If sufficiently supported, the subscriber intends to publish a morthly paper of eight pait WALL STREET, N. Y. ges, for the purpose of diffusing information on the subject of education with the especial view of improving the character of our Common

It is intended to give an account, drawn from the public documents and other sources, of the origin and progress of our Common School sysem, to compare it with that of other States here and in Europe, thus noting our improvement over former years and suggesting the means of overcoming the defects and difficulties under which we still labor. This will lead us to investigate the sources from which school funds are derived. the modes of their application, the preservations of order in schools, the selection of proper books for study, the recreation suitable for the pupils. the treatment necessary for different disposttions, &c.

And believing that the State which would ers, a portion of our columns will be devoted to follows: the questions-How are our schools to be supwith competent teachers? How is the plied standard of education to be raised, and the services of a band secured who are well qualified to go forth and in the spirit of love, labor for the advancement of the children who are placed under their charge?

But Education is a word of very extensive meaning, and although the primary object of the publication may frequently take us into the this sames school room, we do not intend to be always confined there. Our subject matter is the human mind and the influences-good and bad, with a view of preventing the one and strength ening the other-which can be brought to opdeepest moment none can deny. It grasps the interests not of this world only-it reaches through eternity. We shall not hesitate then as occasion may demand. to enter the family circie, to place ourselves on the streets or mingle in the busy crowd and there set forth the tules of lite and principles of conduct which we believe will promote the good of our race here and redound to our everlasting welfare in the

A great and important improvement is made in this Shower Bath over all others, by throwing the water immediately on the body without wetting the head, unless at the will or pleasure of the bather; but a greater point is gained by being enabled to bathe with worm water, which no other Shower Bath is adapted to-and most important of all, the Bath can be medicated without injury to he hair.

Many persons cannot take a cold bath-their case is met in this, as they can regulate the temperature of the water to suit their wish and commence buthing at any season of the year without eny unpleasant result. Ladies can have the advantage of hathing without wetting the head or overing the same

The arrangements are simple and complete, and not liable to get out of order. The Ban can be adjusted to suit any heighth, from a small child to the tallest person. When the door is closed, the fixtures are hid and the outside appearance is tha f a neat piece of furniture.
