It is also our deliberate opinion that under no circumstances whatever, can any Whig Member of Congress justify himself pursuing any other course. Our counw-the peace and happiness of even our domestic firesides is in iminent danger, and it behooves every Whig-of every lover of his country to be on the watch; and whenever an opportunity offers frustrate the nefarious designs of the Locofoco party. And we here say, that though we are defeated in this election, we have not the least idea of laying on our oars, but intend to keep up the fight against Jacobinism as briskly, as if the campaign just over, had but commenced. For we know full well, that we need expect nothing else from the Administration of James K. Polk but an attempt to saddle upon the country all the old exploded humbugs of the late Van Buren dynasty: such as the Sub-treasury, with a host of Leg-treasurers and Captain Tyler's infamous project to annex the territory of a foreign Government to the Union. As to the Tariff, we do not believe the party in Congress will dare to repeal it, notwithstanding they have made such a noise about the injustice of its operations on particular sections the nation.

Mr. CLAY.-The Louisville Journal of the a notices a rumor circulated there that Mr. lay was very ill, and says : " We are happy inform Mr. Clay's many warm and devoted ends that he not only enjoys most excellent health, but exhibits the same buoyancy of spirts that has so often distinguished him in many ark and trying hours during his long and eventful public life. A number of friends, who waitd upon him a few days since to make known he result of the election, were astonished that he received the news with a cheerfulness almost ounting to pleasure. 'My friends," said he, would be ridiculous for me to say I do not el disappointed, but I feel so chiefly for you ad for our country : as regards myself, I am lieved from a load of anxiety. I have ever een ready and willing to serve my country, ven with my life. I allowed my name to be sed in the late contest because it was manihously called for the sake of the Union; and am consoled by the fact that I have been suported by so large a portion of the intelligence and patriotism of the nation. Now, I hope to pend the remainder of my days in peace and

R CLAY IN THE NEW ENGLAND STATES.

The Boston Atlas holds the following lanpage with a most justifiable pride in the result the Presidential election in the New Engand States generally, but more especially in hat good old Commonwealth, Massachusetts; and every true-hearted Whig will rejoice that he candidate of his party such a glorious support from such a population :

"It is highly gratifying to us, under circumlances of political failure and defeat, to recur various alleviating occurrences associated with the Presidential contest and its results. There are numerous memorable matters connected with the election which we shall take occasion to comment upon as they happen to oc-

We cannot but express our satisfaction at port which has been given to Mr. Clay of the New England States. Whatever have been the calculations of his friends the votes that would be given for him in Southern, the Western, or the Middle States, afever may have been the actual results se States, we can yet say—and we say it pride and pleasure—that nowhere, through-he whole length and breadth of this Union, a more honorable, intelligent, high-minded port been accorded to him than he has met a in the four New England States of Massa-

Island gives him about 2,500; Connectat about 5,000; and Vermont 9,000. In these four States, Mr. Clay's plurality over Mr. olk will be over 31,000 votes!

Without intending to speak disp other States, we venture to assert that a more honest, intelligent, and patriotic population can-not be found in any State of the Union than that by which this vote, so honoroble to Mr. Clay, has been cast."

Or The Constitution lately formed for the roposed State of Iowa by a Convention of the People contains in its "Bill of Rights" the following articles-peculiar, we suppose, to that

No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any civil action on mesne or final process, unless in cases of fraud; and no person shall be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace." "Foreigners who are residents of this State shall enjoy the same rights in respect to the possession, enjoyment, and descent of properas native born citizens."

THE OFFICES .- Mr. Tyler is admonished in this wise by the Albany Atlas (L. F.) in reference to office during the residue of his brief

"Mr. Tyler, if he voted and exerted his inluence for Gov. Polk, is entitled to credit for just he amount and extent of that influence; but if upon the strength of such support, he should, after permitting Whigs to hold office to the close his incumbency, arregate to himself the right organize the democratic party for the next four years and anticipate the President elect in the distribution of office, he would provoke the indignation of the great mass of the democratic party and the necessary oppugnation of the President of their choice.

WHO IS JAMES K. POLK?" The Locos, in derision, are now putting this question to the Whigs, as if it were a difficult one to answer. We have for all enquirers a ready and a true answer. ames K. Polk is a man who has reached an office, for which he is entirely unfitted, by the grossest frauds that were ev-

James K. Polk is the man who owes his nomination solely to the advocacy of the immediate annexation of Texas, and who owes his election solely to the fact, that Silas Wright, an opponent of immediate annexation, was run for the office of Governor of New York.

James K. Polk is the man who is about as well fitted for the office of President of the United States, as Sancho Panza was for that of Governor of the Island of Barataria .- Pet. Intelligencer.

The Session of Congress, it may be well to remind our readers, begins on Monday next. Most of the Members are doubtless on their way to Washington. Mr. ADAMS, the distinguished ex-President and Representative from Massachuseets, reached New York on Wednesday morning, in excellent health .- Nat. Intelligencer, Nov. 23.

NATURAL APPREHENSIONS.

From the Philadelphia Gazette.

How IT WORKS .- A Locofoco manufacturer shoes called on a wholesale Whig dealer in that article in our city a few days since, and, after jeering him about the result of the election and the defeat of Mr. Clay, informed him that he had brought him three hundred pairs more of shoes. I must decline taking them, no-body else. replied the dealer. But why, inquired the manufacturer, with some surprise; you have taken all my shoes for years. Yes, replied the dealer, but now we are going to have a reduction of the Tariff, and I intend to import my shoes .-So the manufacturer departed; called on all his Locofoco dealers through the city, but not one of them would take his shoes. He then came back again to his old Whig customer, and offered them at a reduced price, but he declined taking them. Such are the fruits of electing a free trade man, under the pretence of his being a protectionist.

One of the papers published at Bangor, Me., in a review of the season, says:

"The lumbering business has been good this season, and had it not been for the countermanding of orders on account of the supposed result of the Presidential election, there would have been a fine closing of the business of the sea-

A general feeling of doubt as to the success of business on account of the probable experiments of the Government and the policy it will attempt to carry out, will prevent any increase a way as to extinguish the kindling flames of lumbering operations, if it does not limit the usual amount, which, on the whole, we think

We have from all quarters evidences of the "feeling of doubt as to the success of business" spoken of in the above extract. This distrust is an evil in itself. It arises from the result of the election. So alarmed have some who voted the Polk ticket become, that in our vicinity it has been thought necessary for the Locofoce leaders to go about and assure the people that no destructive legislation will be attempted. We happen to know who has been busy in giving such assurances. The truth probably is, that some who were driven or cajoled by party organization are beginning to reflect at their leisure, on what they have done.

From the Pittsburg Daily American.

ONE OF THE EFFECTS OF THE LATE ELEC-TION .- A gentleman mentioned to us vesterday one effect of the recent determination of the American people, and we fear there are too many instances of the like kind throughout the

He stated to us that two capitalists from Glasgow, in Scotland, had brought with them to this manufactory of woolen cloth in the city or neighborhood. That they delayed a few months to see the result of the elections and the prospect of stability in our national policy. That result has given them no assurance of security, and they have now determined to return and invest their money at home, perhaps upon smaller but far surer profits.

Our own manufacturers will of course conts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and Ver- tinue their works so long as profit can be made by them; but, under the daily dread of some disastrous change in the policy of Government, sland gives him about 2500. Covernment if any important new works will go up.

A few members of the bar had a meeting in tatesville last week, for the purpose of making Iterations in the Court system of the sixth and seventh Circuits, and passed resolutions to alter the times of holding the Courts on the 6th Circuit, or rather requesting the Legislature to do Mocksville, on the second Monday in February and August, and terminate in Salisbury, for the particular accommodation of one counsellor. It was also resolved, that the several County Courts, be so altered, regulated, changed and diminished, that they hold two sessions in the year, at the same time and place with the Superior Courts, to be denominated non-jury or no business sessions, that their formal orderly Terms with Juries and common Jurisdiction, be had and held precisely three months afterwards. Those resolutions as the secretary reported, were unanimously adopted with the exception of one dissenting. They were not written down at the time, but were ordered to be written out afterwards, so that they may declare whatsoever the mover may think convenient. The recommendation of those resolutions are specially objectionable, in that it is intended to restrict the time allowed to the County Courts for the transaction of their ordinary business. where a larger quantity is usually required to be done than in the Superior Courts, and with smaller facilities, to be thus curtailed in time and means, will necessarily render them less efficient and less available than at present, while inefficiency is the usual complaint against them, Equity and justice therefore requires that their dignity and utility should be supported and maintained inviolable, or that they be entirely abolished, the proposed partial amalgamation into the Superior Court, would much embarrass and retard their proceedings, as well as clog and retard the proceedings in the Superior Court. If the administration of justice be stopped or delayed, the community must and will resort to savage force for the redress of wrongs or for obtaining their supposed rights, and rendering the Courts inefficient or dilatory will amount to a denial of justice and terminate to the like disastrous effect of savage force. But so to arrange the Circuit as to cast the County of Rowan, formerly the most powerful and respectable County in the State, into the very last on the Circuit. is an indignity that we feel most loth and unwilling to bear. We need only cite an act of Assembly, passed in the year 1838, to show what was then the alleged wrongs arising from the hurry of the last Court on the Circuit; what were facts then must be facts now, sufficient to warrant the Legislature in passing an act of censure against the Judges generally near the end of the long Circuit, the energies of the Court are well nigh worn out, and the impatience and general hurry renders confusion worse confounded, so that nothing is done certainly or correctly, and much is neglected for lack of reflection, in which may be seen the point of a convicted criminal's wit when he wrote-" The accused must hang, that Jurymen may dine." As at present we are in no danger of such dilemma, and hope that no change will be made to cast us into danger. We consider it most unkind, to attempt the selection of Rowan County among ten others, upon which the inconvenience of a hurried Court is to fall, and protest against the attempt as well as the ultimate threatened act: Beside the foregoing considerations, a change in the time and date of the several Courts, will of course introduce many errors and mistakes. both by the officers of the Court, parties and witnesses, which if time for reflection ever arises much need correction, and be the consequent cause of delay and loss to the parties litigant; all which results will give strong coloring to the absurd common assertion, that Lawyers should not be Legislators, for if so they will make and enact only such laws as will suit themselves and

A FAMOUS FINE GIRL.

A curious fact occurred at Charlestown. Virginia, the other day, which is worth relating. A Whig procession was expected to pass through the village which is pretty well stocked with locofocos, and istening to evil counsel, the Locos stretched a rope across the street, the almost certain effect of which would be to bring on a general battle, since the one party was as determined to accomplish, as the other was to resist the progress. At this juncture, when danger thickened, and neither party seemed inclined to recede—the Whigs advancing and the Locofocos muttering defiance—a happy thought struck the bosom of the young lady, who, in the gentleness of her nature, could ill endure to see brethren fall out by the way. She resolved to be-not exactly a mediator in the full moral sense of the term, but at any rate to interpose her kind offices in such of party spirit, and remove the difficulty, which was becoming more formidable.-To do this in the way of her own invention, required a resoluteness of purpose not always found in the sex. But the Virginian maiden was equal to the emergency, which demanded so much energy and de- Brandy, ap. 20 a 25 Molasses, 40 a 50 cision.
