Selected Poetry.

ALAMENT.

[BY T. K. HERVEY.]

She sleeps that still and pleasant sleep,
For which the weary pant in vain,
And, where the dews of evening weep,
I may not weep again—
O! never more upon her grave
Shall I behold the wild-flowers wave!

They laid her where the sun and moon
Looked on her tomb with loving eye;
And I have heard the breeze of June
Sweep o'er it—like a sigh;
And the wild river's wailing song
Grew dirge-like as it stole along.

And I have dreamed, in many dreams,
Of her who was a dream to me:
And talked to her, by summer streams,
In crowds, and on the sea,
Till in my soul she was enshrined,
A young Egeria of the mind.

'Tis years ago!—and other eyes
Have flung their beauty o'er my youth;
And I have hung on other sighs
And sounds that seemed like truth,
And loved the music which they gave,
Like that which perished in the grave.

And I have left the cold and dead,
To mingle with the living cold;
There is a weight around my head,
My heart is growing old;
O! for a refuge and a home
With thee, dead Ellen, in thy tomb!

Age sits upon my breast and brain,
My spirit fades before its time,
But they are all thine own, again,
Lose partner of their prime!
And thou art dearer, in thy shroud
Than all the false and selfish crowd!

Rise, gentle vision of the hours
Which go, like birds that come not back!
And fling the pale and fu eral flowers
On Memory's wasted tract!
O! for the wings that made thee blest,
To flee away and be at rest.

From the Baltimore Clipper.

THEY SAY I'M SAD.

They said I'm sad—yet little think
That sorrow's bitter cup I've quaffed,
That o'er my spirit grief hath flung
Her fearful gloom—'till death 'twill last.

Then ask me not why all alone,
I sit and gaze upon these flowers—
That faded lie before me now,
To tell me of those "by gone hours."

Those "by gone hours;" how much therein
To make this sorrowing heart beat glad,
But yet enough to make life drear,
And ever make me lone and sad.

I cannot now the world deceive,
They look beneath the outward cast:
A sigh half hushed, sometimes they hear,
When memory calls the fatal past.

Ah yes, life's happy dream is o'er,
Its brightest days have all passed now;
The bitter, sorrow cup I drink,
Hath set its seal upon my brow.

To FANNY FERN'S 1,000,000 Readers!

A NEW BOOK COMING!

WE have the pleasure of announcing that we have in press, and shall publish about the first of December, a new work of fiction, entitled

ROSE CLARK,

A ROMANCE—BY FANNY FERN.

The last work, and first continuous tale of this brilliant and fascinating authoress, "Ruth Hall," achieved a success unsurpassed in the annals of letters. In the language of a leading periodical, it "created a more profound sensation than any which has been issued during a quarter of a century." But it is unnecessary to allude to the merits of "Ruth Hall." Judging from the number of copies of it we have sold, we judge that every family in the United States has read it. As regards the work we herein press, ROSE CLARK, we can only say, that we regard it, as in every respect, a greater, a better work, and are confident it will not only sustain, but even increase the reputation of its distinguished authoress. We have reasons for thinking that "Rose Clark," will make a greater sensation than did "Ruth Hall."

It will form an elegant 12mo volume of over 350 pages. Price $1.25, or copies of which copies will be sent by mail, postpaid. It will be for sale by all booksellers. Published by Platform of the American Party of North Carolina.

At a Convention of the American party, held at Raleigh, on the 19th of October, 1855, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That, as the causes which rendered the secrecy of the American organization necessary in its infancy, no longer exist—all the secret ceremonials of the order whether of initiation obligations, signs, constitutions, rituals, or passwords be abolished—that we do constitute ourselves into a public organized party—that we do challenge our opponents to the public discussion of our principles—and we do hereby invite and invoke the aid and co-operation of all the citizens of the State without regard to their former political affiliations, in maintaining and carrying out the great aims, principles and objects of the American Party.

Resolved, That we do hereby ratify and endorse the principles enunciated in the platform of the American party, by the National Council of the same, begun and held at Philadelphia, on the 5th day of June, 1855, in relation to the political policy of the Government—whilst at the same time, we consider the three great primary principles of the organization, which constitute the basis of our party, as paramount in importance to any issues of mere governmental policy.

Resolved, That these three great primary principles are, first the confinement of the honors, offices and responsibilities of political station, under our government, to native-born Americans—with a due regard at the same time, to the protection of the foreign-born in all the civil rights and privileges guaranteed to freemen by the constitution, whether Federal or State.

Secondly, Resistance to religious intolerance, and a rigid maintenance of the great principle of religious freedom—by excluding from office and power, those who would persecute for opinions sake, however conscientious they may be—and by no Church influences or priestly interference; and who acknowledge an allegiance to any power o earth whether civil or ecclesiastical as paramount to that which they owe to the Constitution.

And, Thirdly, unswerving devotion to the Union of these States, and resistance to all factions and sectional attempts to weaken its bonds.

Resolved, That in all nominations for political station hereafter to be made by the American Party, it is recommended that the same be done in open public meeting—and that all those who agree with us in principle, and who concur in our aims and objects, shall hereafter be recognized as members of the American Party.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the American Party in this State to hold a Convention of delegates, to be appointed in public primary meetings in the respective counties, in Greensboro on Thursday the 10th day of April next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to be run by the American Party for Governor at the next election—that each county appoint as many Delegates as it chooses, and that the mode of voting in said convention be regulated by the convention itself.

Resolved, That we consider the 22d day of February next—the time heretofore selected by the National Council of the American order, for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President, as too early a day for that purpose—and we do hereby recommend to our brethren of the American party throughout the Union, the propriety of postponing the holding of said convention to some time in the months of June or July.

Resolved, However, lest such postponement may not take place, it is deemed advisable to appoint two delegates to represent this State at large in such nominating Convention,—and it is recommended to the American Party in each Congressional District to hold primary meetings in the respective counties, and appoint delegates to District Convention, for the selection of a delegate from each respective District to said nominating Convention.

Resolved, That an Executive Central Committee of five, be appointed by this body, whose duty it shall be to attend to the general concerns of the American party in this State, to carry on the necessary correspondence, and take such incipitive steps as may be deemed necessary for the more thorough organization of the said party—and that said executive committee be authorized and requested to appoint a County Executive Committee for each County in the State; and that said County Executive Committee do further appoint a subscribing Clerk for each election precinct in the county with a view to a more thorough and complete organization of the American party in North Carolina.

The National American Platform

At a regular session of the National Council, of the American Party, began and held at Philadelphia, on the 5th day of June, A. D., 1855, the following was adopted as the Platform and principles of the Organization.

I.—The acknowledgment of that Almighty Being, who rules over the Universe,—who presides over the councils of nations,—who conducts the affairs of men, and who, in every step by which we have advanced to the character of an independent nation, has distinguished us by some token of Providential agency.

II.—The cultivation and development of a sentiment of profoundly intense American feeling; of passionate attachment to our country, its history and its institutions; of admiration for the purer days of our national existence; of veneration, for the heroism that precipitated our Revolution and of emulation of the virtue, wisdom, and patriotism that framed our constitution and first successfully applied its provisions.

III.—The maintenance of the union of these United States as the paramount political guide, to use the language of Washington, "the many object of patriotic desire," and hence—sulst. Opposition to all attempts to weaken or pervert it.

2d. Upon promising antagonism to every principle of policy that endangers it.

3d. The advocacy of an equitable adjustment of all political differences which threatens its integrity or perpetuity.

4th. The suppression of all tendencies to political division, founded on "geographical discriminations, or on the belief that there is a real difference of interests and views" between the various sections of the Union.

5th. The full recognition of the rights of the several States, as expressed and reserved in the Constitution; and a careful avoidance, by the General Government, of all interference with their rights by legislative or executive action.

IV.—Obedience to the Constitution of these United States, as the Supreme law of the land, sacredly obligatory upon all its parts and members; and steadfast resistance to the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretexts. Avowing that in all doubtful or disputed points it may only be legally ascertained and expounded by the judicial power of the United States.

And, as a corollary to the above:

1. A habit of reverential obedience to the law, whether National, State, or Municipal, until they are either repealed or declared unconstitutional by the proper authority.

2. A tender and sacred regard for those acts of statesmanship, which are to be contradistinguished from acts of ordinary legislation, by the fact of their being of the nature of compacts and agreements; and so, to be considered a fixed and settled national policy.

V. A radical revision and modification of the laws regulating immigration, and the settlement of immigrants. Offering to the honest immigrant who, from love of liberty or hatred of oppression, seeks an asylum in the United States, a friendly reception and protection. But unqualifiedly condemning the transmission to our shores of felons and paupers.

VI.—The essential modification of the Naturalization Laws.

The repeal by the Legislatures of the respective States, of all State laws allowing foreigners not naturalized to vote.

The repeal, without retroactive operation, of all acts of Congress making grants of land to unnaturalized foreigners, and allowing them to vote in the Territories.

VII.—Hostility to the corrupt means by which the leaders of party have hitherto forced upon us our rulers and our political creeds.

Inalienable enmity against the prevalent demoralizing system of rewards for political subserviency, and the punishments for political independence.

Disgust for the wild hunt after office which characterizes the age.

Those on the one hand. On the other:—

Indignation at the assertion of the purer days of the Republic; and a declaration of the maxim that "office should seek the man, and not man the office," and of the rule that, the just mode of ascertaining fitness for office is the capability, the faithfulness, and the honesty of the incumbent or candidate.

VIII.—Resistance to the aggressive policy and corrupting tendencies of the Roman Catholic Church in our country by the advancement to all political stations—executive, legislative, judicial, or diplomatic—of those only who do not hold civil allegiance, directly or indirectly, to any foreign power, whether civil or ecclesiastical, and who are Americans by birth, education and taking,—thus fulfilling the maxim: "AMERICANS SHALL RULE AMERICA."

The protection of all citizens in the legal and proper exercise of their civil and religious rights and privileges; the maintenance of the right of every man to the full, unrestrained, and peaceful enjoyment of his own religious opinions and worship, and a jealous resistance of all attempts by any sect, denomination or church to obtain an ascendency over any other in the State, by means of any special privileges or exemption, by any political combination of its members, or by a division of their civil allegiance with any foreign power, potentate, or ecclesiastic.

IX.—The reformation of the character of our National Legislature, by elevating to that dignified and responsible position men of higher qualifications, purer morals, and more unselfish patriotism.

X.—The restriction of executive patronage, especially in the matter of appointments to office, so far as it may be permitted by the Constitution, and consistent with the public good.

XI.—The education of the youth of our country in schools provided by the States; which schools shall be common to all, without distinction of creed or party, and free from any influence or direction of a denominational or partisa character.

And, inasmuch as Christianity, by the Constitutions of nearly all the States; by the decisions of the most eminent judicial authorities; and by the consent of the people of America, is considered an element of our political system; and, as the Holy Bible is at once the source of Christianity, and the depository and fountain of all civil and religious freedom, we oppose every attempt to exclude it from the schools thus established in the States.

XII.—The American party having arisen upon the ruins and in spite of the opposition of the Whig and Democratic parties, cannot be in any manner responsible for the obnoxious acts of violated pledges of either. And the systematic agitation of the sinvery question by those parties having elevated sectional hostility into a positive element of political power, and brought our institutions into peril, it has therefore become the imperative duty of the American party to interpose for the purpose of giving peace to the country and perpetuity to the Union. And as experience has shown it impossible to reconcile opinions so extreme as those which separate the disputants, and as there can be no dishonor in submitting to the laws, the National Council has deemed it the best guarantee of common justice and of future peace, to abide by and maintain the existing laws upon the subject of slavery, as a final and conclusive settlement of that subject, in spirit and in substance.

And regarding it the highest duty to avow their opinions upon a subject so important, in distinct and unequivocal terms, it is hereby declared as the sense of this National Council, that Congress possesses no power, under the Constitution, to legislate upon the subject of Slavery in the States where it does or may exist, or to exclude any State from admission into the Union because its Constitution does or does not recognise the institution of Slavery as a part of its social system; and expressly preterm itting any expression of opinion upon the power of Congress to establish or prohibit Slavery in any Territory, it is the sense of the National Council that Congress ought not to legislate upon the subject of Slavery within the Territories of the United States, and that any interference by Congress with Slavery as it exists in the District of Columbia, would be a violation of the spirit and intention of the compact by which the State of Maryland ceded the District to the United States, and a breach of the National faith.

XIII.—The policy of the Government of the United States, in its relations with foreign governments, is to exact justice from the strongest, and do justice to the weakest; restraining, by all the power of the government, all its citizens from interference with the internal concerns of nations with whom we are at peace.

XIV.—The National Council declares that all the principles of the Order shall be inculcated wherever openly avowed; and that each member shall be at liberty to make known the existence of the Order, and the fact that he himself is a member, and it recommends that there be no concealment of the places of meeting of subordinate councils.

E. B. BARTLETT, of Kentucky,
President of National Council.
C. D. DESILER, of New Jersey,
Corresponding Secretary.
JAMES M. STEPHENS, of Maryland,
Recording Secretary.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
RAIL ROAD TIMES.
AN INDEPENDENT JOURNAL.
Devoted to News, Internal Improvements, Education, Agriculture, Manufacture & Commerce.

WE know that the interests of the People of our State demand such a paper, and believing that one free from the political strifes and quarrels of the day, devoted to such topics, will be the kind they desire, we confidently enter upon this enterprise with the assurance of meriting and meeting their approbation and support. Our object is to make the Times the mirror of the State, in which all can see their true interests held up and encouraged.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.—To this subject we expect to devote as much space as a full statement of the various operations will require; for as our works of improvements advance, so do all the other interests of the State.

EDUCATION.—It is a source of regret to all interested in the Educational interest of our State, (and who is not?) that our papers are so much devoted to party politics, &c., that this great cause has been too much neglected: we propose, therefore, to devote to this subject, a portion of our space. We will foster and carefully nurse the advancement of Education, not only in our higher Schools, but also in our Common Schools.

AGRICULTURE, MANUFACTURE AND COMMERCE, at this stage of our history, are commanding the attention of all our good State and money-loving citizens. Therefore, the Markets will be reported with care, and all items, calculated to throw light on either of those important branches of industry, will be carefully gleaned and inserted every week.

It is unnecessary to say more if we had time, but the "whistle of the locomotive" on the East and the cheering news from the West admonish us to close. Permit us, however, to assure you that the first number of the Times will make its appearance about the time the cars reach this place from the East.

TERMS.—The Times will be printed weekly in Greensboro', N. C., on new material, and contain as much reading matter as any paper in the State, for $2.00 per annum in advance.

Freedom from Foreign Rule!!!

This work is from the pen of one thoroughly acquainted with the undercurrent of American politics, and the causes which have led to the existing corruption in high places. He traces out clearly the operations of a foreign element in our governmental institutions, and shows that the Sons of the Soil should govern the Soil!

This is the author's strong position, which he maintains by irrefutable arguements.

This book is one that should be in the hands of every native born citizen as well as foreigner.

The Politicians will have it, of course, for they have a personal interest in the question—"who will be our next President?" It will produce a rattling among the dry bones of old political partizans.

"A Capital Book for the Home-Circle."

HARRYS VACATION, or Philosophy at Home, by W. C. Richards, A. M. Illustrated with six elegant engravings, from designs by Thwaites. One volume, 16mo, cloth extra.

This book is designed to instruct as well as to delight the young reader. It seeks to teach the most beautiful and important truths and principles of natural science in the fascinating guise of story. The incidents which occur in the experiences of a happy family group, during the Christmas holidays of the young people, are all made to minister to their knowledge of philosophy. The accidental fall of a dish from the fingers of a careless servant forms the text of a discussion on gravitation. The frost-work upon the window-panes' a soap bubble rolling upon the carpet, a school-boy's sport with a "squacker"—these and a hundred other apparent trifles are pegs upon which are hung the most valuable lessons of practical wisdom. Almost all the branches of physical science are illustrated in the development of the story; and the intelligent child may gather more distinct and accurate ideas about them, almost unconsciously, while following the sports and pastimes of Harry and his companions, that he could possibly derive from text-books on science in a quarter's hard study. HAS JUST RECEIVED

Wood-Notes, or Carolina Carols,

A COLLECTION OF

NORTH CAROLINA POETRY.

Compiled by Tredilla. 2 Vols. 12mo, $1.75.

THE Volumes of poetry now presented to the public had their origin in a collection for the compiler's own use. As it increased, a few friends expressed a wish that it should be rendered as complete as possible and published that every North Carolinian might have an opportunity of possessing in a permanent and convenient form, a copy of many pieces that they had probably read and admired, and perhaps for a time preserved from regard for the authors. Encouraged by their kind co-operation, the work has been steadily, though slowly, growing until it has reached its present size though it has been impossible to procure many pieces which it was thought could be procured, yet it is hoped that this first attempt of the kind in North Carolina will meet with the favor of the citizens for whose use the work is principally intended. Though we may not have produced any very great poets, still these "footprints of the Muse" will show them we possess some of "the poets that are sown

By Nature; men endowed with highest gifts,
The Vision and the faculty divine."

* * * * * * *

It is from our knowledge of the writers that many pieces in this collection will derive their interest, and though viewed by the severe eye of criticism, they would have been rejected, still it was thought that public expectation would have been disappointed had they been omitted.—[PREFACE.]

THE FAVORITE AUTHORESS OF THE SOUTH

A New Novel by the Author of "Alone."

First Edition, 10,000 Copies, Now Ready.

THE HIDDEN PATH;

A Novel. By Marion Harland, of Richmond, Va one elegant 12mo. vol. 434 Pages Price, $1 25.

THE extraordinary success of Miss Harland's "Alone"—running through edition after edition, with great rapidity—re published in England with a still larger sale—translated into the French and German languages with marked success—is perhaps the best evidence of the originality and popularity of her writings. In the language of an eminent critic—"She may hereafter take rank among the most successful novelists of the United States."

"Those who have read 'Alone'—and these who have not, should—will be interested and gratified to know, that a new book by Virginia's gifted authoress, entitled 'The Hidden Path,' is now ready. Beautifully as 'Marion Harland' has woven the threads of life in other romances and song—she is a poetess of rare felicity—we are safe in predicting that her new work will surpass all her previous efforts in fine delineation, brilliancy and power, and that Mr. Derby will be called upon to record it on his books as one of the most popular and successful of modern literary issues. Since reading 'Alone,' we shall impatiently await the appearance of 'The Hidden Path.'"—N. Y. Evening Mirror.

RALEIGH FEMALE SEMINARY.

RALEIGH, N. C.

REV. W. H. CHRISTIAN, A. M., President—(aided by a number of Teachers sufficient to meet all the demands of the School.)

The exercises of this institution will commence on Wednesday the 9th of next January. To the buildings already on the premises, which are spacious and comfortable, and which are to be immediately thoroughly repaired and fitted up, will be added forthwith a large three story brick building. So that there will be room for a large number of boarders. Mr. Christian, the President is not only a graduate of R. M. College, but has also graduated in several schools of the Virginia University. He has had extensive experience in teaching in Female Schools of high grade, so that persons committing their daughters to his charge may feel well assured that every effort will be made necessary to their improvement.

Terms per Session of Five months:

Board, including eating, sleeping, lights and fuel,	$80 00
English tuition,	15 00
Music on Piano and Guitar,	20 00
Use of instrument,	3 00

French, Italian, Anglo Saxon, Ancient Languages, Painting and Drawing in all their varieties, Needlework, &c., taught at the usual prices.

☞ Persons intending to board their daughters with the President should inform him of the fact as soon as they can, that he may make his arrangements accordingly.

It is preferable that each young lady should supply herself with her towels with her name distinctly marked on them, as well as her other clothing. For further particulars address Prof. W. H. Christian, President or A. M. Gorman, Esq., Sec. of the Board of Directors, Raleigh, N. C.

Payments—one half in advance, the remainder at the end of the Session.

It is very desirable that Pupils be present at the beginning of the session, as the classes will then be formed, and a delay of a few days may subject them to inconveniences.

Students will be admitted any time during the session, and charged from time of entrance only.
