

Libertas et natalis solum.

RALEIGH, JUNE 21, 1848.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, GEN. ZACHARY TAYLOR, THE COUNTRY'S CHOICE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, MILLARD FILLMORE, OF NEW YORK.

FOR GOVERNOR, CHARLES MANLY.

Hurra! for Gen. Taylor and the voice of the People! We congratulate our readers on their triumph.

TAYLOR MEETING.

A public meeting will be held at the Court House, this (Tuesday) evening, at early candle light, which, it is expected, will be addressed by Gov. MOREHEAD and other delegates of the National Convention now in our City.

Having just returned to our post, after more than a week's absence, we have not yet had time to catch the run of events, or comment upon such as have come to our knowledge. We hope to be able to post up by next week.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

"Johnston" brings home to the Democracy some important facts, and shall appear in our next.

"A Democrat of Wake" is short, but to the point. He speaks like an independent and patriotic freeman, and shall also be heard "for his cause" in our next.

SANS TACHE.

The unsuspected purity of General TAYLOR's character will secure to him thousands of votes from among those who have heretofore acted with the Democratic party. The mass of that party as well as that of the Whigs, admire purity and know that their liberties and all the interests of the country are safer in the hands of virtuous, than in those of corrupt rulers.

WHIG STOCK RISING.

Since the nomination of Gen. TAYLOR for the Presidency, Whig Stock has been rapidly rising every where except in Wall Street, New York; and the capitalists there will have to knock under and submit to the general state of the market.

RANDOLPH MACON COLLEGE.

We had the pleasure of attending the Commencement at Randolph Macon College last week; the exercises of which were highly interesting and gratifying to the very large and intelligent concourse of spectators collected from various sections of the country on the occasion.

THE WILMOT PROVISIO.

When the Democrats talk about the Wilmot Proviso, let not the Whigs forget that Wilmot is a Loco Foco, and that this Proviso was passed at the first session after Polk's inauguration by nine votes majority, in a House in which the Loco Focos had a majority of some sixty or seventy members.

MR. FILLMORE

Some of the Whigs (say the Richmond Republican) are boldly asserting that Mr. Fillmore, the Whig nominee for Vice President, is an Abolitionist. His location giving plausibility to the assertion, but they take good care to furnish no facts.

Even Calhoun Better than Lewis Cass. -The Portland (Maine) Advertiser well says:

"We would rather, ten times over that John C. Calhoun should be President than Lewis Cass. In Mr Calhoun we should have a pro-slavery man it is true—but nevertheless a much more honorable man, and a sincere friend of peace. But there is but little in the public life of Mr Cass to command either respect or enthusiasm.

Spontaneous Combustion. The New York Globe, a Loco Foco paper, makes the following prediction, and we take great pleasure in fully concurring with our Democratic friend:

General Taylor attempts to deceive no one. He has made no pledges to win votes, and though we cannot support him, unless we are more fully acquainted with his views, yet we have no hesitation to declare our opinion to be, that if the contest is between Taylor and Cass the former will receive nine-tenths of the electoral votes of the Union. The election of Cass may be considered almost an impossibility.

GENERAL CASS.

The Richmond Whig says:—This gentleman winds his way slowly to the Lakes. We heard of him the other day 'starring' in Philadelphia. He is now repeating the same representation in New York. We can tell him a secret. The people are not going to elect a 'travelling President' of that he may be sure, and get back to Detroit as fast as he can."

Strength of the Barnburners.

The New York Herald gives a list of 39 out of 97 Democratic newspapers in that State which are opposed to Gen. Cass, and says:

"The Barnburners have force sufficient to take the vote of New York from Gen. Cass—and the chances now are that it will be done."

Aeufol Conflagration in Norfolk!

One Hundred and Fifty to Two Hundred Houses Destroyed, and the Fire still raging.

We learn, by a passenger on board the Steamboat Mount Vernon, that Norfolk has been visited with one of the severest fires that ever befell any city. The fire originated, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock Wednesday night, at the Lumber House of Messrs. Ferguson & Mahadon.

THE NOMINATION.

The vote in the Whig Convention, by the States, on the last ballot, was as follows:

The following are the ballots in caucus and convention:

The Hon. MILLARD FILLMORE, of New York, received the nomination for the Vice Presidency, on the second ballot.

THE BARNBURNERS.

The N. York Herald, alluding to a recent meeting of Barnburners at Albany, says:

"The meeting was strong, violent and savage against Gen. Cass, and the spirit of the Barnburners in opposition to the Baltimore Convention seems to be increasing. It almost seems out of the question, under the present state of feeling, that Gen. Cass can have any chance of getting the vote of this State, unless a very powerful and desperate negotiation should be immediately opened and concluded with the Barnburners before the meeting of the Utica Convention.

PEACE ESTABLISHED!

LATER FROM MEXICO—THE TREATY EXCHANGED.

Richmond, June 13, 1848. To the Editor of the Republic:—Mr McKee, bearer of dispatches from commander of the Department of Tampico, passed through the city this morning, bearing to the Government official information of the Treaty of Peace between the United States Commissioner and the Government of the Republic of Mexico. Peace is, therefore, finally established, without any contingency. McKee is twelve days from Tampico. He is accompanied by his friend A. C. Bassett, of the New Orleans National.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

The House of Representatives has passed a Resolution to adjourn on the 17th of July next.

Value's good conscience more than praise.

SUPREME COURT.

The following gentlemen underwent an Examination before this Court on Tuesday last and were fully admitted to Superior Court Licence, viz:

John A. Warrock, Elizabeth City; Josiah Johnson, Clinton; Edward Cantwell, Wilmington; William Hill, Wilmington; Adam Empie, Jr., Wilmington; Matt W. Ransom, Warren; Sion H. Rogers, Raleigh; J. M. A. Drake, Asheboro'.

Gen. Cass in South Carolina.

It is said that the members of the House of Representatives from South Carolina, declare openly and positively that their State will not vote for Cass. They say that South Carolina will not vote for Gen. Taylor, though he should be the nominee of the Whigs.

The New York Supreme Court has decided that the late State law allowing every man to practice as a lawyer, to be unconstitutional.

A cave has been discovered at Mr. Clemmon's lime kiln, Cass co., Arkansas surpassing in the beauty, though not in extent, the Saltpetre cave. It has not yet been explored sufficiently to know the size but it is wonderful. The discovery was made while blasting the rock for lime.

An association of young men is being formed in Baltimore which is expected will number one thousand who are preparing to visit Washington on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Washington Monument. They are preparing a splendid banner, to be deposited in the Monument as a perpetual memorial that the association was there represented.

GREAT RATIFICATION MEETING.

We have the pleasure of subjoining the Proceedings of a Public Meeting, held in this City on Friday last, to ratify the Whig nominations at Philadelphia. The intelligence of Gen. Taylor's selection, was received here at 11 o'clock, and of Mr. Fillmore's at 3 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock of the same day, one of the largest primary political meetings, we have ever seen in Raleigh, assembled at the Court House to express their pleasure at the choice which had been made, and to ratify the nomination. We were gratified to see a number of our former political adversaries present, giving close attention to the remarks of the Speakers, and, as the Resolutions were unanimously adopted, we take it for granted that they met their approbation.

A number of Speeches were delivered, which seemed to find a hearty response in every bosom. We do not think we shall be deemed invidious if we allude particularly to the effort of our friend, H. W. Miller, Esq. Nor can we be accused of flattery, in expressing our concurrence in his arguments and views, since they are the same for which we have been all along contending; nor shall we incur the charge of panegyric, in expressing our admiration of the eloquence by which he supported those arguments, inasmuch as the same sentiment has been expressed by all with whom we have met, who heard Mr. Miller. But to the Proceedings:—

RATIFICATION MEETING.

At a large meeting of the citizens of Raleigh held on the 9th inst. for the purpose of ratifying the nominations by the Whig National Convention at Philadelphia on motion of Major Husted, Gov. Iredeell was called to the Chair, and George Little and H. S. Smith, Esqs. were appointed Secretaries. The Chairman having explained the object of the meeting,

On motion of Col. J. H. Manly, a Committee consisting of five persons, appointed by the Chair, was selected to draft Resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. The Committee composed of Col. Jno. H. Manly, W. R. Gales, H. W. Miller, Major, Husted and Hon. Richard Hines, after retiring a few moments reported, through their Chairman, the following:

Resolved, That we are met to rejoice, and we do hereby congratulate the Whigs of North Carolina, that the Whig National Convention assembled at Philadelphia for choosing a Whig candidate for President and Vice President of the United States, have like faithful Representatives echoed back the people's voice, by the selection of the People's candidates, Gen. Zachary Taylor and Millard Fillmore.

Resolved unanimously. That we cordially ratify this nomination, and the more readily because it was not accomplished by the schemes, combinations and intrigues of unprincipled partisans; and we do hereby pledge ourselves to exert all honorable means for ensuring Gen. Taylor's election by triumphant majority of the People. And though the Whig party are more confident of success, yet we do not deem it expedient to speak of the probability of this patriotic purpose, we desire to see Patriots and Republicans of North Carolina united in it, no matter by what party names they have been designated heretofore. We say this the more cheerfully because we are assured that Gen. Zachary Taylor though a true Whig, would be the President of the Nation, and not of a mere party, endeavoring to act at all times, independent of party domination, but to administer the government untrammelled by party schemes; that he would take the Constitution for his platform, and guided by it, as it was acted upon by Washington and our earlier Presidents, he would respect and carry out, not seek to overawe and control the will of the people as legitimately expressed through their Representatives in Congress, upon questions of domestic policy. If the Republicans of North Carolina have not lost the character of their sires and abandoned the faith of 76, we rely upon their co-operation. We confidently believe they have not degenerated, and therefore pledge North Carolina to the defence of her defender. Col. Manly being called on for a Speech made a few remarks, and then called on

Mr. Miller, who addressed the meeting at length in an animated and eloquent strain. Mr. Gales being next called for, made a few very stirring and enthusiastic remarks. Messrs. Husted and Hines likewise addressed the meeting in neat and appropriate speeches. The Resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Mr. Miller offered the following Resolutions which were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That Geo. W. HAYWOOD, Esq. Delegate from this District to the National Convention, is entitled to the thanks of his constituents for his untiring efforts to promote their views and carry out their wishes.

Resolved, That all who are friendly to the election of TAYLOR & FILLMORE are requested to meet at the Court House in the City of Raleigh, at 2 o'clock, on Saturday, the 17th inst. to receive our Delegate to the National Convention and such other Delegates as may be present, and also to form a "Rough and Ready Club" for the campaign.

Mr. Gales offered the following Resolution which was likewise adopted by acclamation:

Resolved, That we recommend to the friends of the Philadelphia nominations throughout the Old North State and elsewhere, the formation of TAYLOR, or Rough and Ready Clubs, for the purpose of discussing and disseminating true Republican principles and of making the election of our noble Old Chief doubly sure.

On motion, it was directed that a copy of the Resolutions, reported by the Committee, be forwarded to Gen. Zachary Taylor.

On motion of Mr. Freeman, the meeting adjourned. JAS. IREDELL, Ch'n. GEORGE LITTLE, Sec'y's. H. S. SMITH.

The Virginia and North Carolina Volunteers (says the "Richmond Republican") are to be landed at Old Point Comfort, and there mustered out of service.—We suppose they will be at home early in July. They will meet a cordial and enthusiastic reception, and we trust early arrangements will be made to receive them. This will save our "boys" several dimes in getting home.

Gen. Cass has given notice to his friends that he should decline replying to letters or requests to give pledges as to his future course, &c. So says the Washington correspondent of the Ohio Statesman.

A letter containing a remittance of $3,000 in Treasury Notes, was opened in the dead letter office at Washington on Wednesday, the 7th inst.

The Whigs of Springfield Massachusetts, fired one hundred guns on receiving the news of Gen. TAYLOR's nomination for the Presidency.

One hundred guns were fired by the Whigs of Portland, Thursday afternoon, upon the reception of the report that Gen. Taylor had been nominated for the Presidency.

The news was also noticed in Salem by a salute of artillery.

WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Valdictory Address of Ex-Gov. Morehead, President of the Whig National Convention.

Mr. Haskell, of Tennessee, having moved that the Convention adjourn sine die, The President, Gov. Morehead, then rose and said, in substance, as follows:

Gentlemen of the Convention—Before dis-avering the tie which has here united us, permit me to return my profound thanks for your kindness and forbearance. Your partially placed me in this chair, to the duties of which I am unused and unaccustomed—and that same spirit of kindness has sustained me in their performance. If I have committed mistakes or errors, or if, in the discharge of my duties here, I have caused pain to any individual, I have only to say it was unintentional, and it would cause me serious regret. Let us, at all events, carry away with us no unkind feelings, and I shall feel happy in the impression that no one has an unkind feeling towards me.

I, too, have been placed here in a peculiar situation; and as various gentlemen, of different delegations, have given expression to their feeling, I trust I may be allowed also to say a few words before we part. I, too, have been defeated in the first wish of my heart, I have not succeeded in the nomination, of my favorite candidate—I stand among the vanquished party—but I fall into the hands of my victor friends, like a conquered dame! into the hands of her lover, and submit kindly to my defeat. (Loud applause.) I shall enter upon the campaign in the true Whig spirit, and I shall be glad to see you at the election, any Whig can be found who will outstrip me in zeal, I hope to take such a Whig by the hand, on the fourth of next March, at the inauguration of Gen. Zachary Taylor.

It has on a former occasion been my bad fortune not to have my first choice approved. In 1840, the Whigs of North Carolina unfurled the free standard of Henry Clay in that State and sent his name to the Harrisburg Convention; but the Whigs of that Convention, the representatives of the entire Union, sent back to us that standard inscribed with another name, that of Wm. H. Harrison—wholly unexpected by us. But I only looked to see if it was still the TRUE WHIG BANNER. I did not ask myself what name was on it. I never thought of inquiring what side of Mason & Dixon's line the nominee was from. It was the Whig Banner, and as such it was placed in my hands. For five months this hand bore that banner through North Carolina, until in the succeeding August, North Carolina, a Slave State, fired the first gun of that volley which shook Democracy from one end of the Nation to the other. Its echoes resounded from State to State throughout the entire Union, until the great triumph was achieved.

I have mentioned this, gentlemen, for the benefit of Ohio, and I will state one incident from which the Whigs of that State may hope and profit. N. Carolina, though she lost the nomination of her first choice, Henry Clay, soon raised on every hill top the banner of Harrison. In one location where a tall pole had been erected, with the name of Harrison nailed to the mast, a solitary stranger was seen riding past; attracted by its inscription he stopped, elevated his eyes and seeing the Whig principles inscribed thereon, doffed his beaver and saluted them with three hearty solitary cheers! Not do I despair before fall that in Ohio will also be seen solitary Whigs cheering the banner of Zachary Taylor.

I have supported in this body the nomination of Henry Clay—that most illustrious son of our country—his sun is about to set, and I trust his latest hours may be gilded and brightened by our success, which, like the bow of promise, we betoken the spread of peace and prosperity around our land. I have voted for Henry Clay because no man is more largely identified with the glory of our country than he is. No administration could add a particle to his undying fame; no honors could add to his treasure heap! But I yield him to this Convention; yield him cheerfully, and, for the future, no man can go more heartily than I will for the Hero of Buena Vista.

It has been suggested from different States that fears existed of the result of this nomination. We should never fear the consequences when our cause is good.—And our cause is not that of Zachary Taylor, but of the Whigs of the Union. Let us when dangers are thickening around us take our cue from his own conduct at Buena Vista, when he said, "we have got the enemy just where we wanted him; now's the time to give him a little more grape, Capt. Bragg!" As our leader never surrenders, is there any one of his followers who intends to surrender, [an emphatic response of "no."] Then if we all pull together we cannot be vanquished.

Before dissolving this body allow me to wish prosperity and happiness to you all, and that you may arrive safely to your homes and friends again. I bid you a long and affectionate farewell, and declare this convention adjourned sine die.

MILLARD FILLMORE.

Our opponents, conscious that they can say nothing to shake the confidence of the American people in Old Rough and Ready, have opened their batteries on the Whig candidate for the Vice Presidency.

He is, say they, an Abolitionist, a Wilmot Provisionist, and withal a horrible Whig. Now, we deny that he is either an Abolitionist or in favor of the Wilmot Proviso, and we demand of our opponents the proof of their allegations. We know their tactics full well enough to guard against them. If bold denunciation, unaccompanied with one particle of proof, can accomplish the objects, we might as well save ourselves the trouble of a contest, for they would be sure to succeed. But when you bring them down to the test of evidence, it is quite a different thing; as a specimen of their mode of warfare we point to an article in the last Richmond Enquirer, in which an attempt is made to fasten on Mr. Fillmore the charge of Abolitionism, because he wished a memorial on the subject of slavery in the District of Columbia to be printed. Now when it is remembered how much difference of opinion exists, even at the South, as to the policy of hearing or refusing to hear petitions on the subject of slavery, we think we may point to the fact of the Enquirer's seizing on these remarks of Mr. Fillmore as strong proof that the Editors are particularly hard run. All that they can truly say about Mr. Fillmore is, that he is one of the staunchest Whigs in the Union—one of the most popular men in the North, and one of the ablest men in the country. Pet. Int.

The Abolitionists or at least the section of that party known as the Liberty League, have just held a National Convention at Rochester, New York and nominated Gerrit Smith as their candidate for President of the United States and the Rev. Chas. E. Foote, of Michigan for the Vice Presidency. A New York State Liberty League Convention has also been held at Rochester nominating an electoral ticket and candidate for the several state offices to be elected this fall.

THE AGE OF IMPROVEMENT.

One of the most important discoveries of the age, in ameliorating the condition of this large class of suffering humanity, consumptives, is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. What experience adopts and confirms, what all men in all places unite in saying is good and valuable, is so, no doubt. A popularity of this sort fixes in society its roots so deep and strong, that time cannot destroy it. The success which has attended this medicine for several years past, has overcome the prejudices of all respectable and sensible men, and the article has taken a stand among the first class of discoveries and blessings of the age; and when resorted to in season, eradicates the disease for which it is recommended.

We cut the following from the Bellevue Falls Gazette, of January, 1846:—WISLAR'S BALSAM.—Notwithstanding our aversion to puffing, as many do, everything that comes along in the shape of Patent Medicines, and the fact that we scarcely ever take medicines of any kind, yet we feel that we should be doing injustice to the community by withholding longer the favorable opinion we have of Wistar's Balsam, in cases of colds and pulmonary complaints. Having witnessed its good effects in several instances, we believe it to be an excellent article. None genuine, unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper. For sale in Raleigh, whole sale and retail, by WILLIAMS, HAYWOOD & CO. and by Dealers in Medicines generally in North and S. Carolina.

STAY-BY-IND. In this City, on Wednesday evening last, by Rev. J. J. Finch, James F. Jordan, Esq., 30 Miss Caroline, second daughter of Theodore Partridge, Esq.

In Greensboro', on Tuesday 20th ult., by the Rev. John A. Greaser, William R. Walker, Esq. of Rockingham County, to Miss Letitia, eldest daughter of Gov. Morehead.

At Jalappa, Mexico, on the 11th January last, Louis Henry Birdsell, only son of Col. S. Birdsell, of this City. In Orange County, on the 23d ultimo, Mr. Jos. Freeland, a patriot of the Revolution, in the 86th year of his age. At his residence near Morgantown, on Wednesday, the 24th ult., Mr. Samuel Greenlee, aged 66 years.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

We are authorized to announce Quintston Utley, as a Candidate for Sheriff of Wake County, at the ensuing Election. May 9, 1848.

THE APPROACHING CONTEST.

A Spectacle for the World to admire! While the Old World is shaken to its centre, governments overturned, and kingdoms wiped out, America is preparing for the election of her President, or in other words the people are about speaking in what manner they will be governed, as exemplified by the wishes of the majority, a great moral and political truth is again to be developed by the quiet use of the ballot box, and the world will see how republican liberty works out its own destiny. Already one party has given its supporters the name of a statesman generally known—it will be followed by that of the other great interest—when at once the contest commences, a peaceful yet important encounter. SYLVESTER awaits with anxiety the result, and will watch each proceeding with more than usual interest. Each can receive support from him in the complexity of the questions mooted, and he has also prepared for the contest, although in a different field, with undiminished energy. In accordance with his usual course, he presents a Schedule of Schemes for JULY—brilliant in detail, unsurpassed in magnitude. A large amount of Prizes was distributed in May, and it will be followed by another series. MILLIONS OF MILLIONS will be sent to his patrons during the year. Orders for Tickets are requested to be forwarded early, and be careful to address S. J. SYLVESTER, 41 Wall Street, New York.
