Maryland Upsets The Powerful W. L. Generals

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 27.—(P)—The Blue Devils weathered a blizzard of second consecutive time today the result of a 13-0 triumph over the Blue Devils.

The Blue Devils weathered a blizzard of second consecutive time today the result of a 13-0 triumph over the Blue Devils.

North Carolina's 59-14 rout of the University of Virginia gave the Tar Heels second place in the conference standing when V. M. I.'s sophomore faltered on the finish line to lose to Virginia Tech 6-0.

Richmond Wins Davidson smashed Wake Forest according to the predictions of the experts and Richmond's Spiders captured their first conference title of the season by noting out William and Mary 6-0.

Maryland's old liners soared on the rebound after losses to V. M. I. and Georgetown to upset Washington and Lee's Generals 19-6. This did not affect the Generals' title claims but sent Coach Tilton's men floundering down in the conference ranks.

Furman's strong team turned on the heat against Clemson's erratic progress to snare the Tigers 12-0 in the championship of the state of South Carolina for the second consecutive time.

South Carolina made an unprofitable invasion of Cincinnati when the Gamecocks were turned back 12-19 by Xavier but the Citadel Bulldogs went on a rampage in Augusta to rip Wofford 41-0.

Another Game Maryland plays Western Maryland next week and South Carolina's Birds end their season against Miami two weeks hence. The other fourteen conference squads turned in their uniforms today until practice is resumed next spring.

Final Southern conference standings:

102,000 TO SEE ARMY-NAVY TILT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—(P)—Two service football squads were in Philadelphia today, limbering up the speed and brawn on which rest the hopes of 102,000 supporters who will see them go into action Saturday and of countless thousands of sports fans who will "listen in."

The Army and Navy players arrived quietly last night from different directions, at different stations.

They will not meet until shortly before game time Saturday at Municipal stadium, where they will write a climax to the hectic 1936 grid season and a thirty-seventh chapter in the equally hectic story of inter-service games.

First statements by the two team coaches indicated both teams are in fairly good shape.

Catawba Beaten By L. R. Bears

SALISBURY, Nov. 27.—(P)—Catawba's Indians today stood virtually eliminated as a contender for the North State conference crown as the result of their defeat by Lenoir-Rhyne's Mountain Bears yesterday.

The Bears pushed over their lone touchdown in the first minute of the last period after the teams had battled on about even terms to score a 4-0 upset victory.

Only a win over the undefeated Non Christians could give Catawba as much as a tie for first place in the conference. The teams meet here December 5.

SULPHUR SPRINGS CHURCH TO ORGANIZE DEPARTMENT Officers of the Cleveland county Methodist young people will meet at Sulphur Springs church Sunday night, Nov. 29th to organize a new department. A special program is to be given at the organization meeting.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Barney Ross played ping pong at Fendale to sharpen his eye for Izzy Janazzo tonight. Don't be surprised if Tom Yawkey, the Boston baseball millionaire, goes into the football business. The Stanford football boys got a big kick out of a light snowfall on their arrival here the other day. Here's one vote for Army to scuttle Navy tomorrow.

Jimmy Johnston's birthday cake had 21 candles—just 40 shy. Ace Parker got the publicity but a back named Hackney has done just about as much for dear old Duke this year as anybody else. It is doubtful if Bold Venture, winner of both the Kentucky derby and Preakness last spring, will try to come back. A lightweight to keep your eye on is Enrice Venturi, the Italian flash—Many think he could trim his countryman, Aldo Spoldi, supposed to be tops.

Tony Canzoneri and Sammy Goldman, his manager, have been together since 1923. In all that time they never had a contract between them (because one wasn't needed) until the New York Athletic commission made them sign one several weeks ago. The night they left the commission chambers Tony and Sammy tore up their duplicate. Incidentally, Champion Jimmy Braddock and Joe Gould never were legally tied up until the commission stepped in and made 'em sign on the dotted line.

They just won't leave Babe Ruth be with his golf, his cigars and his movie shorts. Latest move to get him into the minors isn't getting to fast base, as they say in Brooklyn. Not much interest in tonight's welterweight scrap. If the snow draws Ross' guarantee of $35,000 the Garden will give three long ones. Those two Frank of Yale and Francis of Nebraska—seem to be the class of the country's backs.

McCord says he thinks the collegiate athletic program of the future will be patterned somewhat after Emory's intramural system. "We feel we are 20 years ahead of the time," declares McCord, adding that, in his opinion, the average university or college youth wouldn't want intercollegiate sports after giving intramurals a trial.

He discloses results of polls to learn the attitude of Emory's 2,000 students toward the intramural system. Freshmen voted unanimously to switch over to intercollegiate sports. Sophomores gave intercollegiate contests only one-third of their votes. Upperclassmen unanimously favored retention of the intramural system.

McCord asserts 74 percent of the Emory student body participates in campus games. Freshmen are required to sign up for baseball, football or some other competitive sport among classes.

Intercollegiate Sports On Way Out — McCord

By BILL BORING

ATLANTA.—(P)—The coach at a university whose football stars never see their names in newspaper says: "Intercollegiate sports are on the way out."

He is Jeff McCord, director of the highly-developed Emory university intramural system that features pushball—not football—although Emory's gridgers number 200.

Curtains For Football Will Be Drawn Here Saturday

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—The curtains for football playing in Shelby will be drawn Saturday afternoon at 3:30 when the Shelby Allstars take on the powerful Mooresville professionals in a post-Thanksgiving charity game.

Proceeds of which will go to the Salvation Army Christmas fund. Mooresville has played in Shelby twice this year and is known to have a heavy line, slashing attack. They defeated Bolling Springs junior college here the first game.

Among the Allstars are expected to be outstanding high school and college stars of the past few seasons who will donate their skill and ability for the contest.

Max Putnam, former Wake Forest tackle and Guy, (the Ripper) Brown former Lenoir Rhyne star will be at tackle; Roy Lee Connor, high school star will call signals from the fullback's post; Hugh Hamrick, former Bolling Springs guard and Bill Stanton, high school lineman, will be at guard; Wade Vaughn, Harry Putnam, Dede Wolf or Punny McSwain will take end positions. Cade Green will be at center.

In the backfield Yates Wall, former Mars Hill star, will perform at quarter; Red Walker who was a streak at A. S. T. C., Charles Kale of Helg Boston may be at the half post.

California's first legislature convened in San Jose, the state's first capital, in 1849.

Huey Long's Team Almost At Top

BATON ROUGE La., Nov. 27.—(P)—A girdiron drive launched some five years ago by the late Senator Huey P. Long will reach a climax here tomorrow when Louisiana State tackles Tulane in an effort to clinch the Southeastern conference title and win a Rose Bowl bid.

The dynamic senator was instrumental in obtaining top flight coaching and better material for the Bayou Tigers but did not live to see "my team" win its first league championship last year nor watch its undefeated march through a tough card this season.

The Tigers have bumped five conference foes, beating each one by at least two touchdowns, and their only setback was an early season tie with Texas.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Barney Ross, the busy Chicago battler who has been averaging better than one non-title fight every two months this year, puts his welterweight crown on the block against Izzy Janazzo of New York's east side at Madison Square Garden tonight. The indications are that Barney, if he wins as expected, will become busier than ever.

GRAND FINALE FOR GRID TEAMS IS ON SATURDAY

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—The football follies of 1936, one of the dullest gridiron comedies in the books, headed its big finale scenes today—the Army-Navy classic Saturday, and the Rose Bowl battle, with Washington probably taking on Alabama, on New Year's day.

The Thanksgiving day renewal of gridiron tradition followed the season's form for surprises, and left the Huskies with the Pacific coast conference crown and the western ticket to the Rose Bowl, Alabama is the most likely spot to make up the other half of the Pasadena program, and the experts with another series of headaches.

Fordham Upset While all this was going on, New York University's Violets knocked over Fordham's mighty Rams in a major upset, Texas surprised Texas Aggies, 7-6, Penn had an unlooked for tough time before beating Cornell, 14-6, and the military began marching on Philadelphia.

The Army and Navy perform in the Quaker city's huge municipal stadium Saturday before what will probably be the largest crowd ever assembled for a football game in the East, if not anywhere—considerable more than 100,000.

Washington whipped the helpless Cougars, 40-0.

Vandy Fights Alabama, meantime, had to put on a strong rally in the second half to down Vanderbilt's stubborn Commodores 14-6, with Joe Riley's pass heaving featuring.

Although the grapevine had it that the Tide, undefeated and once deadlocked, would get the Bowl call, still regarded in the rumblings were Louisiana State's unbeaten Tigers, idle until the Tulane game Saturday; Pitt's Panthers, who walloped Carnegie 31-14, and Duke's Blue Devils, who trounced North Carolina State 13-0.

Colgate's Red Raiders ran wild against Brown, 32-0, in other eastern features.

Down South, Tennessee topped Kentucky 7-6, with a third-period tally; North Carolina steam-rollered Virginia 59-14; Furman furnished a surprise in shutting out Clemson 12-0; Davidson downed Wake Forest 19-6; Maryland had too much for W. & L., winning 19-6, and Virginia Poly scored early to beat Virginia Military 5-0.

The Mid-West state was headlined by Missouri's 19-3 win over Kansas, Detroit's 6-0 edge over Creighton, and its 21-6 beating St. Louis handed its local rival, Washington U.

Arkansas' Razorbacks passed their way to a 23-13 win over Tulsa; Denver took a close 7-6.

The castle of Neuschwanstein in Bavaria was begun in 1869 and completed after 1905.
