

Bethlehem Chosen For 1937 Meeting; Officers Elected

Resolutions Call For Sending Missionary; Suttle Named Moderator

Three resolutions which call for the support of a missionary on the foreign fields, added financial support of Bowling Springs college and a decision to emphasize church stewardship marked the harmonious close of the 86th session of the Kings Mountain Baptist association.

Rev. J. W. Suttle, veteran rural church pastor, was re-elected moderator to begin his 24th year as leader with Rev. W. A. Eiam of Dover as vice-moderator and Rev. J. V. Devenny as associational clerk. All other standing officers were re-elected unanimously.

Oct. 21-22 The meeting which was held with Pleasant Grove this year will go in 1937 to the Bethlehem Baptist church next October 21 and 22.

Rev. C. V. Martin, pastor of the South Shelby Baptist church was named to preach the introductory sermon and Rev. R. P. Hamby of Eastside will preach the doctrinal sermon. A committee on committees will be named soon by the moderator, which in turn will name the committees and speakers on next year's program.

Dr. George Burnett, B. T. Falls and G. V. Hawkins were named to represent the Kings Mountain body at the State Convention which meets in Durham on November 10-12.

In the support of the missionary on a foreign field the association will appropriate some $800 or more. Dr. Zeno Wall said he felt that the First Baptist church might also add another to the list.

Southern Baptists sent 15 mission workers abroad last week.

Beam Heirs Ask $50,000 In Damage

A suit for $50,000 against the First National bank has been filed with the clerk of superior court here. The suit was filed by Peyton McSwain local attorney and was brought by A. A. Powell, trustee for Enos L. and Zeb E. Beam.

The suit alleges that the First National bank obtained from Enos L. and Zeb E. Beam possession of the Carolina theatre through an alleged indebtedness of $27,500 and for a cash price of only $3,000.

The suit also alleges that the bank had an agreement to sell the theatre to W. H. Webb of $37,000 prior to a foreclosure sale of the property and thus profited by $10,000.

The long complaint involves a series of transactions between the bank and the Beams, in which it is set forth that Enos L. Beam executed a deed of trust to the bank on November 2, 1929, with the Carolina theatre as security, for $14,685, and another such deed in trust on March 31, 1931, for an alleged indebtedness of $28,687.

Then, says the complaint, after the bank had accepted the theatre in full payment, the bank foreclosed all the notes, and itself bought in the theatre for $27,500.

The Beams allege further that bank collected rents amounting to $25,000, which sum, they say, should have been credited to the indebtedness of $28,687. In addition, they claim that the bank received from Minnie L. Beam a lot on Trade street worth $5,500.

Will She Marry? Is Now Question

probably nobody on earth knows except King Edward and Mrs. Simpson.

"Will she marry him? Or won't she?"

In any event, the first step in Mrs. Simpson's attempt to cast off the shackles of her second matrimonial venture was expected to be reached late this afternoon—as soon as the stern-visaged Mr. Justice Hawke could dispose of the four cases docketed ahead of the half dozen divorce actions on the calendar.

The "affaire Simpson" came first on the list, with the pretty and "ageless" Mrs. Simpson—as her friends have described her, recalling her debut to Baltimore society some 20 odd years ago—expected to tell her story of alleged misconduct on the part of her husband to a sharply-restricted court room audience.

WAGNER ACT TO BE HANDLED BY SUPREME COURT

Await Statement As To Passing On Labor Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(P)—An announcement as to whether the Wagner Labor Relations Act would be added to the New Deal litigation to be passed on during the next few months was awaited today from the Supreme Court.

Cases involving the act were filed by the Associated Press and by the Washington, Virginia and Maryland Coach company. Both appealed from lower court decisions sustaining the legislation. The government urged the court to grant a review.

Also awaiting action was a petition by Illinois communists seeking speedy action on their application to compel officials of that state to place the names of the Communist candidates for president and vice-president on the ballot for the November 3 election.

The Wagner Labor Relations Act sets up a national labor relations board to enforce a guarantee of collective bargaining and to prevent certain activities of employers which are described in the act as unfair.

Five other cases involving the act have been appealed to high tribunal by the labor relations board which lost in lower courts.

The litigation was against three companies, Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh, Fruhauf Trailer Company of Canton, Ohio, and Friedman-Harry Marks Clothing Company, Inc., of New York. There were two cases against each of the two latter concerns. Whether this litigation will be reviewed probably will be announced on November 9.

Speaking of GOP candidate Landon, Mr. Hoey illustrated with the story of the preacher who wanted a license but who was refused for two reasons: first, he ain't got no delivery, and second he ain't got nothing to deliver.

The Republican campaign badge, the Kansas sunflower was described as "a flower which faces both east and west and when the wind blows, either north or south. It is black at heart, yellow all around, and invariably dies in November."

He closed by defending Roosevelt's experimentation in government, declaring that all progress comes by experimentation.

O. M. Mull, former state Democratic chairman, presided at the dinner in the evening, attended by more than 350 party leaders, state and county nominees.

At this meeting Hamilton C. Jones of Mecklenburg county declared that "there are a number of quitters we can do without—and especially can we do without Al Smith during his 'walk.'"

Eure's Speech Thad Eure, mirthful nominee for the office of Secretary of State, entertained the audience with humor for awhile, then invited his listeners "to come down to the capital and eat goobers with a lucky fellow from the peanut fields."

Charles M. Johnson, state treasurer, delivered the main address of the occasion, and after praising the leadership of former Governor Gardner during the trying days of the depression, reviewed the financial condition of the state and gave a tentative outline for future work.

"The Democratic party has nothing to be ashamed of. We have a balance budget (as balanced as that of Kansas). We have kept the schools open; we have paid our teachers. Financially, even the Republicans are satisfied in this state.

Mrs. Max Gardner and Mrs. Clyde Hoey were presented as "two reasons why Shelby furnishes governors."

Former Governor Gardner was recognized and spoke briefly to the body.

Friday and New York City Saturday. With a doctor aboard his special train to care for his sore throat, Governor Landon came out of the wet on his final tour. He planned to deliver a major address in Philadelphia tonight.

A flood of charges and counter-charges from other campaigners continued through the week-end. Quoting document which he said proved his previous charges concerning Kansas education, James Roosevelt said at Boston that the Landon state administration "has allowed a system to exist which appears to deny the opportunity for real education to x x x many children."

Last week Landon charged, without naming the President's son, that a member of the chief executive's "immediate family" has made "utterly untrue" and "malicious" charges against the Kansas school system.

Col. Frank Knox, Landon's "first mate," turned westward from Pennsylvania today to concentrate this week on Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois.

Can't Appeal LONDON, Oct. 26.—(P)—George Andrew McMahon today was denied permission to appeal his conviction of producing a revolver "with intent to alarm his majesty" at King Edward's Constitution Hill parade last July.

Killed By Truck LUMBERTON, Oct. 26.—(P)—A man killed by a truck on a highway near here Saturday night was identified today as J. B. Love, 50, of Laurel Hill. Merlin McCall, driver of the truck, was not held.

Other appointments of interest to Cleveland people were E. E. Snow to Haywood Street, Asheville; J. W. Fitzgerald to Carrasay Memorial, Greensboro; W. O. Goode to Leakville; A. G. Waggoner to Spray; and E. J. Harbison to Mocksville.

Democrats Have Enthusiastic Rally

Mr. Hoey was applauded again and again by the large audience as he launched into a characteristic burst of oratory. He praised the record of the Democratic party, both in the nation and state, especially in the state for the past 36 years, and lauded the governors who have served since the late Charles B. Aycock began the parade.

Campaign Of Fear The Republican party was characterized as "a pocketbook party which has always and is now seeking to conduct a campaign of fear!" He said the ideals of the Democratic party have held it together and made it great. "It has been a party of ideals; it has become great because it aids humanity and adapts itself to changing needs."

A prediction that the state will give a 200,000 majority to the Democratic ticket was made by the speaker who also prophesied that "Franklin Roosevelt, the greatest leader in the nation today, will knock the Republican hopes into a cocked hat, and the government will continue to be in the hands of the people and not controlled by a chosen few."

He kept his audience laughing with an inexhaustible source of anecdotes of his experiences. The speech was adjudged a triumph as the last "home-town" address he will make before election.

Party Record Mr. Hoey spoke briefly for himself, but presented a picture of what the Democratic party has done in North Carolina in progressiveness. He covered the fields of agriculture, roads, industry, education and social service, and declared that the state (as well as Kansas) has balanced its budget.

Speaking of GOP candidate Landon, Mr. Hoey illustrated with the story of the preacher who wanted a license but who was refused for two reasons: first, he ain't got no delivery, and second he ain't got nothing to deliver.

Today's Markets

By VICTOR EUBANK

STOCKS EASY

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(P)—Quiet but persistent selling lessened prices fractions to 2 or more points in today's stock market.

Offerings of leading steels, motors, oils and rails were large at the opening, but the trading volume dwindled thereafter and near the fourth hour the ticket taper moved slowly.

Brokerage quarters found little discouraging in business and industrial news and most were inclined to attribute reactionary tendencies partly to the desire of some traders to stand aside pending the election. Others through the continued unsettlement of European affairs might have been a retarding influence.

Secondary bonds emulated shares, but dealings in this department were comparatively small. Commodities were mixed. Foreign currencies were narrow in terms of the dollar.

COTTON STRONGER After selling off to net losses of 8 to 12 points, declined to 11.60, the market encountered renewed trade buying and prices at mid-day were up a point or two from the lows.

WHEAT SOFT CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—(P)—Despite firmness of Liverpool quotations, the Chicago Wheat Market showed an early downward trend today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Dow Jones issued the following market summary today:

London stocks firm, trans-Atlantic quiet, Paris course irregular, international issues heavy.

Tiny tanks racing across country with almost incredible speed, their machine guns spitting fire, ripped through the loyalist lines south of Madrid today.

Foreign copper production increased to 95% of capacity from 85% effective Nov. 1.

Cleveland Is Best Says N. C. Treasurer Troy McKinney, county auditor said today that the statement that "Cleveland county has the best government and is in the best condition of any county in the state," made by State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson here Saturday, is really true and that Mr. Johnson has put it into writing before.

It appears with bond statements, and the companies always quote the treasurer in selling Cleveland bonds.

SENSATIONAL VALUES IN EVERY DEPARTMENT!

Again—we want to thank our many friends for the splendid support and interest shown Saturday. We enjoyed one of the biggest days we have ever experienced in Shelby and it was made possible only by your (the Public's) support and acceptance of our efforts.

We are convinced that you have appreciated our contribution toward making Shelby a better place in which to shop—and we are most happy in our work of doing this.

We are most anxious for you to feel that our store is YOUR store and only for you and through your acceptance of us, do we exist.

We regret deeply any inconvenience, caused our customers by our failure to serve you more quickly and efficiently. The delays caused by electric power trouble, we are sure you realize was something beyond our control.

Our desire is to be outstanding enough that you will be proud to tell your friends and visitors of our store. That it might be known far and near. May we not expect and receive your continued support.

DALE R. YATES, Manager.
