

VARIETY.

TO NIMOSA.

An Oak I remember, that grew in a glade,
And near it there flourished a delicate Vine,
Contented to bloom like you, in the shade...

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Nov. 12.
MATHIAS THE IMPOSTOR.

It was on Monday announced in the Court of Sessions that the case of Mathias would be yesterday disposed of, and long before the hour arrived for holding the Court, it was filled to overflowing.

On his wrists he wore a pair of white lace ruffles, and had a red silk sash girded round his waist. His trousers were of green cassimere, and his boots were of the best and most fashionable description.

A little after eleven o'clock, the Recorder and Alderman took their seats on the bench, and in a few minutes after, the Recorder announced that the Court, after the most serious deliberation, had determined to suspend the prisoner's trial for the offence of obtaining money under false pretences, and deliver him up to the authorities in Westchester County, to be tried for the alleged murder of Mr. Pierson.

An extract from the Roman Senate.—It being the usual custom of the Roman Governors to advise the Senate and people of such material things as happened in their respective provinces, Publius Lentulus, being President in the days of Tiberias Caesar, the Emperor, wrote the following epistle to the Senate, concerning the description of the person of JESUS CHRIST:

Conscript Fathers: There appeared, in these our days, a man of great virtue, named JESUS CHRIST, who is yet living among us, and of the Gentiles is accepted for a prophet of truth; but his own disciples call him the Son of God. He raiseth the dead, and cureth all manner of diseases—a man of stature somewhat tall and comely, with a very reverend countenance, such as the beholders may both love and fear; his hair of the colour of a filbert, fully ripe, plain to his ears, whence downward it is more orient of color, somewhat curling and waving about his shoulders; in the midst of his head is a seam or partition of his hair, after the manner of the Nazarites; his forehead plain and delicate, his face without spot or wrinkle, beautified with a comely red; his nose and mouth exactly formed, his beard thick, the color of his hair light, not of any great length, but forked—in re-peating, terrible—in admonishing, courteous—in speaking, very modest and wise—in proportion of body, well shaped. None have seen him laugh; but many have seen him weep—a man, for his singular beauty, surpassing the children of men.

He who has wealth, has friends; he who has wealth, has enemies; he who has wealth, is a hero; yea, even a sage.

By the company of gold, every glass acquires the brilliancy of the ruby; thus, by the society of the good, the blockhead is improved.

The improvements, consisting of a Dwelling-House and all necessary out-houses, are new and convenient.

The terms will be made easy to the purchaser, and can be ascertained by addressing the subscriber, at Beattie's Ford, or the Catawba Springs Post-Office. JAMES CONNOR. September 6, 1834.

MANSION HOTEL.

Situated at the North Corner of the Courthouse, SALISBURY, N. C.

THE Subscribers respectfully inform the Public in general, that they have recently purchased and taken possession of the above well-known Establishment. They deem it unnecessary to say any thing in regard to the location of the Hotel, as its many conveniences are already known to the travelling public, or can be seen at a single view of the premises: They therefore content themselves with assuring all who may have occasion to visit or travel through this section of country, (Stage-Passengers, Private Gentlemen, and Families) that the accommodations at the Mansion Hotel cannot be surpassed by any house in this State.

With a well-built and well-arranged house, elegant Dining and Lodging-Rooms, clean and well-furnished Beds, first-rate Cooks, attentive and industrious Servants, well-furnished Table and Bar, and an accommodating Landlord, the proprietors of the Mansion Hotel can with the greatest confidence insure to all who may honor their house with patronage, a large amount of comfort.

Pecks & Wellford's Stage from the North, as well as the Lincolnton and Cheraw Stages, regularly arrive at and depart from the Mansion Hotel, several times each week; and, having an extensive and secure Stable, and Ostlers who are industrious and well-disposed, travellers in private conveyances or on horseback are assured that no pains will be spared to fit their horses for duty on the road after leaving the establishment. HENRY W. CONNER, RICHARD W. LONG, Salisbury, November 8, 1834.—6m

Dissolution of Co-Partnership.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the firm heretofore existing, under the name of HARRIS & SHAVER, is dissolved, by mutual consent of the parties. All persons indebted to the said firm are requested to come forward immediately and settle their accounts; and those to whom we are indebted will please render their accounts to us for payment.

GEORGE M. HARRIS, JOHN I. SHAVER. Salisbury, October 9, 1834.

THE CARRIAGE-MAKING BUSINESS.

HERETOFORE carried on by the above concern, will still be continued by the undersigned, in all its various branches, at the old stand of Harris & Shaver. It is hoped that the liberal patronage heretofore extended to one of us will continue to be bestowed on our new establishment.

Travellers' Inn.

SITUATED SOUTHWEST OF THE COURTHOUSE, HOUSE, IN THE TOWN OF LEXINGTON, (N. CAROLINA).

THE Subscriber takes this method of announcing to Travellers that he keeps a House of Accommodation Southwest of the Courthouse.

His Table will always be supplied with the fare that a plentiful neighborhood can afford. His House being spacious, and attended by those who are industrious and zealous to please, Travellers can always be accommodated with comfortable BEDS in rooms with fire-places.

It is not the least important consideration, in the selection of a place of Accommodation, that the Traveller will always receive such attention, as will be the wish of the Subscriber, that they may have increased ability to do the service of the

An excellent Line of Accommodation Stage Leaves the House of the Subscriber in LISBURY, on the evenings of Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday, and returns to Lexington the succeeding evenings.

Passengers going from South to Lexington, or entering their names as far as Salisbury, there taking the Accommodation Line to Lexington, can have their choice, of the latter between the Piedmont Line and the one by way of Fredericksburg.

JOHN P. MANNING, Lexington, March 9, 1834.

BECKWITH'S Anti-Dyspeptic Pills

THOSE who are afflicted with HEADACHE, HEART-BURNS, and other distressing symptoms of disordered stomach, bowels, and liver, will find relief in Dr. Beckwith's Anti-Dyspeptic Pills, which can be had at this Office—cents per box. The Doctor, who once resided in this city, now lives in Raleigh, has, after a long and successful practice, been enabled to compound a valuable remedy for the chronic diseases of the digestive organs, so common in Southern climates, especially with those who lead sedentary lives.

It would be an easy matter to make a catalogue to prove that these Pills are a "specific remedy" for "all the ills that flesh is heir to," but it is not pretended that they are an universal cure. Certificates of the most respectable Physicians and other gentlemen can be shown, which substantiate their efficacy in the particular diseases above spoken of; and the Editors of the paper can testify that he has derived permanent relief, in the use of them, from a distressing and long-continued head-ache, which his friends tried them, at his suggestion, and experienced the same beneficial effects.

Salisbury, June 14, 1834.—4t

FALL & WINTER FASHIONS FOR 1834-35.

HORACE H. BEARD, Tailor, BEGS leave to inform his friends, and the public in general, that orders in his line of business, will be thankfully received by him, and executed in the most neat, fashionable, and durable manner, on terms as reasonable as any in this section of the country. H. H. B. hopes, from his long practical business, (a number of years of which he has resided in the city of Philadelphia,) and his general satisfaction he has heretofore given to numerous respectable and fashionable customers, to merit and receive a portion of the patronage of the public in general.

He flatters himself that his CUTTING, really superior to any done in this State, can be tested by the undisputed elegance of the attituds garments made in his establishment, and is in the regular receipt of the Reports of the Fashionable, which he constantly in his employ a number of workmen are first-rate, he is enabled to assure the public that work done by him will be both fashionable and warranted to fit the customer.

Cutting-Out, for persons who have their work done elsewhere, will be punctually attended to, from a distance, and made up, both at home and making up work.

Produce received in part pay for work done. To Tailors.—B. F. respectfully informs the public that he is Agent for the Inventor of the new method of Cutting, which is now almost universal in the North, and that he will give instruction to any one who may desire to be more perfect in that branch of the art for a reasonable compensation. Salisbury, 1834.—1y
