

POLITICAL SAGACITY.

Have any of our readers forgotten the letter written by that patriotic statesman, HENRY CLAY, from Raleigh, in 1844, on the subject of the annexation of Texas? If they have, let us refresh their memories, and they will see the far-reaching sagacity of the man who ought to be at the head of our affairs.

Here are one or two sentences:— "Under these circumstances, if the Government of the United States were to acquire Texas, it would acquire along with it all the incumbrances which Texas is under, and among them the actual or suspended war between Mexico and Texas."

Of that consequence there cannot be a doubt. ANNECATION AND WAR WITH MEXICO ARE IDENTICAL. Now, for one, I certainly am not willing to involve this country in a foreign war for the object of acquiring Texas. I know there are those who regard such a war with indifference and as a trading affair, on account of the weakness of Mexico, and her inability to inflict serious injury upon this country. But I do not look upon it thus lightly. I regard all wars as great calamities, to be avoided, if possible, and honorable peace as the wisest and truest policy of this country. What the United States most needs are union, peace, and patience. Nor do I think that the weakness of a power should form a motive, in the case of the inducing us to engage in or to deprecate the evils of war."

Again, listen to what he said:— "It is useless to disguise that there are those who espouse and those who oppose the annexation of Texas upon the ground of the influence which it would exert, in the balance of political power, between two great sections of the Union. I conceive that no motive for the acquisition of foreign territory would be more unbecomingly pregnant with more fatal consequences, than that of obtaining it for the purpose of strengthening one part of the common confederacy, by a principle, put into practical operation, would menace the existence, if it did not certainly sow the seeds of a dissolution of the Union. It would be to proclaim to the world that the insatiable and unquenchable thirst for foreign conquest or acquisition of territory. For Texas was acquired to strengthen one part of the confederacy, to-morrow Canada may be required to add strength to another. And, after that might have been obtained, still other lands might be required to add strength to another. Finally, in the progress of this spirit of universal dominion, the part of the Confederacy which is now weakest, would now find itself weaker from the impossibility of securing new territories for those peculiar institutions which it is charged with being desirous to extend."

It is stated in some of the Northern papers that Mr. Webster designs making a tour through the Southern States in April. The Presbytery of Concord will hold its next regular sessions at Bethpage Church, Cabarrus county, commencing on Wednesday before the 2d Sabbath in April next, at 11 o'clock A. M. The Churches will please bear in mind, in preparing their statistical reports, that the General Assembly requires a report of the number of colored members in our several Churches, in a column separate from the whites. J. S. McCUTCHEAN, S. C. Bethany Church, N. C. February 15, 1847.

Mr. CALHOUN in CHARLESTON. Mr. Senator Calhoun had a distinguished reception (as he usually has) at Charleston on his return from his service in the Senate during the session of Congress which has just closed. A great Meeting of the citizens was held at the New Theatre on the evening of this day week, at which Mr. Henry Bailey presided, and at which Mr. Calhoun was invited to be present by resolution unanimously adopted by the meeting, in connexion with the two following Resolutions: That the citizens of Charleston observed with pride and pleasure the able and unflinching conduct of the Hon. John C. Calhoun in defence of the rights of the South and the guarantees of the Constitution. That his efforts in their behalf deserve the highest approval and fullest confidence of his constituents, and this meeting tender him their cordial welcome on his return to his home.

On the occasion of resolutions reported to a committee, in relation to the general principle of the Wilmot proviso, Mr. Calhoun (says the official account of the proceedings) was loudly called for, and, after having expressed his warm approbation of the report and resolutions, spoke at length in relation to the recent action of Congress upon matters deeply involving the honor and interest of the Southern States, and the aggressive spirit manifested in the non-slaveholding States. He depicted in most forcible language the wrongness of this spirit, its origin, its objects, its consequences, if not properly met, and the remedy. He was repeatedly interrupted during the progress of his speech by the plaudits of the audience, and at its close the whole assemblage manifested the most enthusiastic cheering.

The following resolution was then moved by Mr. W. Alston Pringle, and unanimously adopted: Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be tendered to the Hon. A. P. Butler, for the services and ability which he has displayed in the course of the State; and that this meeting be requested, in his course, and in that of our Representatives, to sustain the honor and integrity of their respective constituencies. Mr. Holmes then came forward, and was received with great cheering. He was forcibly and felicitously alluded to in the resolutions which so happily emanated from his sentiments, and in which he was so liberally and so warmly concurred. He was repeatedly interrupted during his remarks, and at their conclusion.—Nat. Int.

"THE CAROLINA WATCHMAN" has a circulation of about 800 copies, almost all of which are distributed in this, and the Counties within a circle of one hundred miles to the West and South-West, and sixty miles to the South, East, and North. To this fact we respectfully invite the attention of the business public of Charleston, Columbia, Camden, and Cheraw, S.C., (to which markets many planters, farmers, and merchants in this part of North Carolina trade,) as affording to them a promising medium for advertising.—Our terms are moderate and accommodating.

NORTH CAROLINA REGIMENT COMPLETE. We learn from the Asheville Messenger, that Colonel Foss has succeeded in raising a fine company in Buncombe; and that they are now on their way to Smithville by the way of Raleigh. P. S. We understand that this Company will pass through this place to-day. Our citizens are preparing for their reception and accommodation.

The N. Orleans correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, speaking of the secret mission of Mr. Atcheson, says that, for some reason Mr. Polk's Mexican ambassador "was peculiarly unresponsive to the Mexican Government, which received him very coldly, and his mission is supposed to have been entirely unsuccessful."

Amongst a long list of appointments, published in the Union of the 11th inst, we find the following from this State: A. A. Norment, of North Carolina to be 2d Lieutenant of Dragoons. W. P. Richards, of North Carolina, to be Captain of Infantry. William J. Clark, of North Carolina, to be Captain of Infantry. Jas. F. Waddell, of North Carolina to be 2d Lieutenant of Infantry. Charles R. Jones, of North Carolina, to be 1st Lieutenant of Infantry.

It is stated in some of the Northern papers that Mr. Webster designs making a tour through the Southern States in April.

EDUCATION.

THE SUBSCRIBER ASSISTED BY HIS WIFE, resumed the exercises of his Male and Female School, ON THE FIRST INSTANT. Thankful for the patronage he has already received, he assures the public that no labor will be spared to merit its continuance. Parents and Guardians who have at heart the moral and religious improvement of their Children and Wards, as well as their advancement in all the branches of a liberal education, will appreciate the advantages which this institution presents. As the French Language is vernacular to the subscriber, and in his native land he spent several years to acquire the art of Drawing, he ventures to say, that for the acquisition of these two accomplishments, so much sought after and so justly esteemed in all the higher seminaries of our land, few schools can possess advantages equal to his own. The Session consists of five months; but as the charges for the tuition are by the month, pupils may enter at any time, and will be charged only for the time they remain connected with the school; but no deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Terms of Tuition. For spelling, reading, writing and arithmetic, $1 00. For English Grammar, Geography and History, 1 50 per month. For Natural and Moral Philosophy, Astronomy, Rhetoric, Logic, &c. as also for the French and Latin Languages, 2 00. Additional Charges. For Marking and Needle Work, 50. For Drawing and Painting, $1 00 per month. For firewood during the cold weather, 10.
