

Resolved, That we concur in the general expression of approval of the patriotism, ability and dignity, with which His Excellency, Wm. A. Graham, has discharged his duties as Governor of the State.

The Chairman then appointed the following gentlemen Delegates to the Convention, to wit: Col. Wm. Parkes, L. B. Campbell, Livingston Carlton, H. T. Driver, Wm. Hampton, Dr. A. A. Scroggs, R. J. Cook, Col. A. Mitchell, Maj. James Horton, Leander Horton, J. T. Finley, Col. Wm. Witherspoon, J. W. Clary, Dr. C. Collopy, Col. Peter Eller, Gen. S. C. Wellborn.

On motion of Colonel A. Mitchell, the Chairman was added to the delegation. On motion, Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the Chairman and Secretary, and forwarded to the Editors of the Carolina Watchman and Raleigh Register, with a request to publish.

J. WELLBORN, Chm. J. W. CLARY, Sec. From the New-Orleans Picayune, Extra, Feb. 7.] FURTHER FROM MEXICO. The Steam ship M'Kim, Capt. Burthe, arrived on Sunday from Vera Cruz via Tampico, having left the former port on the 24th and the latter on the 31st ult.

Our accounts by this arrival are contradictory in regard to peace as the rumors which come to us from Washington. One of our occasional correspondents who apprised us some time since of the transmission of important despatches by the ship-of-war Saratoga, reiterates his opinion that "peace is made so far at least as the Mexicans can make it. What has been done only requires the sanction and approval of the Government."

On the other hand, a letter from a distinguished officer, dated the 19th, in the city of Mexico, says: "The Mexican Congress has not been able to form a quorum and peace is just as far off as ever." We cannot undertake to decide between these contradictory opinions, but proceed to lay before our readers such letters as we have received by this arrival.

[Special Correspondence of the Picayune.] VERA CRUZ, JANUARY 24. The Courier despatched by the English Legation arrived here on Saturday, the 23d, having left Mexico on the 18th. Although almost everybody regards peace as concluded, I have seen a private letter from a high source entitled to credit which states that this general impression is entitled to no credit, and that he cannot see that we are any nearer to it than ever.

The Courier sent by Mr. Peoples with the President's message for the American Star, was murdered a few days since near here on his return. It is the more to be regretted as he was one of the best men for that service that could be found. His trip up to Mexico shows that he was taken into the bushes, stripped and shot by the guerrilleros or robbers.

ces there, stating that a report had reached him from a source entitled to credit, that a force of Mexicans, 10,000 strong, under command of Gen. Bustamante, were marching down from San Luis upon Saltillo. The report even particularizes the points from whence the troops had been raised, but so frequent are the stampedes upon that line, very little credit, was attached whenever the enemy thought best to make the experiment.

Upon the receipt of this news Gen. Wool had apprised the merchants at Monterey, Camargo, Matamoras, and other ports, that he could afford them no protection in the way of escorts. From another source we learn that Col. Carasco, a Mexican officer who has rendered himself rather conspicuous, is at Monterey, proposing to enter into negotiations with Gen. Wool for a pronunciamento against the existing Government of Mexico and in favor of the United States, on the part of the States of Mampulipas, Nueva Leon, and Coahuila. He also proposes to bring in Gen. Canales, that cowardly chief of guerrillas, who has given us so much trouble upon the Rio Grande.

Col. Carasco has been for a long time residing in Matamoras with his family, and appears friendly to the Americans. We know not what degree of credit to attach to this report. We learn from a correspondent at Brazos that Capt. Hicky, formerly editor of the Vicksburg Sentinel, is undoubtedly elected to the Senate from the district in which Brazos Santiago is situated, in the place of Col. Kinney, resigned.

Capt. Deas, of the Artillery, who was a short time since wounded by a Mexican lancer between Saltillo and Monterey, has recovered from the effects of his wound, which was not so severe as was reported. The Matamoras flag of the 22 contradicts the report as to the probable death of Capt. G. K. Lewis, from wounds received in a recent fight with the Indians near Pararas. He was able to move about the streets of Saltillo with a slight aid from a crutch. The wound is in the foot a toe or two having been cut off by an Indian arrow. Mr. Lewis is a printer.

The steam propeller Massachusetts, Capt. Wood, fourteen days from New York, arrived at the Brazos on the 17th ult. She suffered some damage to her machinery, but being a superior sail vessel, there was not much detention in consequence. Several ladies, wives of officers of the army on the Rio Grande line, and others were passengers.

[For the Carolina Watchman.] To the Christian Stillers--No. 1. My Dear Friend--You profess to be a disciple of the Lord Jesus--that meek and holy one. You are called by his name, and profess to regulate your actions by His precepts. What a noble teacher is He! How holy and sublime those rules He has given you to observe. You will object to none of them as unworthy of your obedience. Let us consider, then, the consistency of your occupation--stilling--with the precepts of Christ. Come let us talk familiarly together. I am your friend--your brother. Perhaps it is never entered your mind that you are injuring the cause of Him by whose name you are called. I award you the credit of being sincere and honest in your efforts to make a living by stilling. And I hope you will be equally honest in enquiring whether or not it is a business you should follow. That you may have clear views about the matter try to keep cool--in a good humor. It is some times the case that christian stillers fly into a passion soon as any one hints that that business is not exactly right. I hope better things of you. Persons out of humor cannot see clearly nor reason well--I wish you to do another thing. Lay aside all worldly considerations--all considerations of gain--You know Christ never taught His disciples they must get rich, far from it. He taught them riches were dangerous, and that it would be mighty hard work--a very "tight squeeze" indeed, as the dutchman said--for the rich man to enter into the kingdom of Heaven. As making money is not your business, as a christian, lay all considerations of that kind away; your duty is to obey Christ. Now with a head unbiased by prejudice or interest, let us enter upon the investigation.

Christ has taught you, you must do no harm. As a follower of Christ you cannot injure the body of your fellow man--"Thou shalt not kill."--Nor his character--"Thou shalt not bear false witness." Nor his property--"Thou shalt not steal." These commandments of the Old Testament Christ has confirmed. He came not to destroy the law but to fulfill. He has done more. He has taught us that in doing good or honor to our fellow-man, it is as though we did it to Him. He has taught this in the 25th chapter of Matthew, where He is describing the Judgment Day. The Judge, after approving the righteous for having done various acts of kindness to Him, explains Himself by saying, inasmuch as they had done it unto one of the least of his brethren, they had done it unto Him. And when those on the left are charged with certain acts of neglect, He told them, inasmuch as they had not done so to one of His followers they had not done it to Him. From this we learn that he that does honor to Christ's brethren--to their bodies or their souls it is as though they did it to Christ Himself. For if he condemned them for not relieving, how much more for injuring. And if God takes an equal interest in the happiness of all men, He regards the injury done to any man, as though it had been done to Himself. He has so identified man's interests with Himself that either good or honor done to man is regarded by Him as though done to Him. As a follower of Christ you certainly can have no disposition to injure Him; one evidence of your discipleship is that you love Him; you cannot willingly injure him you love. Whether or not stilling is a business, the tendency of which is to injure the cause of Christ, is a question for us to decide--and if the result should be that such is its tendency, I am sure you will abandon it. Hoping you will think much and coolly and impartially upon this question, and continue to read what I have to say about it, and imploring all good things upon you, I will take my leave of you until next week, by signing myself, Your sincere friend, SIMON COLDWATER. Davie Co., July 28, 1848.

MARRIED. In Rutersville, Fayette County, Texas, on the 2nd of Dec. last, by the Rev. John W. Haynie, Mr. PHILIP J. F. SHAVER, formerly of this place, to Mrs. MARY ANN HOLLOWAY, formerly of Virginia. In this County on the 10th inst., by the Rev. Stephen Frantz, Mr. DAVID A. CAUBLE, to Miss LOUISA E. W. WINDERS. In this County, on the 5th instant, by John McCannan, Esq., Mr. WILLIAM CAMPBELL, to Miss ELIZABETH LEXLEY.

Obituary. Departed this life, at his residence in Jackson, on the 14th inst., in the 57th year of his age, Col. SAMUEL LEMLY, Sr., leaving a disconsolate family, and a large number of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. He was a native of Rowan County, North Carolina, and resided in the County of his nativity until a few years past, when he emigrated to this State, (Mississippi), and settled in Smith County, where he remained until about two years since, when he removed to this place for the purpose of educating his children: When lo! in the midst of this most pleasant task of duty, his labors are arrested by the fell destroyer; his body returns to its mother earth, there to rest in the still and solemn quietude of the tomb, until the morning of the resurrection: when it shall rise and reunite with its disembodied spirit, in the immortal freshness of eternal youth, clad in the robe of righteousness, and bearing the palm of victory, and shall unite with the blood-washed throng, saying, "Salvation to our God that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb." For many years he had been a member of the Presbyterian Church, and adorned his profession by a close and intimate walk with God. He was a kind husband, devoted father, and indulgent master. In all his dealings and intercourse with his fellow-men, he was upright, agreeable and confiding, and as a christian, he was devoted, firm and sincere. He was devoted to his family, and employed in the still and solemn quietude of means to enable him to educate his children, and thus prepare them for future usefulness. He was a friend to industry, morality, temperance, education, and religion; but alas! in the midst of his usefulness--in the midst of wife and children, surrounded by friends, and in the full enjoyment of all his faculties--he has been summoned to his final rest. Of the burning tears of affection, or the earnest prayers of the faithful, could have availed, he would have been spared; but the fatal arrow had been sped from the bow--the Angels of Light had been commissioned to bear his spirit aloft, and just as sweet counsel had fallen from his lips to his children, and they had received the last token of affection from his dying lips--the celestial messenger kissed his breath away. J. Jackson (Miss.) Southern.
