Time's Changes.

BY J. HUNT, JUNIOR.

Her home was Virtue's honored hall,
Her dowry, hearts were proud to pride,
She heeded not ambition's call,
Her life and power, passed side by side,
She looked the very rose of health—
A being born devoid of guile—
No gem from Nature's realm of wealth
Could match the beauty of her smile.

Afar and wide her praise was sung,
And suitors sought the Maid to woo;
She seemed a sylph from evermore sprung,
With features all divinely true.
Her words, like some monastic chime,
In charming cadence chanted clear;
Not richer sounds a poet's rhyme,
Nor did her coins upon the ear.

At festive board, the young and gay
Were lost in her superior light,
As stars pale out before the ray
Of peerless Cynthia, Queen of Night;
And thus she lived, till after years,
When matron care her soul oppressed,
The scene had changed, and bitter tears
Like raindrops barbed her bursting breast.

Regret had pierced her bosom through.
Her cherub child in death was cold,
And he, her partner, perished too,
While struggling in the "Land of Gold."
A broken reed, she died of grief,
And babe and mother both were laid,
In one lone grave of Sleet relief,
Beneath a weeping willow's shade.

What is Glory? What is Fame?

BY WM. ROTHERWELL.

What is Glory? What is Fame?
The echo of a long lost name;
A breath, an idle hour's brief talk;
The shadow of an errant thought;
A flower that blooms for a day,
Dying next morrow;
A stream that hurries on its way,
Singing of sorrow:
The last drop of a bootless shower
Shed on a sere and leafless bower;
A rose stuck in a dead man's breast—
This is the world's fame at best!

What is Fame? What is Glory?
A dream—a jester's lying story,
To fools fools' wishful, or be
A theme for second infancy;
A joke wrought on an epitaph;
Again at Death's own ghastly laugh;
A visioning that tempts the eye,
But mocks the touch mortality;
A rainbow, substanceless as bright,
Flitting forever
O'er hilltop to moon-distant height;
Nearing us never;
A bauble blown by fond conceit,
In very sooth itself a cheat
The wisp fire of a fretted brain;
A fortune that to lose were gain;
A world of praise—purchasee of blame;
The wreck of a time, handled name—
AY, THIS IS GLORY! THIS IS FAME!

To Fanny Fern's 1,000,000 Readers!
A NEW BOOK COMING!

WE have the pleasure of announcing that we have in press, and shall publish about the first of December, a new work of fiction, entitled

ROSE CLARK,

A ROMANCE—BY FANNY FERN.

The last work, and first continuous tale of this brilliant and fascinating authoress, "Ruth Hall," achieved a success unexampled in the annals of literature. In the language of a leading periodical, it "created a more profound sensation than any which has been issued during a quarter of a century." But it is unnecessary to allude to the merits of "Ruth Hall." Judging from the number of copies of it we have sold, we judge that every lady in the United States has read it. As regards the work we have in press, ROSE CLARK, we can only say, that we regard it, as in every respect, a greater, a better work; and are confident it will not only sustain, but even increase the reputation of its distinguished authoress. We have reasons for thinking that "Rose Clark" will make a greater sensation than did "Ruth Hall."

It will form an elegant 12mo volume of over 400 pages. Price $1.25, on receipt of which copies will be sent by mail, post paid. It will be for sale by all booksellers. Published by Platform of the American Party of North Carolina.

At a Convention of the American party, held at Raleigh, on the 19th of October, 1855, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That, as the causes which rendered the secrecy of the American organization necessary in its infancy, no longer exist—all the secret ceremonials of the order whether of initiation, obligations, signs, countersigns, rituals, or passwords be abolished—that we do constitute ourselves into a publicly organized party—that we do challenge our opponents to the public discussion of our principles—and we do hereby invite and invoke the aid and co-operation of all the citizens of the State without regard to their former political affiliations, in maintaining and carrying out the great aims, principles and objects of the American Party.

Resolved, That we do hereby ratify and endorse the principles enunciated in the platform of the American party, by the National Council of the same, begun and held at Philadelphia, on the 5th day of June, 1855, in relation to the political policy of the Government—whilst at the same time, we consider the three great primary principles of the organization, which constitute the basis of our party, as paramount in importance to any issues of mere governmental policy.

Resolved, That those three great primary principles are, first the confinement of the honors, offices and responsibilities of political station, under our government, to native born Americans—with a due regard at the same time, to the protection of the foreign-born in all the civil rights and privileges guaranteed to freemen by the constitution, whether Federal or State.

Secondly, Resistance to religious intolerance, and a rigid maintenance of the great principle of religious freedom—by excluding from office and power, those who would persecute for opinion's sake, however it would control the politics of the country through Church influences or priestly interference; and who acknowledge an allegiance to any power on earth whether civil or ecclesiastical as paramount to that which they owe to the Constitution.

And, Thirdly, unswerving devotion to the Union of these States, and resistance to all factions and sectional attempts to weaken its bonds.

Resolved, That in all nominations for political station hereafter to be made by the American Party, it is recommended that the same be done in open public meetings—and that all those who agree with us in principle, and who concur in our views and objects, shall hereafter be recognized as members of the American Party.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the American Party in this State to hold a Convention of delegates, to be appointed in public primary meetings in the respective counties, in their shire on Thursday the 10th day of April next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to be run by the American Party for Governor at the next election—that each county appoint as many Delegates as it chooses, and that the mode of voting in said convention be regulated by the convention itself.

Resolved, That we consider the 22d day of February next—the time heretofore selected by the National Council of the American order, for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President, as too early a day for that purpose—and we do hereby recommend to our brethren of the American party throughout the Union, the propriety of postponing the holding of said convention to some time in the months of June or July.

Resolved, However, lest such postponement may not take place, it is deemed advisable to appoint two delegates to represent the State at large in such nominating Convention,—and it is recommended to the American Party in each Congressional District to hold primary meetings in the respective counties, and appoint delegates to District Convention, for the selection of a delegate from each respective District to said nominating Convention.

Resolved, That an Executive Central Committee of five, be appointed by this body, whose duty it shall be to attend to the general concerns of the American party in this State, to carry on the necessary correspondence, and take such lawful steps as may be deemed necessary for the more thorough organization of the said party—and that said executive committee be authorized and requested to appoint a County Executive Committee for each County in the State; and that said County Executive Committee do further appoint a sub-committee for each election precinct in the county with a view to a more thorough and complete organization of the American party in North Carolina.

The National American Platform.

At a regular meeting of the National Council, of the American Party, began and held at Philadelphia, on the 5th of June, A. D., 1855, the following was adopted as the Platform and principles of the Organization.

I.—The acknowledgment of that Almighty Being, who rules over the Universe,—who presides over the councils of nations,—who conducts the affairs of men, and who, in every step by which we have advanced to the character of an independent nation, has distinguished us by some token of Providential agency.

II.—The cultivation and development of a sentiment of profoundly intense American feeling; of paramount attachment to our country, its history and its institutions; of admiration for the purer days of our national existence; of veneration, for the heroism that precipitated our Revolution; and of exultation of the virtue, wisdom, and patriotism that framed our constitution and first successfully applied its provisions.

III.—The maintenance of the union of these United States as the paramount political good of, to use the language of Washington, "the primary object of patriotic desire," and hence—zealous opposition to all attempts to weaken or pervert it.

IV. Uncompromising antagonism to every principle of policy that endangers it,

V. The advocacy of an equitable adjustment of all political differences which threatens its integrity or perpetuity.

VI. The suppression of all tendencies to political division, founded on geographical discriminations, or on the belief that there is a real difference of interests and views between the various sections of the Union.

VII. The full recognition of the rights of the several States, as expressed and reserved in the Constitution; and a careful avoidance, by the General Government, of all interference with their rights by legislative or executive action.

VIII.—Resistance to the aggressive policy and corrupting tendencies of the Roman Catholic Church in our country by the advancement to all political stations—executive, legislative, judicial, or diplomatic—of those only who do not hold civil allegiance, directly or indirectly, to any foreign power, whether civil or ecclesiastical, and who were Americans by birth, education and raising,—thus fulfilling the maxim: "AMERICANS ONLY SHALL GOVERN AMERICA."

The protection of all citizens in the legal and proper exercise of their civil and religious rights and privileges; the maintenance of the right of every man to the full, unrestrained, and peaceful enjoyment of his own religious opinions and worship, and a fearless resistance of all attempts by any sect, denomination or church, to obtain an ascendency over any other in the State, by means of any special privileges or exemption, by any political combination of its members, or by a division of their civil allegiance with any foreign power, potentate, or ecclesiastic.

IX.—The reclamation of the character of our National Legislature, by elevating to that dignified and responsible position men of higher qualifications, purer morals, and more unselfish patriotism.

X.—The restriction of executive patronage, especially in the matter of appointments to office, so far as it may be permitted by the Constitution, and consistent with the public good.

XI.—The education of the youth of our country in schools provided by the States; which schools shall be common to all, without distinction of creed or party, and free from any influence or direction of a denominational or partisan character.

And, inasmuch as Christianity, by the Constitutions of nearly all the States; by the decisions of the most eminent judicial authorities; and by the assent of the people of America, is considered an element of our political system; and, as the Holy Bible is at once the source of Christianity and the depository and fountain of all civil and religious freedom, we oppose every attempt to exclude it from the schools thus established in the States.

XII.—The American party having arisen upon the ruins and in spite of the opposition of the Whig and Democratic parties, cannot be in any manner responsible for the ominous sets of violated pledges of either. And the systematic agitation of the slavery question by those parties having elevated sectional hostility into a positive element of political power, and brought our institutions into peril, it has therefore become the imperative duty of the American party to interpose for the purpose of giving peace to the country and perpetuity to the Union. And as experience has shown it impossible to reconcile opinions so extreme as those which separate the disputants, and as there can be no dishonor in submitting to the laws, the National Council has deemed it the best guarantee of common justice and of future peace, to abide by and maintain the existing laws upon the subject of slavery, as a final and conclusive settlement of that subject, in spirit and in substance.

And regarding it the highest duty to avow their opinions upon a subject so important, in distinct and unequivocal terms, it is hereby declared as the sense of this National Council, that Congress possesses no power, under the Constitution, to legislate upon the subject of Slavery in the States where it does or may exist, or to exclude any State from admission into the Union because its Constitution does or does not recognize the institution of Slavery as a part of its social system; and expressly pretermitting any expression of opinion upon the powers of Congress to establish or prohibit Slavery in any Territory, it is the sense of the National Council that Congress ought not to legislate upon the subject of Slavery within the Territories of the United States, and that any interference by Congress with Slavery as it exists in the District of Columbia, would be a violation of the spirit and intention of the compact by which the State of Maryland ceded the District to the United States, and a breach of the National faith.

XIII.—The policy of the Government of the United States, in its relations with foreign governments, is to exact justice from the strongest, and do justice to the weakest; restraining, by all the power of the government, all its citizens from interference with the internal concerns of nations with whom we are at peace.

XIV.—That National Council declares that all the principles of the Order shall be henceforward everywhere openly avowed; and that each member shall be at liberty to make known the existence of the Order, and the fact that he himself is a member, and it recommends that there be no concealment of the places of meeting of subordinate councils.

E. R. BARTLETT, of Kentucky,
President of National Council.
C. D. DEADLER, of New Jersey,
Corresponding Secretary.
JAMES M. STEPHENS, of Maryland,
Recording Secretary.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
RAIL ROAD TIMES,
AN INDEPENDENT JOURNAL,
Devoted to News, Internal Improvements, Education, Agriculture, Manufacture & Commerce.

WE know that the interests of the People of our State demand such a paper, and believing that we can free from the political strife and quarrels of the day, devoted to such topics, will be the kind they desire, we confidently enter upon this enterprise with the assurance of meriting and meeting their approbation and support. Our object is to make the Times the mirror of the State, in which all can see their true interests held up and encouraged.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.—To this subject we expect to devote as much space as a full statement of the various operations will require; for as our works of improvements advance, so do all the other interests of the State.

EDUCATION.—It is a source of regret to all interested in the Educational interest of our State, (and who is not?) that our papers are so much devoted to party politics, &c., that this great cause has been too much neglected; we propose, therefore, to devote to this subject, a portion of our space. We will foster and carefully note the advancement of Education, not only in our higher schools, but also in our Common Schools.

AGRICULTURE, MANUFACTURE AND COMMERCE, of this stage of our history, are commanding the attention of all our good State and money-loving citizens. Therefore, the Markets will be reported with care, and all items calculated to throw light on either of these inexhaustible branches of industry, will be carefully gleaned and inserted every week.

It is unnecessary to say more of us but time, but the "whistle of the locomotive" on the East and the cheering news from the West admonish us to close. Permit us, however, to assure you that the first number of the Times will make its appearance about the time the cars reach this place from the East.

TERMS.—The Times will be printed weekly in Greensboro', N. C., on new material, and contain as much reading matter as any paper in the State, for $2.50 per annum in advance.

Freedom from Foreign Rule!!!

This work, is from the pen of one thoroughly acquainted with the underground of American politics, and the causes which have led to the existing corruption in high places. He traces out clearly the operations of a foreign element in our governmental institutions, and shows that the Sons of the Soil should govern the Soil!

This is the author's strong position, which he maintains by irrefutable arguments.

This book is one that should be in the hands of every native born citizen as well as foreigner.

The Politician will have it, of course, for they have a personal interest in the question—"who will be our next President?" It will produce a rattling among the dry bones of old political partisans.

CONTENTS.—Chapter I. The American Party. 2 Causes of its origin. 3. Principles stated, Illustrated and Enforced. 4. The Objects which this Organization aims to Accomplish. 5. "A Capital Book for the Home-Circle"

HARRYS VACATION, or Philosophy at Home, by W. C. Richards, A. M. Illustrated with six elegant engravings, from designs by Thomas. One volume, 16mo, cloth extra.

This book is designed to instruct as well as to delight the young reader. It seeks to teach the most beautiful and important truths and principles of moral science in the fascinating guise of story. The incidents which occur in the experience of a happy family group, during the Christmas holidays of the young people, are all made to minister to their knowledge of philosophy. The accidental fall of a dish from the fingers of a careless servant forms the text of a discussion on gravitation. The first work upon the winning power of a sun-beam coming upon the subject, a schoolboy's sport with a "sunbeam"—there and a hundred other apparent trifles are page upon which are hung the most valuable lessons of practical wisdom. Almost all the branches of physical science are illustrated in the development of the story, and the intelligent child may gather more distinct and accurate ideas scientific, almost unconsciously, while listening to the sparkling pleasantries of Harry and his companions, than he could possibly derive from text books on science in a quarter's hard study. A COLLECTION OF
NORTH CAROLINA POETRY.
Compiled by Touchs. 2 Vols. 12mo. $1.75.

THE Volumes of poetry now presented to the public had their origin in a collection for the compiler's own use. As it increased, a few friends expressed a wish that it should be rendered as complete as possible and published, that every North Carolinian might have an opportunity of possessing in a permanent and convenient form, a copy of many pieces that they had probably read and admired, and perhaps for a time preserved from regard for the authors. Encouraged by their kind co-operation, the work has been steadily, though slowly, growing until it has reached its present size though it has been impossible to procure many pieces which it was thought could be procured, yet it is hoped that this first attempt of the kind in North Carolina will meet with the favor of the citizens for whose use the work is principally intended. Though we may not have considered any very great merit, still there "footprints of the Muse" will even them we possess some of

"The gems that are sown
By Nature's own enchanted with light at gifts,
The vision and the mighty dream."

It is from our knowledge of the writers that many pieces in this collection will derive their interest, and though viewed by the severe eye of criticism, they would have been rejected, still it was thought that public opinion might have been misjudged had they been omitted. (Preface.)

First Edition, 10,000 Copies, Now Ready.

THE HIDDEN PATH;
A Novel. By Marion Harland, of Richmond, Va.
One Original Vol., cal. 1-4 Paper Price, $1 25.

THE extraordinary success of Miss Harland's "Alone"—running through a thousandfold edition, with great rapidity—is published in England with a still larger sale—translated into the French and German languages, and ranked among—if, perhaps the best evidence of the originality and popularity of her writings. In the languages of an eminent critic—"Any household may take rank among the most successful novelists of the United States."

"Those who have read 'Alone'—and those who have not, should—all be long since and gratified to know, that a new book by the 'Alone' gifted authoress, entitled 'The Hidden Path,' is now ready. Beautifully as 'Marion Harland' has woven the threads of life in other romances and romance—she is a mistress of rare facility—we are safe in predicting that her new work will surpass all her previous efforts in fine delineation, brilliancy and power, and that Mr. Derby will be called upon to record it on his books as one of the most popular and successful of modern literary times. Since reading 'Alone,' we shall impatiently await the appearance of 'The Hidden Path.'—N. Y. Evening Mirror.

BAYARD TAYLOR'S NEW BOOK.

A VISIT TO INDIA, CHINA AND JAPAN, IN
THE YEAR 1853.
BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

With elegant Steel engravings. 12mo. cloth. Price $1.50

This volume is a record of the author's own experience during a year's travel in the above named countries and is intended to convey an accurate idea of their present physical and social aspect. The results of the writer's observations are given in the same delightfully natural style which characterizes his previous works.

"As a volume with pleasure this long promised work. The last of three volumes comprising the travels in Central Africa, Egypt and India, at one of the most interesting transfers of the day. We know of no books of the kind that keep the reader's attention so much alive"—Sunday Dispatch.

"Mr. Taylor has earned a reputation as a traveller, never equalled by any American, and surpassed by but few persons now living. We venture the assertion, that this new book will be generally conferred to be his greatest and best work."
