

THE RALEIGH STAR AND NORTH CAROLINA GAZETTE.

THOS. J. LEMAY, Editor and Proprietor.

"NORTH CAROLINA—POWERFUL IN MORAL, INTELLECTUAL AND PHYSICAL RESOURCES—THE LAND OF OUR BIRTH AND THE HOME OF OUR AFFECTIONS."

(THREE DOLLARS A YEAR—ADVANCE)

VOL. 38.

RALEIGH, N. C. WEDNESDAY AUGUST 25, 1847.

No. 32.

The Daily National Whig.

Is published in the City of Washington, every day at 3 o'clock, P. M.—Sundays excepted—and served to subscribers in the City, at the Navy Yard, in Georgetown, in Alexandria, and in Baltimore the same evening, at 61 cents a week, payable to the Editor, Agent of the Whig, G. L. Gilchrist, Esq., or his order. It is also mailed to any part of the United States for $4 per annum, or $5 for six months, payable in advance. Avertisements of ten lines or less inserted one time for 50 cents, two times for 75 cents, three times for $1, one week for $1.75, two weeks for $2.75, one month $4, two months $7, three months $10, six months $16, one year $30—payable always in advance.

THE NATIONAL WHIG is what its name indicates. It speaks the sentiments of the Whig party of the Union on every question of public policy. It advocates the election to the Presidency of ZACHARY TAYLOR, subject to the decision of a Whig National Convention. It makes war on the knave upon all the measures and acts of the Administration deemed to be adverse to the interests of the country, and exposes without fear or favor the corruption of the party in power. Its columns are open to every man in the country, for the discussion of political or any other questions.

In addition to politics, a large space in the National Whig will be devoted to publications upon Agriculture, Mechanics, and other useful arts. Science in general, Law, Medicine, Statistics, &c. Choice specimens of American and Foreign Literature, will also be given, including Reviews, &c. A weekly list of the Patents issued by the Patent Office will likewise be published—the whole forming a complete family newspaper.

THE WEEKLY NATIONAL WHIG.

One of the largest newspapers in the United States, is made up from the columns of the Daily National Whig, and is published every Saturday for the low price of two dollars per annum, payable in advance. A double sheet of eight pages will be given whenever the press of matter shall justify it.

The Memoirs of General Taylor, written expressly for the National Whig, are in course of publication. They commenced with the second number, a large number of copies of which have been printed to supply calls for back numbers.

CHARLES W. FENTON,
Proprietor of National Whig.
Washington, June 3, 1847. 22-6m.

THE AMERICAN MAIL.

EDITED BY PARK BENJAMIN.
Published Weekly on Saturdays.
At 116 Nassau Street, New York.
For Three Dollars a Year, in Advance.
BY ROSS WILKINSON.

This Journal was commenced on the fifth of June. It is conducted on a novel and popular plan, which combines the best literature of the day with the fullest and latest intelligence. Its selections are made up from the leading periodicals and newspapers of the European Continent and Great Britain, as these are now received by the steamers arriving weekly from foreign ports. It will contain no stories, continued through more than two or three numbers of the paper. The effort will be to make every number complete in itself, and replete with matters worthy of preservation as well as of immediate perusal. For this object it is printed in a form of eight large quarto pages—not too small for a newspaper, or too large for a convenient volume.

Its original articles, of which it will contain several every week, both editorial and communications, will be free, bold, and independent, but fair discussions of the topics of the day, as well as literary papers. They will be addressed to the understanding no less than to the fancy; they will strive to arouse no less than to amuse the intellect.

The American Mail resembles in its leading features the New World, formerly conducted by the same editor, and the celebrated Gallian's Messenger, which circulates over every part of the civilized world.

Great care is taken to render the paper adapted to the family circle, and to those who desire to avoid all things offensive to good morals, and repugnant to the purest principles. At the same time it is a newspaper, and not a magazine. It contains every week, a summary of all important events occurring at home or abroad, and a faithful account of the Money and Provision Markets.

Prices.—Three dollars for one copy. Five dollars for two subscriptions. Twelve dollars for five subscriptions. Twenty dollars for ten subscriptions—payable in advance. These terms will never be varied from.

No back numbers will be retained. Those who are desirous of complete files, are requested to subscribe at an early day. Subscriptions should be addressed to the Publication Office, 116 Nassau Street, New York.

THE PARLOR MAGAZINE.

J. T. HEADLEY, EDITOR.

This Magazine, formerly under the care of Rev. D. Mead, commences its Fourth Volume under the editorship of J. T. Headley, author of "Napoleon and his Marshals," "The Sacred Mountains," "Letters from Italy," &c., &c. We heard nothing is saying that this Magazine is destined to fill a large place in public estimation; that it will not only maintain its present enviable reputation, but carry it to a still higher popularity, and become the companion of many a circle to which it is now a stranger, gladdening by its presence, while it exerts an influence pure, elevating and beautiful. The editor will bend his energies to make this the most popular Magazine of the day, and while waiting himself of assistance from the best writers, he will draw freely from his own exhaustless store.

It will continue to maintain its high moral tone, and nothing will be admitted into its columns which will minister to the corrupt passions and tendencies of youth, or which the author "dying would wish to blot."

The design is to offer the public a Magazine containing all the attraction and interest of the higher periodicals, while it moves in a different path, and is not exposed to the same objections. It is issued monthly, containing 32 pages of original matter, printed on fine paper, in handsome covers, with a splendid steel engraving and colored flower in each number, with occasional music, and is got up in every respect in the best style of the art, making a yearly volume of 364 pages, full of choice illustrations, and forming an elegant ornament to the parlor table, or a rich and valuable present to a friend.

Price $2 per year, in advance. Three copies for $5.

A good responsible agent wanted to circulate this work to whom the best inducements will be offered.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Mr. Headley's lively and versatile pen is admirably fitted to give a charm to a work like this—

N. Y. Times.

Under the editorial charge of J. T. Headley, the most popular writer of the age, we predict a still stronger interest will be taken in this already well-known and valuable Magazine. The name of Headley alone is a sure guaranty of success.

Farmer and Mechanic.

The new editor has infused that intense and absorbing interest into its pages for which his writings are remarkable. The work has gained in the power which enchains the sympathies, and draws the attention without losing anything of its former charm and elevated morals and style.

Windham Co. Democrat.

We wish this Magazine much success under its present guardianship—Advocate & Journal.

Their motto is to mingle the beautiful with the good. N. E. Review.

Mr. Headley contributes to the present May number liberally in his usual pleasing style—New York Tribune.

His talents will add greatly to the interest of the publication, and have great influence in extending its circulation. Christian Intelligencer.

This very neat monthly is gaining favor, refining and softening the roughness of life, and blessing the family where it alights. "Est perpetua." Massachusetts Eagle.

This is unquestionably the best Magazine of its kind in the country. Nantucket Enquirer.
