

Mr. Shepard, one of the Democratic Candidates for Governor, addressed the people of Craven county, at Newbern, on the 15th ultimo, and was replied to in a noble speech by that sterling Whig, Hon. Edward Stanly. The Newbernian says of his effort:

"We know not what our Democratic brethren think of the effort of their candidate on that occasion, but if we are to judge of his strength, not of his voice, but of his intellect, from that speech; we would advise them to send him back to the shades of private life in the county of Wake, which the Independent says, he so highly adorns, and take up Mr. Leak. He is unprepared as Mr. Stanly was, he was but a child in his hand. We are aware that our sketch is not complete, but we have endeavored to be fair. If we have not done justice to Mr. Shepard, we are ready to make amends. For although he has wondrously attacked us, we are not insensible to the claim which even an enemy, however unworthy, has upon us. We know that we have failed to do justice to Mr. Stanly, but he will take the will for the deed. We can't print thunder and lightning, no more than we can the sweet tones of the Eolian harp."

P. S. We learn that after the company had dispersed, as many as eleven Democrats remained to respond to the nomination of Mr. Shepard. We really think if Mr. Leak would pay us a visit, there is some chance for him in Craven."

The Democracy, we opine, will not have an opportunity of sending him back to Wake to "the shades of private life which he so highly adorns," but the Whigs will do it for them.

Concert.—Mr. and Mrs. Gould, visited our town, the early part of this week, with their splendid piano, comprising the celebrated Coleman Eolian attachment, upon which they gave concerts on Monday and Tuesday evenings. This is the first opportunity that many of our citizens have enjoyed to witness the power of the piano thus improved. Many were well pleased with it, but there were others whose expectations were rather of an extravagant order, we think, who professed their disappointment. For our own part we consider the Eolian attachment as a very great improvement on the instrument. It is particularly so in the performance of those pieces requiring the expression of passion or pathos.

The instrument is so constructed that the attachment may be used or not used, at the pleasure of the performer.

Who invite the attention of the public to the advertisement of Mr. Jos. F. CHAMBERS, in another column, who is now opening a new store in this place. Mr. CHAMBERS is favorably known to many in this region of country, and we doubt not will give full satisfaction to all who favor him with their patronage. The stock of Goods he is now opening, so far as men, is handsome.

The Nashville Tragedy.—Mrs. Porterfield, the widow of the unfortunate Robert Porterfield of Nashville, it is said declared her innocence in the most solemn manner, to her husband, a short time before he died. Judson, the man of whom she was accused, and the person who shot her husband, has been discharged, and has left the city. The friends of the deceased husband did not make any renewed attempts of violence against him.

Decided. Through the columns of the Register, and of the other papers in the State, I would invite surviving members of this class, and the Alumni of the University, in general, to meet in Gerard Hall, on the afternoon of Wednesday, 31 June, 1846.

CHARLES PHILLIPS, Sec. of the Alumni Association.

GOV. GRAHAM.

This able and distinguished advocate of sound republican principles and worthy representative before the world of our untarnished honor and purity of our noble old State, appeared before a large assemblage of his fellow citizens at Oxford, on the 21st instant, and opened the campaign we learn, with one of the most powerful, convincing and satisfactory speeches ever delivered before that highly intelligent portion of the community.—Clamorous and ranting Democrats were struck dumb, sober and reflecting Democrats were constrained to applaud, Whigs were strengthened and delighted, and an overwhelming influence was felt, which gave indications of sweeping every thing before it. It may be so wherever Gov. Graham goes. The flood of light which he pours upon the great questions which divide the two parties, so completely eclipses the little flickering tapers of his opponents, as to leave not a ray of them to be seen. Raleigh Star.

Disappearance of an American Officer from Gen. Taylor's Army.—Private letters received in this city dated Point Isabella, April 16th, state that Col. Cross, Quarter Master General of the U. States army, left General Taylor's camp at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 11th inst., to take a ride for exercise, and had not been heard from up to the time of writing the letter. Another letter states that a negro had given information that a body of Rancheros had captured and carried off an officer from a hut, a short distance from the camp, and it is supposed that Colonel Cross is the person.

Since writing the above, we have received New Orleans papers, and copy the following statement of the affair from the Picayune of Wednesday.

"Another untoward event in the service we have to chronicle. On the morning of the 10th inst., Colonel Cross, the acting Quartermaster General of the army, left the camp on horseback unattended on business in his department. Not returning within a reasonable time, alarm was excited in regard to his safety, and parties were sent out for him, but could obtain no satisfactory tidings of him.—Three or four days elapsed, and the gravest fears were entertained for his life, when happily, through the energy and adroitness of an officer of the dragoons, it was ascertained that Col. Cross had been taken prisoner by a party of Mexican Rancheros, consisting of a captain, lieutenant and five men, and carried off. Not the least apprehension is now entertained for the personal safety of Col. Cross, but it is not known in General Taylor's camp where he is. Mexican officers positively deny that he is in Matamoros, and we must wait patiently a little while for the mystery to be unravelled. But let us repeat, that, at last accounts, the Officers in Gen. Taylor's camp felt no alarm whatever as to the personal safety of Col. Cross."

This high-handed outrage will go far to bring affairs to a crisis on the banks of the Rio Grande, if the Mexican authorities do not take prompt measures to restore Col. Cross to liberty, and punish the perpetrators of this act. We have not yet seen any account that the demand for the two missing dragoons had been complied with. Are they still in the possession of the Mexicans, or has it been ascertained that they voluntarily decamped? We should like to learn.—Charleston Cou.

Neither House of Congress sat yesterday, both having adjourned over to Monday next, to the removal of carpets, ventilation of the Halls, &c., for summer work.

In the beginning of this week we found consolation for inactivity of the Representative body in the preceding part of the session in the reflection that both Houses would now go seriously to work. We were, as the reader will have seen from the history of this week's proceedings in the House of Representatives, rather unlucky in our sponsorship undertaking for it. Yet, even this week, notwithstanding the need, not to say scandalous, waste of time in a protracted personal altercation, something has been done in which that body may take pride. The passage of the Smithsonian bill, even though its particular features may not be altogether acceptable to all, proves that the House is not insensible to the moral obligation to legislate upon that subject in one way or other.

From what we have casually heard in conversation, we think it quite possible that the Tariff question, and some others, may be suffered to lie over to another Session, and that the appropriation bills, &c., may be passed in short order, so as to allow Congress to adjourn much earlier than they possibly can do, if the majority in Congress should, as the government paper has intimated that they positively would, seriously endeavor now to pass a new Tariff bill. The rumor to which we refer is, that it has been determined, at a consultation of the Democratic leaders in Congress, to make the next Session begin in October instead of December, and, as a consequence, to terminate the present Session at some time between the first of June and the first of July.—Nat. Intelligencer, of May 2.

IN consequence of the very great popularity of these wheels have attained by the use of nearly all of them in different parts of the country, the subscribers have sold about 100 Rights in North Carolina, which are in full and successful operation in Counties. The wheels are more durable, more easily kept in order, when properly attended to, than the common flatter wheel. They are one-third of the water, and run well in such water as there is a head above. The speed of the water is increased to the price of an individual right for one pair of wheels is $50. We refer, among others, to the following gentlemen, some of whom had the wheels in operation 12 months, and from many of whom we have received certificates highly approving of these wheels, and saying their saws, with this improvement, cut 2500, 3000, and even as high as 5000 feet a day, depending on the head of water.
