Reviewer's Club Will Meet Wednesday

The Reviewer's Book club which was scheduled to meet Tuesday will meet instead on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. Mrs. George Wray will be hostess to the group at Cleveland Springs Country club.

Friday Bridge Tea Is Held At Country Club

The regular Friday Bridge tea was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at Cleveland Springs Country club when hostesses were Mrs. Rush Hamrick, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Dover. After a refreshing salad course had been served, members enjoyed the usual bridge progressions at the conclusion of which scores were added. Mrs. John Cashel of Evanston, Ill., was high scorer for the afternoon. Mrs. Ed McCurry received second high score award. Seven tables were in play. Only club guest was Mrs. Cashel who is the house guest of Mrs. E. A. Eskridge.

Thirteen Bridge Club Met With Mrs. Rollins

Members of the Thirteen club had a delightful meeting yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Howard Rollins was hostess to them at two tables of bridge. Pink roses and ragged robins had been combined to form lovely floral arrangements in the room. As soon as members had assembled, the hostess served a tempting dessert course with ham biscuits. She was assisted by Mrs. Virgil Weathers. Mrs. Edwin Ford scored high for the afternoon, and Mrs. Robert Barnett received the consolation prize. Those playing were Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Weathers, Mrs. Harold Bettis, Mrs. John Hendrick, Mrs. James Lutz, Miss Marjorie Lutz, and Mrs. Bill Lineberger.

Luther Snyder, died this morning in a Charlotte hospital. Among those who will go to Charlotte this afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. Mason Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Quinn. Mrs. Mildred Hamrick Suttle will take the Jones children, Freta Ann, Red, and Chris, to Charlotte tomorrow. Mrs. Draper Wood who has been serving temporarily as hostess at the United Service organization at Camp Croft, S. C., has completed her work and will return to Shelby Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoye, their daughter, Mrs. Leon Bradshaw, and Major Bradshaw went to Salisbury last night where they were the guests of Major Bradshaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Bradshaw, at the Kiwanis club Ladies' night.

County Glee Clubs Hold Festival At High School

The annual music festival for glee clubs of Cleveland county schools was held last night in the senior high school auditorium here with glee clubs from nine schools, including Shelby high school, participating. The glee clubs gave exceptionally good performances for the rather small group of patrons who attended the annual event. Around 300 students participated, both boys and girls. Outstanding among the performers was the Lattimore high school trio of girls, Frances Cornwell, Anna Lynn Blanton and Margaret Padgett, who sang "The Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton-Trehanne. The trio has been trained by Miss Virginia Greene, who also directed the Lattimore glee club in singing, "Who Is Sylvia?" by Schubert, with Mrs. P. M. Coley, accompanist. HUGGINS DIRECTOR The Polkville school was represented with the largest number of students, about 50 boys and girls, and Director J. D. Huggins led the girls' glee club as they sang "Come Where the Lilies Bloom" and the mixed chorus as they rendered Stephen Foster's "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming". Mrs. J. D. Huggins was at the piano. The girls' glee club of Piedmont high school directed by Mrs. Hudson Hartgrove gave a pleasing rendition of Adams' "The Holy City" with the sextette singing "Carmina" by Wilson. Miss Catherine Elam was accompanist for the group. Kings Mountain entered the only boys' glee club composed of about 21 members and directed by Miss Martha Carpenter. The boys sang Jerome Kern's "Old Man River" to the delight of the audience. The girls' glee club sang Worth's "In the Field Where the Daisies Are" under direction of Mrs. Grace Templeton. WACO GROUP Mrs. Floyd Dover directed the Waco glee club in singing "Welcome, Sweet Springtime" with solo by Sue Black, and "The Bells of St. Mary's", with Mrs. Joe Ramsey accompanist. The Bethwars group directed by Mrs. Mildred Highsmith, chose West's "The Shining Days of May", while the Casar glee club, directed by Miss Bessie Watson, sang "When the Rose Bloom" by Reichardt and "The Holy Hour" by Nevin. Miss Anna Lee accompanied the group. The children's chorus of Grover under direction of Mrs. F. B. Hambricht with Miss Betty Lou Keeter at the piano, sang "Our Country's Flag" and the girls' sextette sang "Fair Hills and Valleys". The program was concluded with the rendition of Schubert's "Ave Maria" by the Shelby glee club with solo by Betty Jo Putnam, and Edwards' "A Song of Joy." Miss Mosselle Moore is director of the local group and Sedalia Warren is accompanist. The festival committee is composed of J. D. Huggins of Polkville, Miss Moore of Shelby and Mrs. Templeton of Kings Mountain. J. H. Grigg, superintendent of county schools, extended a welcome to those who attended.

Modern Manners for Models

Every woman can take a tip from busy models who dash from one job to another and still keep their well-groomed appearance. When they stop for a quick sip at fountain or luncheonette, these models pick up individually wrapped straws so there will be no need to refresh lip make-up after drinking their beverage.

FROM SARA NEWTON'S SCRATCH PAD

R. E. YOUREE RETURNS FROM Colorado with a story that proves you never know when you will meet a familiar face. It happened like this: Bob was going out to Alamosa, Colorado, to take his wife and family. In Denver he was reading a newspaper. He glanced down at the crossword puzzle and saw in the center of it a picture of Senator Hoye! It was one of those where part of solving the crossword puzzle is discovering the name of the person pictured as well as what he does. Now, I could have solved that crossword puzzle. DURING THE TIME OF Roosevelt's death and his funeral when frequent mention was made of the honorary armed guards on the funeral train and at the White House, I kept wishing someone would give the names of those service men. Perhaps, one of them would be from Shelby or this county. My curiosity was satisfied this week when Mr. Mial Tiddy came in with the information that his nephew had the honor of being a guard in the East room of the White House where funeral services were held. He is John F. Tiddy, A. F. 2/c, son of Mrs. Mary Clark Tiddy and the late Fairley Tiddy of Monroe. John is also a nephew of Miss Margaret Tiddy of Gastonia. He wrote home that he saw all of the distinguished persons who called to pay their respects to the memory of the late president. THERE IS NOTHING FRESH in this remark, but I was still struck by the thought last night when I saw Deanna Durbin in "His Butler's Sister." In making the picture she refused to take off her wedding rings, because she was so blindly in love with her new husband—or so the magazines said. When she was dancing, an eagle-eye beside me saw the flash covering on Deanna's third finger which was used to hide the bands. Now I will grant Miss Durbin that I was seeing a return picture, but she has been magnificently divorced, completely split up from that husband for some time now. And she kept possession of his home, too, didn't she? SPEAKING OF MOVIES, "I'll Be Seeing You" with Ginger Rogers, Joseph Cotten, and Shirley Temple is one you won't want to miss. It is the story of a girl in prison for a crime she didn't commit and a boy who is a neuro-psychiatric war case. Both are on leaves from their "past," and they meet on a train. From there on it is your worry. The story is the same as "Double Furlough" a radio play given by Lux Radio theatre which starred James Cagney and Gertrude Lawrence. CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN order and some self-back slapping is due on the Nation United Clothing collection drive which has just been completed in Shelby and the

Sorting And Packing To Be Continued Tomorrow

The sorting and packing of the clothes collected by the National United Clothing collection drive has not yet been completed. Mrs. E. H. Rogers, committee chairman, announced this morning. Continuance of the project of preparing the clothing for shipment will be necessary tomorrow afternoon. All sorting and packing is being done at the central depot in the Rogers building on East Marion street. The work will begin at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and anyone who is willing to help the group complete the packing is urged to come. Over three-fourths of the garments have already been packed by the few women who have worked faithfully this week. If enough volunteer workers will assist, tomorrow the packing may be completed and the clothes shipped to headquarters. Miss Kathryn Quinn and Miss Linde Lee Lovelace returned home last night from Raleigh where they spent a few days with Miss Quinn's grandmother, Mrs. Estelle Briggs.
