

THE SECRET SERVICE FUND.

A resolution, we regret to see, was passed in the Senate yesterday, calling on the President to communicate to that body a statement of the disbursements of the appropriation for foreign intercourse, generally called the secret service fund.

the road would be forthwith completed. The Government has at Fayetteville an arsenal, intended to be one of construction. So far as it has progressed, there is said to be no building of the kind in the country superior to it, and as far as a comparison has been made or can be made, the completion of the buildings and making it a great arsenal of construction for the South would be accomplished at a great saving to the Government.

I might urge this matter by other reasons, and draw out articles at longer, but you can do so much better, if you think well of the scheme, and with the collected wisdom of the nation at Washington, if any thing can be done, I hope it will be done.

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.

In the State of Rhode Island the annual election for Governor and members of the Legislature was held on Wednesday last. The contest was between the old "Law and Order" party, and the "Restorationists," who are for restoring Mr. Dorr to his civil rights without any condition.

The New Orleans Jeffersonian of the 23d ult., says:—"Mr. Clay, who has spent several months in this city, went up the river on Saturday afternoon, on the Alexander Scott. During his residence here he mingled freely with our citizens without distinction of party, was welcomed by all, and left with those benedictions and good wishes which should always attend a great statesman, who has rendered eminent services to his country."

The peculiar relations of some of our public journals opening to them the best sources of information, and rendering them the more discriminating as to what they admit into their columns, of course entitles to the more regard what we find there. It is this which gives any interest to the annexed paragraph, which we extract from an article copied into a late number of the Richmond Enquirer:

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

The latest news from Connecticut throws some doubt over the result of the election of that State, caused by the introduction of the Temperance question into the canvass. The Whig ticket for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor consists of a plurality of some six or eight hundred votes; but, there being no choice by the people, every thing depends on the complexion of the Legislature. Speaking to this point, the Hartford Courant of Wednesday has the following, which we suppose presents the hopes for the Whigs in the most favorable light that the circumstances will warrant.

THE NATIONAL FAIR.

CIRCULAR

Of the Committee of Superintendence of the National Exhibition of American Manufactures and Products of Mechanical Art.

AT THE CITY OF WASHINGTON IN MAY NEXT.

Many persons friendly to the permanency of the present protective system, and others, who, without being committed to its support, desire information in reference to its effects, have suggested the importance of procuring an exhibition of American Manufacturing Mechanical Products to be made at the seat of Government as early as a period, during the present Spring, as the opportunities for accomplishing such a project might allow. It is believed that an exhibition, embracing specimens of every kind of handicraft or manufacturing skill employed in the nation, or at least all such specimens as may be conveniently procured for the occasion, together with the prices at which they may be purchased, and the names of those by whom they are fabricated, would embody, in an impressive form, a mass of useful facts which could not fail to be appreciated as they deserve by the public authorities upon whom rests the responsibility of sustaining the prosperity of the great interests connected with this subject; and that such facts collected from the daily transactions of the people, authenticated by the personal examinations of all who choose to inspect them, would furnish incontrovertible arguments in favor of that industry which so greatly honors as well as enriches the mechanics of America.

A reorganization of a similar exhibition by the National Institute two years ago met with a high degree of favor from the public at that period; and the success of such an effort now may, it is hoped, lead to its regular adoption hereafter, as a means of presenting at suitable intervals a valuable demonstration of the advance of the country in those arts upon which its prosperity so greatly depends.

SOUTHERN ROUTE.

Through the columns of the Intelligencer I wish to call the attention of the public to the route by the capital of North Carolina, through Fayetteville, Cheraw, and Camden to Columbia, and thence to Augusta, South. A railway extends to Raleigh, and we desire this road shall be continued along the route indicated above. To the companies north of Raleigh and to those south of Columbia, the completion of the railway between these points is a matter of primary importance. To the Government it is no less so, first, because it will secure the most certain and prompt transportation of the mail, for all time; and, secondly, because it will secure greater safety and security. The failures on the lower route are many, and the great Southern and Northern mails are every night in the way exposed on the ocean. Suppose war were to take place with England, or any other Power, would the Postmaster-General think of continuing the mail by way of Wilmington to Charleston by water? Now, if this is a matter of such importance to the Government, could not a plan of the following kind be adopted: Suppose it now to cost the Government for the daily transportation of the mail from Raleigh to Fayetteville the sum of $10,000 per year, let the Government say to a company we will issue to you our scrip for $200,000, payable in thirty years, at the rate of five per cent, if you will agree to build this railway and secure to us the transportation of the mail daily for thirty years, and also the transportation of all the stores of the Government, in case of war, and of all persons connected with the Government. With such a proposal we doubt not

OWNERS OF PAPERS EXHIBITED DURING THE EXHIBITION WILL, UNLESS DIRECTED TO THE CONTRARY BE GIVEN, BE EXPECTED TO ALLOW THE SALE OF SUCH PAPERS AT THE PRICES MARKED, TO BE DELIVERED AT THE CLOSE OF THE EXHIBITION.

All goods intended for exhibition can be directed to Mr. David A. Hall, secretary of the committee, who will see to their safe-keeping, and attend to their being re-packed after the close of the exhibition. In case of a sale of them, the money will be duly transmitted. As there will be many goods untraded which the proprietors may not desire to have returned, and prefer to have sold for their benefit, the committee will cause a sale at auction of such articles as the owners may desire to have so disposed of. Motive power will be furnished at the exhibition rooms for such machinery as require it. As the committee can only give this general invitation to the manufacturers and artisans of the country, each one will be pleased to consider it addressed to himself individually. Editors of papers throughout the country friendly to the object are respectfully requested to give this circular a few insertions.

IMPORTANT TO MILL OWNERS

Hotchkiss's Vertical Water Wheel. In consequence of the very great popularity of these wheels have attained by the use of machinery of them in different parts of the country, the subscriber has sold about 100 rights in North Carolina, and which are in full and successful operation in that county. When properly introduced, they nearly equal the value of the mill, and in quantity of work far exceed the most sanguine expectations of the mill owner. The wheels are most durable, many of whom are gentlemen distinguished for their science and practical skill, who have attended to the improvement of the water wheel, and have more easily kept in order, when properly put together, than the common flat wheel. They are one-third of the water, and run well in back water, and there is a head above. The speed of the water is more than double the strokes per minute. The price of an individual right for one pair of wheels is $50. We refer, among others, to the following gentlemen, some of whom had the wheels in operation long before, and from many of whom we have received certificates highly approving of these wheels, and their great fitness, with this improvement, cut 2500, 3000, and even as high as 5000 feet a day, according to head of water.
