

LOOK OUT WHIGS, EVERY WHERE.

There is something really alarming in the tone of the subjoined article, which we copy from the Newark Daily Advertiser...

To the Editor of the Newark Daily Advertiser.

A letter has accidentally come into my possession which discloses a desperate and deep-laid scheme to defeat the election of General Harrison...

The Post Office is the engine—Amos Kendall the instrument to effect it. The first step is already taken, by ordering every channel of communicating information to the People to be closed...

This scheme accounts for their confidence in the success of Mr. Van Buren, notwithstanding their overwhelming defeat in almost every State in which there has been an election...

You may depend upon it they are playing a desperate game; they make no calculation for a retreat; they have inscribed upon their banners "rule or ruin..."

I am no alarmist. I have ever relied with confidence upon the intelligence, integrity, and patriotism of the people of this country...

I would suggest the propriety of recommending the Whigs throughout the country to be prepared, if necessary, to establish expresses in every State in the Union...

From the Cincinnati Gazette. BOYS, LISTEN TO THIS!

The whigs advertised a meeting at Coleraine, in this county, on the 18th. A respectable assembly of both political parties met, and were addressed by Messrs C. B. Smith, of Indiana, and Mr. Cary, of this city...

POSTERITY—A knock down argument.—A locofoco member of the Illinois Legislature was lately setting forth in glowing language, the advantages which such and such measures would confer upon posterity...

'RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM'

Every day brings some new proof of the extravagance of the men now entrusted with the administration of public affairs...

was greater than it has been since the appointment of Mr. Hoyt the present collector, the number of persons employed was less than one-third of the present number...

Excess of persons employed by Mr. Hoyt, 312. Excess of money expended by Mr. Hoyt, $358,062.

How wonderfully the country has gained in point of economy!—Madisonian.

Selected from Prentiss's Louisville Journal.

The Pa. Democratic asks whether we would have the office holders, that is, the leg-treasurers "work for nothing and find themselves."

Reader, did you ever look at the bowl of a spoon, held horizontally, and see your face in it as round and jolly as that of a fat friar...

The New Era talks about a "partnership between the Whigs and the negroes." Have not the negroes some few partners—"sleeping partners"—among the loco focus?

The Newbern Sentinel says—"Dr. Duncan is an abolitionist or a hypocrite—he may take either horn of the dilemma."

Col. R. M. Johnson, went into a store and asked for a pair of gloves. "Of what color do you wish them?" enquired a young clerk...

The editor of the N. Y. New Era calls the Whigs "creeping things." Did he scratch his head for that idea?

The editor of the Vermont Statesman says that he knows of a small city in that State, "one half of the male population of which, if not absolutely temperate, are at least intemperate."

We will lay any thing that the Whigs disband in less than three months.—Eastern Democrat.

"Lay any thing?" Well, lay an egg then. Gen. Harrison cannot get New York city by 20,000.—New Era.

Well, if he gets it by 19,000, his friends will be satisfied.

There is some dispute in New York as to the precise meaning of the term "Burr-enders," the name of one of the factions of the loco focus party in that city.

The Times, in administration paper, and the Gazette, a Whig paper, have been united. The union of the two makes an administration paper.—Eastern Democrat.

Very likely! Put a pint of dirty water and a pint of clean water together, and the whole will be dirty.

It is said, that, during the late session of the New Hampshire Legislature, a quantity of wax was slyly deposited in the chair of the loco focus Speaker.

The editor of the New Albany Argus, whose acts of theft we exposed the other day, is a member of the Church. We never think of his character without being at the same time reminded of a walk of a well known mercantile firm in New York—PRAY AND STEEL.

POSTERITY—A knock down argument.—A locofoco member of the Illinois Legislature was lately setting forth in glowing language, the advantages which such and such measures would confer upon posterity...

The first news, that reached Nashville in regard to the Louisiana elections, was favorable to the Administration. Thereupon the Nashville locos, without a moment's delay, brought out their big gun, purchased a large quantity of powder, and sent to the Hermitage for Gen. Jackson to come and join them in their festivities.

That night, at the dead hour of twelve o'clock, a carriage was seen speeding for the Hermitage, and, on the next morning, a Whig delegation waited upon the sheepish looking loco focus to buy their powder!

At the request of some of our subscribers, we selected several of the most popular Whig songs and poetry, which we publish below.—[EDS. WATCHMAN.

From the United States Gazette. A NATIONAL WHIG SONG.

In the strength of your might, from each mountain and valley, Sons of Freedom arise! the time is at hand, Around Liberty's standard we'll rally, we'll rally, The Star-spangled Banner floats over the land...

For our Rights and our Laws will stand firm and united; The blood of our Fathers shall not be forgot; The faith and the honor which they sacredly pledged, Shall never be tarnish'd by Aarchy's blot.

OLD TIPPECANOE. [TUNE—"Old Rosin the Beau."]

Give ear for a while now my hearties, I'll sing you a song that is new; I'll please to the buttons, all parties, And sing of Old Tippecanoe.

When first near the Thames, gentle waters My sword for my Country I drew, I fought for America's daughters, Long-side of Old Tippecanoe.

Er, tis too when danger assailed us, And Indians dread missiles did throw, His counsel and courage availed us; We conquered at Tippecanoe.

And when all the troubles were ended, I flew to the girls that I knew, They promptly declared they intended To kiss me for old Tippecanoe.

And now that the good of the Nation Requires that something we do, We'll hurl little Van from his station, And elevate Tippecanoe.

Come boys let's assemble in masses, Bid Martin Van Buren adieu, We'll please ourselves and the lasses, And vote for Old Tippecanoe.

THE HERO OF THE THAMES.

[TUNE—"The Poachers."]

Let Loco Focus rail and rant At Currency and Banks, We're sick of all their empty cant, We spurn them from our ranks.

We do not mind their silly talk, Nor heed their idle claims; We'll make the whole banditti walk, With our Hero of the Thames.

The Hero of the Thames, my boys, The Hero of the Thames!

When British foes assail'd our land, And hovered on our coast, Pray where did little Matty stand? Why, snug behind—a post!

A post and place where all is thought, (At the spots alone he aims), While Harrison our battles fought, And conquered on the Thames!

The Hero of the Thames, my boys, The Hero of the Thames!

In vain the Red Coats sought to win A foothold on our soil, He met and drove them back again, And saved our homes from spoil.

Their savage allies dar'd no more To light their midnight flames; Oh, they heard the deep mouthed cannon roar Upon the river Thames.

Upon the river Thames, my boys, Upon the river Thames!

Not there alone did victory fling Her standard to the sky! The Prophet's town, the bard may sing, Which saw the red coat fly.

Though if Maumee her laurels shed, Fort Meigs her trophy claims, Where many a gallant soldier bled With the Hero of the Thames!

Andrew played her flag of white The bloody strife, Serious from the fight, No lust of power, no love of gold, No selfish, sordid aims, Could ever for a moment hold The hero of the Thames!

The Hero of the Thames, my boys, The Hero of the Thames!

And there he stood behind the plough, And drove his team afield, Content with rural honors now, And what his farm might yield.

The Buckeye falls beneath his hand, His skill the soil reclaims, He lives a tiller of the land, Though Hero of the Thames!

The Hero of the Thames, my boys, The Hero of the Thames!

But hark! our bleeding Country cries For vengeance and Reform; The Patriot Farmer greets our eyes, And every heart grows warm; Our Candidate he hears the call—"I'm ready!" he exclaims, Then speed him! hail him, one and all! The Hero of the Thames!

The Hero of the Thames, my boys, The Hero of the Thames!

Then let us hang our banners out, And spread them to the breeze; The spouters we will put to rout, And do it, too, with ease; Then let us all like brothers be, And "Unionists" our name! Huzza! Huzza! for victory, With the Hero of the Thames!

The Hero of the Thames, my boys, The Hero of the Thames!

From the Republican Banner. WHIG SONG.

Whigs, whose fathers freedom won! Countrymen of Washington! Swear to guard the glorious boon, Right and Liberty.

The great decisive strife is near, Hark! our country's call we hear—High our stainless banner rear! Freedom's banner.

Who will Freedom's cause betray? Who his bright light's cause away? Who's a slave for power and pay? Craven! come not near.

Who will break oppression's chain? Who a tyrant's power disdain? Who our charter will maintain? Brother! welcome here.

Firm united, heart and hand, Crush the spouter's bossal band! Save, oh! save our glorious land! Sons of Liberty.
