dress are not without an impressive inter-Gentlemen, if four centuries ago, at the period when war was made by one district against the other, between cities, and between provinces-if I say some one had clared to predict to Loraine, to Provence, to Dauphiny, to Burgundy, "A day shall come when you will no longer arm men one against the other-a day shall come when it will not be said that the Normans are attacking the Picardians, or the people of you will still have many disputes to settle, interests to contend for, difficulties to resolve:but do you know whom you will select instead of armed men, instead of cavalry and infantry, of cannon, of fainets, lances, pikes swords? You will select, instead of all this destructive array, a small box of wood which you will term a ballot box, and from which shall issue-what? An assembly - an assembly in which you shall all live-an assembly , which shall be as it were, the soul of all-a supreme and popular council, which shall decide, judge, resolve everthing-which shall make the sword fall from every hand, and excite the love of justice in every heart-which shall say to each, "Here terminates your right; there commences your duty. Lay down your arms!" [Great applause.] And men thought, common interests, a common destiny; you will embrace each other, and recognise each other as children of the same blood and of the same race; and that day you shall no longer be hostile tribesyou will be a people; you will no longer be merely Burgundy, Nomandy, Britteny. Provence-you will be France. [Bravo.] You will no longer make appeals to waryou will do so to civilization"-[great apapplause | if, at the period I speak of, some one had uttered these words all men of a serious and positive character, all prudeut and cautious men, all the great politicians R. Smith, wi of the period, would have cried out, "What plantations. a dreamer! what a fantastic dream! How little this pretended prophet is acquainted with the human heart! What ridiculous tolly! What absurdity!" Yet gentlemen, time has gone on, and we find that this dream, this folly, this absurdity, has been realized! [Bravo!] And I insist upon this that the men who would have dared to utter so subline a prophecy would have been pronounced a madman for having dared to mixed, and has been erected about two weeks. Well then you at this moment sayand I say it with you-we who are assembled evidence furnished to his eyes, and more especially here say to France, to England, to Prussia, we say again is good. And now for the cost to Austria, to Spain, to Italy, to Russia-we your hands also the arms they have grasped shall fall. A day will come when war | exceed 4 dollars. shall appear as impossible, and will be as JOHN KIRKLAND, impossible, between Paris and London, between St. Petersburgh and Berlin, between Vienna and Turin, as it now is between Rouen and Amiens, between Boston and Philadelphia. [Applause.] A day will come when you, France-you Russia -you, Italy-you, England-you, Gertuony-all of you, nations of the continent, shall, without losing your distinctive qualities and your gloriours individuality, be blended into a superior unity, and shall constitute an Europerian fraternity, just as Normandy, Brittany, Burgundy, Lorraine, Alsace, have been blended into France, A day will come when the only battle field shall be the market open to commerce, and the mind opening to new ideas. A day will come when bullets and shells shall be replaced by votes by the universal, suffrage of nations-by the venerable arbitration of a great sovereign Senate, which shall be to Europe what the Parliament is to England, what the Diet is to Germany; what the Legislative Assembly is to France. [Applause.] A day will come when a cannon shall be exhibited in public museums just as an instrument of tortue is row, [langhter and applause, and people shall be astonished how such a thing could have been. A day will come when those two immense groupsthe United States of America and the United States of Europe-shall be seen placed in the presence of each other extending the hand of fellowship across the ocean, exchanging their produce, their commerce, their indus ry, their arts, their genius, clearing the earth, peopling the deserts, me-Creator, and uniting for the good of all these & Brownley, Petersburg, Va.) two irresistible and infinite powers-the fraternity of men, and the power of God. THE RECALL OF MR CLIFFORD. The propensity of the Washington Union to sick quarrels with the administration is so great that it actually complains that Mr. Chifford has been recalled from Mexico, and a Whig appointed in his stead. We had & fancy. , that our Ministers should entertain the same political views with the Government as home, and we cannot conceive that a man po seesing a proper self respect would hold so han appointment under an administrapresume the Democratic appetite for office man be satisfied, let it cost what it may. | Raleigh, Sept. 25, 1819.

"What is the state of morals in your distriet?" said a long-faced reformer to a farm- Just Beceived at No. 12, Fayetteer who recently visited town.

"Pretty good," replied the farmer. Every one seems disposed to mindhis own business in our parts," and he left the reformer in a quandary.

A LADY IN THE CASE. A New York correspondent of the Balimore Sun writes: It is whispered about in our political cirles, that the difficulty between the French Minister and our cabinet, has a feature in it which has been concealed from the public eye, being no less than a breach of etiquette complained of by a lady, and occasioning

he ill-temper displayed by M. Poussin. The intelligence from Europe gives pleasure to all by the announcement that the brave Kossuth has not fallen into the hands of the conquering bordes of Austria and Russia, but the public mind is pained y the seeming confirmation of Georgey's having sold him-elf and the cause of Hungary to the enemy.

There is a man in Grant, County, Kentucky, who is so miserly, that whenever he sends his negro servant down into the cellar, for apples, he makes him whistle all the way down to the apple box, and back, Lorraine are repulsing the Burgundians; to prevent him from eating any of the fruit.

BOMMER MANURE!

IMPROVE YOUR WORN-OUT LANDS!!! THE Subscriber begs leave respectfully to announce to the Citizens of Wake that he has purchased the exclusive right of the Bonnen Marnon for this County, and is prepared to supply them with individual rights. He has been nduced to make this investment from a favorable opinion of the same, formed both by a personal examination of the manure and by the high encomiums of scientific men! Certain it is, that every ingredient taken singly, is highly valuable as a nanure, and three is no good reason to doubt the effect when combined. Trusting it may prove a most valuable and economical agent, he hopes the Farmers of the County will give it a fuir Irial. They cannot feel too sensibly the importance of a convenient and cheap manure. By a judicious apin that day you will all have one com- plication of this fertilizer, their worn-out lands may se revived, while the more abundant yield will richly repay all expense and trouble. . The matter s at least worthy the attention of every agriculturist in our community.

(In order that this valuable manure may placed within the reach of all, I have determined to course the perce of Individual Rights.

TERMS,-For the right to use the Bomme Manuse on a single farm of 100 scres and upwards, $10 -on all farms containing a less number of acres, $5. Persons destring to use the manure on their town lots can obtain the right to do so for the vary low price of $3.

Methods (accompanying the rights)-$1 each . These who desire to examine the manure are referred to Messrs, Seth Jones, P. B. Burt and R. Smith, who have had heaps put up on their plantations. L. B. LEMAY.

Universal Purgative Pills. Remedy for all seasons, and safe at all A times. The most superficial observer aware that one great cause of disease is Correyaess, and that by the timely taking of a Purgative. the system is aften restored to its usual health. By such a course, the lives of hundreds are saved, who would otherwise have fallen victims to disease .-These Pills remove all irritating matter in the bowels, and excite the biliary functions to a healthy ac ion. The press is teeming with the recommendations of Purgative Pills, gotten up by men who kt ow nothing of the effects of medicine on the human system, and hence are endangering the lives of thousands, who are daily using them. In offering, therefore, these Pills, we think we are doing a public benefit as they are the prescription of a reg ular physician, who has used them in his practice or ten or fifteen years, and with great success.
