

CONFERENCE TEAMS GET INTO ACTION IN EIGHT SKIRMISHES

Civil War Develops Fast On Wide Front

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Southern conference civil war, carried along previously this season by scattered skirmishes, will develop into a widespread conflict this week-end with all but four of the 16 football teams involved. Duke's Blue Devils, no longer on the apogee with an undefeated record to defend, will renew the campaign for retention of their crown against Washington and Lee, 1934 champions at Richmond. North Carolina, beaten by South-eastern's Tulane 21-7 after taking four in a row, had a tough battle with N. C. State's improved Wolves in prospect. Hunk Anderson's pack rounded last week-end nicely with a 13-0 decision over Virginia Tech. Davidson will journey to Furman, South Carolina and The Citadel are to play at Orangeburg Friday. Virginia renews its rivalry with V. M. I. at Lexington, and Richmond engages V. I. at Blacksburg to round out the busy intra-conference card. Other games will find Wake Forest entertaining Presbyterian and Hampden Sydney playing at William and Mary.

TENNESSEE BLASTS DUKE FROM UNBEATEN RANKS

One of the most startling upsets on the football men, of October 24 was Tennessee's 15 to 13 triumph over mighty Duke on the Volunteers' home field at Knoxville. That unexpected outcome toppled the Blue Devils from the narrowing ranks of unbeaten teams. Phil Dickens (arrow), Tennessee back, running and blocking star of the game, is seen crashing through the line for a first-quarter gain of five yards. (Associated Press Photo)

TULANE GREEN WAVE DROWNS NORTH CAROLINA

A deadly passing attack protected by an unyielding line gave Tulane a 21 to 7 victory over North Carolina at New Orleans. Helped along by excellent interference led by Bryan, Noel Loftin (arrow), Tulane fullback, is shown gaining 12 yards off tackle. (Associated Press Photo)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Commended for All-American honors: Andy Parks of Detroit U.... Any team with a better running back than this boy can trot him out.... Wallace Wade of Duke; Elmer Layden, Notre Dame; Charlie Bachman, Michigan State; Slip Madison, St. Mary's and Dr. Lou Little, Columbia, are the latest celebs to check in at the football walling wall.... Yep, all have headaches.... My Hanson of Syracuse has reserved a pew each week since Baldwin Wallace poured it to him.... The boys who are signed up for next year are not taking it quite so hard as the others.

The tables say promoters Mike Jacobs and Jimmy Johnston almost squared off the other night in the row over the Joe Louis-Bob Pastor fight.... John Hay Whitney coughed up $25,000 for Miss Merriment, which lost to Myrtlewood at Lexington Saturday.... Barney Ross is due to take in the Garcia-Jannazani fight this week.... If Lou Gehrig doesn't measure up to the Tarzan role, the Movie Mags might take a look at Abe Simon, the heavyweight.... The tennis powers would like to know what Helen Wills Moody intends to do.... Call-grams scribbles here with St. Mary's, say Washington will be the western representative in the Rose Bowl.

Joe Louis will box an exhibition in New Orleans next month.... More overworked word on the sports pages today is razzle dazzle. The Brooklyn Dodgers have the largest payroll in the national football league.... When Minnesota loses, please wake us up.... Credit for one of the best football coaching jobs of the season should go to Doc Newton of Davidson College. The White Sox may trade pitcher John Whitehead to the Athletics for third baseman Higgins. Scribes covering the Michigan games at Ann Arbor get hot soup between halves.... Um, um.... Joe DiMaggio is giving roller skating exhibitions in a rink owned by Lefty O'Doul, Joe's old boss on the San Francisco team.... Re Purdue's claim that it has the largest wingman in college football in Bill Vergane, 210-pound, six foot, five inches, Virginia fans call attention to Bib Spessard of Washington and Lee, who stands seven feet, 1-2 inch and tips the beam at 220.

Catch Hot Rivets And A Pass Is Easy

MINNEAPOLIS.—(AP)—Ray King, former Minnesota end, claims his knack of catching passes was developed by snagging red-hot rivets out of the air at his summer job in the Duluth shipyards. King hired out as a rivet passer. Armed with a small can he caught red-hot rivets thrown to him, picked them out of the can with a pair of pliers and thrust them into rivet holes. "You just had to catch the rivets—or else," King says. So he came back to the university with an unusual ability to catch passes. He has not missed many since the current season opened.

Grid Injuries Get Heavy Toll; Gobbler Star In Hardest Luck

By BARTON PATTIE
RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Football sent a heavy week-end toll of Old Dominion college youths to hospitals and infirmaries with at least six outstanding players suffering serious injuries. Harry Martin, Charlottesville, captain and star quarterback on the University of Virginia eleven, received a fracture of the lower part of his leg in the Washington and Lee Game. Steve Davenport, Richmond, Cavalier end, had the large bone in his upper leg broken in the same contest. Jimmy Mundy, Richmond back, sustained a dislocated shoulder in the hard-fought V. M. I. clash here while his running mate, Dick Stoneburner, was carried from the field with a dislocated hip. A. B. Marchant, brilliant defensive end for the Spiders, received a slight concussion. Otis Bunch, slim William and Mary quarter, was removed from the Roanoke encounter with a possible fractured collar bone.

Saddest among the cases is that of Martin, nominated today by Coach Gus Tebell as the gridiron's hard luck champion. This popular, serious-minded athlete has been dogged with injuries ever since he started varsity play. He was a sensation at Fishburne Military school and on the Cavalier freshman team in 1932. He hurt his knee in his third varsity game in 1933 against Ohio State and was out of the following games with Columbia and Navy, both of which Virginia lost by a single touchdown. He returned to play against V. M. I. but after the game he was seriously hurt in an automobile accident.

His cheekbones were crushed, his ankle broken and he had other injuries which kept him on a hospital cot for weeks with little prospect of ever playing football again. He reported for the team in 1934 but was too weak and had to turn in his uniform. Last fall he responded again to the varsity call and earned a signal-calling berth. Honored by his teammates with the captaincy, Martin worked daily last summer to build himself up for the season. Coach Tebell said the spirit he had shown in overcoming the handicap of the multiple injuries was an inspiration to the squad during the training period and in early games.

LIONS, RAMBLERS PLAY 0-0 GAME; JACKETS FRIDAY

Matched Teams Play Scoreless Tilt At CC Park

Shelby's high school Lions played the powerful Cliffside Ramblers to a standstill here Friday night and ended the game 0-0, with neither team getting closer than within 10 yards of the goal line. Coach Goodson will take his outfit on the field here Friday night for one of the crucial games of the season as Forest City comes here for a game. Forest City has one of the strongest teams in the conference.

The entire team played well in the Friday game, with a rookie John Mull, jr., taking the place of Vaughn who is a regular at quarterback and making a good showing. Cliffside showed some good kicking and passing. Gene Ervin caught one long pass for Shelby and almost got away for a score.

The Raleigh Kiwanis club donated $67 in prizes for the recent Wake County Jersey calf club show. The first radio license issued in the United States was to George Hill Lewis of Cincinnati, in 1911. SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Doors of the Sally League today were open to two of four teams seeking membership in the baseball circuit which will operate next year with eight instead of six teams. South Atlantic directors meeting here yesterday voted to increase the size of the league and consider applications from Spartanburg and Charleston, S. C., Charlotte, N. C., and Montgomery, Ala. Teams playing in the loop last season, were Augusta, Columbia, Columbus, Jacksonville, Macon and Savannah. The league was revived this year after a five year lapse in play. The directors dropped the split-season system of operation, and substituted the Shaughnessy style of post-season play-off between the top division teams.
