

IMPORTANT.—The London papers of the 17th inst. announce that on the tenth of his month, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-one, the lady of the Queen is to be christened princess Victoria in your course, and ye thundering cataclysm! Let the earthquake leap still, and the tornado hold its breath!

THE ADVANTAGES OF TEMPERANCE.

A blacksmith in the city of Philadelphia, four or five years ago, was complaining to his iron merchant that such was the scarcity of money that he could not pay his rent. The merchant then asked him how much rum he used in his family in the course of a day. Upon his answering this question, the merchant made a calculation, and showed him that he had expended more money in the year than his house rent. The calculation so astonished the mechanic that he determined from that day he would buy and drink no more spirit of any kind. In the course of the year ensuing he paid his rent and he had a new suit of clothes out of the savings of temperance. He persisted in it through the course of his life, and the consequence was, intelligence and respectability.

A Plover. — At Plymouth, there is, or was a small green opposite the government houses, over which no one was permitted to pass. Not a creature was allowed to approach, save the General's cows; and the sentries had particular orders to turn away any one who ventured across the forbidden path. One day old lady D. — having called at the General's, in a desire to make a short cut, but her steps across the lawn, when she was arrested by the sentry calling out and desisting her to return, and go the other road. She remonstrated; the man said he could not disobey his orders, which were to prevent any one from crossing that piece of ground. "But," said lady D. — with a steady air, "do you know who I am? I don't know who you be, ma'am, I replied the immoveable sentry, but I know — you hunt the General's cows!" This was a fact which she could not dispute, so lady D. — wisely gave up the argument and went the other way.

THE GREY MARE INCLUDED.—A country doctor, of homely breeding, courted a black girl, the daughter of a farmer, who was persuaded to marry him, he having a pretty good estate. Accordingly, the day was appointed. But shortly after, spying a grey mare of which the old man used to ride, and for her easy gait was much esteemed, he, the doctor, desired to have her given in to complete his matrimonial bargain, but being refused, he fled away in a huff, and told the father he might keep his daughter. The girl was delighted with this rupture; but soon after, the doctor repented of his folly, and came again to see her, when he was at home alone. She pretended to have no knowledge of him. — "Why, it is strange," said he, "that you should so soon forget me. I am your old admirer, the doctor." "Very merry sir," replied she, "I do remember me of such a person; you are the gentleman who came wooing my father's grey mare. Your mistress is grazing in the orchard, and you may make your address to her if you please." — We Have Found It! — "We were puzzled to tell why it was that our orators were so much more long winded in their speeches than those of former years, until we saw it stated, that there have been added to our language since the day of Johnson and Walker, some forty-five thousand words or about double the number originally included in their dictionaries." Now as these words may be used if not to be expected that a man who gets up to speak in public can do no less than occupy double the time that was customary there, were but half the words in use that are at the present time. And so the wonder is accounted for.

Butler's new work entitled "Night and morning," just published by the Harpers, is said to be one of his best efforts. Subjoined are two short extracts: — Philip's address to his Uncle.—Mark me; you hold the wealth that I was trained from my cradle to consider my heritage; I have worked with these hands for bread, and never complained except to my own heart and soul. I never hated and never cursed you—robber as you were—yes, robber! For, even were there no marriage sash in the sight of God, neither my father, Nature, nor Heaven meant that you should seize all, and that there should be anything due to the claims of affection, and blood. He was not the less my father, even if the church spoke but on my side—Despoiler of the orphan and derider of human love, you are not the less a robber, though the law forces you round, and men call you honest! But I did not hate you for this. Now, in the presence of my dear mother—dead from both her sons—now I labor and curse you. You may think yourself safe when you quit this room—safe, and from my hatred you may be safe; but do not deceive you sell; the curse of the widow and the orphan shall press on it shall cling to you and yours! It shall gnaw your heart to the marrow of splendor—it shall cleave to the heritage of your son. There shall be a death bed yet beside which you shall see the specter of her, now so calm, rising for retribution from the grave! These words no, you never shall forget them—years hence they shall ring in your ears, and trace the marrow of your bones! — And now begone, my father's brother—begone from my mother's corpse to your luxurious home! Night and morning.—So, unlike the order of the eternal universe, gliding together, side by side, the shadowy steeds of Night and Morning. Examine life in its own world; confound not that world, for instance, the practical one, with the more visible yet darker and less substantial system of the infinite space to whose throne they are in the infinite space, the human heart has no wings to flee. In life, the mind and the circumstances give the true seasons, and regulate the darkness and light. Of two men standing on the same foot of earth, the one revels in the joyous noon, the other shudders in the solitude of night. For Hope and Fortune the day star is ever shining.—The "Amuth Strangleblades" live ever in the air. For Car and Penury, night changes not with the ticking of the clock or the shadow on the dial.—Morning for the heir, Night for the houseless, and God's eye on both!

A man that does the best he can does all he should do.

SMITH'S SCHOOL BOOKS.

For sale at the North Carolina Book Store, Raleigh, by Turner & Hughes. Smith's School Geography, on the Productive System. New Edition revised and enlarged, illustrated by thirty additional cuts, put up in uniform large type, accompanied by an entire new Atlas, containing eighteen very superior Maps, Chart of the World, &c. By Rowell C. Smith, author of the Practical and Mental Arithmetic Productive Grammar, &c., &c.

The population in the Book and Atlas will be altered to correspond with the Census of 1840, as soon as officially reported, and will be kept in every respect up to the times.

Smith's New Arithmetic, on the Productive System. 12mo., full bound, much larger than the Practical and Mental, designed for scholars advanced in the study, (compounded by a Key and colored blocks destroyed.) Smith's Practical and Mental Arithmetic, on a new plan in which Mental Arithmetic is combined with the use of the slate; containing a complete system of arithmetical purposes, being in dollars and cents; exercises per se, revised and enlarged with exercises for the state. To which is added a Practical System of Book Keeping. By Rowell C. Smith.

Key to do, with the examples fully wrought. Smith's new Grammar on the Productive System (method of instruction) recently adopted in Germany and Switzerland, designed for Schools and Academies.

WE ANNEX THE FOLLOWING AS SPECIMENS OF NERVOUS RECOMMENDATIONS. I have used Smith's Grammar, Geography and Arithmetic on the Productive System, in my Academy for the last three years, which is sufficient proof that I consider them superior to any works on the subjects of which they treat. Students in Grammar, using Smith's work, make progress which astonishes those who have been accustomed to the old system of class-books. The same might be said of students in the other branches. Of these I speak confidently, having my knowledge from experience.

C. P. B. MARTIN, Reverend of Meigs' Zion Institute, From the Cotanum School Assistant, cited J. Orville Taylor, New York, Feb. 20, 1840.

Smith's Geography Improved. The above standard and popular work has just appeared from new plates, the old ones having been destroyed by fire. The entire work has been revised, and we now pronounce it the most accurate work in market. We perceive several new maps, one of Palestine, one of Liberia, and of Mexico, &c. The Map Chart of the World is presented on a entire new plan, and one which adds great value to the work, and may be universally admired. In all respects the work is equally to any Geography we have, and in several important particulars superior to the others.

Dec. 9, 1840. HORRID DEPRIVITY Some notorious Counterfeiters have nearly killed several persons by selling them a spurious and false mixture of Hays' Liniment.

The genuine is warranted perfectly harmless and effective. Never buy the article unless it have the counter signature of COMSTOCK & CO. on the splendid wrapper. That firm are solely authorized to make and sell the true article. Original Proprietor.

SOLOMON HAYS. P. S. The true Hays' Liniment is warranted to cure Piles and Rheumatism, in all cases, or no pay taken for it.

THE HUMAN HAIR IS WARRANTED restored, and the head kept free from dandruff, by the genuine OLD-FASHIONED BALM OF COLUMBIA.

This article has been imitated by a notorious counterfeit. Let it never be purchased or used unless it have the name of L. S. COMSTOCK or the signature of COMSTOCK & CO. on a splendid wrapper. This is a genuine and reliable test that will secure the public from deception.

A constant supply of the above valuable preparation will be kept for sale by W. M. MASON & CO. 11 cross 12m

$400 REWARD FOR STOPPING THE RUNAWAYS.

CANDY. A Fellow about 34 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, a very bright complexion, with blue eyes and straight hair, with some appearance of dandruff in his hair.

His knees much inclined in, has a very noted mark on one of his hands believed to be the pig, the hind foot of the orphan and derider of human love, you are not the less a robber, though the law forces you round, and men call you honest! But I did not hate you for this. Now, in the presence of my dear mother—dead from both her sons—now I labor and curse you.

STAFFORD. A stout black fellow, about 23 years old, stout and well built, 5 feet, 6 or 8 inches high, and has a sallow, showward look when spoken to—No marks recollectible. He had some clothes and money with him.

WAYNE. A stout black fellow, about 23 years old, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, and has large white teeth, and rather a pleasant look. He had some good clothes.

The above Negroes left my plantation in Harris County, Georgia, about the 1st of the present month, and from the best account I can get of their location, it was to go through the upper part of Georgia and Alabama, in the direction of Ohio. It is as probable that they may be travelling with, or under the direction of white men. I will give fifty dollars for each of them, if taken in the upper part of Georgia or Alabama, or one hundred dollars each, if taken in any other State, and secured in Jail so that I get them. I will give twenty dollars each, if taken in the neighborhood of the plantation, either in Georgia or Alabama.

The Spring Session will begin on the second Monday in January. J. W. BINGHAM, JNO. A. BINGHAM, English Department conducted by A. C. LINDSEY. December 10. 51-4w.

LOUISBURG ACADEMIES.

The duties of these schools will be resumed on the first day of January next, under the management of the same instructors. Board may be had with the precept, for young Ladies, at $50 per Session, Tuition included, except for Music, which is a separate charge of $20 per Session. Male Students may have accommodations in several respectable families in the Village, at charges ranging from $40 to $50 per Session.

Mr. Guilford Lewis, who has had under his care Students, as Boarders, the present year, and given general satisfaction to all who have entrusted their children and wards to him, has taken a large and commodious house, consisting of some 15 or 20 rooms, for the spring session, situated at the corner of the street, which can have separate apartments, if preferred.

Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Fuller, Mr. S. Patterson, and others, are also prepared with equal accommodations for the Students, male or female.

The orderly department of the Pupils of these Schools for the last several years, combined with the healthiness of the Village, and the known good nature of the place and its vicinity, justifies the expectation of a liberal share of patronage.

By order, Dec 18, 1840. Register and Standard 2 insertions 51-2w.

PRIVATE CLASSICAL INSTRUCTION.

The Subscriber being provided with suitable accommodations in a retired location, proposes to teach a class of FIFTEEN PUPILS, eight or ten of whom can be accommodated with board in his own family.

The plan of instruction will embrace only the studies preparatory to a College education. And in order that the attention of the instructor may not be distracted by a multiplicity of engagements, the pupils admitted being of the same grade, will be associated in one or at most, in two classes.

The class of which the term will open on the FIRST MONDAY OF JANUARY NEXT will be expected to begin.

VIRGIL OR OF CESAR'S COMMENTARIES, with the usual adjunct studies—Latin Grammar recitations—Latin Prose—Mae's Introduction, &c. Board and Tuition for the Scholastic year of ten months—on half payable in advance, $175. Deductions will be made in cases of absence on account of sickness.

To pupils residing in the City with their parents, the terms of Tuition per session, will be as heretofore.

The long vacation will take place at the close of the second session. The terms of the School for patronage, will embrace at least two particulars. The small number of the pupils, and the object of the object of their pursuit.

HAYS' LINIMENT.

NO FICTITIOUS—This extraordinary chemical composition, the result of science and the invention of a celebrated medical man, the introduction of which to the public was invested with the solemnity of a death-bed bequest, has since gained a reputation unparalleled, fully sustained the correctness of the late medical authorities, and has shown that it is the true and without going to poetry, the benefit of his knowledge on this subject, and he therefore bequeathed to his friend and attendant Solomon Hays, the secret of his discovery.

It is now used in the principal hospitals, and the private practice in every country, first and most certainly for the cure of the Piles, and is extensively and effectually used to battle credibility, unless where its effects are witnessed.

DR. W. W. MARSHALL'S Ointment for the Blind Piles.

This ointment has recently been several years before the public its virtue and efficacy have been well tested, and in numerous instances, in the most aggravated forms of the disease. In not a solitary case has it been known to fail in effecting a cure. Many very respectable persons have borne testimony to its efficacy; among them, the Rev. Wm. C. Smith, of the M. E. Church, and Editor of the Conference Journal, who, from his own experience, confidently recommends it to the public as "SAFE, AGREEABLE, AND EFFICIENT REMEDY."

It may be had at the Store of R. TUCKER Agent, Raleigh, N. C.

NEW JEWELLERY STORE

GILIN C. PALMER has commenced the above business in the new building lately erected by Mr. Richard Smith on Fayetteville Street, a few doors above his Store, where he intends to carry it on, in all its branches. In a few days he will receive from Philadelphia, a new and fashionable assortment of Jewellery and Watches and Cutlery, consisting of gold and silver Levers and Plain Watches, Watch Chains, Keys and Seals, Ear Rings, Rings, Pins, a fine assortment of Knives and Razors, and all other articles not necessary to mention, all of which he engages to sell as cheap for cash as they can be sold in this part of the country.

Watches repaired in the best manner. He attends himself, from the long experience in the business, that he will be able to give satisfaction. He has in his employ first rate workmen. Watches and Clocks that can be made to keep time, will be warranted for twelve months. He hopes the citizens of Raleigh, and country around, will call and give him a trial and find out for themselves. Call at the sign of the Watch, nearly opposite the Long Cabin. Raleigh, N. C.
