

The Evening Visitor.

RALEIGH, N. C. TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1879.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NO. 23.
EVENING VISITOR
WEEKLY PUBLISHED BY Fair.
Industrial.
News source.
Little rain this morning.
Gov. Jarvis opened the Industrial Fair.

Mr. James Woodward is still confined to his room with sickness.
Mr. John W. Parefoy is confined at his room at Mrs. Montgomery's boarding house, with sickness.
The bridge at Maj. Tucker's mill, on the Fayetteville road, needs repairing. It is dangerous to pedestrians.
Read the advertisement of Mr. F. B. Hill. He has imported washing crystal for whitening cloths. Call and get a sample package.
See notice of the loss of a lady's purse on Fayetteville street. The finder will be rewarded by leaving the same at the store of Messrs. D. S. Waitt & Bro.
Go to Mr. Wm. Woolcott's to buy good cheap goods. He is a clever gentleman to deal with, and keeps a corps of polite clerks all the time.
Fashionable marriage in Greensboro tomorrow. One of Raleigh's most promising young men will take one of the fair daughters of that town to dwell with him in the City of Oaks.
Read the new and attractive advertisement of Messrs. Yeagan, Patsy & Co. They make some very important announcements to which the special attention of our readers is called. Read, and give them a call.
The following young gentlemen left for Greensboro this evening: Messrs. B. B. Lewis, V. B. Mason, Branch Merrimon, C. Lee and W. B. Merrimon. We will tell our readers why they went when they return. Nuff said.
Don't forget the sacred concert at Person St. Church, Thursday night, for the benefit of said church. You will be sure to spend the evening pleasantly. They have arranged an attractive program, and deserve, and should receive the patronage of our people. Go by all means.

$17,500 worth of old bonds surrendered to day for exchange.

P. B. Clark, Esq., of the Henderson Tobaccoist, was in the city this morning.

Sanderson & Peters, Norfolk, Va., had a drummers license issued to them to day.

Late yesterday evening Sheriff R. S. Sanderson, of Hyde county, brought three convicts up to the penitentiary. They were all colored, and their terms range from 1,3 to 10 years.

We saw a negro woman this morning with the blood pouring freely from her head. We asked the cause and she said Henry Haywood, colored, had mistaken her head for a knot of light wood and had tried to split it open.

Dr. F. A. Spafford arrived in Raleigh last evening. He has just graduated from the medical department of Dartmouth college. He took the first prize for general excellence. He has resumed his duties at Shaw University.

Mrs. Sylvester Smith returned to the city last Saturday from a trip to the Weldon fair and a lengthy visit to her relatives in that section. This is her first visit out of the city for several years and her health is greatly improved from its effects.

This season has been a tough one for the gates.

There is an epidemic of colds sweepthrough this section.

Deal gently with the tarring or you'll bones in your throat.

All women consult their mirrors, but very few listen to them.

Cats have no fixed political belief. They're usually on the fence.

No one is ever so color-blind as to mistake a copper for a two-shilling piece.

Ustrettes is the latest name for top coats, which reach the tops of one's shoes.

The dressed rabbits were of the lean kind yesterday and very dubious as to condition.

The time a horse makes depends something on the horse and something on the watch.

Fogs are mists before they are gone. And are not fit to eat unless they have an "B" in them.

The rain has come and laid the dust; but it has not had any effect on the sale of J. M. Rosenbaum's ready-made clothing. He keeps first class goods and the public will be convinced if they will give him a call. Don't forget to call for us, but go for Rosenbaum's.

200 bales.
Revenue receipts $561.80.

Three marriage licenses to day. Mink cloaks are again shown as fashionable garments. This fur is especially liked by elderly ladies.

Nineteen able-bodied critics will stand in the rain three hours to watch a man paint a sign on a window.

The butter and cheese dealers are worked almost to death. They are kept busy night and day marking up prices.

Two colored men had a regular "set to" on Martain street this morning. Of course they will be interviewed by the Mayor.

Some of the newest cloth suits have a wide band of fur around the bottom of the undershirt. A very narrow pleating is all that shows below it.

Go to Christopher and Sorrell and buy that fine flavored Parched Coffee, "Enterprise," the premium coffee at the State Fair. no18-6

M. Rosenbaum, near the capitol, has just received in addition to his well selected stock white and colored bed blankets, white twilled flannel, red twilled flannel, large lot of balmoral skirts, ladies gentlemen and childrens undershirts, ladies satchels and trunks, canton flannel, trimming, lace and neck ruffling cheap as ever. We ask an inspection of our assortment. Respectfully, M. Rosenbaum. 23-6t

Two car loads of white, old corn just arrived at Christophers & Sorrells. Also hay and oats in any quantity no18-6t

Photographs of the different actresses and other celebrities for sale at Stewart's Photograph Gallery. 63-6t

If you want fine, rich, mild Cheese, why go to Christophers & Sorrells, Wilmington street, opposite market. no18

FOR RENT.
Half of the store occupied by the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine office at No. 11 Fayetteville street, can be rented very cheap by applying to the Wheeler & Wilson office in said store. no18-6t

IF YOU WANT
a fine carriage or buggy, don't fail to drop into and see Mr. Alfred Upchurch on Hargett street. He has a large and complete stock of home made work to which he invites the attention of the public. Give him a call, and patronize home manufacturers. no17-6t

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.
Stewart's Gallery is the only place for cheap pictures. Sittings made free before you pay. no18-1

NOTICE FOR THE LADIES.
Arrival of the worsted goods for children and infants at Madame Benson's. 6-1

Mr. Greenman, who keeps a splendid variety of family groceries, has also in store a fine variety of Clawson's Seed Wheat, to which he would call the special attention of the farmers. The best wheat known. Call and get some of it. no14.

CHEAP SHINGLES CHEAPER than ever offered in Raleigh before. All heavy, never rot. For sale by car load or small quantity by Jones, Green & Powell. no18-1

REMOVED.—We have removed our office to the second floor, over Tucker's store, where we will be pleased to have our friends and the public call. H. A. OSWALD & COMPANY, no18-1

INDUSTRIAL FAIR.—The procession moved up Fayetteville street at 11 o'clock, headed by Stanly's Band and the Marshall and his assistants, and the Raleigh Blues, East Edwight Guards, Oberlin Vance Guards, and companies from Wilmington and Newbern. Cal. Mabson of Wilmington was in command of the military. Next came the colored fire department of the city, followed by the Governor, Mayor and invited guest, in carriages. On arrival at the grounds and order being restored the Governor formally opened the first Industrial fair of the kind ever held in the Southern States. His address was said to be a plain practical one, full of good advice to the colored people. It was well received, highly complimented by all who heard it.

The exhibition is very good. There was a large number of colored people on the grounds.

One unfortunate had imbibed too much and the Mayor gave him lodgings in the guard house in order that he might cool off.

W. B. Mann & Co., is the place to buy nice butter, eggs, lumps, N. C. bacon, fine flour, and anything else from a thimble up to a barrel of vinegar. 18-6t

THE MAMMOTH MOTHER.
THE CHILDREN NOT KILLED WITH A KNIFE, BUT THE DREAD DONE WITH A HATCHET.

We have a letter from Chester, S. C., under date of yesterday, furnishing particulars of the tragedy of last Saturday night in Lancaster county, S. C., in addition to those which the Observer has already published. Our correspondent has his news from a citizen of Lancaster who alleges that the children were not killed with a knife, as at first reported; nor was the mother content with the mere cutting of the jugular veins of the children. A hatchet was found in the track and with this hatchet it is reasonably believed the deed was committed. The cuts on the throats were in most instances directly across the throat and nearly through. The infant had a terrible bruise on its right shoulder, made it is supposed by a miss lick of the hatchet, when the child must have swayed, and having moved its head another blow was struck on the jaw bone, and another just below the ear, and still another directly across the throat.

It is now thought the children were killed on a pallet in front of the fire, and this theory is supported by the fact that pools of blood were found under that part of house and between the planks of the floor immediately in front of the hearth. It is believed that the mother washed the blood from the floor with a quilt, parts of which were found in the ashes on the hearth. The children had undoubtedly, it is now said, been arranged in bed after the killing by Mrs. Adams.

An additional incident is that a bottle of strychnine was found in the house on Sunday, and on a table was discovered a cup which contained water which was bitter to the taste. It is thought the woman had taken a dose of this, which failed to produce death when she set fire to her clothes. She had evidently not retired, for her bed had not been disturbed. After meeting Mr. Crenshaw, and after he had taken her to his own yard, Mrs. Adams repeatedly laid her head on a bench in the yard and begged him to cut it off. She is spoken of in the community as a woman of excellent character, industrious and energetic. An evidence of her industry is the fact that herself, husband and children were always well and neatly clad with clothing made by her own hands. She is said to have done most of the work in the field.

The jury of inquest rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts as already published.—Norfolk Landmark.

A CLOSE SHAVE PROVIDENTIAL DELIVERANCE.—On the back trip I gave a glance at Reedy Creek, where, some months ago, and engine and mail and baggage cars plunged down a precipice of ninety odd feet. The conductor who made the trip gave me the particulars. He was in the baggage car and knocked senseless by a falling trunk as the wheels left the track, and was found at the bottom of the gorge in the wreck. The wonder is that a bone was left unbroken. He is able to go on duty, but not a limb was fractured. The passenger coaches, loaded with travellers, stopped in thirteen inches of the broken span of the bridge the conductor left a sleeping car at a depot. Only a few persons were in this coach, but they made objections to going into another, and allowing the empty car to be left. The conductor persisted, and it was switched off at the depot. That car had no air brakes, and its momentum would have pushed the whole train beyond the thirteen inches and the coaches, filled with men, women and children, must have dropped into the abyss.

There is but a word—a step between life and death. J. J. L. Richmond Christian Advocate.