Renaissance Club Has Program On The Ballet

The Renaissance Study club had an excellent program on the ballet yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Walter L. Brown was hostess to the group at Cleveland Springs Country club. Mrs. J. C. Eskridge, program chairman, began with the origin of the ballet. She stated that choreography found its beginnings in the sacred dances of worship performed by the priests. Sketching quickly its development she concentrated on the British choreographer, Anthony Tudor, and his recent ballet, "Undertow", a psychological work, presented in New York last spring. Mrs. Eskridge, having seen Pavlova dance in Asheville, told something of her impressions of the experience and concluded with an account of the life and works of Nijinsky who brought the Ballet Russe to America. Lovely pictures illustrated her discussion.

Prior to the program the hostess served a delicious dessert course and then passed coffee and hors d'oeuvres.

A profusion of chrysanthemums were used to decorate the club lounge.

Mrs. Marvin Dameron presided at the dinner and presented Mrs. Robert Gidney who sang "Praise the Lord in Joyful Song" while Miss Eris Smith gave a reading and Miss Dorothy Franklin, BSU president, offered the opening prayer.
