGH, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1855

some wirm min .- The foreign and Catholic Organ in this city is down upon our neighbor of the Worlds Plat, like a thousand of brick, for daring to express his horror of popery and Catholig influence. The Standard construes the postion of the Post into an assault upon the Demo racy of the State and forthwith proceeds to read the aforesaid journal a mighty lecture "full of sound and fory" and signifying, something. You are a very elever fellow, Mr. Cooke ; our personal relations with you have been of the most friendly character; but a "high sense of public duty" forces us to say to you, that you must say nothing n your paper that can be construed into bearing against the Demogratic Party, or I'll-I'll-get the Governor after you, or PH "appeal" to the Commissioners and have you turned out ; or if they are such reason as not to abey not. Fill and to the people of the State, I w you turned out, if you don't mend your manners. The Democracy, the great Democracy, of which I am head and front, has speken, and now, sir, yoù must obey, or suffer the consequences.

.... Hox, Ma. ROFFIS. -- We see that this gentleman has followed in the wake of the Hon. Mr. Shaw in his desunciations of the American Party. We find the following abstract of a speech he made in the House of Representatives on Tuesday last: It was a radical, sectional, destructive party-an dition, disanion scheme, and unless check its progress will aunder the ties which bind these States together. It is an emmation of filth and orruption-a rotten and festering isas. It could at he expected that the South will be blinded and led by this Jack with a lantern into the marshes of abalition, or follow Sam with his dark lantern into his midnight conclave. } It was his opinion that Bennett, with his Herald, had done more to further the progress of this order than any other man. Notwithstanding the high professions of patriot ism of the Know Nothings there are applicant enough for the offices in the pift of the next House of Representatives to take Schustopul-applicant for places from the Speaker's Chair down to the African High Pricet who ministers at the temph

Laughter. Cloncina. This strain of abuse and denunciation, and we may say, wholesale misrepresentation, may said the views of the Honorable gentleman ; but it cannot comport with the feelings of the honest hearted people of the State, the hone and shoew of the hand, who have more regard for the welfare of the country than the mere advancement of party men and party interests. We ventury to assert that more misrepresentation and abase of the American | arty could not be concentrated into as small a compass as is seen in the above and if we do not very much mistake the views of th people, the honorable gontleman will meet with such a rebuke at the hands of the people of his district, as he and all others who use such lan will richly deserve.

ANOTHER FALARHOOD REVITED .- The Forne and Pierce pression have been making quite mise over the defeat of Gen. Shields and the sice tion of Lyman Trumbull in his place. Trumbull is a Freehold Domoerat, and it was charged that the Know Nothings elected him to defeat General good. Shields who is a foreigner by birth. The delate in the Senate some days since, inwhich this whole porals, and that this supremacy is inherent in the fore is supreme both in spirituals and tem-porals, and that this supremacy is inherent in the senate some days since, inwhich this whole subject was discussed, hus called forth the follow ng from Trucabull himself, which settles the question. So Democratic influence, must have had something to do with it.

In allasion to the dispute in the Senate, which took place between Mr. Douglas on one side, and RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 7, 1855.

Wilson Adam.-We copy below, from the Richmond Penny Post, some remarks concerning the course of this vile abolitionist and his con nection with the American party. Our views are expressed exactly and in much better phrase han we can command. This man, the off-shoot of Democratic and freesoil coalition, does not and cannot represent the sentiment of the American Americans, we cannot forego to express on opinions. We are aware that in the days of res Pierce and Forney press, and their exertions to saddle their own eins and evil doings upon the American party, the people can appreciate the sevement which is to rid our country of the for eign influence that is drawing to itself the offices, the places of trust and profit, in the country .-Truth and right will prevail ; and so sure as there s an approxiation of what is right and just amongst the American people, just so sure will before the election, he said that if Wilson were returned, it would break up the party. He said that the wire-pallers of the two old parties were nware of this, and that they had therefore put their beads together to elect Wilson. that his character as a political intriguer is so notorious that the South will be sure to think he was elected by virtue of Free suffism. The writer id if nuti-slavery and Free-sollism de not kept out of the party it is dead. The election of Wilson, it is to be presumed, was what produced the great commotion in the MussichuseitsConneils, The conservatives under ok to purge themselves of the abolition element and thence gave rise to great confusion. We shall have more to say of Wilson hereafter. We have abundant proof that he is no exponent of the Know-Nothings.

NARTH CARDENS CULTURATOR .- We omitted to notice the reception of the first number of this new agricultural journal, which has just been started in this city by William D. Cooke, Esq. under the sanction of the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society. A well on ducted journal of this kind, is much needed by the Agricultural interests of this State, and one under the control and endorsement of the State Agricultural Society, will, no doubt, commend it self to the support of the farmers of the State .--The number before us is well gotten up, and promises to be a useful auxiliary to the farmers and artigans of North Carolina, or

In hoking over the columns of numeror journals-North and South-we discover that the subject of Americanism and Foreignism, is a prevailing topic. It is not our desire to reflect on or to do injustice to foreigners, but yet in de-fence, of the rights and superiority of native

When such is the case, when the great mon of their milions, and the exponent of foreign views cannot comprehend it, how can we expect that the ordinary class who seek a home on our will can understand or comprehend? They may en-tertain views and notions ; but they are vague. foolish and obscure. With all due feeling of justice for the foreigner and a desire that he should be granted such rights as can be properly ven, we cannot, however, accord to him the prerogative enjoyed in every respect by a native born American. We ask the question t is right, if it is proper, that foreigners of two ir five years should be placed upon a level in n olitical point of view with the native Americ maturity ? Is it justice to the American that be should undergo a probation of twenty-one
