sion of hatred to banks, has caused more banks to spring into existence than any two administrations which preceeded his own!

Will you forget that Martin Van Buren has been in the constant habit of insulting the people of the United States by appointing to high, lucrative and responsible stations, all the candidates of his own party who happened to be rejected by the people?

Will you forget that Martin Van Buren has offered such a gross and flagrant outrage to the South as that of permitting a gallant officer of the Navy to be degraded by virtue of Negro evidencel

Will you forget that whilst the Chief Magishis democracy, that he assigned as his principal reason for supporting the Sub-Treasury that 22 out of 27 despotic governments of Europe had introduced that detestable machine into use?

Will you forget that whilst he has been making a constant and desolating war upon credit, which is the soul and life-blood of the public prosperity, that he has been getting the Government along in its operations by the use of credit? What was the emission of twenty-five millions of Treasury notes, but a resort to credit when the Government is compelled to redeem these notes as they become due with specie!

Can you forget that, with a constant profession of fondness for a hard money ourtency playing upon his lips, that he has been flooding the country with irredeemable paper and Treasury rags?

Can you forget for one moment that your Chief Magistrate has been lecturing the people of the United Strigs upon the benefits and blessings of economy, Ad orging them to contract their daily expenses within the narrowest possible limits, whilst he has been spending twice the amount of money which was expended by any President of the country previous to Gen. Jack-600

Can you forget that he has never performed a single act, or originated and consummated a single public measure which entitles him in the smallest degree to the high and commanding station which he now occupies!

Can you, will you forget, that by remaining at home on the day of the election, or by acting with supineness when you once go to the election, that you will be aiding in the ignoble task of fastening upon yourselves and your posterity that darling project of Mr. Van Buren, a Standing Army of 200,000 men? For he professes to base his opposition to the United States Bank chiefly on the ground that the people elected him with a full knowledge of his hostility to that institution. And if re-elected, he will press the Standing Army upon the attention of Congress until it shall be finally established, on precisely the same ground, to wit: that he will have the part of the people that he tavored this adommable scheme.

Will you forget when you repair to the polls that Martin Van Buren has been complimented by a distinguished British writer for having instituted a rigid system of police about the Executive mansion which excluded the common people of the country from the parties and other national assemblies which are usually convened by the President?

Will you forget that the present Chief Magistrate of the United States has been repeatedly limented in the British journals for hi

The aggregate vote of these 10 States is 97, which, being added to the 51 electoral votes already submitted as certain for Har-

We have submitted this estimate, not becaus we believe that General Harrison will obtain no more votes than those submitted in the state ment, but for the purpose of confirming our Whig friends in the belief that nothing but the arm of O nnipotence can prevent the election of the People's candidate. His election may be regarded as being as certain as the arrival of the approaching Christmas day. To be liberal with our Van Buren friends, we will concede to them New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maine and Mississippi, a majority of which States will cast their votes for the Whigs. But this c neession will not render one atom of service to our opponents. They cant come it. The gap will be closed against the re-admission of their anointed chief.

Rumor.

The rumor is prevalent in these diggings, that as soon as it was ascertained that the vote in Pennsylvania was a close one, Kendall and Blair posted off to Harrisburg with lightning celerity. We suppose these pensioners upon the public crib are so well assured that they will bereafter have to scramble for a living in the event of Van Buren's being turned out of office, that they wish to bring the electoral vote of Pennsylvanie to a scramble.

The Van Buren leaders, as we are credibly prison must be informed, have flatly pronounced the allegation these Uni. to be a "Whig lie" which charges upon Poin-Rhode Is- sett's Army Bill. It is a fact that not one single defaulter has en appointed by Mr. Van Buren .- Standa "d We agree with the Standard, that not one sin:- gle defaulter has been appointed by Mr. Van Buren. We regard it as highly probable, though, that some score or so of these public robbers have crept into office through his instrumentarity. But without pretending to say how many defaulters have been appointed by Mr. Van Buren, we broadly challenge the Standard to deny that there have been more of these defaulters elected and more public money stolen during the Administration of Mr. Van Buren and that of his illustrions predecessor" than during all the previous Administrations of the Government put ogether. The amount of money lost to the Government, through defalcations, up to the Administration of General Jackson, was something above $200,000; from that peried up to the

So it will appear that if Mr. Van Buren is guiltless of the sin of having appointed these fuilthless public agents to office, he has incurred the guilt of winking at their iniquity, by retaining them in office after they had commenced their flagrant system of peculations. Bishop Soule, D. D., one of the most pure and distinguished Methodist in the United States, was asked, in presence of the Rev. Leonard B. Griffing. (who heretofore has been a supporter of Martin Van Buren.)-"What is the public and private character of Wm. Henry Harri son?" The Bishop replied,-"I consider General Harrison's character without and I consider his house one of the best houses for Ministers, in all Ohio." The Bishop is well known for his great prudence, and in the same conversation. when asked how he thought General Harrison would administer our government, replied - "I believe the affairs of this nation would be as well administered by General Harrison as by President Van Buren or any of his friends."

Mr. Griffing is extensively known in all this region of country, and he had the magnanimity and manly independence to communicate to the writer the foregoing

Pennsylvania is Erect!

A slip from the office of the North American. one of the most correct public journals in the Union, dated Philadelphia, Nov. 7, gives the following joyful tidings:

"HARRISON'S MAJORITY 947 111 " It is with feelings of peculiar exultation and pride that we announce the fact, now ascertained beyond mistake, that Pennsylvania has given her vote for Gen. Harrison. In conclusion, Fellow Citizens, will you permit yourselves to be fulled into a fatal security. and repose whilst you are standing upon the edge of an awfully perilous precipice?

Will you forget the consistent, the ardent, the uniform and self sacrificing friend of Southern rights and permit the election to go by default in favor of Martin Van Buren, the patron of high Tarriff's, Cumberland Road Bills! the man who remitted the sentence of a Court Martial in favor of a powerful and rich offender who had committed flagrant offences and misdemeanours against the country whilst he permitted an humble and obscure sailor to be torn and lacerated by of things-for they provided for the entertainthe cat o' nine tails for some trivial acts of insubordination, the man who voted against the tepeal of the duties on walt and molasses, two er participated. necessaries of life in which the farmers are deeply interested, the man who has violated every pledge he ever made, except where he has pledged himseif to do mischief.

Premature Exuitation.

Our Van Buren neighbors seem to be greatly shilerated by the thread of uncertainty and doubt apon which the vote of Pennsylvania appears to be suspended at the present time. It will not do, geutlemen, for all the shouts which you may send up to the Heavens, on account of ennsylvania, will involve an idle and an useless expenditure of glee. We are firmly im pressed with the conviction that we have carried Pennsylvania. We are also assured that Maine has cast her vote for the old Chief, and that N-York has done likewise.

But this will not all do. We will suppose Maine, New York, Pennsylvania Virginia and Mississippi, to have gone for Van Buren; we will surrender all these States to the Chief of Kinderhook without the slightest eservation: and what then? Why he will still which we have first referred, comprehending under any circumstances, obtain a sufficiency delectoral votes to bear him into the Presidenint chair.

Buren, in addition to the 109 votes (which we niversally regarded as being one of the first popwill suppose for argument sake to have gone for ular speakers of the age.

Pennsylvania? For our own part we do not give ourselves much concern about Pennsylvia, New York, Virginia or Maine. We respect these powerful, patriotic and intelligent communities, and we should consequently delight to see them ranging themselves under the banner of the Constitution and the Laws: but General Harrison is abundantly secure without the votes of all or either of them, and time will disclose the truth of our prediction on this subject.

The People Awake!

A highly interesting political meeting was eld at Stevens's Log Cabin, about 9 miles distant from this City on Thursday last. We have never witnessed an assembly of persons which was animated by a finer and more patriotic spirit, nor one charasterised by a greater degree of decorum. We may add too, that these genuine nobles of nature not onry know how to do things right, but they also act upon their knowledge ment of the company one of the most bountiful and interesting barbacues in which we have ev

After the party had been strengthened and re freshed by the creature comforts which had been provided for them in rich profusion; the people began to deliberate upon the nature of the intellectual comforts they were to receive at the hands of some of their invited gueste. Mr. Manly, of this city, was then invited to the stand by Joaathan Stevens Esq., the President of the Crabtree Tippecanoe Club, and delivered an address which equally abounded in instructive facts, and in thrilling passages of mo-juence. Mr. Manly closed his remarks, by paying a gloing but deserved tribute to Judge Mangum, who was present, and on the stand, accordingly introduced that gifted and patriotic son of North Carolina to the people.

Judge Mangum then addressed the people for the space of two hours, in a strain of patriotic eloquence which delighted every one present; the meeting then adjourned.
