FROM SARA NEWTON'S SCRATCH PAD

ALL OF YOU SCRATCH PAD READERS HAVE BEEN so obliging about helping me when I wanted help and telling me items of interest, and I know I can count on you for help in writing the memoirs of Rev. John W. Suttle. Perhaps I should have consulted you first before starting, because I can not write a creditable account without your interest and aid.

I'm convinced, however, that in the life that Rev. Mr. Suttle has lived is a story unique and inspiring. It is unique in that few other men have ever given so unselfishly of all they possess and are to so many people. It is inspiring because a life so beautifully and effectively lived is a challenge and a benediction.

How can you help in writing a book about John Suttle? Chances are that you are his friend, and you know something from your acquaintance with him. Never feel that what you know is not very interesting and "certainly wouldn't fit into a book." This book must grow out of "little things," and a lot of little things will of themselves indicate larger things.

There can't be too many stories submitted about him, and there can't be too many incidents recalled. We must collect everything we can possibly find for the memoirs. All of your recollections should be put on paper, if possible, and sent in to me.

If you happen to be in town, I would love to have you stop by the office and tell me any incidents about Rev. Mr. Suttle or any source where you think I could find interesting information. I will be interested in hearing it anytime, especially in the afternoons. The material for the book is being collected now, and the sooner you can add what you know to the notes the quicker it will grow. A book about the pastor and friend of many men should have a wealth of stories, and they exist about the Rev. Mr. Suttle.

NOW HERE'S A QUESTION for anyone to try to answer:
