Mr. Hayes then offered the following amendment:—to take effect from and after its passage." Adopted.

Mr. Ellis, of Rowan, presented a bill to incorporate the town of Salisbury, referred to the committee on Private Bills.

Mr. Courts, of Rockingham, presented a report from the committee on Propositions and Grievances, recommending the passage of the bill in relation to the division of Stokes County—one part to be called Stokes, and the other Forsyth County.

Mr. Stanly objected to the name proposed for one of the two Counties. He thought there were many sons of North Carolina, whom we had never honored, whose names might appropriately be given to Counties, and was opposed to going out of the State to find names. Why, he asked, should we go to Georgia after a name to give to a County of North Carolina?

At this point of Mr. S's remarks, Mr. Courts arose and said that the name proposed, was that of a son of North Carolina—one of one who gallantly fought in the last war with Great Britain, and fell upon our Northern frontier.

Mr. Stanly then moved an amendment, by inserting this in the preamble.

Mr. Steele, of Richmond, was indisposed to vote on the bill, until he had heard an explanation of the reasons for division.

He hoped that some friend of the bill, would set forth before the House their object for desiring its passage.

Mr. Ellis, of Rowan, presented certain reasons which the Reporter did not distinctly bear.

Mr. Satterthwaite, of Pitt, as one of the Committee to whom the bill had been referred, went at some length into the reasons that influenced his support of the bill. He said he knew there was a jealousy on the part of the East, in regard to the division of the large Counties of the West, arising from the fear that the State would be greatly increased thereby. But in the present case, there need be no fear, for he believed there would be no increase of strength. The County of Stokes having at present three Commissioners, would, in all probability, by the proposed division have only two—that part to be called the County of Stokes one, and that part to be called ed the County of Forsyth one. A strong reason, said Mr. S., why the bill ought to pass, is that the memorial is signed by over a thousand respectable citizens, and the fact that the division of the County was made a test question in the August elections, and was fairly decided by a majority of the votes. The citizens of the County complained of being burdened, and they ought to be relieved. If the County as it now stands, be a grievance, the bill ought to pass; and he for one, was always ready to relieve the people of a burden, no matter from what quarter the petition for relief might come.

Mr. Courts moved to insert the Christian name of Forsyth, and said that he, as Chairman of the Committee, presented the report in obedience to the wishes of the committee.

Mr. Stanly, inquired of Mr. Courts whether he was in favor of the bill or not? and said that, from the last remark of the gentleman from Rockingham, there was much doubt whether he approved of it or not.

Mr. Courts replied, by saying that he was a neighbor to the citizens of Stokes, and therefore did not desire to take part in the contest about the division of the County, but hoped merely to give a silent vote in favor of the bill.

On motion of Mr. Keene, of Rockingham, the memorial was read, and the bill passed its 2d reading.

Mr. Williamson, of Columbus, presented a bill in relation to entries on vacant lands. Referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Biggs, of Bertie, presented a bill to incorporate the Bertie Guards.

A report from the joint select committee on Rules was submitted and concurred in.

A message was received from the Senate proposing to print the Joint Rules of Order, the Constitution of the State, and the Constitution of the United States, in pamphlet form—one for each member.—Concurred in.

Mr. White, of Lincoln, presented a bill to grant the Superior Courts of the Counties of Lincoln and Gaston, jurisdiction on all jury cases in said Counties.

On motion of Mr. Hicks, of Cherokee, the House adjourned until to-morrow, 10 o'clock.

Mr. Ashe moved to amend by postponing the election until the 30th of December, to allow the member, who may be elected in Yancey, time to take his seat.

On this motion, a short, but animated and interesting debate arose, which we have not time to write out for this paper.

The question being taken upon Mr. Ashe's amendment, by Yeas and Nays, resulted as follows: Yeas 24; Nays 28. The amendment was rejected.

The question was then taken on Mr. Gilmer's motion, which resulted as follows: Yeas 25; Nays 24. The Speaker voted in the negative, and the motion was lost.

The question being taken upon the proposition of the House of Commons, to go into an election for Solicitor of the 9th Judicial District, on to-morrow at 10 o'clock; the motion was lost by the Speaker's vote in the negative.
