North-Carolina BIBLE SOCIETY.

September 30, 1829.

RESOLVED, That the friends of the Bible cause throughout the State, especially in the South, be invited to meet in General Convention, on Wednesday, the 16th day of December next, in the city of Raleigh, for the purpose of devising efficient measures for furnishing with a given time, the whole State with an adequate supply of Bibles. The Managers were led to the adoption of the foregoing Resolution, at the request of a neighboring Bible Society, and also, in consequence of a communication received from the American Bible Society, on the same subject. By order of the Board,
J. GALES, Sec'y.

For Sale,

ONE of the most valuable plantations in the upper country. It lies in the county of Cabarrus, in the fork of Rocky river and Coddle Creek, contains about five hundred and seventy acres of land. The quality of the land is first rate, the soil deep, the surface level. There is upon two hundred acres cleared, mostly fresh; a new, convenient and elegant dwelling-house, which cost nearly four thousand dollars, and other buildings suitable to it. The payments for this property can be made easy. Applications as to terms of sale, can be made to R. H. Alexander, in my absence.

VALUABLE MEDICINES.

AUSTIN & BURNS,

HAVE just received, from New-York and Philadelphia, and now offer for sale, (as agents) the following Valuable Medicines:

Rogers' Vegetable Pulmonic Detergent.

PERSONS afflicted with Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary Affections in their various stages, are reminded that a more safe and effectual remedy cannot be found than Rogers' Pulmonic Detergent. It has now been tested by 15 years experience, and hundreds can be appealed to in various parts of the country, who will bear testimony to the speedy and permanent relief afforded them by the use of it.

Also, Rogers' Vegetable Renovating Pulmonary Syrup, prepared from the same material as the Detergent, with such additions as a long course of experience and observation of Pulmonary Affections have proved to be better adapted to more protracted and confirmed cases of Consumption.

The following certificates are from gentlemen of respectability:

"At the request of Dr. Rogers, I cheerfully state that a female domestic living in my family and laboring under the effects of a most severe cold, was speedily relieved by the use of a medicine prepared by him, and known under the name of Vegetable Pulmonic Detergent, and that I have myself used it to much advantage, when suffering under a violent affection of the Lungs, and recommend it as an effectual medicine in such cases."
WILLIAM HONEY, 47 Charlton st.

Few men in the community have a greater contempt for nostrums in general than myself. Patent medicine and catch-penny with me have been synonymous. I am constrained, however, to relinquish these sentiments as respects Dr. Rogers' Vegetable Detergent, the effects of which I have recently witnessed. A young lady in my family, by using two papers, I have reason to believe, is effectually cured of an alarming pulmonary complaint, which, in all its symptoms, gave evidence of immediate consumption. I communicate this with a view of usefulness, and sincerely hope, that such persons as have complaints similar to the above, will make a trial of the medicine.
GIDEON LEE.

For the Salt Rheum.

DR. ROGERS' LINIMENTUM, for the Salt Rheum, one of the most effectual remedies extant.

The following are some of the many respectable certificates.

NEW-YORK, JULY, 1828.
Dear Sir:—I had almost despaired of ever being relieved from that afflicting and troublesome complaint, the Salt Rheum, after applying perhaps twenty different prescriptions, until I used with effect your Liniment, which has destroyed every vestige of the complaint which for several years (at seasons) rendered my hands nearly useless. Since which time, I have with much pleasure recommended its application to a great number, and in five cases out of six, have had the satisfaction of witnessing a complete cure; and in every instance, a great mitigation of its virulence.
GEO. W. ARNOLD.

DR. GEO. ROGERS, No. 313 Broadway, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—Having been severely afflicted for a number of years with the Salt Rheum on my hands, arms, &c. and resorted to every remedy within my knowledge without effecting a cure, or in fact giving me any relief, until I fortunately obtained some of your Liniment for the Salt Rheum, which after a few applications has entirely cured me. I have witnessed the same effect on several of my friends, to whom I gave some of the Liniment. It has performed a cure, I believe, in every instance where it has been applied.
WM. D. H. BALDWIN.

DR. GEO. ROGERS.

Odontalgic Elixir, or Tooth ache Specific. Many empirical remedies for the "Odontalgia" have been previously presented to the public, some of which are very good; but all have been found to fail in more than half the instances in which they have been tried. The "Elixir" now offered may be relied upon as altogether superior to any remedy before invented; it will cure the most obstinate cases of that dreadful pain, with expedition and safety.

Also, SWIMPS PANACEA, for the cure of Scrofula, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Rheumatism, White Swellings, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, general debility, &c.

Also, POTTER'S Vegetable Catholicon, used for the cure of similar diseases.

Also, Anderson's Cough Drops and Pectoral Pills, for Asthma and Consumptions.

Also, Thompson's celebrated Eye Water, for sore or weak Eyes.
Salisbury, June 20, 1829 239.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS on the 25th day of July, 1829, I purchased of Gustavus Boswell two negroes, for which property I gave, on the date above said, two notes, with James B. Gray and Henderson Forsyth the securities to each—one for two hundred dollars, due 1st of October, 1829, and the other for two hundred and seventy-eight dollars and twelve and a half cents, due 1st day of March, 1830; it being doubtful whether the said Gustavus Boswell's title for said negroes to me is a good one, and said Boswell not being in circumstances which will enable him in case thereof to indemnify me, should said property be recovered of me:—This is therefore to forewarn all persons from trading for said notes, as I do not intend paying them until indemnified from all other claimants to the property above said. R. S. GRACY.

Desultory Selections.

SUNDAY IN PERU.

A letter from Callao, February 23, 1829, published in the Baltimore Gazette, gives the following account of the manner in which the Christians of that region observe the Sabbath.

"Here as in Old Spain, they are passionately fond of bull-fighting, than which nothing can be more sportless and bloody. The evenings of Sabbath days are usually set apart for this celebration—there is a strange inconsistency in the Spanish character both in the old and new world, in which they associate the extremes of piety and vice. On Sabbath mornings you see them at Mass conning their Rosaries, and prostrating themselves before the elevation of the Host, with the most reverential genuflections—after the sun has crossed the meridian, you will find the same individuals in the bull-ring, or cockery, in moods as unreligious as though God was not in all their thoughts. The amphitheatre in which those amusements are celebrated, is a government house, which yields a handsome revenue, and is capacious enough to contain ten thousand spectators. The Viceroy's thought it no degradation to preside in regalia on those occasions, and I am sorry to say, the Presidents have followed the example of their predecessors."

TRUE POLITENESS.

Politeness is a just medium between formality and rudeness; it is in fact good nature regulated by quick discernment, which proportions itself to every situation and every character; it is a restraint laid by reason and benevolence on every irregularity of temper, of appetite and passion. It accommodates itself to the fantastic laws of custom and fashion as long as they are not inconsistent with the higher obligations of virtue and religion.

To give efficacy and grace to politeness, it must be accompanied with some degree of taste as well as delicacy; and although its foundation must be rooted in the heart, it is not perfect without a knowledge of the world.

In society, it is the happy medium which blends the most discordant natures, it imposes silence on the loquacious, and inclines the most reserved to furnish their share of conversation; it represses the despicable but common ambition of being the most prominent character in the scene; it increases the general desire of being mutually agreeable; takes off the offensive edge of raillery, and gives delicacy to wit; it preserves subordination, and reconciles ease with propriety; like other valuable qualities, its value is best estimated when it is absent.

No supremacy can awe it into servility, no intimacy can sink it into a coarse familiarity; to superiors it is respectful freedom; to equals, every thing that is charming; studying, anticipating and attending to all things, yet at the same time apparently disengaged and careless.

Such is true politeness; but by people of wrong heads and unworthy hearts disgraced in its two extremes; and by the generality of mankind confined within the narrow bounds of mere good breeding, which is only one branch of it.

There never was a wiser maxim than that of Franklin. "Nothing is cheap which we do not want." Yet how perfectly insane many people are on the subject of buying cheap things. "Do tell me why you have bought that cast of door plate?" asked the husband of one of those notable bargainers; "Dear me," replied his wife, "you know it is always my plan to lay up things against time of need; who knows but you may die, and I marry a marry a man with the same name as that on the door plate."

Marriage.—Look at the great mass of marriages which takes place over the world; what poor, contemptible common place affairs they are! A few soft looks, a walk, a dance, a squeeze of the hand, a popping of the question, a purchasing of a certain number of yards of white satin, a ring, a clergyman, a stage or two in a hired carriage, a night in a country inn, and the whole matter is over. For five or six weeks two sleepish looking persons are seen dangling about on each other's arm, looking at waterfalls, or making morning calls, and guzzling wine and cakes; then every thing falls into the most monotonous routine—the wife sits on one side of the hearth, the husband on the other, little quarrels, little pleasures, little cares, and little children gradually gather around them. This is what ninety nine out of a hundred find to be the delights of love and matrimony.

Edinburgh Lit. Jour.

Tomb of Franklin.....On the 12th of December, we made a pilgrimage to the tomb of Franklin—dear old Franklin! It consisted of a large marble slab, laid flat on the ground, with nothing carved upon it but these words:

BENJAMIN }
AND } FRANKLIN.
DEBORAH }

1790

Franklin, it will be recollected, wrote a humorous epitaph for himself; but his good taste and good sense showed him how unsuitable to his living character it would have been to jest in such a place. After all, his literary works, scientific fame, and his undoubted patriotism, form his best epitaph. Still it may be thought he might have been distinguished in his own land by a more honorable resting place than the obscure corner of an obscure burying ground, where his bones lie indiscriminately along with those of ordinary mortals, and his tomb already well nigh hid in the rubbish, may soon be altogether lost. One little circumstance, however, about this spot, is very striking.—No regular path has been made to the grave, which lies considerably out of the road; but the frequent tread of visitors having pressed down the rank grass which grows in such places, the way to the tombstone is readily found without a guide.

Hall's Travels in America.

To refine Cider and give it a fine amber color.—Take the whites of six eggs, with a handful of fine beach sand, washed clean, stir them well together; then boil a quart of molasses down to a candy, and cool it by pouring into it cider, and then put it together with the eggs and sand into a barrel of cider, and mix the whole well together. When thus managed it will keep for many years. Molasses alone will also refine cider, and give it a higher color, but to prevent the molasses from causing the cider to prick, let an equal quantity of brandy be put in with it. Skimmed milk, with some lime slackened in it, and mixed with it, or with the white of eggs with the shells broken in, is also good for clarifying cider, and all other liquors, when well mixed with them; a piece of fresh bloody beef, cut into small pieces, and put into the cask, will also refine the liquor, and serve for it to feed on.

N. F. Farmer.

Chinese Cunning.....A mandarin inspector, from whom a mandarin of higher class, his mortal enemy, had caused his seals to be stolen, was apprehensive that this loss might involve the loss of his place, and perhaps his life. What did he do to effect a restitution of this precious object? He set fire to his own dwelling in the night, and then in the presence of the by-standers, saved a little casket in which his seals were generally deposited, and carried it to his enemy, entreating that he would take especial care of his charge. The mandarin, in his turn apprehensive of being accused with having stolen the seals, was forced to place them in the box; and thus, in spite of himself, restored tranquility to the person whom he wished to ruin.

Manners of China.

At an examination of the senior class in a College, a young man construed the following line in Horace, "Exegi monumentum aere perennius," (which is in English, "I have finished a monument more lasting than brass") thus: "I have eaten a mountain harder than brass."—One of the Trustees immediately replied, "Well, sir, I think you had better sit down, and digest it."

A bright face, or great professions, do not always implicate a clean heart, or sincerity of soul.
