

Wolves Loom As Power In Conference As Two Stars Back In Line-Up

Snarling Pack Has Sounded Battle Call And Appear On Road To Avenge Defeats Of Season; Other Teams Good

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 27.—(AP)—N. C. State's erratic Wolfpack loomed a real threat to the perfect southern conference record of the University of North Carolina today as twelve teams prepared for intraligo contests.

Eddie Berlin, ace ball-carrier for Coach Hunk Anderson's team, took his first workout in three weeks yesterday and announcement was made that he probably would be able to start against the Tar Heels.

Another great halfback, Eddie Entwistle, who was injured in the V. P. I. game, will be out, however. The veteran aggregation of Wolves slink through their early battles ineffectively, losing to Davidson and Wake Forest in reverses which eliminated them from the title chase.

Coach Ray Wolfe, realizing that a real test was in store for his charges, sent his ranking backs against his best linemen in an effort to develop a touchdown drive and a strong defense for the invasion of the Raleigh gridders.

Duke and Washington and Lee, both unbeaten in the conference, delayed starting their drills for Saturday's meeting at Richmond until today. With Dick Tallaferra, end, who was injured in the Georgia Tech game back in the lineup, the Blue Devils will be able to throw their full strength against the heavy Generals.

At W. & L. Coach Tex Tilson' W. & L. outfit, like N. C. State, got off to an unimpressive start this season but on last Saturday showed considerable power in trouncing Virginia.

Captain Dick Johnson was out with injuries at Davidson but Coach Doc Newton expected the husky guard to be ready to work against Furman at Greenville, S. C. Tom Corbin, back, was also hurt in the Citadel contest, but not seriously. Wake Forest went back to work against the Orangeburg team, which was expected to be a defensive struggle which cropped out in the George Washington encounter. Captain Ed Rogers was still on the injured list.

Clemson started the week with a session of rough work against the freshmen. Mac Folger, star of the South Carolina game, slipped away for some long jaunts. The Tigers will meet Southeastern's Georgia Tech Saturday.

A new backfield was tried out at South Carolina where the Gamecocks rushed preparations for Friday's meeting with the Citadel, an ancient state foe, at Orangeburg. Running as the first-string were Edwards, Lyons, Urbanyi and E. Durham. None were starters in the previous games.

The V. M. I. squad sharpened its offensive weapons while the crippled University of Virginia Cavaliers scrimmaged as Coach Gus Tebbel sought replacement for four injured regulars.

Pete Bunch, William and Mary triple threat, was out for three weeks or more as the Indians drilled for Hampden-Sydney.

Virginia Tech scouts were impressed by the performance of Richmond's line against V. M. I. Saturday so the Gobblers are installing new pass plays for use in gaining yardage against the Spiders this week end.

Why Hattiesburg Wins

The very big reason why Junior high school at Hattiesburg, Miss., is achieving success on the gridiron centers on Theron Lynd, 320-pound tackle. Although the "giant" is only 15 years old, he stands well over six feet. Coaches say his spirit and influence exceed his weight in inspiring his teammates. (Associated Press Photo)

Diz Dean Really Has Worries, But Confides He's "Easy" Now

SPORTS SLANTS

By 'PAP

When the teams representing St. Mary's college and Marquette university clash at Soldiers field, Chicago, October 30, the rival coaches will be real veterans from the standpoint of service at a single school.

Ed (Slip) Madigan, St. Mary's mentor, has been headman at the California college for 16 years. After graduating from Notre Dame in 1920, Madigan coached at Portland university (Oregon) that fall and went to St. Mary's in 1921.

Frank Murray will be directing his 15th consecutive Marquette eleven. This is Murray's 17th season on the Golden Avalanche staff but he worked in 1920-'21 as assistant coach. Murray played his football at Tufts.

For the first time in the 16 years he has been coaching at St. Mary's Madigan has been running his varsity through regular scrimmage practice without using the huddle. Not often, it is true, but every now and then Slip instructs his quarterback, Lou Perry, to crack the whip after each play without consulting anyone. The team lined up speedily after each down and, responding to Perry's sharp commands, rolled over the big freshman squad with a smoothness that bespoke great power.

Huddle Has Its Uses

"We have no intentions of completely abandoning the huddle," Madigan explains. "Perry's the only signal man I'd trust with such an assignment, and he'll use it mainly as a threat, huddling when he thinks something is wrong and at other times, to throw the enemy off."

Slip believes the no-huddle system is much more effective than the conference method. "It gives the opposing team much less time to second guess, destroys their confidence and gives a distinct edge to the best conditioned outfit," he points out.

Biggest drawback of the no-huddle system is the necessity for quick intelligence on the part of every member of the team employing it, according to the Moraga mentor.

"This is the first team I've ever coached, and one of the few I've ever seen that hasn't one or two members who find it too difficult to know and remember a repertoire of 50 or 60 plays," Madigan adds.

Gridmen By Specialists

Here's how Madigan rates his best men in the different football departments this season:

Kicker, Jerry Dowd; passer, Les Groux; blocker, Lou Perry; punger, Tony Falkenstein; open-field runner, Hugh Hill; fastest man, Ned O'Laughlin; most promising sophomore, Lou Remassa; pass-catcher, Dutch Timm.

The best all-around player, in Slip's opinion, is Floyd Maxham, triple-threat fullback, exceptional in no particular phase but above the average in every division of play.

Every time the St. Mary's football team plays a game at "home" the Galloping Gaels must travel over 30 miles of land, 20 miles of water, pass through three metropolitan cities and visit three counties. The Gaels' home field is Kezar stadium in San Francisco. They get there from Moraga Valley they must pass through Berkeley, Oakland and across the bay to San Francisco. Counties visited are Contra Costa, Alameda and San Francisco. The Gaels will have to cover this route six times this season.

President Roosevelt hailed the navy as an "instrument of peace and good will," the nation's sea forces today opened their full dress-ships and shore stations to the public in the fifteenth annual observance of Navy Day.

President Roosevelt made the celebration the occasion for a letter to Secretary Swanson asserting that an efficient navy, "adequate in men and material," is entirely compatible with America's peaceful aims.

"Although happily we are on terms of peace and amity with all nations," the chief executive said, "We cannot close our eyes to the fact that in many parts of the world conditions are disquieting and signs are portentous."

Congratulating the navy on its "splendid efficiency," he added: "I desire to emphasize the fact that an adequate defensive force is, at the same time, an instrument of peace and good will. We as a people seek no conquest. We have no imperial designs. We are actuated by a stern determination to avoid armed conflict by every honorable means."

Navy Day, sponsored by the Navy League of the United States, is celebrated annually on the birthday anniversary of the late President Theodore, of whom Secretary Swanson said, "No one of his time did more to launch the modern navy."

BRADENTON, Fla., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Life is just a bowl of worries for Jerome Herman Dean, but he's gradually getting his affairs in hand, he confided today.

Chief Problem that confronted the St. Louis Cardinal's star pitcher when he arrived here to spend the winter revolved around his canary-colored convertible sedan. The problem was that Mrs. Dean wanted the car herself.

Ol' Diz solved that one by buying himself a light truck that he could bat around Bradenton in at nearly the same speed his big yellow car will go. Mrs. Dean didn't care about driving the truck, so Diz has that for his exclusive use.

Then there was a little matter about an income tax return. The government wanted more information than Dean had put down about certain exemptions he claimed. A lawyer fixed that up.

But just when it looked like clear sailing, Diz went up to Sarasota to play golf and found the sums at the end of the round were in the 50's, instead of the lower 80's the way they used to be.

Shower Given For Mrs. Petty Of The Rehobeth Section

(Special to The Star)

REHOBETH - SANDY PLAINS, Oct. 27.—Messengers from the Sandy Plains church who attended the association at the Pleasant Grove Church Thursday and Friday were: C. C. Walker, J. B. Petty, P. A. Whisnant, J. P. Walker, T. O. Wiggins, W. A. Williams, O. C. Bowen. A number of the other members from Sandy Plains also attended.

The Senior Union of the Sandy Plains B. T. U. enjoyed a social and marshmallow roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Davis Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Shull Whitaker of Cliffside spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Whitaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jenkins and children and Mrs. D. W. Jenkins visited at the bedside of Mrs. Geo. Jenkins of Ellenboro Sunday afternoon.

Miss Elsie Jane Greene who has been confined to her bed for the past two weeks is seriously ill.

Mrs. Sherman Whitaker gave a miscellaneous shower Saturday afternoon, October 24th from two till four o'clock for Mrs. Claxton Petty. Mr. and Mrs. Petty plan to start housekeeping at an early date.

A number of games and contests were enjoyed and each guest was asked to write a recipe. Mrs. Petty received many beautiful and useful gifts which were passed for each guest to see.

The guests were then invited into the dining room where sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

Miss Dorcas Walker, who has been confined to her bed for the past three months is able to be up half the day.

Fay Jenkins Jr. had the misfortune of falling Monday night and getting his leg very painfully hurt.

Miss Ruby Shylte of Valdese spent the week end with relatives.

GOPHERS RANKED NO. 1 GRID TEAM; DUKES IN FALL

Pitt Panthers Leap From Ninth To 2nd Place

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—To the surprise of none, it's unanimous this week for Minnesota in the Associated Press college football ranking poll.

The Galloping Gophers received the No. 1 vote of all 44 expert contributors to the second weekly poll from the key points of observation from coast to coast.

The main race, for second place, was won by Pittsburgh's Panthers, who rebounded at the expense of Notre Dame with a display of rushing power rated only a few notches below the performance of Minnesota.

Duke Goes Down Duke, the victim of the South's main upset, toppled to a tie for 13th place in the latest ranking.

Here are the results, with points tallied for each ballot on a "10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1" basis:

Points	Team
440	1. Minnesota
296	2. Pittsburgh
258	3. Northwestern
236	4. U. of Washington
201	5. Fordham
152	6. Army
149	7. Southern California
106	8. Louisiana State
103	9. Tulane
92	10. Marquette
82	11. Nebraska
54	12. Yale
43	13. Holy Cross and Duke
34	15. Southern Methodist
30	16. Auburn
15	17. Princeton and Purdue
14	19. Santa Clara
11	20. St. Mary's and Pennsylvania

Physicians Plan To Attend Meet

A number of Shelby and Cleveland county physicians are expected to attend a meeting of doctors from 10 counties which will convene in Gastonia, October 29, for the annual eighth district conference.

The opening session will be held at 2 p.m. at the Gaston country club, at which time papers on various subjects will be read by Dr. W. C. Bostic of Forest City, Dr. J. S. Hoel of Gastonia, Drs. C. C. Lafferty and R. H. Phillips of Charlotte, and Dr. S. E. Moser of Gastonia.

Many of the physicians will be accompanied by their wives, and the ladies will meet in a separate session during the afternoon for the purpose of organizing an auxiliary.

Dr. J. M. Davis is president of the district society; Dr. McG. Anderson of Gastonia, vice president, and Dr. C. H. Pugh of Gastonia secretary. The counties making up the district are Anson, Cabarrus, Cleveland, Gaston, Mecklenburg, Montgomery, Lincoln, Rutherford, Stanly and Union.

The highlight of the convention will be a two-hour clinic, to be conducted at the country club beginning at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, by Dr. Louis Hamman, associate professor of clinical medicine at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore.

Eddie Brietz Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—While Mickey Cochrane goes hunting, the Detroit front office is fishing. . . It has just hooked a pitcher named Barry Trout. . . Iowa Wolves, in great packs, are in full cry after Coach Ossie Solem's jobs. . . All Ossie has to do to drive 'em back into their dens is to upset Minnesota. . . Why did Dreadnaught Ray Impellitteri rush back from the coast where the picking were so all. . . Are they getting ready to pitch him against Joe Louis? . . . Believe it or not, Notre Dame hasn't scored a point in the Pitt Stadium since 1930, when the last of Knute Rockne's great teams rolled up 35 points on the Panthers in the first half.

This tidbit printed in New York will go great in Minnesota: "Minnesota begins to stand near the top of the (football) heap"! . . . Branch Rickey says it will take $400,000 or the equivalent to get Dizzy Dean away from the Cardinals. . . Slip Madigan's St. Mary's gridders wear sweaters with big harps on the front. . .

Pew backs can equal the record of Capt. Roger Keith of Tufts. . . He broke into the Jumbo lineup as a sophomore and has started every contest since. . . Last year he played all but two minutes of an eight game schedule. . . There are hints out on the coast that California may drop Stub Allison and try to lure Bob Zuppke from Illinois. . . Some of the pavs say California alumni want to know why all the material they send to Berkeley isn't paying dividends on the score boards. . . 350 fans from Slip Madigan's home town of Ottawa, Ill. are going to Chicago Friday to see St. Mary's play Marquette. . . The South is raving about Bruiser Kinard, 213-pound tackle for the University of Mississippi. . . All reports say this lad is absolute top.

Gaffney, Columbia Relations Broken

GAFFNEY, Oct. 27.—Football relations between Gaffney and Columbia reached a breaking point today as Columbia declared it would not renew a contract calling for a game to be played at Gaffney. The game over the past week-end resulted in a 12-0 win for Gaffney and in bruises and injuries for some Columbia spectators. Pop bottles and fists were used. Columbia did say however they would be glad to finish the two year contract which calls for a game next year at Columbia.

BRIGHT SPOTS In Sports

IOWA IRKED IOWA CITY.—(AP)—The University of Iowa complains that the statisticians who have been delving into the record books to find winning streaks comparable to Minnesota's, have overlooked that of Iowa. Iowa won 20 straight games between November 6, 1920, and October 20, 1923. Fourteen of Iowa's victims over the stretch were Big Ten elevens.

Irish Have Smart Mascot SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Clashmore Mike, Irish terrier mascot of the Notre Dame gridders, is the right man for the job—or so the team is convinced. At the Carnegie Tech game, Tech cheer leaders displayed a sign reading, "We like Irish stew." Mike immediately went after the sign with every intention of tearing it to shreds.

When He Grows Up—MILWAUKEE.—(AP)—Maybe there is something to all these statistics that show college students are getting taller. Jim Rasmussen, freshman basketball coach at Marquette university, has a center who towers 6 feet 10 inches. He's John (Man Mountain) Clark, he comes from Elroy, Wis.—and he's only 17.

Versatile Hanson SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(AP)—Although he is in his seventh session as head grid coach at Syracuse university, Victor A. Hanson still is one of the youngest mentors. He was graduated from Syracuse in '27 with one of the best records in athletic annals of the school. Hanson captained football, baseball, basketball; won nine letters; and was an all-American end.
