method in which she ever does effect a cure Thirdly, the operation is neither difficult nor

And, fourthly, the diseased lung may be wholly removed if necessary. L. F. WARREN, 4381 Broadway.

From the Baltimore Patriot A VAN BUREN NATIONAL BANK.

The Van Buren party are now satisfied that their experiment upon the currency has proved a lamentable failure; and they begin to turn their mind's eye towards the project of a National Bank as the only possible remedy Thinking that the years has rendered such an institution unpopular with the great mass of the people, the party leaders, however well inclined, are afraid to take ground boldly in favor of a National Bank, and by way of sounding public opinion, they pretend to think that the Whig opposition intend to bring forward that project Let these leaders of the party not deceive themselves on this piont. The National Bank, if introduced in Congress, at the miny session, will be brought forward by the Van Buren party, .. The party, whatever it may pretend, is anxious to draw firmer and closer the bond of the Union which it has projected, and in part carried out, between 'Bank and State'a doubt that the party will 'take advantage' of its own wrong' and endeavor to use the argument gowing out of its own atrocious experifavor of some sort of National Exchequer Buck, which shall deal as much in party politics as in-Exchanges, and give to the Government office olders the whole power and control of the Na-Congress, beware of all such creations, them look sharply at the scheme which the Adunistration may present for a National Bank— with checks and balances' to be placed in the hands of hack politicians, such as the Blairs, Kendalls, and Whitneys of the day. Let them look with jealous eye to every plan of the government for increasing its hold upon the public treasure, by the creation of an Exchequer Bank. Bester the whole banking system should fall, tained. than that, by means of such a 'National Bank' that system, together with the whole revenue and treasury of the country, should be brought in subjection, and be under the absolute control of the general government.

That the Yan Buren party have some serious notions to reference to the creation of a National out givings of the prominent actors and organs of the party. As an example, we cite the following remarks from the New Haven Register, a leading organ of the Van Buren party in Counec tient. It smacks pretty strongly of a National

There is no mistake about it-we must have some general currency for the whole countryand it must be a paper currency founded on sprcie basis : we must have currency which will be just as good at N. Orleans, St. Louis, or Boffa in, as it is at New Haven and Hartford -and pass just as freely from hand to hand without dismunt. State institutions can never furnish such a correccy -the experiment has been suffi giently tried and is now an acknowledged fuilure There is no hope from that source. Nothing short of a National Institution, with powerful restrictions, can accomplish it; that can it has exacts what the law does done it and it can again.

The Globe says ?

'It is so vulgar to pay one's bonest debis, that as true follower of the Bink School considers Government. immedi under the slightest obligation, either moral or legal, to do so

The Editor must have had in mind when penning those lines, the masterly feat of his own. by which he discharged a 20 thousand debt by paying $200, 'It is so vulgar to pay one's hones. debt, Mr. B'air !

A rate has been made against the Post master General in the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia, to show cause why a mandamus should not issue against him compelling him to pay certain moneys to Stockton and Stokes, mail contractors. The rule was returned on the 1st of June, when a letter was read to the Court from Kendall, declining to appear and assigning as a feason that the Court has no legal or constitutional authority to require the attendance of the Post Master General in such a case.' The question was argued at length, and the Court took time to consider.

Richmond Whig.

The 'Merchant' thus speaks of the affair : The insolence of men clothed in a little brief authority, was never more strikingly illustrated than in the case of Amos Kendall. He not only refused to pay the balance due to some of the contractors of the Department, but, in the case of Stockton and Stokes, seized upon the money due them by the Department, which he placed to account of sums which he alleged had been illegally paid them by his predecessor. After a spealing in vain to the Department, Stockton and Stokes carried their case before Congress, who passed a law referring the matter in dispute in the Solicitor of the Preasury, whose award in their favor directed Kendall to pay over the Kendall refused. The matter was referred to Attorney General, Mr. Butler, who sustained the award. Kendall still refused Mesers. Stockton and Stokes then carried the inatter before the President, who referred it to the Indiciary, who were unanimously of opinion that Kendall should pay the money, which opin-ion was unanimously approved by the Senate. Kendall still refused to pay. And now, when Stockton and Stokes appeal to the Judiciary, as their last resort, their only means of coercing Kendall to execute a positive act of Congress, he refuses to recognize the power of the Court to examine into his conduct, or to coerce the fulfil neat of his duty. We will endeavor to obtain the documents in this case for the purpose of submitting them to our readers?

The New Haven Register, a leading Administration print says "There is no mistake about it we must have some general currency, founded on specie basis; we must have currency which will be just as good at New Orleans, St. Louis or Buffalo, as it is at New Haven and other for the Presbyterian persuasions. The shell Hartford-and pass just as freely from hand to hand without discount. State institutions can never furnish such a currency the experiment has been sufficiently tried, and is now an acknowledged failure.-There is no hope from that source.-Nothing short of a national institution with powerful restrictions, can accomplish it; that can-it has done it-and it can

It is well that the Distribution bill passed as vear, a vastly increased amount of the public lands would have passed into the hands of speculators, and the whole revenue from them would have been lost. We thought it had enough that the deposite banks should have the that the deposite banks should have the use of 'We are opposite Miss Linwood's Exhibition was only the beginning of the spoils upon the London. This is a gallery of what the Specia-tors, uninformed, would take to be pictures; and now in danger of losing the principal. The de- I am persuaded nine out of ten of the populace posite banks have failed. If they pay over their | would go away, after an examination, with the quota of the deposites, it will be in their own same belief. They are all done, however, with bills, some, if not many, of which will be little worsted, on canvass, with the hand.—There are better than waste paper. It is thus that the more than 60 of them, occupying two walls 80 public treasure which was wrested from the U to 90 feet long, and a third smaller room besides. nited States Bank, in violation of law, has been squandered and lost. What imposition and outrage shall we next be required to suffer ?—Kencluding an extraordinary one of the artiste her-

The Government dependent on the Monster. -We learn from good authority, that the Execunmeasured abuse which they themselves have utive has solicited, and obtained from the Uniheaped upon the National Bank, for the last seven | ted States Bank a loan of $500,000 in specie! Until this sum was furnished by the much tra doced Bidule, as pecuniary embargo was laid on the sailing of the ship which has the high honour of carrying Daffas, the immortal demagague, to his mission in Russia. The fact must inflict on the great anti monster, democratic family the severest mortification. Only to think, that in the golden age of democratic rule, after an eight the canvass and the worsted, to be satisfied of country they cannot deceive. The project of a years 'experiment,' and but a month or two after Jackson's bombastic declaration that he 'left the country prosperous and happy,' this same prosperous country has to prop its fallen credit by an abject application to a corporation which work of nearly ten years, and the result, to, it has injured and persecuted illegally, vindic- of the best skill of the artiste, being the last of tively and undeservedly! What a comment on her productions, and finished only at the age of the wisdom of our rulers! Newbern Spectator.

IMPORTANT JUDICIAL DECISION. The Circuit Court of the District of Columbia has decided, in the case of Stockton & Stokes vs. Awas Kendall, the Postmaster General, that the Court has jurisdiction of his case, the opinion of said Amos of his independence of the laws backed by that of the city Attorney General Butler, tional Revenue. Let the Whigs in and out of to the contrary notwithstanding. The Court Let will order a writ of mandamus to issue against Kendall, commanding him to credit Stockton & Stokes with the balance remaining due to them, according to the award and report of the Solicitor. unless he shall show cause to the contrary. The question whether a mandamus shall issue, commanding him to pay the balance, is reserved for further consideration, when the result of the mandamus to credit the balance shall be ascer-

Will Amos resist the decision of the Court, under claim of a right to, assert the 'indepen dence' of his Department,' as he understands it? We should not be astonished; for whom God will destroy be first makes mad!

We concur in the opinion expressed by the National Intelligencer, as the high importance of Bank, is sufficiently apparent, from the various this decision, 'in reference to the legal right of to do at present, bringing the public mind to con-American citizens and the legal duties of public officers. That paper adds :

Reasoning from analogy, and never having pretended to make a view of the question on its pionts of law, we have never doubted that the Pustmaster General was as subject to the action of the laws, in cases of trespass on individual rights, under color of official duty, or through fleious zeal, as other officers of the Government. Such suits have been brought, prosecu ted to judgment, and jodgment followed by exeeution repeatedly, in cases of Collectors of the Customs, Offices of the Army and Navy & And why not in the case of the Postmaster them ral? A Collector of a port is a receive not the Pustinaster General is neither more -the one a receiver of duties an almost the other of duties on postage: atte amenable to the laws

the law protected citizens of a free Republican Ly chbarg Virginian

MICHIGAN CITY, May 17.

OUR CITY .- To say that we are going head beyond all precedent would be too much in the cant style of the day, and we will therefore confine ourselves to the statement of a few facts, from which others may draw the inference Sixteen vessels are now owned and controlled here, besides one fine steam boat (the Detroit.) Merchants in the interior may now rely, with certainty, upon their goods being safely, directly and expedititionsly forwarded.

The travelling community are well accommodated. A daily line of four horse stages leaves here for Detroit, and another for Chicago, also every day. Another for White Pigeon east and another for Juliet, West-all carving the mail. The stock is already purchased and now being located on the road to run a four horse line of stages three times a week from this to Lafavene, there connecting with the tri-weekly line to Indianapolis, and thus forming a direct and expeditious conveyance to the Ohio river, either by Madison or Cincinnati, and so on to Washington City, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and all ports of the South and East Capt. Whitaker, of New Buffalo, Michigan, has also started a tri-weekly accommodation between that place and this, which commenced running last week, and is soon designed to connect with a line to St. Joseph in the same State. The daily lines to Cincago and eastward as far as Niles, and the tri-weekly to Lafavette, for Senate, who referred it to the Committee on the more than half the distance are entirely owned here.

The subject of the rail road being located here, and its progress, was referred to his country with a devotion rare in our times, in our last week's paper. The whole line, and more properly belonging to the better days we believe, has been by this time, run, and and its grading will be put under contract in a few weeks.

The construction of the harbor is proceeding with all possible despatch, and the United States engineer, lieute ant Stockton, has permanently located himself here, for the purpose of superintending it. In a few weeks the mouth of the river will be opened and pers run no to a considerable distance.

Of subjects of private enterprise, we have no time nor room for enumeration. I we large church es are in progress, one for the Episcopal & the of the former will be up this week. Preparations are also making for the erection of a capacious Methodist Church, the lot for the purpose hav-ing been lately selected. We speak within the mark when we say, that if materials and bands could be engaged, little short of three hundred houses would be put up this summer. We will advert to more particulars hereafter.

-I.M. C. Gazette.

Beautiful Production of female genius .- The forty millions of the public revenue, without ine which, if it be got in the Guide book, ought to be, smart.

drying up one of the lungs; and this is the only | terest, to speculate and shave with; but that | for it is as wonderful in its way as any thing in .- They are of all sizes, and the variety of subself at the age of twenty-historical and rural scenes; horses and dogs, that seem ready to spring from the wall; a countryman smoking his pipe with an old hat on; a girl, with a kitten in her lap, &c. &c. Now any body, almost might make these things after some fashion or other, but how she has contrived to make them so perfect, so picture-like, so life-like I should say ; how she has wrought in all the colors, line aments, expressions, and nicest shades this is the worder. The varisemblance, however, is such, that I assure you, though apprised of what was before me, I could not refrain from handling the fact which was told me. Particularly this was the case with the picture of the curse of Cair, a large copy say eight feet by three, in a splendid frame. This, I have heard, was the 77, some three years ago; for the accomplished Miss Linwood, be it known as not altogether the bloshing maiden one readily imagines at hearing the name. She lives at Lewester, I think, and must have made a comfirtable living by this how. It is to be hoped so at least. She began in childhood -from pure instructive ingeror ty, it would seem and without justruction even -and she has continued over 60 years at the work. The light upon Cain's face as truely wonderful, how worsted should do it, too. And then this beautitul head of Christ-a copy, I ha ev from a Carlo Doler. Most beautiful indeed Christ giving the stcrament. This she contiders her chief d'oevure. I hear; and I can easily believe; as it is stated that a foreign nobleman has offered her £3,000 for this single gem. In dimensions it is only some four feet by two. In myterious ingenuity, however, it is among the mechanical marvels of the world. Let every body in London look for Miss Linwood's Exhibi-

> We agree entirely with the Editor of the Philadelphia Gazette in his opinion as to the nexpediency of thrusting Presidential cardidates before the People at this time. Nothing but mischief can grow out of it. We have enough cert of action in the work of discarding th incompetent public servants who have so long deceived us, without superadding difficulties.

> R Whig. Our party is again attempting snicide by the premature nomination of candidates for the next Presidency. What is the need of this? Our enemies are looking on with triumph at the growing confusion in our counsels. Why not wan for concert of action? Men have been n med for the office who would fill it as it has never been filled since the days of Washington: out we ask, is it good policy, because the Whig ranks have so many men who would do hon or to the Presidential Chair, that every edor in the party should have his own candidate?

a criton, there is strength-in divisions, the desired of a sucking. Oh, that men were they understood this that they vould consider !" .

Philadelphia Gazette.

Fr P The Richmond Enquirer has published with a puff, the Loco Foco Report of Mr. luger soll, in the Pennsylvania Convention, on the subject of Banking - which that body refused to mut! This Vir Inversell, who is now a gemerat,' of unquestionable orthodoxy, in 1916 de lared that a National Bank was indispensable: and, like his brother turneceat, Richard Rush. was an office-holder under the federalist John Q. Adams! - Lyuchburg Virginian.

The Charlottesville Republican of the The just informs us that negroes were sold in that place on the preceding Menday for $350. which two years ago, would have commanded Calling upon Hercules - The accredited gov ernment organ, in Philadelphia admits that the Bank of the United States has loaned or advanced to the Government four or five hundred thousand dollars, in order to discharge the pensions due our naval veterans."

'The Wheel of Fortune.' - The celebrated Jacon Barker, for many years one of the most eminent Merchants and Bankers of the City of New York, now resides in the city of New Orleans. where he follows the practice of the Law. Mr. Barker is a native of Nantucket, and for many years was a sailor.

MR. CLAY AT HOME. - Extract of a letter to the Philadelphia Inquirer, dated

LEXINGTON, KY. May 21. On Saturday, the beautiful country seat of Mr. Clay. Kentucky has many things of which she may be proud of. She may proud of her rich and fertile soil; of the beautiful mead ows and wood pastures with which Providence has blessed her. She may well be proud of the lofty stand she has taken against executive dictation. But, in my opinion, the proudest feather in her cap is, that she has fostered with kind, protecting care, that adopted son-one of her brightest jewels-the son who has served the Republic I mean Henry Clay. when the excitement of party predjudice and political bigotry have subsided :- when some other Hume or Robertson shall write her history :although there will be many sunny spots upon which he will love to linger; although he will delight to speak of her as the hunting ground and battle field of the ted man calthough he will rejoice in representing the labor and toil and endurance of her early settlers; although he will feel a glow of honest pride to describing her as contending side by side with Massachuseils and South Carolina, against the misrule of our age-the brightest leaf in the chapter of her history, will be that which records the nuble offerts and Roman patriotism of her gifted son. I wish you could have seen him, in his plain and repub ican attire, roaming over his ample possessions and exhibiting the fine stock which he pusses ses. It was delightful to witness this great mat retiring from the fretful scenes of public strife and passing his time in the simple pursuits of a farmer's life—finding more 'true juy' in its art less pleasures, than did the soldier planter of Tennesses experience when in the height of his power he bid his willing slaves expunge a truth s indelible as the blue vault of Heaven.

A writer in one of the northern papers on school discipline, says, without a libera use of the rod, it is impossible to make boys

THE BRIDE-A SECTOR Among the crowds who were hastily promen-West; and if his step degenerated into a stride, and then a run he might be pardoned. Charles West was a new made bridegroom. The transition from the dirty, cold streets, to the warm parlor, was in itself pleasureable; and added to that, to be welcomed home by a bright eyed girl -all smiles and all blushes (for the honey moon was barely passed) was absolutely something too paradisal for earth. Emma had wheele the sofa in front of the fire, and as Charles had seared himself beside her he was certainly a very happy fellow. Alas! he had as yet only drank the bubbles on the cop. Emma looked leve ly, for the glow of the warm coal fire had given a bloom to her usually pale check which heigh tened the lustre of her dark eyes. But there ame a shade of thought over Emma's brow, and her hosband instantly remarked it. I eis strange how soon husbands see cludds on their liege la by's brow. It was the first Charles ever saw there and it excited his tenderest inquiries. Was see unwell? did she wish for any thing? Emma hesitated, she blushed and looked down tharles pressed to know what had east such a shadow over her spirits. I fear you will think me silly, but Mary French has been sitting with me this afternoon. Not for that, certainly, said Charles, smiling, 'Oh! I aid not mean for that, but you know we began to keep bruse nearly at the same time, only they sent by Brent to New York for carpeting. Mary would have me walk down to Brent's store this evening, with her, and he has brought two-and they are such loves'-Charles bit has lip. Mary,' she continued, 'said you would never let that odious Wilton lay on the parlor, if you once saw that splendid Brussels; -so rich and so cheap -only $75. Now the todious Wilton,' had been selected by Charles' mother and presented to them, and the color deepened on his cheek, as his animated bride continued, 'Suppose we walk down to Charles gravely, you are mistaken, if you supone which will answer very well, and is perfeetly new.' Emma's vivacity fled, and she sat child, exonerates Mr. H. from all blame awkwardly picking her nails. Charles felt, embarrassed - he drew out his watch and put it ing child, the effect of whose melarcholy, death back, - whistled, and finally spying a periodical upon his parents and acquaintances, but particuon Emma's table, began to read aloud some beautiful verses. His voice was well toned, it, may be imagined, but cannot be described.and he soon entered into the spirit of the writer, and forgot his embarrassment; when, looking into Emma's eyes, how he was surprised instead of the sympathetic feeling he expected dent displeasure on her brow, and a tear slowl trickling down her cheeks Charles was a sensible young man-1 wish there were more of them-and he reflected a moment before he said 'Emma, my love, get your bonnet and cloak on. and walk with me, if you please.' Emma look ed as if she would like to pout a little longer, but Charles said 'come' with such a serious gravity on his countenance, that Emma thought proper to accede, and nothing doubting but that it was to purchase the carpet, took his arm with a smile of triumph. They crossed several streets in the direction of Brent's until at last they stood before the door of a miserable tenement in a back street Where in the world are you taking me!' in quired Emma, shrinking back. Charles quietly led her forward, and lifting a latch, they stood in a little room, around the grate of which, three small children were hovering closer, as the cold wind swept through the crevices in the decayed walls. An emacrated being, whose shrunk tea tures sparkling eyes and flushed cheek, spoke of deadly consumption, lay on a wretchedeld bed, the light covering of which barely sufficed le keep her from freezing, while a spectral babe, whose black eyes looked unnaturally large from its extreme thinness, was vainly en deavoring to draw sustenance from the dying mo-

'How are you, Mrs. Wright?' quietly inquired Charles. The woman feebly raised herself on her arm. 'Is it you, Mr West ? On how glad I am you are come-your mother?' 'Has not been at home for a month, and the lady who promised her to look after you in her absence. only informed me to-day of your increased illress.' I have been very ill,' she faintly replied. sinking back on her straw bed. Emma drew near, she arranged the pillow and bed-clothes over the feeble sufferer, but her heart was too full to speak. Charles observed it, and felt satished. 'Is that beautiful girl your bride? I heard you were married.' 'Yes, and in my mother's absence she will see you do not suffer." Bless you, Charles West bless you for a good son of a good mother: may your young wife deserve you-and that is wishing a great deal for You are very good to think of me, she said, looking at Emma, and are you just married.' Charles saw Emma could not speak, and he hurried her home, promising to send the poor woman coal that night. The moment they reached home, Emma burst into tears. 'M's dear Emma,' said Charles, soothingly, "I hope I have not given you too severe a shock. It is sometimes salutary to look on the miseries of

please. . It is unnecessary to say the 'odious Wilton kent its place, but the shivering children of want were taught to bless the name of Emnia West, and it formed the last articulate murmur on the lips of the dying sufferer.

Melancholy Accident .- The New York Ga

zette of Monday says :-"We record with deep regret the sudden death, by drowning, of Miss Emma Embury, the Regency bank was willing to reward, daughter of Peter Embury, Esq. of this city. - with small change their invaluable serv The full particulars of this painful event have not yet been communicated to her afflicted family. Miss Embury was on a visit to some relations residing near the Blazing Star Ferry, Sta ten Island. On Saturday morning she went on water excursion in a sail boat with her cousin, Miss Jacot, Mr. Edward H. Jacot, and two lads named Brooks, his nephews. From some cause at present unknown, but we presume from a sud. den flaw of wind, the boat was upset, and wiss E. was drowned, as above stated. The body had not been recovered at the last accounts. would be superogatory in us to aftempt to offer any consolation to her afflicted family, whose be selected as the organ through which only comfort in this, their deep affliction, must this announcement was made to the House!

Shocking Calamity-We are pained to learn from the Wooster. (Wayna county, Ohio.) Jour-nal, that a most distressing fire and loss of lives. occurred in that county, on the 30th alt. The house belonging to Mr. Butchel was consumed

. He crossed over and asked them what they were about, when they replied that the man was drunk and they were going to hold of the man and found that he was dead .-On examination a quantity of blood was found near the spot, and a severe wound on his head, The waterman could obtain no information from the women, who were very abasive and insolent. There is a vile rum hole at the above corner, and the above death can no doubt be traced to this den of infamy What is most extraordinary in this affair is, that the watchman suffered the women to depart, and brought the dead man in a cart to the death house in the Alms House. He then sturned to the den, which, as might have been expected, was closed. It is therefore very doubtful whether the women can ever be identi fied, and the cause of the man's death will remain a mystery -N Y Gaz.

Stabbing .- On Samuday night, about 11 o'- noble undertaking is going forward, h. the door of Mr. Adama, praprietor of the hotel nest the Park theatre. They were making a great noise and annoving his customers. Mr A. r-peatedly ordered them off, but without effect-He then look a cowhide and proceeded to chastise the young miscreants, when one of them drew a kurfe and stabbed him in the breast and face. The wounds although deep, are not dengerous. Medical assistance was procuted, but the perpetrator of the deed, owing to the confusion. effected his escape - New York Paper.

HAGERSTOWN, June 1.

Melancholy Accident -On Tuesday last. William, eldest son of Mr. George Bowman, of this town aged about 13 years, was instantane tion at a given time, it would been ously killed by the accidental discharge of a gun. The particulars, we believe, are these The deceased, his father, and Mr J. K. Harry. were out gunning about eight miles from town. Having stopped at a spring to refresh themselves. Mr. H. took up one of the guns, perhaps a rifle. Brent's and look at it-there are only two, and and whilst examining it, on a sudder change of it seems a pity not to secure it ' 'Emma,' said | position, it discharged, and the contents, we believe a rifle ball, entered the cheek of the pose my business will justify extravagance. It ceased between the eye and the mouth, and will be useless to look at the carpet, as we have caused immediate death. We understand that Mr. Bowman, the father of the unfortunate

The deceased was an interesting and promis larly, upon the agonized father, who witnessed

Accident -A child, between 3 and 4 years of age, named John Lawlor, was accidentally kifto meet, to see her head bent on her hand, evi- led in Elizabeth street on Saturday morning. It appears the child was climbing up on the spokes | Now, this at once points to the of the wheel of a eart standing in the street. The cartman came out of a store and jumped on his cart, without seeing the child, to go away. As soon as he began to turn the unfortunate little boy fell off, and melancholy to relate, his head was completely mashed to pieces between the wheel and the curb stone. No blame attaches in the slightest degree to the eartman. New York Guzette.

> A Life Lost .- The body of a German was taken from the Schovikill on Friday last, and the toflowing facts were elicited at the investigation held by the Coroner. It seems that on the day previous a party of Germans were engaged to enload a coal bost, and while so employed, were furiously assaulted by anoth men, who threw malks of vier Vird et according!

Another .- A young man au age, son of Mr. Onver, tobacconist, 5th near South, while bathing in the Delaware below Almond st, on Saturday, was suddenly seized with the cramp, as was supposed, sank and was drowned. His body was recovered and carried home to his afflicted family vesterday morning we learn that no less than eleven persons were drowned in the Sennytkill and Delaware, in the immediate vicinity of Philadelphia, during the month of May .- Ib

From the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser. SUGAR PLUMS FOR GOOD BOYS.

On the last day of the Session of the Legislature, just before the adjournment, the Speaker announced the receipt of the following important communication from the Cashier of the Mechanic's Bank, of Alba-

'Sir: I venture, in speaking for ourselves, to anticipate the cordial appropation of our sister institutions in saving that it will afford the banks of this city much pleasure others, that we may properly appreciate for our to furnish the Legislature with some specie own happiness. Here is a purse containing change, as they are about leaving the ctiv. seventy-five dollars, you may spend it as you That gentlemen may ask for it with entire freedom, you are at liberty to make this anbouncement to the House.

·Very respectfully, &c 'THOS. W. OLCOTT.'

How noble and magnanimous this offer on the part of Mr. Thomas W Olcott. And with what unutterable teelings of gratitude and admiration must the Van Buren members have received this anneuncement, that They, no doubt, thought that the era so long predicted by Jackson, Benton, and Blair, had come; and each probably provided himself with a green silk purse, wherein to deposite the precious sixpences and ten-cent pieces; and, lest, they might have some delicacy about availing themselves of such unheard of generosity, the Speaker was authorized to announce that members might ask for the small change with caure freedom." How flattering to the Speaker to

An illustration of the wisdom of the Currency Tinkers .- A gentleman (a director in one of the Vermont banks) arrived to New York on Saturday morning with 14,000 dollars in small notes of the Bank monetary affairs of the United by fire, and shocking to relate, four of his chil, of Bennington, which he readily disposed be gratifying and encouraging dren, the eldest a daughter about 10 years of of at two and a half per cent. premium, for who takes an interest in age, perished in the flames. The fire is supposed ty money; the city money he invested in that country. We cannot be the country. ed to have originated from a fracture in the the larger notes of the New England banks press our admiration of the personal press our admiration of the persona at two per cent. discount; and on Saturday with which Mr. Nicholas Biddle is afternoon took the boat for Boston, and at ier, and the managing directors de day murning, at the corner of Leonard and Or- ten Monday morning deposited the amount ted States Bank, came for said the angestreets, saw two black women on the came, in old Suffolk at a conferred the amount. ange streets, saw two black women on the oppo- in old Suffolk, at a profit of about $630. A difficulties of the merchants and opposite of the merchants and difficulties of the merchants and opposite of the merchants and difficulties of the merchants and opposite of the mercha site corner, dragging a black man from the side pretty good operation for four days,—Star. ty with which he provided a temper

The Wilmington and Roanoke Ral b We can but admire the spuit with paid over) but the work is guing at at both ends. In the an an ingo, a line from Charleston to Wilmago rablished, which is to expect tempni the Portsmouth Rail Road by many When the Road is completed, this line will still be kept up, and come this inland route the dangers of our me ous const are avoided, viz : Frying Park Cape Look Out : Cape Halling : sound of which names, are storay too, the greater certainty of gening has route must take most of the traveling goes by the steam packets, and the

COMING TO THE POINT There is more commun sense in the it. sentence from the New York on the National Intelligencer, than it ble imperial broad-side of Manage and Argricolas, such as we observe a mond Enquirer on the causes d into which our commerce has faller be profitable.

" If the Treasury Circular lad specie to go to Europe, which a every ship, the Bank of England ished coffers, would not have been un cessity of contracting its issues to its American credit, and thereby knocking down the price of cotton

of the pressure-And so paipable is a that it would seem to require in des most hardened effrontery to preled to Some of the party prints have been at forced to yield the point : according a from the " Jeffersonian Republicas" Charlottesville, Va , and said to be a dence of Senator Rives, a broad single the unusual drain of specie from the (caused by the operation of the emple) accumulation in the wild-far tel et has been locked up from its admin a duced much of the prevailing dante money market, and has compelled the list the boules pank in coming to the in of the Merchants, by substituting is bonds for those of individuals,- sin England as a master stroke of fimenia they speak of it there as 'bold' will and 'unparalleled.' It was sellim to soow how successful it has been need only be adverted to that the are sought with the utmost exercise public will remember how this mental Biddle, was sneered at by the " experimenters' when it was fix in Now it appears however that this has served to raise the commercial ter of our nation, in the estimated gefs, while the course of our fl

has been sinking it. For there the currency menders read the

from a Liverpool correspondent to !

in New York.

LIVERPOOL. 24th April

Since we last addressed your with dates to the 5th rost, has affin New York, and has made uf all with the energetic measures por cerried into effect by the Fusion United States Bank of Penns

The issuing of Bones by a hall undoubted_credit cannot lai 10 100 lamity which has been impending commercial relations of the land and Great Britain. This means thus regarded in Liverpool; even those opposed to Amend can policy, agree in awarding to 18 tor e distinction unparalleles nanciers In fact, it is enreeded United States Bank has dand his expedient, to enable the come munity of that country to reach perative call from Great British payment of debts which the could Bank of England had gradually them to contract.'

To this Letter we annes the glowing tribute of praise from

[From the Liverpool Mail of The intelligence which we put Saturday, relative to the comme