

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

As there are certain definite laws in relation to the rights of publishers of newspapers, which do not seem to be understood, we will endeavor to make a plain synopsis of them and solicit attention thereto.

1. A Postmaster is required to give notice by letter, (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and neglect to do so makes the Postmaster responsible to the publisher for the payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the Post-office whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or is not responsible for the paper.

3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether he be taken from the office or not.

4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the Post-office. The law proceeds on the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

7. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

8. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

9. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

10. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

11. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

12. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

13. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

14. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

15. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

16. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

17. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

18. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

19. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

20. The courts have also decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

A correspondent of the Cheroke Democrat strongly urges the abandonment of the road from Cheroke to Salisbury and the building of a road from Cheroke to Greensboro, a charter for which is now pending in the Legislature.

DEATH OF COL. THOS. P. DEVEREAUX.—We regret to learn that this distinguished citizen and eminent lawyer died at his residence, in Halifax County, on Sunday last, the 7th inst.

The Eclectic for March is upon our table with a most interesting, varied and inviting table of contents. It is embellished with a splendid steel engraving of Rossini, the great Italian composer.

Address: E. R. Felton, Publisher 108 Fulton street New York.

Onward.—We have received the third number of Capt. Mayne Reed's Magazine bearing the above title. In point of typography it cannot be easily surpassed, while it is edited in the well known author's best style and is one of the most readable Magazines published.

The Westminster Review.—This very able and, in spite of its radical tendencies, both in politics and religion, interesting publication for January is at hand. It contains seven articles, all of them interesting, and some of them of peculiar interest.

Outrages in Moore.—The editor of the Fayetteville Eagle, who attended the Superior Court of Moore County, week before last give a horrible account of murders and outrages which have recently been committed in that county.

The Legislature.—The complaints against this body are becoming loud and universal. It has been in session ever since the first day of January, and has accomplished literally nothing of any importance whatever.

A New York bride recently had a New York girl given her as a wedding gift.

Mrs. Lincoln is said to be engaged in writing memoirs of her times.

Dr. T. C. Murphy, Conservative, has elected to the Senate from Cumberland, Harnett and Sampson counties. vice Mr. Oates, banned by the 14th amendment.

Attempted Suicide.—We learn that Mr. F. Allen Stuart, in this county, made two attempts last week to hang himself, but fortunately his son discovered him in time to prevent death.

Mill Burned.—We learn that the mill house of W. D. Farmer, near Joyner's Depot, in this county, was destroyed by fire a few nights since.

Arrested.—Messrs. Henry Messer and Anton McCracken, two worthy citizens of Haywood county, were arrested by the Revenue authorities, a day or two ago, and brought hither, on suspicion of aiding the Revenue laws.—Asheville News.

Depredations upon the smoke-houses of our citizens are becoming annoyingly frequent.—Asheville News.

Murder in Lincoln County.—We learn from a friend at Lincoln that two white men men, Wash. Hull and James Proctor, got into a quarrel at Hull's Mills on Wednesday the 24th ult., when Hull killed Proctor by beating him to death with a stick.

A girl up in Greene county, Iowa, having been jilted by a naughty fellow didn't act the fool and take poison, but took a stick of wood and pelted him over the head.

The president burgmaster of the free city of Hamburg was in his youth a dry goods clerk in a Philadelphia store.

A girl up in Greene county, Iowa, having been jilted by a naughty fellow didn't act the fool and take poison, but took a stick of wood and pelted him over the head.

There are two periods in the life of man at which he is too wise to tell woman the exact truth: when he is in love—and when isn't.

Printers accounts are said to be like faith.—The substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen."

The case of Charles Reade, author of "Griffith Gamt," against the editors of the Round Table for libel, was concluded in New York on Thursday, and a verdict of six cents damages rendered for the plaintiff.

The northern Democrats have again commenced the work of electing supervisors and town officers, and bragging thereof.

The Pioneer paper-mill of Elisha Carpenter, at West Milton, New York, Saratoga county, was burned yesterday—the work of an incendiary. Loss $55,000.

A movement is on foot in New York to unite the various French benevolent societies throughout the United States and Canada.

It is stated in a Canada paper that early in the ensuing summer Prince Arthur, of England, is to pay a visit of some months' duration to the West Dominion.

The Augusta Ga. Press of Saturday last regrets to learn that the recent cold snap operated very unfavorably on Hon. A. H. Stephens' recent injury. He is again entirely disabled.

A critic calls the verse and sentimental stories of young writers the tooth-cutting and measles of literary infancy.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that Hebrews or others whose religious belief protects them from doing general business are not thereby allowed to sell liquor on that day.

General Forrest has succeeded from the Memphis courier, lest his example might corrupt somebody.

It has become customary with many New York grocers to sell bread by weight at five cents a pound.

New York Board of Health has ordered the universal vaccination of all unvaccinated persons.

When hearts are filled with holy affections, and home is happy, then do the young dwell in a charmed circle, which only the naturally depraved seek to quit, and across which boundary temptations to error shine out but feebly.

Love.—At the age of three, we love our mother; at the age of six, our father; at ten, holidays; at sixteen, dress; at twenty, our sweethearts; at twenty-five, our wives; at forty, our children; at sixty, ourselves.

A bachelor being asked why he didn't marry, answered, "because the woman were claiming the right to go to the polls, and they may soon claim to go courting, and that he was only waiting for a good offer."

The value of time varies with individuals, and in the same hour-glass which marks the flight of time to every eye it is less than gold to the idler, but more than gold to the studious man.

Wives.—Women should be acquainted with beauty half my charms but the interest of the mind, and that a gracefulness in the manners is much more engaging than any of their persons; that modesty and reserve are the true and lasting ornaments for one that has these is qualified as to be thought to be for the management of a family, for the education of children, for an affection to her husband, and submitting to a prudent way of living.

Somebody says that cultivating our soil one inch deeper would add $150,000,000 a year to the wealth of the country.
