Worth's report will bear me out in saying, and severy officer in the 2d Division will testify that this corps has distinguished itself on every oceasion where they have been called on. The sons of Judge Nichols, of Donaldsonville, have stood fire for four or five hours at a time, driving the enemy under their battery-from bush to bush, and rock to rock, and at last were among the foremost to rush into the Bishop's Palace and take it by storm. Capt. Blanchard and his company have already made a reputation that will not soon be forgotten. S. G. Allen, private of this company was mortally wounded in this fight, and died next morning. Capt. Smith had no one killed or wounded in his party of regulars-two Texans were wounded, viz : Wm. Carley and B. F. Keese.

FROM THE GULF SQUADRON.

From the New Orleans Picayune of October 2. The United States revenue cutter Van Buren arrived off the Southwest Pass on the 30th litimo, from Vera Cruz, whence she sailed on he 15th ultimo. She brings very little Mexian intelligence, but the news from the squadon is interesting. We are indebted to Dr. Rust, who came passenger on the cutter, for articulars. A few days prior to the sailing of he Van Buren a message was received from era Cruz to the effect that Captain Carsenter and all his men had arrived at that lace, and would remain there until some aringement could be made for exchanging them. hey were all well, and had been treated kind-

There had been no official communication etween the squadron and the Mexican authories since the reception of the answer to the ofof pegotiation, except in relation to Capt. C., nd nothing was known of the movements of anta Anna or the existing Mexican Governent. It was believed that Santa Anna had eached the capital.

The health of the squadron was improving, e scurvy having been checked. The John fams and United States store-ship Relief ere to sail for Pensacola in a few days, with the cases of seurvy in the squadron, and are remain there some time to take in stores, &c. he Falmouth takes the place of the John Adms off Antonio Lizardo.

Quite an incident occurred in the squadron. sulting from the mutinous and insubordinate ct of a sailor, by the name of Jackson, one the crew of the U. S. sloop of war St. Ma-The sailor had been guilty of some mismeaner, and was duly reported to the captain Lieut. Taylor, and in revenge he knocked Lieut. down. He was immediately placed nder arrest, a court martial held, and, after earing all the evidence, he was found guilty od sentenced to be frung on the 15th of Sepmber, the very day on which the cutter sail

The unfortunate culprit is said to be an stremely intelligent man, and made so touchig and eloquent a defence upon his trial that the embers of the court were deeply affected, and hars were shed by many persons present. It as thought that the sentence of the court would ot be carried into effect on the 15th, but that reprieve would be granted.

Commodore Perry had not arrived off Vera rez when the Van Buren left. All was perctly quiet in the squadron, and there was no spedition on foot, it was said, owing to the fear northerly winds.

When the Van Buren left the following vesels were off Vera Cruz : Frigate Cumberland, ops of war John Adams and St. Marys, brigs rpoise and Somers, schooner Flirt, store-ship lelief, three gun-boats, revenue cutters McLean and Forward, and a Mexican schooner, taken a prize by the latter.

CORNERED.

Our neighbor of the Union, says the Intelliencer of the 10th instant, is pretty adroit at etting out of a difficulty; but we think that the Nashville Whig has, in the annexed article, heck-mated him

Mr. Ritchie and the Abolitionists .- The venrable Editor of the Washington Union conles himself for the disruption and overthrow his party in Maine after the following fash-

"The Whigs may boast of their temporary ains in New Hampshire and Maine, but how ana liberal Whig triumph in any success which sewing to a combination of the Whigs of those | Flour, tates with the Abolitionists?"

Say you so, Mr. Ritchie? Well, taking up y own premises, let us see what is the conision which necessarily follows. You say hat the defeat of your party in New Hampshire ad Maine was owing to "a combination of he Whigs of those States with the Abolition-Granted. And now what follows?-Why, that the Locofocos in those States have retolore been in combination with those same politionists, and in that way alone have hithrto maintained their ascendency! The Aboonists in those States, it appears, hold the alance of power. By acting with either party ey can secure the defeat of the other. As this the first time for several years that the Locoos in either State have been defeated until Abolitionists took ground in opposition to em, it follows necessarily that the two have een acting together during the whole period of

But again. Mr. Ritchie calls the "gains" hich, as he says, the Whigs have made in New Hampshire and Maine by a combination with the Abolitionists, "temporary." "Temorary," Mr. Ritchie! Then you expect that he Abolition votes, which, you say, constitute he Whig "gains" at the recent elections in New Hampshire and Maine, will be cast at he next election in favor of the Locofocos!dow else can you regard the Whig "gains" in the very act, moreover, of thus confessing adirectly that he expects his own party in those otes, he asks, "how can any liberal Whig oast of gains" acquired by those votes? The act is, so long as the Abolitionists act with the ocofocos, it is all right-you hear nothing on Mr. Ritchie and his Locoloco contempo-Aries condemnatory of such combinations ; but be froment the Abolitionists are seen, on any casion, acting either directly or indirectly with the Whigs, they lift up their voices against uch an alliance? The bypocrites !- Nash-given that application will be made to the Assembly at its next session for a charter to granted to an incorporated Company to open and the Yadkin River, from Wilkesboro', to the MANY CITIZENS. September 14, 1846-tf 21

The New York Evening Post, Locofoco] regarding the annexation of California to the United States as a "fixed fact," takes ground promptly against the admission of slavery within its limits; and as the Post, like Mr. Wilmot of Pennsylvania, is an acknowledged organ of Northern Free Trade Locofocoism, we take it for granted that this issue will be raised whenever the acquisition of that region shall be consummated by the action of Congress. The same question will doubtless arise in regard to the territory bordering upon Texas, which it is pretty certain will likewise be ceded by Mexico whenever a treaty of peace shall be concluded between that country and the United States. At this point, particularly, the "shoe will pinch." Will Texas consent to be surrounded by a cordon of non-slaveholding States, which, like those now bordering upon the older slaveholding States of the Union, will be converted into a place of refuge for that portion of the servile population who may be induced to abscond? Will the people of the Mississippi Valley submit to such a condition precedent? That it will be insisted upon by both parties in the non-slaveholding States, no one can doubt who does not wilfully shut his eyes to the signs of the times. We may well apprehend, therefore, that this Mexican war, into which we have been so unnecessarily plunged, will, independent of the heavy expense. the loss of life, and the demoralization consequent upon its prosecution, like all other wars of ambition and conquest, contain within itself the seeds of its own punishment to the conquerors. Internal strife will follow close upon the heels of peace; and we shall be fortunate if the Union itself be not destroyed by the insane desire to extend its dominion over a foreign territory, inhabited by a heterogeneous, an inferior, and a hostile race.-Rich. Whig.

The N. York Tribune addresses these questions to the Washington Union:

1. Has not Gen. Taylor recently intimated to the Government his desire to be aided or relieved in the command in chief against Mexico?

2. Has not Gen. Scott recently urged upon the Government his claim to command the army advancing on Monterey, and been coldly refused?

3. Is it not the purpose of the President to appoint one of the new Generals of his for Jewelry or work done own creation to the chief command of our forces invading Mexico?
