PECK BID BOY.

- Eliza M. Sherman.

HIS PA AN ORANGEMAN.

"Say, will you do me a favor," asked the bad boy of the grocery man, as he sat down on the box and put his wet boots on the stove.

"Well, y e-s," said the grocery-boy handed over the letter and peaches out of a box.

"Tifere, that's a small job," stamp on the letter with his thumb and handed it back. "But how are you going to fool her?"

"That's just 'business," said the boy, as he held the letter to his nose and smelled of the stamp. "That will make her tired. You see, ev ery time she gets a letter from me she kisses the stamp, because she thinks flicked it. When she kisses this stamp and gets the fumes of plug tollacco, and stale beer, limberger cheese, and mouldy potatoes, will knock her down, and then she will ask me what ailed the stamp, and I will tell her I got you to lick it, and then it will make her sick. and her parents will stop trading O, it will paralyze her. Do vou know you smell like a glue factory. Gosh, I can smell you all over the store. Don't you smell anything that smells spoiled?"

The grocery man thought he did smell something that was rancid, and he looked around the stove and finally kicked the boy's boot off the stove and said, "It's your boots burning. Gacious, open the door. It smells like a hot box on a caboose Wiew! And there comes two of my best lad; customers." The ladies came in and held their handkerchiefs to their noses, and as they were triding the boy said as though continuing the conversation.

"Yes, palsays that last oleomargarine I got here is nothing but axlegrease in a different kind of a package. The only way you tell axlegrease from oleomargarine is in spreading it on pancakes. Pa says axle-grease will spread, but your al leged butter just rolls right up and acts like lip salve, or ointmen., and is only fit to use on a sore---"

At this point the ladies went out of the store in disgust, without buying anything, and the groceryman took a dried codfish by the tail and went up to the boy and took him by the neck. "Golblast you. I have a notion to kill fou. You have driven away more custom from this store than your neck is worth. Now you git," and he struck the boy across the back with a codfish. h'That's just the way with you all,' says the boy, as he put his sieeve up to his eyes and pretended to cry, "when a fellow is up in the world, there is nothing too good for him, but when he gets down, you maul him with a codfish. Since pa drove me out of the house, and told me to go shirk for my living, haven't had a kind word from anybody. My chum's dog won't even follow me, and when a fellow gets so low down that a dog goes back on him there is nothing left for him to do but loaf around a grocery, or sit on a jury, and I am too young to sit on a jury, though I know more than some of the beats that lay around the courts to get on a jury. I am going to drown myself, and my death will be laid to you. They will find evidence of codfish on my clothes, and you will be atrested for driving me to a suicide's grave.

"It was about speaking a piece When I asked him what I should speak, he told me to learn some speech of some great man, someawyer or statesman, so I learned one of Bob Ingersoll's speeches. and the school committee, when started in on Bcb Ingersoll's lecture, the one that was in the papers when folks takes in their families, could publish Ingarsoll's speech, wouldn't do any hurt for a poor little boy, who ain't knee high to a giraffe, to speak it in school, but they made me dry up. The teacher is a republian, and when Ingersoll was speaking around here on politix the time of the election, the teacher said Bob was the smartest man this country ever produced. I heard him say that in caucus, when he went bumming around the ward settin' up nights, specting to be superintendent of schools.
