Investment Required To Create Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—(AP)—A United States Chamber of Commerce survey of Gastonia, N. C., styled as the "typical American City," today indicated that a worker's job represented a money investment of $7,000.

In a statement based on the survey, the chamber said that some $350,000,000 would be needed to create jobs for 50,000,000 industrial workers.

On the strength of survey findings, the chamber said, capital investment is essential to maintenance of a high standard of living.

"If we are to have more jobs and if these jobs are to yield higher wages, we must have more capital investment," said Ralph Bradford, general manager of the chamber. "We must not all try to get on someone else's payroll. We need more payroll makers."

Wholesale cotton merchants, the chamber said, have an average investment of $44,787 per worker. The highest figure in retailing was $8,000 per employe in furniture stores.

"In manufacturing," Bradford said, "it was found that investment per job ranges from about $8,000 for food processors down to slightly less than $2,200 in cotton spinning and cloth weaving."

"In the distribution and service field, the average for the entire group is over $7,000," he added.

Married Veterans Need Housing For Higher Education

RALEIGH, Nov. 13—(AP)—Approximately 5,000 married veterans in North Carolina will be forced to forfeit plans for continued higher education due to lack of housing facilities, N. C. State college's chancellor, Col. J. W. Harrelson, predicted here.

Harrelson said that the "crying need" is for apartment-dormitories to accommodate veterans and their wives and children when attending school under the "GI Bill of Rights."

The American association of land grant colleges and universities reported lack of housing for married students—particularly veterans—as their most pressing problem, Harrelson said.

Jarvis Portrait Is Unveiled

RALEIGH, Nov. 13—(AP)—A portrait of Thomas Jordan Jarvis, presented by a grandniece, Mrs. Nina Cleve of New York, has been unveiled in the hall of the House at the Capitol.

Jarvis was governor of North Carolina from 1879-1885. He was responsible for establishment at Morganton and Goldsboro of the asylums, was a leading exponent of educational advancement in the state, and aided in the development of western North Carolina railroads and in public welfare. Minister to Brazil under President Cleveland, Sen. from North Carolina and a leading lawyer in the state, Governor Jarvis occupied positions of political prominence during his tenure of public service.

Dr. Christopher Crittenden, director of the State Department of archives and history, presided at the unveiling ceremonies.

BAN ON PAPER LIFTED
LONDON—The Communist newspaper Daily Worker announced today that the War Office had lifted a ban which prohibited the publication from being distributed to members of the British armed forces in northwest Europe. News editor Ben Francis said no reason for the ban had ever been given and attributed it to "blind prejudice."

Women in your '40's
