We have compiled, from various sources which were commanded from their severa, authors by the lofty patriotism, valor, talents and success of Gen. HARRISON, long before he was named for the Presidency, and in times which ought to give them weight sufficient to bear down all the petty calumnies and quibbling objections which eparty malignity may now presume to forge against the war-worn and time-honored pariot and soldier.

The authorities we present against the puny attacks of Loco-Foco Federalism, and which we shall stereotype as an impregnable barricade against all opposition, are no less than the Congress of the United STATES, the LEGISLATURES OF INDIANA, and of KENTUCKY, JAMES MADISON, JAMES MONROE, COLONEL RICHARD M. JOHNSON, ANTHONY WAYNE, LANGDON CHEVES, SI-MON SNYDER, GOV. SHELBY, COM PERRY, COL CROGHAN, COL DAVIES, and others, including in the illustrious catalogue even THOMAS RITCHIE bimself !

We begin with the testimony of Colonel RICHARD M. JOHNSON, now Vice President of the United States.

Col. Johnson said, (in Congress) -" Who is Gen. Harrison ? The sen of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independ ence, who spent the greater part of his large fortune in redeeming the pledge he then gave of his 'fortune, life and sacred honor,' to secure the liberties of his country.

" Of the career of Gen. Harrison I need not speak-the history of the West, is his history. For forty years he has been identified with its interests, its perils and its hopes. Universally beloved in the walks of peace, and distinguished, by his ability in the councils of his country, he has been yet more illustriously distinguished in the field.

" During the late war, he was longer in active service than any other General officer; he was, perhaps, oftener in action than any one of them, and never sustained a defeat.' .

James Madison, in a special message to Congress, Dec. 18, 1811, said,

While it is deeply lamented that somany valnable, fives have been lost in the action which took place on the 7th ult; Congress will see with satisfaction the dauntless spirit of fortitude victoriously displayed by every description of troops engaged, as well as the collected firmness which distinguished their commander on an oc casion requiring the utmost exertions of valour and discipline.

James Madison in his message to Congress, Nov. 1812, said,

An ample force from the States of Kentucky Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, is placed, with the addition of a few regulars, under the command of Brigadier General Harrison, who possesses the entire confidence of his fellow soldiers, among whom are citizens, some of them volunteers in the ranks, not less distinguished by their political stations than by their personal

In Mr. Madison's message of Dec. 1813 the compliment was extended, as follows

The success on Lake Erie having opened a passage to the territory of the enemy, the officer commanding the Northwestern arms, transferred the war thitter, and, rapidly pursuing the hostile troops, fleeing with their savage associate, forced a general action, which quickly terminated in the capture of the British, and dispersion of the savage force.

This result is signally honorable to Major General Harrison, by whose military talents it was prepared.

The following tribute of praise was paid to General Harrison, in 1811, by eleven of the officers who fought under his banner at the battle of Tropecanoe:

" Should our country again require our ser vices to oppose a civilized or a savage foe, we should march under General Harrison with the most perfect confidence of victory and fame." JOEL COOK, R. B. " I make free to declare, that I have imagined there were two military men in the West, and Gen. Harrison is the first of the two.'

Message of Simon Snyder, Governor of the day of sale. Pennsylvania, Dec. 10, 1813.

Already is the brow of the young warrior, Crogban, encircled with laurels, and the blessings of thousands of women and children rescuel from the scalping knife of the rathless savage of the wilderness, and from the still more savage Proctor, rest on Harrison and his gallant army.

In the Legislature of Indiana, on the 12th Nov. 1811, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Gen. Win Johnson, thus addressed Gen. Harrison : "Sir-The House of Representatives of the In liana territory, in their own name, and in behalf of their constituents, most cordially reciprocate the c ngratulation of your Excellency on the glorious result of the late sanguinary conflict with the Shawnee Prophet, and the tribes. of ladians confederated with him; when we see displayed in behalf of our country, not only the consummate abilities of the general, but the heroism of the man; and when we take into view the benefits which must result to that country from those exertions, we cannot, for a moment, withhold our meed of applause?

Legislature of Kentucky, Jan. 7, 1812.

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Rep. resentatives of the State of Kentucky, in the late campaign against the Indians upon the Wabash, Gov. William Henry Harrison has behaved like a hero, a patriot, and a general; and that for his cool, deliberate, skilful and gallant conduct in the battle of Tippecannoe he well deserves the warmest thanks of his country and his nation.

Gen. Anthony Wayne, in his Letter to the Secretary of War, giving an official account of his sacquinary Indian Battle, in 1792, said :

communicating my orders in every direction, kept in Stores. and by his conduct and bravery, exciting the troops to press for victory.

Resolution directing the medals to be struck, and, together with the thanks of Congress, presented to Major General Harrison, and Givernor Shelby, and for other purposes. Resolved by the Senate and House of Repin Congress assembled, That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major General William Henry Harrison, and Isaac Shelby, late Governor of Kentucky, and, through them to the officers and men unthe following disinterested testimonials, der their command, for their gallantry and good conduct in defeating the combined British and Indian forces under Major General Proctor, on the Thames, in Upper Canada, on the fitth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, capturing the British army, with their baggage, camp equippage, and artillery; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause two gold medals to be struck, emblematical of his triumph, and presented to General Harrison and Isaac Shelby, late Governor of Kentucky.

H. CLAY. Speaker of the House of Representatives. JOHN GALLIARD, President of the Senate, pro tempore. April 4, 1818 .- Approved,

JAMES MONROE. Gov. Shelby to Mr. Madison, May 18

"I feel no hesitation to declare to you that believe Gen. Harrison to be one of the first mil tary characters I ever knew. Col. Richard M Johnson to Gen. Harrison, July 4, 1813, says : " We did not want to serve under cowards or traitors; but under one [Harrison] who had proved himself to be wise, prudent and brave,' Commodore Petry to General Harrison, August 18, 1817, says :

"The prompt change made by you in the order of battle on discovering the position of the enemy, has always appeared to me to have evinced a high degree of military talent. I concur with the venerable Shelby in his general approbation of your conduct in that campaign.'

Lastly we come to the neat compliment of Thomas Ritchie, editor of the Richmond Enquirer, the leading organ of the Coalition in the South, who now brandishes his old "chapeless sword with two broken points," and threatens devastating war upon the congoeror of the British and Indian Coalition of the West! The Richmond Enquirer said :

"General Harrison's letter tells us every thing that we wish to know about the officers, except himself. He does justice to every one but Harrison-and the world must therefore do justice to the man, who was too modest to be just to himself."

TO OWNERS OF MILLS.

THE Subscriber has an improved Patent SPINDLE for Mills, by which, a mill will do much better than with the usual form of Spin dles. It is so constructed as to keep from heating or killing the meal in any manner. The runner is so confined by the Spindle as always to preserve its balance, and of course there is no rubbing of the stones.

I think, by this improved Spindle, the same water will do at least one-third more business, and the meal of superior quality.

Any person wishing to use one of these Spindles, may obtain one or more, by making applica tion, (within a short time) to the Subscriber at Mocksville, Davie Co. N. C. I think the probable cost will not exceed $30 for the Patent and Spindle ready for use.
