DIGEST OF DIGESTS--FREE SAMPLE

NOTE -- Yesterday we carried exclusive announcement of a plan to condense all monthly digest magazines into a super-digest, or Digest of Digests, and asked Mr. Probus B. Mackheimer, who proposes such a publication, to give us a sample. He submits the following--

- DO COWS LIKE MUSIC? (Condensed from the Dairy-men's Dairy Magazine.)
- YOUTH IN POLITICS (Condensed from Youth Movement Magazine.)
- WHERE ARE THEY NOW? (Condensed from Buffalo Review.)
- RED MENACE IN WISCONSIN (Condensed from Daily Cardinal, U. of W.)

enough music to paint for barns. WHY STAY HOME? It is possible to ride more than twenty-five miles for a nickel in New York. IS BREAD FATTENING? That bread is fattening is fallacy.

Little Willie, feeling vicious, O'er Pa's head broke all the dishes. Mama cried: "You should be beaten! "Now what will we use to eat on?" -- Shirley Dunle.

Rev. F. M. Upligger, veteran missionary among Arizona Indians, says the once fierce Apaches are now "issified," and try to look and act like whites. It's certainly ironic -- when you consider how many young whites act and look like Apaches. The barbaric young whites may not scalp their victims -- they merely run 'em down with roadsters. It might not be a bad idea for Rev. Upligger to get off the reservation and see what he could do among the debutantes.

More definitions for the Scoundrel's Dictionary from Dr. Kornblum of St. Louis-- GAGGERS -- High and low Cheats, who, by sham pretenses, and wonderful stories of their sufferings, impose on the credulity of well-meaning people. GALIMAUFREY -- A hedge-podge made up of the remnants and scraps of the larder. GAMBLER -- A sharper. A tricking gamester. GENTLEMAN OF THREE OUTS -- That is, without money, without wit, and without manners; some are another out; i. e., without credit. GIB CAT -- A northern name for a he-cat, there common called Gilbert. GIGG -- A nose. Snitchel gig; fillip his nose. GLUEPOT -- A person; from joining men and women together in matrimony. GO -- The dash. The mode. It is quite the go, he is quarantined, he is prime, he bang up.
