EVENING VISITOR.

WM. M. UTLEY, Local Editor.

Cool and refreshing.
Industrial fair began to day.
Yesterday was a lovely day.
There is a great deal of sickness in our city.
They were happy from the effects of the rain.

All the churches had good congregations yesterday.

Did you go to church yesterday and improve your morals?

We were glad to see Mr. R. H. Lee so far recovered as to be able to be on the streets again.

Mr. B. B. Lewis one of our most promising young lawyers returned last night from a trip to Richmond, Va.

Mr. J. M. Broughton lost his oldest daughter yesterday morning by death. It died with diphtheria.

Our citizens who have flat roofs should have them swept off, as a spark of fire might be the cause of a large conflagration.

For bargains in all kinds of dry goods give the Messrs. Tuckers a call. They are selling goods at bottom figures.

In the notice about the glass in the store window of Messrs. Yeagan, Petty & Co., Saturday, the types made us say lawn glass. It should have read "blown glass."

He was too "boozy" to know his own name Saturday night, when a Good Samaritan was trying to learn his name so that he could carry him home.

He had been put in our State penitentiary mainly on the evidence of one Charles Smith. He professed religion and said "he loved everybody, except Charles Smith, d—n him."

The rain has come and laid the dust; but it has not had any effect on the sale of J. M. Rosenbaum's ready made clothing. He keeps first class goods and the public will be convinced if they will give him a call. Don't take our word for it, but go see for yourselves.

Mr. A. Creech's store is crowded almost continuously. He is a clever gentleman and has a corps of polite clerks, consequently he enjoys a large trade, and what is better, he says his business is increasing daily.

Don't forget that our friends of Person street church will give a sacred concert for the benefit of their pastor next Thursday night. It will be held at the said church. Admission for only 25 cents. Go by all means.

100 bales to day.

Cotton quoted at 11½.

Painted bonnets are out.

Our streets are literally covered with leaves.

Roman striped hose are "au fair" for the street.

Eider down quilts are a fashionable bed cover.

The best decoy is made of red cedar, hollowed out.

The short party dresses are much handier to dance in.

Lard is firmer since the backbone of winter stiffened up a little.

Wollen corduroy is a favorite material for cloaks for young girls; it is light, soft and warm, and comes in the pretty ecru and gray tints that are so fashionable this winter.

THE VISITOR is eagerly sought for in our sister States—South Carolina and Virginia. Each day brings us new subscribers. That is right, friends. Help to circulate the VISITOR and we will endeavor to give you a paper worthy of your patronage.

Messrs. Merrimon & Fuller have one of the handsomest and best arranged law offices in the State. It would be well for our other legal friends to emulate them in the arrangement of their offices. If you want to see some thing nice just drop into their office.

PERSONAL.—Messrs. Jos. Becker, N. Robinson and L. Greenwood, special artists for "Frank Leslie's Illustrated paper" are at the Yarboro House. They came here to "do up" the Industrial Fair, which began to day. We hope our white and colored friends will give them all the information possible.

Be sure to call and get a glass of Mr. Adam Hang's ice cold beer when you go out to the fair. He has fitted up several rooms in elegant style and is prepared to furnish all kinds of refreshments. He is polite and courteous and will take pleasure in waiting on you. Don't fail to call. See his mammoth sign when you get there.

Some of our young men went out to Maj. Tucker's old field last Wednesday night to send up sky-rockets. Our colored friends, who were on the lookout for the meteoric shower, observed the sky-rockets darting through the air and, of course, concluded they were the stars falling. Some said they shot up from the ground and went cross wise and straight up. Another said he smelt the powder, and one was heard to say, "Why, Jake, what a fool you is, dat is de explosion of de sulphur you smell." A fact.

The condition of Col. Russ is about the same.

Many fancy fur muffs are lined with cardinal, scarlet, or old gold tints.

Many party dresses are now made with skirts that just "escape" the floor.

Pride goeth before a pair of tight boots, and corns cometh after them.

Corduroy velvets and plushes are said to wear nearly as well as silk velvets.

Idleness is hard work for those who are not used to it, and dull work for those who are.

Most men who look exclusively after number one, have next to nothing to occupy their attention.

Ives, Murphy & Bonar, N. Y.; Dinsmore & Kyle, Baltimore, took out drummer's license to day.

Several drunks and down were given 12 hours each in the guard house to cool off by the Mayor this morning.

Capt. R. B. Peebles of Northampton county and James L. Morehead, Esq., of Charlotte are at the Yarboro.

Arrangements have been made with the different hotels of the city to accommodate delegates to the Grand Lodge at reduced rates.

With an easy conscience and a pair of old shoes a man can shuffle through this vale of tears with comparative contentedness.

Every lady who goes to the theatre has a perfect right to wear a high hat. The people behind her should have secured the seat in front. If they did not she is not to blame.

A trade journal speaking of the preparations for the holiday gift season says: "Their factory now turns out over 600 doll babies a day." This must be the original "Baby Mine."

"Money does everything for a man," said an old gentleman pompously. "Yes," replied the other one, "but money won't do as much for a man as some men will do for money."

We paid a brief visit to the Industrial Fair and found the officers and managers busy receiving and arranging the articles being sent in for exhibition. The display of articles is very fine, especially fowls. The prospects now are that the fair will be a grand success. Want of time prevents us from going into details.

Thompson's Silver Cernet Band will meet to-night, by order of the captain.

For toys and all kinds of confectioneries, go to Mr. Bragassa. He has a large stock and is selling them cheap.

Trade was good in all departments Saturday.

Mr. Z. T. Bronghton says its a boy and weighs 10 pounds, so we will have two Squire Bronghtons'.

See the special change in the advertisement of the Messrs. Tuckers. They are selling fine alpacas very cheap.

An unruly steer created a good deal of merriment on Wilmington street this morning. He set one fellow down and then tried to stamp him.

Dr. Sexton's horse became frightened at a large hog being driven up Fayetteville street this morning, and getting his feet tangled, fell across the shaft. No damage done.

We saw, this morning, the finest looking glass ever brought to this city at Mr. C. C. Clawson's store. He had sold it to Hon. A. S. Merrimon. By the way, if you want anything in his line, give him a call.

The Messrs. Tuckers know how to make a fellow feel that he is remembered, for the Colonel called us in this morning and presented us with one of his fine hats. They have a large stock of the same kind on hand, in connection with their other large stock of goods. When you want a bargain in goods give them a call.

The North Carolina and Eastern Virginia Christian Conference convened at the Christian Church, near Merry Oaks, Chatham county, last Friday. Yesterday there was a tremendous crowd in attendance. Four sermons were preached during the day, and services were held at night. The hospitality of those people was unbounded, so our informant says. The conference will probably adjourn on Wednesday next.

DIED.—At the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bronghton, in this city, at 9½ o'clock yesterday morning, Lizzie Bronghton, aged 5½ years, of diphtheria. Her funeral was preached at 11 o'clock to day by the Rev. W. R. Gwaltney. Her remains were deposited in Oakwood cemetery.

Revenue receipts $6,587.74.

Sewing machine needles of all descriptions, kept at L. Branson's bookstore.

Those office inkstands at L. Branson's bookstore are certainly elegant and cheap.

Regular meeting of Hiram Lodge, No. 40, to-night. Election of officers and other important business will be transacted.

The National Hotel will be remodeled and improved soon. The contract has been awarded to Messrs. Ellington, Royster & Co.

Mr. S. P. Pettit, of Virginia, has been engaged to take charge of the culinary department of the National Hotel.

2,694 bales were the receipts in this market last week.

DIED.—The many friends and acquaintances of Miss Alice Woolcott were very much shocked Saturday evening to hear of her sudden death. She was too pure for this sin-cursed world, hence she has been called to dwell with the heavenly hosts above. Her spirit has "crossed the river" and is at rest with Jesus. Her funeral was preached at the Church of the Good Shepherd at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was attended by an immense concourse of people. Her remains were deposited in Oak Wood Cemetery. May the Supreme Ruler of the Universe sooth the aching hearts of the stricken parents and only brother. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. C. C. McDonald, F. B. Hill, F. W. Hugel, W. J. Anderson, W. T. Woodward and Ed. Taylor.
