Reversed its position on real estate ceilings by asking congress for price control on both new and old houses to go along with the priority on residential building materials. ANTI-INFLATIONARY

Even the restored priority control is anti-inflationary in nature. It will reserve materials only for the builders of houses costing less than $10,000, thereby discouraging the flow of scarce bricks, tile, lumber and hardware into the so-called luxury homes which builders prefer to erect.

Officials of the Civilian Production Administration, often at odds with OPA in the past, have joined Price Administrator Chester Bowles n the campaign for immediate extension of price control.

The reason: They fear that manufacturers will withhold goods from the market and wait for price control to die off so they can write their own price tags.

Germany May Become Good Cotton Buyer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14- (P) -Germany may become an outlet for a part of this country's surplus of ways of placing at the disposal of July German textile mills a part of the 2,500,000 bales of such cotton the government acquired before the 23.33 war under its grower price support program.

The objective is two-fold: To help defeated Germany get back on its economic feet and to provide more cotton clothing for needy Europe.

Before the 30's, Germany was one of this country's biggest cotton customers. Then the Reich turned to other cotton and synthetic fiber.

The big problem in the program now under study is one of financing. One suggestion is that the July 1.65% cotton be made available to Germany by means of a loan provided either by the U. S. Export-Import Bank or the Commodity Credit Corporation. The latter agency holds title to the government-owned cotton. UNRRA PURCHASES

Another proposal would involve purchase of the cotton by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. UNRRA then would take payment for the cotton from the Germans in the form of textile for relief of other European countries.

The matter is being studied by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and a cotton export advisory committee, composed of representatives of the American cotton industry, and by the state department. The state department has announced that it favors a policy of providing funds to help Germany import her necessities over

ACUTE SHORTAGE IN LIVESTOCK, POULTRY FEEDS

RALEIGH, Dec. 14. —(A)— Un-less a serious shortage of livestock and poultry feeds improves soon, the government may impose new restrictions on manufacturers, Walter Berger of Washington, chief of the feed division of the U.S. Department of agriculture said here In a speech before the annual meeting of the North Carolina Feed Manufacturers Association, Berger said that such an order probably would limit manufacturers to the amounts of proteins used last year. hes were found and treated with large increase in the production of poultry, Berger recommended that all chicks hatched since June be "liquidated' 'toward relieving the feed shortage. Such liquidation, he said, would not affect the current egg situation. ACUTE SHORTAGE He attributed what he termed an acute shortage of all kinds of Berger was the principal speaker at the opening of a two-day meeting of the association. Another speaker was D. S. Coltrane, assistant state agriculture commissioner. New officers were to be elected later in the day. About 150 feed manufacturers from all sections of the state were registered for the meeting. Eleven Battle Stars
