SHALL WE STOP WITH $800

Last April when Gainesville Georgia, left prostrate by one of the most vicious tornadoes ever to strike this section, sent out an appeal for help local people responded generously with a gift to the Red Cross of $1,400, which was raised in the city and county within a week.

Now, seven months later, thousands of sick and underprivileged here in Shelby and Cleveland county, are sending out their appeal for help through workers in the Red Cross roll call drive, and Shelby people have answered with only $800 of the $1,500 being asked.

The lack of response met by Red Cross workers who have canvassed every home and business house, if not every individual, cannot be explained by "hard times" or "I just haven't got the money to spare."

Certainly no one will accuse Shelby folk of selfishness or lack of generosity. If they have failed to respond to the appeal of the local Red Cross it is simply a matter of thoughtlessness.

It is people like these, right in our midst, perhaps in the house two blocks behind our own, who would be helped by the public health program which the Red Cross hopes to sponsor with its $1,500, and their need is just as appealing as that of any victim of tornado or flood.

THE ELECTION FIGURES ANALYZED

There has been much discussion in the newspapers relating to the result of the election, and especially the fact that President Roosevelt received such an overwhelming majority in North Carolina, and the further fact that Mr. Hoey did not receive as great a majority as the other nominees on the State ticket.

In the first place, President Roosevelt received a larger vote in all of the other States than the Democratic nominees for Governor received, which was evidently due to the fact that a large number of people who were nominally Republicans voted for Roosevelt for President but voted the Republican ticket in State matters.

It is interesting to analyze the State vote. It will be seen that Mr. Hoey ran something over 20,000 votes behind the other State nominees, which was unquestionably the result of scratching occasioned by the heated primary contests.

Reynolds fell behind the remainder of the State ticket by a larger number of votes than obtained in the case of Mr. Hoey.

There is one rather remarkable phase of this situation which has not been mentioned in the various discussions, and that is that Mr. Hoey received more votes in his race for Governor than was ever given any other candidate for Governor in all the history of North Carolina.

What Other Papers Say

WHY STRIKES FAIL

(Union Times) Strikes fail on the picket line, under the present set up of organized labor. Nobody denies the right of the individual workers to combine with other individual workers for mutual protection and profit.

A Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON—The grip laid by the south for four years on important house and senate committee chairmanships seems likely to continue undiminished in the next congress.

To begin with, Vice President Garner of Texas presides over the senate and Rep. Bankhead of Alabama, speaker last session, seems likely to repeat.

The habit of the south to go Democratic election after election has given tremendous seniority to the lawmakers it sends to Washington. Seniority, within the majority party, of course, largely governs in selection of committee chairmen.

How They stack Up Southerners in several instances head like committees in both senate and house, thus:

- Senate Agriculture—Smith, S. C. Appropriations—Glass, Virginia. Tax Committees—Harrison, Miss. Mines—Logan, Ky. Public Buildings—Connally, Tex. House Agriculture—Jones, Texas. Appropriations—Buchanan, Tex. Tax Committees—Doughton, N. C. Mines—Smith, W. Va. Public Buildings—Lanham, Tex. Other important senate chairmanships held by southerners are: labor, Black of Alabama; military affairs, Sheppard of Texas; post-office and roads, McKellar of Tennessee; elections, George of Georgia; rules, Neely of West Virginia; and public accounts, Byrnes of South Carolina. Other southern house chairmanships include: banking, Steagall of Alabama; civil service, Ramspeck of Georgia; foreign affairs, McReynolds of Tennessee; interstate commerce, Rayburn of Texas; judiciary, Summers of Texas; merchant-marine, Bland of Virginia; naval affairs, Vinson of Georgia; pensions, Gasque of South Carolina; public lands, Derouen of Louisiana; rivers and harbors, Mansfield of Texas; territories, Green of Florida; world war veterans, Rankin of Mississippi. Rep. McSwain of South Carolina, chairman of the house military affairs committee, died, but four southerners are next in line. However, upon the death of the two Florida senators, a northerner, Senator Wagner of New York, seemed likely to succeed Senator Fletcher as head of the banking committee.

Dramatic Class Books Six Plays

BOILING SPRINGS, Nov. 20.—The speech class at Boiling Springs Junior College under the direction of Mrs. Laura Yates Burnett has a full program for the coming months. Aside from participating in the forensic activities of the Strawberry Leaf tournament to be held at Winthrop College, invitations have been accepted to other colleges. In addition to this the Romanians, a player's club to which all students are eligible, is to present for Good Speech Week a pageant entitled "The Empire of Perfect English" written by Mrs. Burnett. The calendar for the year has booked six plays.

The revival of interest in this department is most gratifying to the student body. Mrs. Burnett's instruction is a product of a rich field of study. She has been a student under both Dr. and Mrs. Curry of Boston, Mr. Clark of Chicago University, and other distinguished teachers.

EASTERN METHODISTS BEGIN CONFERENCE

NEW BERN, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The 100th annual North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened here yesterday.

The initial session was devoted to a memorial service for ministers and their widows who have died during the year. The afternoon sermon was preached by Dr. George Stoves of Memphis, Tenn., and Walter Towner, secretary of the Board of Christian Education, will speak.

and Senator Walsh of Massachusetts stepped immediately into the naval affairs chairmanship vacated by Senator Trammell. Senator Black of Alabama succeeded Walsh as labor chairman.

All Democrats

Perhaps it is needless to mention it, but all these chairmen are Democrats. It is seniority governed entirely, such veteran Republicans as Capper of Kansas, McNary of Oregon, Borah of Idaho, Johnson of California, Norbeck of South Dakota and others would head many senate committees, and a few senate Republicans have survived in the house who would outrank many a Democratic chairman.

Bulwinkle Spent $1510 In His Race

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Representative A. L. Bulwinkle, of the tenth North Carolina district, incurred a total expense of $1,510, he told the clerk of the house today in filing his final election expenses report. Major Bulwinkle received no contributions.

He said that it was practically all sent to Democratic county chairmen to assist in getting out a good vote for himself, as well as the entire ticket, from the President down. Some, of course, went for postage, news paper advertisements, and the like.

In his second unsuccessful effort to unseat Major Bulwinkle, Calvin R. Edney spent only $747, of which $507 came from the national committee, and $75 from the state Republican committee. Edney says a friend gave him $60, D. T. Vance, of Plumtree, contributed $40 while T. H. Baird, of Mars Hill, and Woodson Ray, of Marshall, contributed $1 each.
