Broadened Reciprocal Trade Legislation Ready To Sign

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—The broadened, extended reciprocal trade legislation which President Truman called "of the first order of importance for the success of my administration was his for the signing today.

The senate passed it late yesterday by a vote of 54 to 21. First it restored a house-approved provision permitting Mr. Truman to reduce selected tariff rates another 50 percent. Then it slapped down a series of proposed restriction amendments.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate finance committee had made good on Tuesday his effort to put back the additional rate-cutting provision which had been eliminated in committee, 10 to 9. He and other administration Democrats joined by considerable number of Republicans followed the initial victory by defeating yesterday all other attempts to amend the bill and by passing it in the same form in which it cleared the house.

It extends the trade law three more years, and, with the additional rate-cutting authority, gives the President and the state department fresh bargaining power in working out export-import deals with other nations.

Gunnells To Get $21,000 In Deaths Of Two Daughters

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(P)—The United States government will pay $21,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh P. Gunnells, of Charleston, S. C., under a bill passed by the house and sent to the senate.

This is $4,000 less than amount originally proposed by Representative Mendel Rivers (D-SC) as compensation for the death of the Gunnells' baby daughters, Pamela Ann and Patricia Joyce, and for personal injuries to themselves. A United States Army car struck the Gunnells as they crossed a Charleston street with their babies in their arms in February, 1944, Representative Rivers explained.

NEW ROEHLE, N. Y., June 21.—(P)—Two soldiers escaped from the army's rehabilitation center at Fort Slocum last night while two men who disappeared Tuesday were apprehended in Ossining, N. Y., the post's public relations office said.

A five-state police alarm was broadcast for Estel Hess, 21, Princeton, W. Va., and Wayne Morrison, 20, Des Moines, Iowa. Both were wearing brown dungarees.

Taken into custody by Ossining police and turned over to the army authorities were Henry Crossland, 24, Camden, S. C., and John W. Burnett, 22, Bedford, Va.

Two other men who escaped from the fort 10 days ago are being held at Stewart Field, N. Y., Fort Slocum was notified today. They were identified as Carl W. Vice and James Brown, both of Philadelphia.

mander of army ground forces in Washington since his return from Chungking.

Stilwell was commander in chief of American ground forces in China and military adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek before his recall to Washington.

It was Stilwell who fought the Japanese when they invaded Burma and with his slim command was chased out of the country.

"I claim we took a hell of a beating," he said as he came out of the Burma wilds at the head of his forces, and he promptly set about organizing to fight back into the country.

This he did with the ultimate result that the road which bears his name was cut through northern Burma, re-establishing a ground supply route to China.

Stilwell said recently at his conference with MacArthur in Manila that he was convinced there was no crackup of Japanese morale and that the enemy would have to be beaten on the Chinese mainland as well as in the home islands before giving up invaded possessions.

WORK Starts On Page One

Secretary of State Stettinius announced yesterday that the charter would be signed Monday. A special room, with a huge round table, blue-covered against a background of United Nations flags, has been prepared for that ceremony.

The President will arrive Monday in time for the signing and will remain through the closing session about 24 hours later. When he leaves to fly back to Washington by way of his hometown, Independence, Mo., he will take the charter with him to submit to the senate with a plea of speedy ratification.

Among sections of the charter which won committee approval yesterday and last night was a chapter setting up a system of international trusteeship for government of internationally-held territories and also setting forth standards for colonial powers in the government of all dependent peoples.

Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, who had fought for a promise of independence for such peoples, hailed the statement of standards in a commission speech.

"Here we have a charter for all the colonial peoples and for all peoples," he said. "For it is the charter of human liberty, and it is irrefutable proof that at last we have won the long fight, and that in winning the fight for freedom, we have won this war."
