We have more reason to claim that the Union incumbered us with war, for we had so many men in the field responsibility of this most unnatural and deadly strife between two North American Republics. It must be admitted that the Lavaca Journal is nearly right in this matter. It should have stated, however, that the United States had far less cause of war with Mexico than Texas had. As that little province, with a mere handfull of illy provided men, had fairly whipped all Mexico, and thereby gained much glory, the redoubtable Col. Polk thought, with the whole power of twenty-nine States added to that of Texas, he too, might achieve a little popular applause, by invading Mexico and giving her citizens a second drubbing. He has done this, but where is the battles which the armies of Taylor and The Address adopted on the occasion, Scott have fought in the invaded Republic? CONFERENCE.

The N. C. Conference of the M. E. Church South is now holding its annual session in this place. Bishop Andrew, of Georgia, presides. A large number of Preachers are in attendance; but from the unfavorable state of the weather comparatively few spectators are in town.

The deliberations of the reverend body appear to progress in great harmony. No business of extraordinary importance has yet been consummated or come under discussion. We will next week note such life transactions of the Conference as may be of public interest.-Greens. Patriot.

Another session of this institution closed the early part of this week with an examination of the Pupils, which resulted to the entire satisfaction of the parents, guardians and spectators present, so far as we heard any expression. The exercises of the College will be resumed on the 4th of January next.

Mr. Rankin is enlarging his buildings, which will be in readiness by the middle of next January for the accommodation of students. Board can be had on cheap terms with the proprietor, or in the village in genteel families. The health of the village and surrounding country has been very good for the last twelve months. The socie- reties required. ty of the village is good, and has preaching every Sabth. We hazard nothing in saying, that the society of Lexington in point of excellence will compare with any other village in our State. And further, that no parent will have cause to regret that he has placed his son with Mr. Rankin, who has had successful experience in the training of youth. Great pleasure was expressed by the spectators generally, as I had on that day opportunity of hearing, and since then.

I rejoice to see in this part of my native State, a growng interest on the subject of education. Schools of valie, worthy of the patronage of our intelligent citizens, both male and female, are springing up, where our sons and our daughters can receive a solid education, and in very many instances a christian education. Not barely sectarian bias, but solid, bible, morality and christianity; Apostolic learning and bias.

Men are found in these Schools, Academies, and Colleges, who are the worthy representatives of our departed Caldwells and Wilsons ; ladies, who worthily represent their predecessors, of the best type of former times.

Need we refer the public mind to the schools of Hillsborough, Greensborough, &c., where a Wilson, a Morgan, &c., preside ? Men of piety, men of science and of stern integrity, whom we delight to honor. Let our men of science, let our statesmen, let our pulpits, and let our presses, yea, let every patriot speak out in the praise, in the defence, and support of these nurserys of learning, piety, and moral principles; and posterity will bless them, and heaven will smile upon them.

$20 REWARD!

THE public are hereby notified to look out for a white man who calls himself SCALES, and says he is a relation of the Scales' of Rockingham County, (but which I believe to be false.) This fellow, travelling on foot from the direction of Charlotte, stopped at my house on Monday evening the 15th inst., and asked to stay over night. When bed time came on, he requested to have a bed made down for him before the fire in the hall, in which stands a bureau, and in which I keep my money. The keys had been left on the bureau, and some time in the course of the night he got up, and using the keys to open the drawers, rifled them of their contents. He took a small book, (an old history of the kings of England) which contained about 880 in bills of various denominations from $10 down. Also, a small pocket book, containing about $30. Also, my silver LEVER WATCH, the crystal of which is cracked nearly through the middle. Said Watch has to it a fine-long-link Gold Chain, and a Key of jeweller's gold. After leaving the house, he went to the stable, and attempted to steal a horse. But one of my negro boys sleeping in the barn, heard a noise below, and showing himself, the fellow made off through a corn field in the direction of Charlotte. He wears an old grey frock coat, and heavy boots. I am unable to describe him more minutely, as I did not pay particular attention to his person or dress. But I take him to be about five feet eight or ten inches high, and about thirty years of age. I will give the above reward for his apprehension. RICHARD HARRIS.
