

In your remarks above quoted, you have thought proper to bring in the name of individuals. Are you aware, that in this you have set an example that gives us the right to do likewise? Heretofore we have assailed practices, but have carefully avoided mentioning names; but now we have full license to introduce by name those who figured in this, and not in this, but in some other important transactions in Salisbury, and the developments of which, we rather suspect, will attract more notice than your treating operations, which are now notorious enough.—Correspondent of the Farmers' Journal.

Indeed!—how very imprudent we were, to mention names! But it is too late now: it is not wise to cry after "spilt milk"; so we must just brace ourselves up to bear the consequences. We are ready, Mr. Bush-fighter—just proceed with your names, and the charges which you are prepared to make. It will be a black catalogue, no doubt, you say it is horrible—it must be so. Tell it out and ease your mind of the weighty burthen of keeping secret such important facts. Of course you will not hesitate to give your own name—you will not cowardly lie concealed, like the high way robber, and fire at those who pass the way. Stand out yourself and it will likely we shall have the truth as well as a little more fairness. We hope no sense of delicacy will restrain you from carrying your threat into execution; and if you think we can give you any information, which you do not possess, just call on us in person, and we pledge all the assistance in our power.

Prigton Hackett, one of the prisoners indicted for murder, arson, &c.; and whose trial took place here, last week, was acquitted.

MORE OF THE BARGAIN.

The Pittsburg Commercial states a fact which shows the criminal artifices resorted to for the purpose of again deceiving and misleading the people of Pennsylvania. Mr. McCandless, the Democratic candidate for Congress in that District, declared on the stump that he had been arrested, whilst in Washington, by a leading Democratic member of Congress, (meaning Judge Black of South Carolina,) that if a Democratic delegation from Pennsylvania, in the next Congress, should ask for the modification of the Tariff of '46, they will be gratified! We do not believe that Judge Black made the declaration imputed to him. It is an invention, we doubt not, of Mr. McCandless himself, who was an active participant, in conjunction with Mr. Buchanan, in the fraud practised upon the people of Pennsylvania in 1844, of which this is a new edition. It is possible that the bribe was tendered to the people of that State, particularly in the strong German counties, may be successful. But what ought to be the punishment of the demagogues who thus take advantage of their ignorance to secure personal and party ends?—Richmond Whig.

The Union publishes a letter from W. J. Brown, 2d Assistant Postmaster General, declaring that members of Congress have no right to frank speeches or other printed matter longer than thirty days after the expiration of a session of Congress. This opinion has been drawn from him, it appears, in order to arrest the franking of the great speech of Mr. Stewart at Fort Brown did the bomb-shells of the Mexicans. By the way, we have promised to say the whole of this admirable speech before our readers, and we shall do so in the course of a few days. It is a perfect magazine of facts, loaded with a power of argument rarely excelled. We are not surprised that the Second Assistant Postmaster General has been induced to treat its circulation.—Rich. Whig.

On motion, the Constitution drafted by the American Bible Society for the government of auxiliary societies was adopted, subject to any amendments that might be deemed necessary.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of Rev. A. BAKER, C. L. TORRENCE and W. R. STURTEVANT, was appointed to report any alterations in the Constitution they may think necessary at the next meeting.

The U. S. Ship Columbus.—The following extract of a letter from a Surgeon aboard this ship, dated at Canton river on the 26th of April, should be effectual to correct the exaggerated reports which have recently found their way into some of the newspapers as to the extent of the mortality among her crew:

"You will perceive by this that we still are in the waters of the Celestial Kingdom. Since my last, however, we have been to Mantilla, distant about six hundred miles from this. Although we found a pleasant place, I am sorry the interest of our visit was greatly impaired by the serious interruption to the general good health with which we had been favoured up to that time. Within thirty hours after anchoring off the town, cholera made its appearance among us, and continued to prevail for six days, during which time it attacked thirty-three of the ship's company, out of whom twelve on the fourth day from the invasion of the disease, as a means of arresting it, we put to sea, on our return to this place, and I am happy to say, with the desired effect; for, as soon as we got clear of the land breeze, it began sensibly to diminish, and after the second day out it ceased altogether. It is rather singular that not an officer of any grade was attacked, though many were very much frightened."

CRIME.

The Newspapers, which come under our supervision, not unfrequently present strange bills of fare, especially in the records of crime.—Our last batch of exchanges brought us the details of two fatal duels, the hanging of a woman, three suicides, several murders, robberies, incendiaries, fights, rows, &c., &c. One has only to look into the public Journals, and a sad exhibit, truly, of human nature is given. Parents, Guardians and Teachers cannot too much appreciate the responsibilities which rest upon them, for the destiny of the country is, under God, in their hands, through the influence which they most necessarily exert upon the rising generation. To keep them from depraved influences, and to contribute to give a beautiful moral tone to the minds of youth, are duties highly important, and indispensable.—Ral. Register.

Soldier's Reward.—The Duke of Wellington has ordered that no more than fifty lashes shall hereafter be given to an English soldier. The soldier has reason to be grateful for this mark of kindness. In time of War, the Officer receives all the glory of a well-fought battle, and the soldier his sixpence and a pewter medal. The Government has now graciously reduced the number of lashes the latter shall receive, in time of peace, to fifty! What a fine thing is glory!—Ral. Reg.

OFFER OF MEDIATION.

The National Intelligencer of the 21st inst. says: Our readers will perceive, by a reference to the extracts which we give in another column from a debate in the British House of Commons, the gratifying fact that the British Government has instructed its Minister here to offer to our Government the mediation of Great Britain to settle the existing difficulties between this country and the Republic of Mexico.

As the war with Mexico was begun without any adequate cause, and is continued without any adequate object, we believe that the whole country (all the paying part of it, at least) will rejoice at any intervention which shall bring it to an early and reputable end.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.

From the Commercial Times.

CITY OF MEXICO—VERA CRUZ—SANTA ANNA.

The British Steamer Arab, from Vera Cruz, 3d inst., which lately conveyed Santa Anna from Havana to that port arrived in the river on Wednesday morning, and unfortunately grounded in the S. W. Pass, where she now lies. The owner of the Arab, Mr. O'Neil, who came with her from Vera Cruz, reached the city last evening on the towboat Panther, putting up at the St. Charles Hotel. By the politeness of this gentleman, who left the city of Mexico, on the 28th ultimo, we have been put in possession of the following intelligence.

Santa Anna landed at Vera Cruz on the 16th ultimo, and left on the 19th, but proceeded no farther than his Hacienda, or country seat, at Enquerro, three leagues east of Jalappa, where he still lies indisposed—suffering in his amputated limb.

The persons who accompanied him from Havana, Almonte, Rejon, etc., had gone on to Mexico, where they had been regularly installed in various State offices. Almonte is minister of Marine and of War, Rejon of the Interior, and Gomez Farias of Finance.

The British brig-of-war, Daring, arrived at Vera Cruz on the third instant, with despatches said to be from the American Government. These despatches were reported to comprise offers of peace on a permanent basis, and expressing President Polk's readiness either to send a minister plenipotentiary to Mexico, or to receive a Mexican minister at Washington.

Reaction.—It was currently reported in Mexico, on the 28th ult., that the troops at San Luis de Potosi had pronounced for Paredes. An express had reached Mr. Macintosh, the British Consul at Vera Cruz, confirming the intelligence. Mr. O'Neil, however, states that Mr. Macintosh did not know what credence there was to be given to the news thus brought; but as pronouncements followed one after another in such quick succession in that distracted country, it was possible there was some truth in it.

When in the city of Mexico, Mr. O'Neil heard that Paredes was prisoner in the hands of the present government; and in travelling to Vera Cruz, between the morning of the 28th and that of the 2d inst., when the vehicle he was in was passing through Perote, that gentleman was actually told by an inhabitant, that the Ex-President ad interim (Paredes) was a close prisoner within the castle.

Mr. O'NEIL, absorbed by his affairs, did not, unfortunately, think of bringing any newspapers with him, either from the city of Mexico or Vera Cruz, so that we are without any documents, showing the onward progress of the late movements. Immediately after Santa Anna quitted Vera Cruz, a force of about six hundred infantry and a few cavalry took up the line of march from that port for the city of Mexico. Mr. O'Neil met them on his way back to his vessel; they seemed in pretty good order.

We learn that tranquility seems to reign throughout the principal places in Mexico, the movement in favor of SANTA ANNA having been pretty general and simultaneous. But, as our informant shrewdly remarked, the mass of the people—those engaged in mercantile, industrial, or manufacturing pursuits—seem to take little interest in the interminable coups de etat which, in Mexico, upset one Government and substitute another with the facility of a harlequin change in a Christmas farce.

During the passage of Santa Anna and his suite from Havana, he kept himself confined to his cabin, alleging suffering from his mutilated leg as the cause. He was accompanied, as we have already stated in a preceding number of our paper, by his wife, who is a very young lady, and his daughter by a former marriage, a very interesting girl, about 12 years of age. They are both blondes—fair, with light hair, and appeared exceedingly amiable. Amongst the other passengers in the Arab, Almonte excited the greatest interest, from his speaking so freely the English language. He was the life and soul of the whole party, who, including himself, at times seemed agitated with some fears regarding the reception they would meet on reaching Vera Cruz. We must except Santa Anna himself who neither betrayed fear, nor the slightest symptoms of fear of the event, during the whole passage. On the arrival of the Arab, outside Vera Cruz, she was boarded by a boat from the St. Mary's, the officer in command of which (the boat) immediately recognized Almonte, hailing him as he came along side her. On mounting the deck, he and Almonte descended to Santa Anna's cabin—after a brief colloquy, the American officer and the Arab went in, and anchored immediately under the flag of St. Juan de Ulloa.

The war with the United States did not appear, so far as Mr. O'Neil had an opportunity of observing, to create that excitement amongst the people, which one would naturally think would be the result of the presence of a powerful and victorious army.

VERY LATE FROM MEXICO.

Correspondence of the Mobile Herald and Tribune.

UNITED STATES SHIP PRINCETON,
Pensacola, Sept. 10, 1846.

This ship arrived here this evening, four days from Vera Cruz, with despatches in answer to those sent from the State Department, which were published but the close of the session. They were answered by the Mexican Government instantly. Lt. H. Y. Purviance is the bearer, and proceeds with all despatch to Washington. No one in our squadron has the least idea of the nature of the news.

A new Ministry has been formed: Almonte is Secretary of War, and Rejon of Foreign Affairs. Santa Anna is at his country seat, near Jalappa. It was expected he would go to the capital in a day or two. Mexico is making no preparation to carry on the war. Some time since, a brigade was formed, and equipped complete, to march against Gen. Taylor, but the commander has not and will not move from the city of Mexico. He prefers spending his evenings in the "cafes" to advancing against old Roubin and Ready. The papers are pressing him, but he will not move; in fact, the soldiers have no desire to march. The squadron is blockading Vera Cruz and Alvarado. They would gladly take a hand at anything, but positively there is no one to fight with.

James Whelm, O. S. of this ship left aboard on the 9th inst., and was drowned—he was a native of England. Every exertion was made to save him, but without success.

The Princeton brought the mate, Mr. N. Meyer, and part of the crew of the brig Nayade, of Hamburg, captured by the U. S. brig Somers, for attempting to force the blockade. The Nayade sailed for New Orleans under charge of Lt. Berryman—we passed her in lat. 21, 34n, lon. 94, 19w. Yours truly, PETRONE.

Maine.—Returns from nearly the whole State, show that Dana, Democratic candidate for Governor, will fall short of his election about 5000. In the 1st District, Hammond, Dem. is probably elected to Congress by a bare majority. In the 2d, 4th and 5th, now represented by Democrats there is no choice, so More, Whig is not elected in the 2d. In the 3d, Hiram Belcher, Whig, is elected, by more than a thousand.

If the Portland Advertiser's estimate be right, the Whigs have elected ten Senators, the Democrats not more than seven or eight. The returns for the House show the election of 27 Whigs, 19 Locos, 1 Abolitionist, and 43 no choice.

Died.

In this County, on the 23rd inst., Mr. John Blackwell, at an advanced age. The deceased was an elder of the Franklin Presbyterian Church, for many years before his death.

Also, Mrs. Bymer, relict of the late Nicholas Bymer, at an advanced age.

Also, in this Town, on the 23d, Frederick Oberlin, aged nearly 2 years and 9 months, son of Mr. James G. Cairns.

I am warranted in saying to those who purchase by strict attention, the HOUSE will yield a handsome income. During the time I have kept the establishment, it has been extensively patronized by travelling and country custom. The House is situated from North to South, having been kept open for a great many years. Those wishing to purchase may now have an opportunity in purchasing the HOUSE, to see the premises, and to see the furniture, which I would advise them to do, and see the intended sale and will give a bargain. Terms made easy to suit the times. Letters addressed to this subject will be attended to in due season.

L. Q. SHARPE, Ck. c. m. e.
August 7th, 1846—16:6t

IT Sickens can only be present when the vital principle, the blood, is below the healthy standard. Health is always present when the blood is pure and in health to its healthy standard. Therefore, the following remedies can never be used for the purpose of restoring health:—

Bleeding—Calomel—Antimony—Opium

Bleeding takes out your strength—your life. Calomel kills your blood in your veins, filling you with disease. Antimony dries, besides making you subject to epilepsy, Opium is worse than all; for it prevents you from feeling the approach of decay, and you descend into the grave so quickly that you have scarcely time to utter either to leave this world or to enter the next. It is a deceitful drug! Touch it not. Let all diseases be cured by careful cough-curing remedies; destruction is avoided in the bottle. Let me remain here; take them into your bowels. Enquire for some of the cured persons whose names these balsam men have put up on their wonderful-working powers of their balsams; friends, these cured ones are in their graves. Opium, morphine has done its work. The only remedy which you can do in sickness, is to take Brandreth's. They will not deceive; it will never injure. Brandreth can send you to persons cured years ago, and living and in the finest health. These are not ordinary single cases. No, they comprise hundreds in all, large, tens of thousands in New York.

LET These Pills are for sale at 25 cts. per box, by Agents in every town in the State, and by the following highly respectable gentlemen in this vicinity, viz: J. H. Ennis, Salisbury; David Frisley, Rockville; A. W. Hummel, Gold-Hill; T. C. Graham, Concord; J. Kinder & Son, Mt. Vernon. [Aug. 21, 1846]
