DISSOLUTION OF THE UNION. From the address of Dr. George W. Bethune lately delivered at Cambridge, (Mass.) we extract the following paragraph : suppose, for one melancholy moment, that this beautiful economy of exchange were broken up; that the Western valleys were shut out from the sea by adverse Governments; that those on the coast were hemmed in to their own narrow limits by hostile forts along the mountain ridges; that between the North and the South there were neither commercial nor moral sympathy; that at every State line passports were demanded and a tariff setwho must not shrink from describing the terrible consequences; the stagnation of trade; the silence of brotherly counsel; the constant feuds; the multiplication of armies; the Cainlike, exterminating wars; the overthrow of law by military dictators; the utter ruin of all that makes us prosperous at home and respected abroad; the sure catastrophe, moral and national death! Oh that those who, for any reason, talk lightly of dissolving this Union, would consider the immensely greater evils such a rupture would inevitably cause, the awfol guilt it would bring upon themselves!law could ever kindle the torch o' sich incendiarism, no lover of peace provoke such fratrisidal slaughter, no lover of freedom plot for such general slavery, no lover of God and man undermine the eminent watch-tower whose light is now shedding over the world such bright promise of a universal brotherhood .-Were it possible that an American womb could he so cursed as to bring forth so diabolical a monster, and the malignant Erostratus could be successful, a loud, bitter, heaven compelling cry would go up from all the earth, swelled by generation after generation, until the final fires shall have swept to hell all trace of human cames: 'Anathema! Anathema! ANATHE-MA! MARANATHA!

THE FLORIDA INDIANS.

From all the information which has been received in this city it is believed that the out. MINERAL SPRING NEAR LOUISBURG. ages: recently committed on the peninsula of Florida are not at all countenanced by the great majority of Indians residing in the State, but that they were committed by a few abandoned outlaws. Enough, however, has already transpired to suggest the idea of removing to the West the entire Indian population of Florida, and this policy, we have reason to believe, is now approved of by the members of the Government here. But it is presumed that, to accomplish the end in question, it is not proposed to resort to the intervention of war. It affords us pleasure, on the contrary, to know that in regard to this matter the PRESIDENT desires to treat the Florida Indians with the utmost kind. nes and humanity. He, as well as the SECRE-TARY OF WAR, are both well acquainted with the Indian character, and we willingly confide in the wisdom of any measures they may think proper to adopt.

We are informed that instructions have already been communicated to Major General Twiggs to the effect that he must exert himself to the utmost to treat with the Indians of Florida (now under his care) in the most amicable manner possible. Of the judgement and ability of this distinguished officer we entertain a high regard, and we have abundant reason for believing that, if the Indians will only listen to the overtures of the Government, their condition will be greatly benefitted. It was thought due to the White inhabitants of Flori-Wan should have immediately ordered into the country an adequate military force; but we take it for granted that those inhabitants would prefer to have their desires accomplished by the arts of Peace rather than those of War, and that they will co-operate with the Government to restore that part of the country to perlect tranquility .- Nat. Rail Road Investments.

A retrospective view for the last ten or fifteen years over the various movements, of that portion of the floating capital of the world, which has been ventured in of President Taylor, warning all against stocks, leads to the conclusion, that of all the various modes of investment, which have been tried, that of the Railway stock, has been the only one in which ruinous failures have not occurred. In 1825, when the floating capital of England sought investment-grown enormous from the cessation of war-250 millions of dollars were absorbed by the numerous foreign securities in Europe and South America,-nearly all of which proved to be complete failures, and the money lent was totally lost. Scarcely had the market recovered from that disaster. before some 240 millions more were sunk in Bank of State stocks in this country, almost a total loss. These calamities naturally compelled the capitalist to seek more secure investments for his money, and since 1830, the railway stocks have been gradually growing into importance; and it is now seen that these enterprises alone have been exempt from such general and overwhelming

From the period of their first introduction, up to 1847, the value of these enterprises have been yearly increasing-more than 120 millions of dollars have been invested in them in the United States, now receiving an annual average of over six per centum, while during the same period 150 millions have been sunk in banking capital, without leaving a trace of its existence; contracting eminently the success of the Railway scheme, with the enormous failures of banking operations. But the safety of the fund invested forms but a small part of the benefit to capital which the construction of these highways has produced. It has had the effect of nearly quadrupling the value of real estate and its productiveness, thereby rendering these investments of capital more valuable. It has developed the manufacturing power of the countries through which it has passed, opening this most valuable of all investments to the access of the capitalist. It binds together, with its iron arms, the interests of a State, and by the facilities it offers to intercourse and personal communication, increases the reliance in, and knowledge of our own resources, and not only multiplies commercial transactions but creates business where none existed before. Thousands of sta-Whatever may be cant of words, no lover of tistical and geographical figures might be produced to ba 33 @ 371: Nails, cut, 6 @ 61: Rice 41 @ 51 lines of railway, both in this country and Europe, to be convinced. What benefits the capitalist, benefits the merchant, the dealer and the farmer, for their interests are common, and prosper in proportion to the intimacy of their intercourse with each other.

These remarks have not been made to induce the large capitalist of the East to embark his adventurehe has already learned these truths-as the enormous sums which are being daily invested will demonstrate. But, it is the small capitalist of our own State, whose attention I would call-and whose knowledge of things can extend but little beyond his own door. By encouraging with his capital the progress of the railway, he not only secures a profitable investment for it-but at the same time enhances doubly that which he has already secured in real estate and manufactures.

Look to it, ye men of money! -for here you have, not only the "glorious privilege" of cementing in iron bonds of unity the glory, welfare and interests of your Old North State-but ye can do so with power and advantage to yourselves. If your patriotism will not move you-let self-interest do so.

We called public attention some time since, to the discovery of this Spring; since which we are pleased to learn that it has been resorted to by a number of persons this Summer from the low country, many of whom have derived considerable benefits from the use of the water. A WORD TO MY READERS.

WHILE venturing this step in the universal march o periodicals, let it be understood that I am not anxious to declare myself a mental Joan of Arc, bearing special mission to save the people in their noble war against Ignorance and Wrong. I simply prepare a plain feast, where the viands will be all of my own choosing, and some of my own dressing, hoping that if what I provide be wholesome and relishing, I shall have a host of friends at my board, whose kind words and cheerful encour- kind of soil and cultivated crop. agement will keep me in a proud and honourable position at the head of the table.

I have been too long known by those whom I address, to feel strange in addressing them. My earliest rhymes, written from intuitive impulse, before hackneyed experience or polite judgment could dictate their tendency, were accepted and responded to by those whose good word is a "tower of strength." The first active breath of nature that swept over my heart-strings, awoke but earnest melodies, which I dotted down in simple notes : and when I found that others thought the tune worth learning-when I heard my strains hummed about the sacred altars of domestic firesides, and saw old men, bright women, and children seanning my ballad strains, then was I made to think that my burning desire to pour out my soul's measure of music was given for a purpose. My young bosom throbbed with rapture, for my feelings had met with responsive echoes from houest and genuine Humanity, and the glory of heaven seemed partialv revealed, when I discovered that I held power over he affections of earth.

The same spirit which prompted my first attempt will mark my present one. What I have done has found generous support,-let me trust that what I may do will still meet the kind hand of help. I have fell confidence in my friends, and believe if I offer them the combination of utility and amusement, they will freely take the ware I bring, and not think worse of me for mixing with them in the market-place of Activity and Labour. I am anxious to give my feeble aid to the gigantic struggle for intellectual elevation now going on, and fling my energies and will into a cause where my heart will zealously animate my duty. It is too true that there are dense clouds of Ignorance yet to be dissipated-huge mountains of Error yet to be removed; but, there is a stirring development of progressive mind in "the mass," which only requires free communion with Truth to expand itself into that enlightened and practical wisdom on which ever rests the perfection of social and political civilization; and I believe that all who work in the field of Literatute with sincere desire to serve the many by arousing generous sympathies and educational tastes, need make little profession of their service, for "the people" have sufficient perception to thoroughly estimate those who are truly with" and "for" them. I only ask a trial. I will give the best my judgment can offer from the co-operation of healthy and vigorous talent, and my own continued efforts.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT of HAMPDEN SYDNEY COLLEGE, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA. HE twelfth annual course of Lectures in this Institution, will commence on Monday, October 22d,

1849, and continue until the middle of March. R. L. Вонахмай, M. D., Prof. of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children L. W. CHAMBERLAYNE, M. D., Prof. of Materia Medi-MAUPIN, M. D. Prof. of Chemistry and Pharmacy,

CHAS BELL GIBSON, M. D., Prof. of Surgery and Sur-CARTER P. JOHNSON, M. D., Prof. of Anatomy and DAVID H. TUCKER, M. D., Prof. of Theory and Prac-

A. E. Peticolas, M. D., Demonstrator of Anatomy. The Museum, Apparatus and illustrations for the demonstrator departments have recently received many additions, and are now very complete. The facilities for Practical Anatomy, are unsurpassed. The Clinical advantages are fully commensurate with the wants of the studen', and especially valuable to those preparing for practice at the South. Clinical Lectures are given twice a week in the College Infirmary, (which is in immediate contiguity with the College.) and once a week in the Richmond Alms House. In these institutions the diseases occurring in Southern practice are met with, and the student has the most eligible opportunities of becoming acquainted with their types and treatment. The frequency of Surgical operations before the class, together with the facilities for witnessing the treatment of Surgical cases, renders this one of the best Schools of Practical CHARGES-Matriculation $5, Tickets of the Professors, $105, Practical Anatomy $10, Graduation Fee $25; Board, including fuel, lights, and servants' attendance, may be obtained at $21 to 41 per week. S. MAUPIN, M. D.

RANAWAY-$10 REWARD. DANAWAY from the Subscriber on the night of the 9th May, a negro man named ISAAC, aged between 35 and 40 years, about six feet high, with a white speck on one of his eye balls, and keeps one eye mostly shut when looking at any person. He has lost nearly all his front teeth, and speaks rather slow when talking. I bought said negro at the sale of Franklin Hargrave ; and as he has a wife at Doct. Holt's quarter, I think it is likely he is harboring in that vicinity. I will pay a reward of $10 to any one who will commit him to jail, or deliver him to me, at my residence near Chamber's Ferry, David-PETER MILLER. son county.
